GRAND OPENING

HOLLY COOMBS

Hundreds gather as new Deseret Industries opens doors in Cedar City

by Holly COOMBS
holly@ironcountytoday.com

With hundreds of customers lined up hours before the store opened, Deseret Industries had its grand opening last Thursday at its new location at 1460 S. Providence Center Drive near Walmart and Home Depot in Cedar City.

A line of customers wrapped around the corner of the store. An appearance by Thor Thunderbird, a live band and tote bags given to the first 500 shoppers were some of the highlights of the Deseret Industries Grand Opening day. Chamber of Commerce CEO Chris McCormick led with the welcome at the grand opening which began at 9:30 a.m.

"We want to take a moment and thank all those who are here from the LDS Church, [and] we want to thank (Store Manager) Dave (Stephenson) and his team and all that work here at Deseret Industries," McCormick said. "We want to thank our mayor, our city council members and anybody from the government agencies. We want to thank them for being here to help us celebrate this amazing occasion."

He said Deseret Industries transforms lives and that he has the opportunity to serve in an ecclesiastical calling within the church.

"I've had the opportunity to refer people to Deseret Industries and get involved in their programs, and to watch people's lives change the way they do and it does have a ripple effect for many generations," McCormick said.

Stephenson welcomed the public to the new store and thanked the community for being there.

Cedar mayor honored by Utah Business Magazine

by Holly COOMBS
holly@ironcountytoday.com

Cedar City Mayor Maile Wilson was named one of 30 Women to Watch by Utah Business Magazine this week.

"Its a little bit nuts when they first told me about it," Wilson said. "It is a huge honor."

The magazine chooses 30 women celebrates Utah's most successful and influential women "as selected by their peers, giving us all the opportunity to commend them for giving so much devotion to their profession." Wilson said she knows who nominated her, but is not sure the criteria in which the 30 women are selected.

"They have a pretty strict criteria for the different nominees," she said. "I had to go (to Salt Lake City to film for a short video clip."

According to utahbusiness.com, the 30 women will be honored at a luncheon in Salt Lake City at Grand America Hotel on May 17.

Wilson, who has been mayor for four years, known to be one of the youngest mayors in Utah at age 30, is up for re-election this fall. She said she "absolutely" has loved being mayor.

"I love working with the youth, promoting getting an education and following your dreams," she said. "Just because you don't necessarily fit whatever stereotype they have doesn't mean you can't achieve a career or achieve whatever you set your mind out to."

Wilson also works for Jones Waldo Holbrook & McDonough, P.C. as an attorney. She said that working both positions is normal to her and that she wouldn't do one

I-15 crash claims life

A CEDAR CITY MAN DIED SATURDAY MORNING when he ran his red truck off the left side of the road on Interstate 15 near Kanarrville. At about 6 a.m. Saturday, 29-year-old Daniel A. Jones was traveling northbound near mile marker 47, when for an unknown reason his 2003 Chevy Avalanche drifted off the left side of the road at which time the driver overcorrected to the right and the vehicle rolled three times, Utah Highway Patrol Sgt. Jared Corina said. Jones was not wearing a seatbelt and was ejected from the vehicle, Cornia said. A life flight helicopter was brought in, but Jones was pronounced dead at the scene. As of press time, the accident was still under investigation.

Enoch City invites public to open house on Thursday

by Holly COOMBS
holly@ironcountytoday.com

Enoch City officials invite the public to an open house regarding its Capital Facilities Plan Update on Thursday at 6 p.m. at the Enoch City Chambers, located at 900 E. Midvalley Road in Enoch.

“There are only two portions that we are updating: stormwater drainage and sewer,” Enoch City Manager Rob Dotson said. “We are having an open house to get public input.”

According to the Notice of Intent, the city will prepare impact fees and prepare facilities plans for storm water, drainage and flood control facilities and the wastewater collection.

“Pursuant to the requirements of Utah Code Sections 11-36a-501 and 11-36a-503, notice is hereby given of Enoch’s intent to prepare or amend such impact fee (capital) facilities plans and to prepare impact fee analyses,” according to the notice. “The geographical area where the proposed impact fee facilities will be located is shown in the Enoch City Impact Fee Analysis Area which can be seen at www.cityofenoch.org/

ordinancespublic-notices.html/”

Dotson said it is good for professionals to look through and update plans since five years has passed.

“Also, impact fees are dedicated to pay for the impact on specific utilities and the fees must be defined by good data and future growth estimates,” he said. “Updates are needed to best define the impact and the fee required.”

He said that the work that Sunrise Engineering has done to gather current survey data and the tools they are using to identify the locations of the city Sewer and Storm Drainage details has been “amazing.”

“The data will be used to identify future projects that will help Enoch City keep the services healthy,” Dotson said. “The Open House will be facilitated by Sunrise Engineering to discuss the project and obtain public input from any interested residents.”

He said he would like Enoch City residents to know that the city officials are working to solve current and future challenges.

“Their attendance will help them understand the challenges and help the policymakers to receive good input,” Dotson said.

Honorary degrees to be presented at SUU ceremony

BOB SCHIEFFER

RICHARD KENDELL

CAROLE MIKITA

BILL MARCROFT

CEDAR CITY— Honorary doctoral degrees will be presented to Bob Schieffer, Richard Kendell, Carole Mikita and Bill Marcroft at Southern Utah University during the 118th University Commencement Ceremony on April 29 in the Centrum Arena.

These honorees were selected by the SUU Board of Trustees after discussion on individuals who have had a positive impact on the university, excelled in their chosen fields and service to society.

A native of the Dallas/Fort Worth area, Bob Schieffer got his first taste of reporting while an 8th grader on his school newspaper, and he went on to be a journalism student at Texas Christian University. Following his TCU graduation with a bachelor's degree in journalism, he served three years in the U.S. Air Force as a public affairs officer, then after his discharge as a captain, was hired on at the Fort Worth Star-Telegram as a reporter, covering a wide variety of stories, including the desegregation of the student body at the University of Mississippi. Through circumstance and enterprise, he was a unique voice in the coverage of the 1963 assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Following a stint as the news anchor of a Fort Worth television station, he moved to CBS in 1969 and went on to cover every major Washington, D.C., beat over the years.

Following his 2015 retirement from "Face the Nation," he has continued to work for CBS as a contributor and his appearances have included political commentary covering the 2016 presidential election.

Recipient Rich Kendell was born in Ogden, Utah, and is an alumnus from both Weber State and the University of Utah. He served as SUU's interim president in 2013. During his time as deputy to Gov. Michael O. Leavitt for public education, higher education and economic development, he led the crusade to initiate six early college high schools, assisted with the development of supportive charter school legislation and worked to attract and retain a stronger corps of math and science teachers.

Following his service with Gov. Leavitt, he was appointed by the Utah Board of Regents as Commissioner of Higher Education for the state of Utah from 2003 to 2008. During this time, he was involved in USTAR legislation, the creation of the K-16 Alliance, and the development of the Regents Scholarship. Kendell has been awarded the G. Homer Durham Regents Professorship by the Utah State Board of Regents and has an endowed chair in his name at Southern Utah University.

Honoree Carole Mikita has provided exceptional service to the Utah Shakespeare Festival with valuable television coverage of special events and plays. Mikita, whose journalistic work has brightened life in the Beehive State for nearly 40 years, has worked for KSL-TV News since June 1979 as an anchor and reporter and for many years specialized in arts and religion. She retired from full-time duties in 2013, but continues to contribute pieces in her areas of expertise, as well as performing other work tied to KSL's programming for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Through her extended coverage of the arts emanating from Southern Utah University, she has added to her viewers' lives and helped to amplify the stature of the institution.

A familiar voice to southern Utah, Bill Marcroft was the voice of the Utah Summer Games for 30 plus years. His employer, KUTV, was the media sponsor for the Games for many years (due in large part to Marcroft's commitment to the Games), and was instrumental in helping build the Games through nightly wrap-up shows, advertising and overall publicity. Marcroft covered news and sports, but when he began announcing games, primarily for the U and for the Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association, his career really took off and he would go on to spend more than two decades as sports director of KUTV and KALL Radio.

SUU's commencement ceremony for the Class of 2017 will begin at 9 a.m. in the Centrum Arena. For more information on graduation, visit <https://www.suu.edu/graduation/>.

Spring Home & Garden Fair draws big crowds

by Holly COOMBS
holly@ironcountytoday.com

With more than 30 vendor booths, a talent show, and a benefit breakfast for Paityn Carver, the annual Iron County Home Builder's Association Spring Home and Garden Show took place last Friday and Saturday at the Cross Hollows Event Center.

More than 2,000 people visited the two-day event. The fair exhibited all kinds of products from home design and building and design, to flooring, furnishing, window treatments, paint, appliances, fixtures, lighting, landscaping and hot tubs as well as a Lularoe clothing line and other personal products.

A talent show with 16 acts took place Friday night. It included many musical acts including Lovelee Torres singing "How Far I'll Go," from Disney's Moana, a juggling act done by Austin Bruckner.

The benefit breakfast was held to support Paityn Carver, who at age 12 developed Chron's Disease, a form of Inflammatory Bowel Disease. Carver will require life treatments as it is an autoimmune disease.

The Iron County Home Builders Association thanked its Platinum sponsors Melling Granite and Zions Bank, and Gold Sponsors Iron County Today, Rocky Ridge Landscape Rock and Roll-offs, Pioneer Flooring and Design Center, Jones Paint & Glass, Mountain Lighting, Cherry Creek Radio, and Cedar City Daily News.

Council consider fee waiver, LED streetlights

With a small crowd and two city council members absent, the Cedar City Council had a short work meeting last Wednesday where they considered waiving a fee for the Iron County Search and Rescue for its carnival fundraiser.

Howard Mayes spoke on behalf of the Iron County Search and Rescue. The fundraiser will take place on May 18-20. The business waiver will be considered in a public hearing at the council's next meeting. The carnival will take place in the empty lot across from the Main Street Park and Library in the Park and next to the Elks Lodge off 100 East.

City Council member Ron Adams had concern about the water hook up.

"I didn't know if it was city water or using the Elks Lodge," Adams said.

Mayes said that he would find out about how the water hook up has been previous years. Bryan Dangerfield, director of Leisure Services, said water from fire hydrants have been used for other recreational events in the area.

"Some of those we will hopefully have the answer next week when we have our public hearing as well," Cedar City Mayor Maile Wilson said.

Other items that will be voted on and considered will be a vicinity plan for townhomes on 300 west as well as a bid review for LED streetlights to be considered. Trevor McDonald with City Engineering spoke regarding the bid review.

Marshall & Evans Electric, Inc, bid $63,000, which is under budget. The budget for the lights is $110,000.

CEDAR CITY COUNCIL

McDonald said replacing the streetlights with LED will save $30,000 per year, which includes maintenance. There are approximately 635 lamps to be replaced for the project.

"I am just cautious when I see a budget for $110,000 and I see it spread in bids between $63,000 and $85,000 and we feel confident they will do the right job for that," City Council member Craig Isom said.

"Marshall & Evans maintains our street lights and they are familiar with what they up against," McDonald said.

The item was put on the consent agenda for the next council meeting.

Archaeology Day coming May 6

CEDAR CITY — Frontier Homestead State Park will welcome archeologists young and old and their families to participate in its annual Utah Archaeology Day on Saturday, May 6. Visitors will have the opportunity to participate in activities involving Native American games, history, traditional crafts and skills, and visit with a variety of demonstrators. Archeology Day will take place from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. Cost is $2 per person or $5 per family.

Archeology Day is the kick-off for a series of activities sponsored by Frontier Homestead State Park, Project Archaeology, Bureau of Land Management, Southern Utah University-College of Humanities and Social Sciences, Intersearch, Transcon Environmental, and the Cedar City Public Library.

The celebration of Utah Archaeology and Preservation Month continues on Friday, May 12 and 19 at 7 p.m. with two showings of Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade at the Sharwan Smith Center on SUU campus. An archaeologist will give a brief introduction. Admission is free, seating is limited, and the film is rated PG-13.

On Monday, May 15, 6 to 8 p.m., the public can take advantage of a rare opportunity to see artifacts from local archaeological excavations. Repository Director, Barbara Frank, will open the SUU Archaeological Repository to the public. The Repository is located in Room 101-A, west basement door, ELC, SUU campus. The tour is free and family-friendly.

On Saturday, May 20, enjoy a free, guided tour of historic cabins in Kolob Canyon. The tour will begin at Frontier Homestead State Park at 9 a.m. and return by 1 p.m. Sack lunches will be provided to all registered participants. You must request a reservation and receive confirmation for this event, as space is limited. Send request to samanthakirkley@suu.edu This event is free, but not appropriate for all ages.

Ms. Anderson has taught at several reservation schools and enjoys sharing her cultural knowledge with others. Don't miss this unique and enlightening experience. This presentation is free to the public and appropriate for all family members.

Finally, make sure your young artist is entered in the Archaeology Month Art Contest.

Children from 2nd to 8th grades have the opportunity to create archaeology themed art for display on the Cedar City Library's Children's Wall. Contest details and entry pages are available for pick up at the Frontier Homestead State Park and the Cedar City Public Library throughout May.

Three winners will receive a prize! Entries due on May 27.

According to Samantha Kirkley, State Coordinator for Project Archaeology, “Archaeology and Historic Preservation Month, a Division of State History program, is an annual celebration of Utah's archaeological and historic resources. With so many wonderful archaeological sites in Southern Utah, we really have something to celebrate and enjoy. Archaeology Month offers opportunities for all ages to participate in activities that promote cultural understanding and respect, and stewardship of these special places.”

BLM acquires portion of popular Kanarra Creek Trail

CEDAR CITY — Nearly 41 acres of land, including a portion of the increasingly popular Kanarra Creek Trail that leads to Kanarrville Falls, was purchased by the Bureau of Land Management March 31 for the development of recreational opportunities, among other uses.

Portions of the property sit between land managed by the town of Kanarrville and the BLM managed Spring Creek Canyon Wilderness Study Area. The Kanarrville Falls, managed by the state of Utah, are further down the trail.

The Cedar City Field Office will manage the property similarly to surrounding public lands, including dispersed recreation, important wildlife habitat, and other multiple use opportunities.

“This land leads to an incredible slot canyon that is growing in popularity and a WSA that is home to two major canyons, with ridges nearly 8,000 feet up,” said Keith Rigtrup, acting Cedar City field manager. “We know there are many groups that have different interests in what this land has to offer, which is why the BLM's multiple use mission is uniquely qualified to help coordinate with organizations and local governments that have a vested interest in the area.”

S.C. Limited Liability Company received $660,000 for the land, with the money stemming from the Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) for sportsmen and recreational access. The BLM applied for and received LWCF funds in 2016. The Cedar City Field Office released the draft environmental assessment for the purchase of the property in June 2016.

WILSON

without the other.

Wilson grew up in Cedar City and after receiving her bachelor's degree in political science at SUU, she worked as an intern for First Lady Laura Bush before returning to SUU for her master's degree in Public Administration. She said it was "the most surreal experience" to learn policies at a national level, which helped her to address policies on a community level. She said she has an open door policy to citizens with concerns.

Wilson also received her Juris Doctorate degree at Charlotte School of Law in Charlotte, N.C.

Some of the things that she said she's been working on is getting strategic plans for fleet, maintenance, parks and leisure to keep the city up long term.

"We want to make sure we are taking care of our assets and also it gets everyone on the same page and working toward the same goal," Wilson said. "We have the most amazing staff to work with, which makes working with people you truly enjoy being with day in and day out."

She said she has always enjoyed going out to visit different departments, getting involved with the community, promoting Cedar City throughout the state as well as the national level.

"Cedar City has been what some have said is a rest stop to get to somewhere else," Wilson said. "We are getting past all that now, which is super rewarding, and we are completing projects that have been going on for 10 or 15 years. I mean, at some point you have to stop talking about it and get them accomplished."

She re-emphasized that she has the best staff to work with.

"It's fun because we do have the relationships that we can joke around and also be very blunt and upfront and if there is a problem you can discuss it and work through it," Wilson said. "With the staff, you can talk about what you need to talk about and not sugar coat it. It doesn't matter who came up with the idea, but whatever is the best decision we do it."

She continues her vision for the city to keep the infrastructure up.

"We want to keep a good, controlled growth to keep up with the infrastructure," Wilson said.

She said improved maintenance, a new cemetery building, animal shelter are some of the needs that are going to be done.

"We'll keep things going and look forward to new businesses and working with current ones," Wilson said.

Utah Honor Flight heading out Thursday

Twenty Southern Utah military veterans – the majority having served during the Korean War – will depart early April 27 from the Dixie Convention Center and head to Washington, D.C. as part of the next Utah Honor Flight mission.

The group will meet 25 veterans from the Wasatch Front for the three-day trip to the East Coast, pushing its total of veterans honored to over 1,000 since the organization's inception in October 2013.

"To take our 1,000th veteran to Washington, D.C. is a huge deal and speaks volumes about the support we have received from the community," said UHF Chairman Mike Turner. "We have come a long way from our first trip, which was put together at the last minute and pretty helter-skelter. What sticks in my mind from that first trip was just how much those veterans appreciated it. Since then we have dedicated ourselves to perpetuating our mission of taking as many veterans as possible to see their memorials."

On Saturday, April 29, the group returns to Utah for a welcome-home ceremony at approximately 9 p.m. at the Dixie Center (1835 Convention Center Drive, St. George). Everyone is invited to this free event to show their patriotism and gratitude toward these veterans. Many of the local veteran service organizations are expected to attend.

"The welcome-home celebration is a great way for our community to come out and show appreciation to these veterans," said Celeste Sorensen, a Utah Honor Flight board member and one of two St. George-based flight leaders who will be escorting the veterans. Including guardians for each veteran and a medic, the traveling party leaving from St. George will total 43. "To see them receive the recognition they deserve is heartwarming and always brings a tear to my eye."

Utah Honor Flight is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization that takes veterans to Washington D.C. to see their memorials. The trip includes a lengthy stop at the National Mall, where the veterans will participate in a wreath-laying ceremony at the National World War II Memorial, followed by stops at the Korean War Memorial and the Vietnam Memorial. There will also be excursions to visit other sites of interest, including the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial, the Air Force Memorial and Arlington National Cemetery.

"We find that the veterans we bring with us to the memorials leave Utah as old men and women and return as young men and women," Turner said. "These flights are how, in a small way, we can show our gratitude. We need to honor them while we still can."

The Korean War has been called the "Forgotten War." Fought between 1950 and 1953, the United States of America supplied the bulk of the weapons and personnel that comprised the United Nations forces that came to the aid of South Korea when North Korea invaded in 1950. Battles of Inchon, Imjin River and the Chosin Reservoir – where the temperature plunged to as low as 35 degrees below zero – still reverberate among the veterans who served there.

The youngest of the Korean War veterans are in their 80s now. The youngest WWII veterans are in their late 80s and early 90s.

The expenses for the veterans are funded solely through donations from individuals and companies. Those interested in contributing to Utah Honor Flight can send donations to Utah Honor Flight, P.O. Box 42, Richfield, UT 84701 or call 435-272-0254.

4th Annual Walk for Remembrance and Hope

Share Families of Southern Utah, a local pregnancy and infant loss support group, is holding their 4th Annual Walk for Remembrance and Hope on May 13 at the Main Street Park in Cedar City. Registration and shirt pick-up will begin at 9 a.m. The event will begin at 10 a.m. and will include a short program, a one-block walk on Main Street, and a balloon release to help spread awareness for pregnancy and infant loss. This is Share's only fundraiser for the year and all support is appreciated.

Share helps those families who have experienced pregnancy and infant loss by:

- » Giving comfort in the hospital at the time of loss.
  - » Donating hand and foot molds, blankets, and clothing to grieving families.
  - » Providing volunteer photographers to capture priceless memories.
  - » Hosting monthly support groups to give strength, encouragement, and comfort in the ongoing process of grieving.
- Share seeks to break the stigma of silence associated with pregnancy and infant loss and invites and encourages everyone to attend this event to raise awareness and honor the memory of precious babies who have gone too soon. This event is free to attend and participate in, and the cost for registration is $20 and can be completed online (www.southernutahshare.com)

Also - anyone who wishes to may create a lawn sign to decorate in honor of their baby and bring it to post on the day of the walk. For more information, contact Christie at 435-592-3210.

here in Cedar City this would not have been possible," he said. We look forward to being able to be helping more people with this new facility and to provide services to even more people. We look forward to getting you in there and looking at everything. The store looks amazing."

Stephenson thanked the store staff and their families because of the time that the staff has had to spend being away from family in the few months of preparing for the grand opening.

"Lastly, we have a great group of associates," he said. "They are really are the bread and butter of what Deseret Industries is all about. If we didn't have associates, we wouldn't have a store and we wouldn't have a program."

Cedar City Mayor Maile Wilson spoke before the ribbon was cut.

"This is an exciting day that has been weeks, months, years in the making so congratulations to all of you for finally, actually seeing the light at the end of the tunnel and having the store open," Wilson said. "For our community, Deseret Industries has been a partner for many, many years and just as Chris mentioned, the services they provide go well beyond just being able to go in and purchase items in the D.I. store."

She said the store is now a part of the community and the opportunities that are available will provide Cedar City residents beyond most of "our imagination."

"As the store thrives, our community thrives and residents have this resource," Wilson said. "So congratulations to the team and welcome to your new building. I was in there a moment ago and this is an absolutely beautiful facility that each one of you will just take pride in when you enter. This store is now a part of this community and the opportunities it will provide for our residents will be beyond most of our imagination as this store thrives, our community thrives and our residents have this resource so congratulations to the team and welcome to your new building."

At the middle of the day Thursday, Stephenson said the customer response to the store was bigger than he could ever imagine.

"We are doing great," he said. "There is more here than we could have ever expected. We are so blessed."

PLEIN AIR ARTISTS EVENTS

set for Rockville

Celebrating historic preservation and the art of Rockville, 16 prominent Plein Air artists will join the town to raise funds for the longevity of Rockville's Historic Parker through-truss bridge.

Participating artists include Doug Braithwaite, Eileen Guernsey Brown, Royden Card, Bruce Gomez, Ken Harris, Brad Holt, Lisa Huber, Mary Jabens, Rick Kinatader, Roland Lee, Nancy Lewis, Bonnie McGee, Valerie Orlemann, Rachel Pettit, Stephen Stauffer, and Gregory Stocks.

The artists will capture the beautiful landscape of Rockville and nostalgic Grafton, as well as the Historic Rockville Bridge, on April 27, 28 and 29. The public is encouraged to observe their artistic process. Some will paint with oil, some watercolor, and others in pastel. Each is accomplished and renowned for their plein air style of painting.

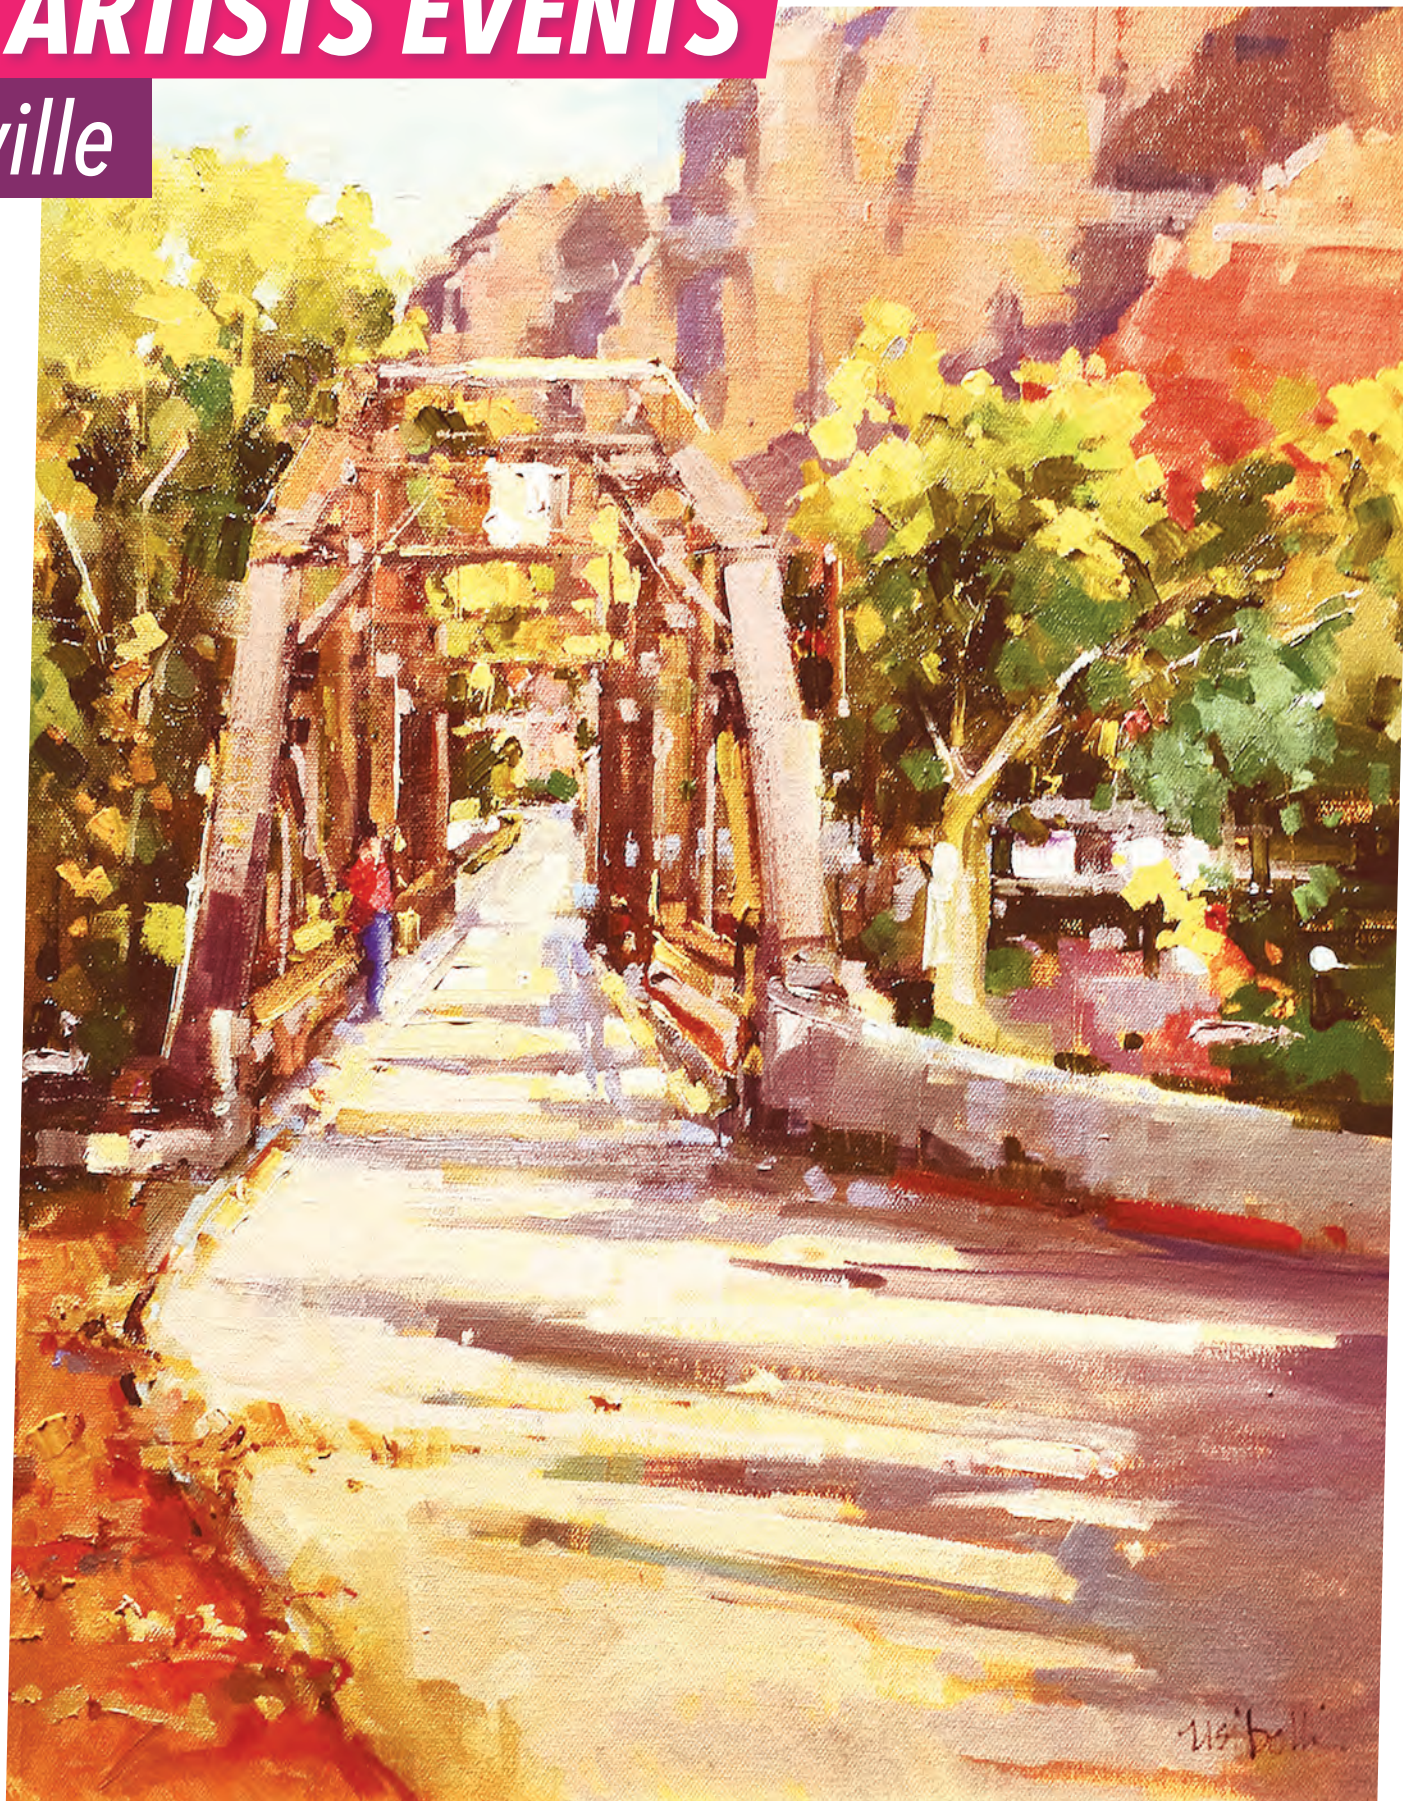

Susan Bingham, co-founder of the Thunderbird Foundation for the Arts in Mt. Carmel, will present an informative lecture titled "Art: The Bridge in Our History" on Friday evening, April 28, at 7 p.m. This event will be in the Historic Rockville Church, located at 43 East Main Street. Attendance is free, but donations are welcome.

The artist and collector reception is at 6 p.m. on Saturday, April 29, where live entertainment, drinks and hors d'oeuvres will be provided. The reception is turning into a "Taste of the Town" event with many of the neighboring Springdale businesses and restaurants donating their best selling appetizers, finger foods and desserts. This event will be at the Historic Rockville Schoolhouse, located at 38 East Main Street, currently the home of Larry McKown.

The Wet Paint Sale will be across the street in the Rockville Community Center beginning at 7 p.m. Our Mistress of Ceremonies will be KSL TV's investigative reporter Debbie Dujanovic.

Attending either the reception or the sale requires a minimum $20 donation to the bridge fund. Reservations are being taken at <http://bridgepleinair.eventbrite.com>. Admission the day of the event will be $25 per person.

Also on hand to document the event will be the Discovery Road Show and its host James Nelson. This television series is dedicated to spotlighting little known facts and interesting stories throughout the state of Utah. Produced by Utah Education Network, in conjunction with the Mormon Pioneer National Heritage Area (MPNHA), it is broadcast locally on PBS's KUED on Saturday evenings at 6 p.m.

Thanks to sponsorship by Representative Brad Last, and with support from Senator Evan Vickers and Preservation Utah, the Utah State Legislature approved the Town of Rockville's request for appropriation funding in the amount of $100,000 during the 2017 legislative session. These funds, combined with generous donations and grants received, achieve the grant match goal Rockville needs to restore the last Parker through truss bridge in the state. Fundraising efforts continue to build a maintenance fund.

So many great choices

by Mary Anne ANDERSEN
Cedar City Arts Council

The hard thing was that we had 18 applications this term when our normal number is six to eight. I'm referring to the Artists' Mini-Grant Program sponsored by the Cedar City Arts Council that awards mini grants of up to $500 to artists of Iron County every six months. We were really happy that the word is getting around about our little grants. But alas. Our available funds remained the same—a modest amount of money to distribute among an unprecedented number of hopefuls. So we made some hard decisions, encouraged some applicants to try again in six months, and made the following awards.

The Arts Council is especially happy to fund those requests that will multiply into benefits for a larger number of individuals. NATALIE YOUNG, of the literary journal "Sugar House Review", will use a grant to help bring notable poet Todd Robinson to Cedar City to conduct workshop events for striving writers in our community. Watch for the announcement of his appearance sometime this summer if you want to improve your writing skills. (Sign me up.) DAVID BOLSOVER will travel to Kentucky to improve his jazz-arranging skills and then write for the jazz group MB3 Quartet, which if you haven't heard at their monthly gigs at Artisans, you should. JANE ROOP, of the Sagebrush Fiber Artisans, will travel to Denver to attend a Weaver's Conference in July. She will then return to teach the members of the group, passing her newly-acquired skills on to other local fiber artists.

We love to help local musicians with the extremely expensive tools of their trade. LIAHONA AXELSON and ANGIE HANKS are instrumentalists who have reached the stage where borrowed instruments are just not appropriate anymore. Liahona has played for many groups in town, including the Orchestra of Southern Utah and pit orchestras for community theater productions. She needs a new euphonium. (Look it up.) And Angie, a student at SUU, wants a clarinet to call her own after borrowing one up to now. Make no mistake; we can't totally pay for the instruments—they are very expensive—but we can make a contribution toward their purchases. Both young women will teach other young students who wish to play such things as euphoniums and clarinets.

MATTHEW W. ERHARD is well established in the Cedar City community as a teacher and performer. He plays cello in the OSU as well as sitting on the board of the orchestra, and has many young students in town. However, his aging cello is in grave need of repair, without which he could not continue his community involvement. His work will be done locally at Whittlesticks.

Finally, DAWN AERTS at North Elementary will have help with a sixteen-week after-school studio to teach drawing, charcoal, pastel and watercolor studies to 3rd, 4th, and 5th graders. Education is dear to our hearts at the Arts Council.

Those of you who belong to the Arts Council have a hand in this great program. Thanks for your contributions.

SUMA bidding farewell to a treasured friend

by Ashley H. POLLOCK
SUU College of Performing and Visual Arts

As the Southern Utah Museum of Art reaches its 9th month of operation, Reece Summers says goodbye to Cedar City. At the end of April, Reece Summers will be retiring from Southern Utah University. During his time in Cedar City, he became dear friends with landscape artist Jimmie F. Jones, fostered relationships with multiple government and art entities, and brought Southern Utah Museum of Art to life.

Shauna Mendini, Dean of the College of Performing and Visual Arts, said, "Reece has a wonderful skill in creating relationships and has made relevant partnerships with the National Parks Service, the Paiute Tribal Council, the Bureau of Land Management and others. He initiated the on-going Artist in Residence Program at Zion National Park by administering the jurying process. Additionally, his connection to the art world has benefited student learning and increased community engagement by bringing innovative exhibits that spark imagination."

With over 30 years of professional experience managing university museums and collections housed within those museums, Summers brought a wealth of knowledge to SUU. He began his career as the curator of the Montana State University Museum of the Rockies. He later moved on to serve as the Managing Curator of the Utah State University American West Heritage Center for seven years. While there, he was the steward over the permanent collection that included art and material culture associated with the intermountain West. His last position prior to coming to SUU was a Fellow and Curator at Great Plains Art Museum, part of the Center for Great Plains Studies at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Donna Law, Chair of the Utah Museum Services Advisory Board and longtime advocate for the arts, said, "Reece was at SUU at just the right time to bring the idea of a museum to a dynamic educational and architecturally stunning reality. His knowledge and experience combined to create an exciting destination for arts enthusiasts of all ages."

Jim Aton, Professor of English at SUU, said, "Reece gives students the extraordinary freedom with just the minimum of guidance so that they can take on projects that most university museums would only give to professional staff. He lets them soar. He treats them like professionals, and they consistently rise to the occasion – even surpassing what Reece thought they could do. He treats them with kindness, compassion, and respect. They know that working with him, they are getting an absolutely first-rate education into how to run a gallery or museum."

Colette Cox, Chair of the Friends of SUMA, said, "Reece Summers has been incredibly supportive of the Friends of the Braithwaite Gallery and now Friends of SUMA over the years. He understood the importance of engaging local, passionate, art lovers who have the energy and resources to raise funds and support the arts. He will be greatly missed."

Joanne Brattain, Chair of the SUMA Advisory Board, said, "Over the last eight years, while SUMA was being designed, built and opened, Reece was always at least one step ahead, quietly keeping everyone on track towards our goal. He is a wonderful mentor to both students and volunteers. I will miss him personally and professionally; for me, SUMA will always be 'the house that Reece built.'"

Completing his 10-year career at SUU, Summers will be presented with the Trustees Award of Excellence - Staff Award at the university's 118th Annual Commencement. This much-deserved award honors all that he has done for Southern Utah University. Summers served as a leader in many areas of the University. He collaborated with not only the College of Performing and Visual Arts, but many departments throughout the campus.

SUU and SUMA are honored to have worked with such a cultural giant. We wish him well as he moves on to the next big adventure.

Enoch author's book now available

by Holly COOMBS
holly@ironcountytoday.com

ENOCH — His book, "Boy Shielder," a science fiction tale, which he wrote after being challenged by his sons, has been published by Christian Faith Publishing. Vern Grimshaw, 73, of Enoch, has been writing books for more than 20 years. Grimshaw said one day in 1984 he came home and his sons were watching a science fiction show that he wasn't impressed with.

"I said 'why are you watching that stupid show? I can write something better than that,'" he said. While "Boy Shielder" was written more than 30 years ago, it was published in July 2016. "I didn't really change anything from when I originally wrote it," Grimshaw said. "I just sent it to the publishers and they accepted and printed it."

The book is about a group called Bwanties — an intelligent and highly civilized race of people living on a distant planet called Terro — who were driven off their planet after a fierce battle by a rival group called the Mallites, according to the book summary.

"They discovered Earth, and after studying Earth's civilized nations, they decided to look elsewhere," according to the summary. "A twist in the plot occurred when Freddy, the adventurous son of Clenti, the Bwanite leader, took his two younger brothers, Tony and Sammy, on a shuttle trip to Earth. They intended to land in the United States of America. However, with Freddy's inexperience, combined with some malfunctions on the shuttle, they crash-landed in Russia. This begins a series of adventures as they try to get to the United States of America."

Grimshaw said the book is a clean, fast and easy read. It can be found online at amazon.com, on iTunes or even in Barnes and Noble Bookstore.

He has since completed the second book of the "Boy Shielder" series, which is not published just yet. Grimshaw compared writers to artists and that usually their work is not recognized until they die, but he said he hopes that he can get the word out that he is an author the community can count on new books coming.

"A lot of people don't know I write and they ask what I'm doing and I tell them I write and they say, 'Really?'" Grimshaw said.

He said he writes various types of books and is currently working on one that is different than the science fiction series of "Boy Shielder."

Grimshaw said he previously never liked writing. "I hated school, hated English and math or anything that made me to have to think," he said.

"I can't spell. I see words, but what my eyes see and what the brain translates it to be are two different things."

He said he doesn't have that problem when he is reading. When he was in school his teachers didn't know how to work with him because he was dyslexic and a hands-on learner. Grimshaw said it was not until college that he realized he was smart and that his grade school teachers didn't know how to teach as opposed to now where the education has learned to adapt to different types of learning.

Grimshaw didn't read his first book from cover to cover until he was 24 and in the Army.

"I went to the sergeant and told him that I was trying to get into the doctor, but I had to wait a long time," he said. "The sergeant gave me two books to pass the time and I said 'I don't really know how to read.'"

The two books he read was a Max Brand book and "Tarzan of the Apes," by Edgar Rice Burroughs and he has read books since that time.

"When I started reading I had a tiny dictionary because there were a lot of words that I didn't understand."

Red Rock Singers performing Tuesday in Cedar City

CEDAR CITY — Springtime brings many opportunities to celebrate life renewed. Red Rock Singers, an Iron County-based mixed choir, presents a concert full of life-inspiring music on Tuesday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. in Thorley Recital Hall at Southern Utah University. Admission is free, though donations are encouraged.

British composer John Rutter's masterwork, "Magnificat," or Song of Mary, is the cornerstone of the concert. It is a musical setting in seven movements of one of the most frequently recited canticles, or hymns, about Mary the mother of Christ from the Book of Common Prayer. It tells of Mary's song of praise at the time she visited her cousin Elizabeth.

"This is one of the most well-loved scriptural texts, put to beautiful melodies by a remarkable composer," said director Dr. Steve Meredith. "Mr. Rutter was the Mozart of his generation." "Magnificat" features Mary Fox, Kara Barney, and Rimi Fletcher as soloists. Other pieces on the concert include Moses Hogan's rousing spiritual "The Battle of Jericho," a melodic setting of "The Lord's Prayer" by Maurice Duruflé, "Oh Lord I Would Hear Thy Word" from Merrill Bradshaw's oratorio The Restoration, and "Ubi Caritas" by Juilliard-trained Norwegian composer Ola Gjeilo.

"So much of choral music centers on inspiration and life-affirming themes," said director Dr. Keith Bradshaw. "These pieces are wonderful examples of this and we are excited to share them with our audience."

Tracey Bradshaw accompanies Red Rock Singers on the piano. The group began in February 2015 and has, since then, worked with well-known choral directors Dr. Ronald Staheli, professor emeritus of Brigham Young University, and Dr. Ryan Murphy of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir. Red Rock Singers welcomes new members through audition.

For more information, visit facebook.com/redrocksingers or contact them at redrocksingers@gmail.com.

MARCH for SCIENCE draws Cedar City crowd

by Jean BJERKE
 Special for Iron County Today

Nearly 200 people participated in the Cedar City March for Science on Saturday.

The march, co-sponsored by WMW Cedar City and the Southern Utah University Earth Club, was one of six marches in Utah and more than 600 marches worldwide, planned in conjunction with the March for Science in Washington, D.C.

The March for Science is an international movement supported by thousands of individuals and more than 220 scientific and professional associations.

Marchers, including families with children in strollers and riding on their father's shoulders, gathered at the Main Street Park and marched to the quad in front of the Gerald R. Sherratt Library on the Southern Utah University campus. Their mood was positive, upbeat, and enthusiastic.

Their message was that they believe in science; civilization is founded on science; and they want policy-makers to make decisions based on facts.

At the conclusion of the march, marchers heard brief remarks by some of the local march leaders: Carrie Trenholm, Briget Eastep, and Emily Dean, as well as Alejandro Lucero, president of the SUU Earth Club.

SUU students participated enthusiastically. The SUU Earth Club was a co-sponsor of the March. The SUU Anthropology Club offered anthropology activities. Members of the SUU Animal Ambassadors Club brought a variety of exotic reptiles.

Activities for kids included a "dress up as your favorite scientist" opportunity, archaeology activities, kite flying, bubbles, painting, and simple science demonstrations.

Yvonne DeMille Hunter

On the morning of April 17, 2017 Toni (Yvonne) Hunter gently left this earth after 85 years of amazing love and service to be reunited with her loved ones waiting for her on the other side of the veil. Born September 26, 1931, Toni was the second child of Leland and Erma DeMille, with siblings Delores, Dale and Terry.

At age 16 Toni met Richard Hunter—the love of her life. They married three years later on August 18, 1950 in Cedar City. Within six months they were sealed for time and all eternity in the St. George Temple. She continued her love affair with her husband, Richard, for 66 years and remains inseparably twitter-patted with him to this day.

Toni loved life and all those around her. Her outstanding qualities include kindness, love, spunk, strength and determination. Toni grew up in the depression where she learned to be clean, orderly and thrifty and taught her children the same principles. She tried to install these traits in her grandchildren, as well. She loved to send her family members notes of encouragement and advice in hopes that they could learn from her experiences.

Active in her community, Toni served in many organizations—often accomplishing the impossible. She was extremely organized and very dependable. She worked hard at home and in the business world as a real estate agent, also as a saleswoman for Avon and LeVoy. She succeeded because she loved people and people loved her.

A true and devoted member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, she served as Primary President, Relief Society President, Stake Relief Society President, in Young Women's Presidencies and as a devoted Visiting Teacher. Her life is her testimony and she shared that testimony through her daily deeds and prayers for others.

Toni loved without hesitation, especially her children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and extended family. She worried about everyone and enjoyed everything they did. Toni gave everyone a listening ear and sympathetic heart and never rushed anyone away or cut their time short. You could count on her for a good conversation.

She is survived by her husband, Richard, her children Dennis and Becky Hunter (Lindon), Valerie and Lee Snow (St. George), Laurie and Don Cox (St. George), Chad and Tonya Hunter (Enoch), Andrea and Todd Jolley (Cedar City), her beloved sister, Delores Webster and sister-in-law Kathryn Adams. She is blessed with 21 grandchildren and 35 great grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Toni loved and missed those that preceded her in death including: her parents Leland and Erma; her son, Kevin; granddaughter, Jennie; great grandson, Memphis; as well as her brothers, brother-in-law and sisters-in-law, Dale and Julia DeMille, Terry and Connie DeMille, Garth Webster, nieces and nephews and her Hunter family members.

Services were held at 12 p.m. (noon) on Saturday, April 22, 2017 at the Cedarview/Cedar 16th Ward Chapel (1925 West 320 South). A viewing was held Friday, April 21, 2017 from 6-8 p.m. at Southern Utah Mortuary (190 North 300 West) and a Viewing will be held on Saturday, April 22, 2017 from 10-11:30 a.m. at the church. Interment was in the Cedar City Cemetery under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary. Online condolences can be sent to www.sumortuary.com.

Jesse Lee Smith

Jesse Lee Smith, 37, passed away on Thursday, April 13, 2017, in St. George, Utah. Jesse was born on May 28, 1979, in St. George, to Denise Anne McPherson and Toby Eugene Smith. Jesse married Christine Louise Frankini Smith on March 19, 2010, in Chandler, Arizona.

Jesse moved from St. George to Cedar City, where he attended Cedar High School. When Jesse was 19 years old, he moved to Phoenix, Arizona, where he was employed with Ryan's Pet Supply. Jesse began as packer in the warehouse but was quickly promoted to management. In 2006 Jesse met his future wife, Chris, and they began their life together in Tempe. Jesse and Chris enjoyed their pets, camping, riding quads, and most of all, opening their home to their many friends. Jesse and Chris welcomed their first daughter, Adeline Rose Smith, on October 12, 2010. In 2012, Jesse and Chris moved to Cedar City to raise their growing family, and on October 11, 2012, they had their second daughter, Amelie Rion Smith.

Jesse was employed with Prolifix in Hurricane, Utah, as a supervisor and warehouse manager. Jesse enjoyed music and photography, but his passion was Android development. Jesse was a loving and caring husband and father, and it was clear his pride and joy was his two daughters.

Jesse is survived by his spouse, Christine; children, Adeline and Amelie, of Cedar City; mother, Denise; sisters, Carley Bosh and Chelsea Haase, of Cedar City; brothers, Billy Foster (Tonya) of Hurricane, Utah, and Brock Mashburn (MacKinzie), of Blanding, Utah; grandmothers, Carol "Nana" Langford, of Cedar City, and Betty Smith, of Stillwater, Oklahoma. He is preceded in death by his father, Toby Eugene Smith, and his grandfather, Jerry Smith.

Family and friends will be having a private memorial on April 29, 2017. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made at: GoFundMe.com/jessesmithfamily. Arrangements under the direction of Hughes McArthur Mortuary. www.HughesMortuary.com

Jesse was a beautiful, loving, and nurturing person who will be deeply missed by all who knew him. The memory of Jesse will live on in his sweet girls that he loved so much.

DeLoy Littlefield

DeLoy Littlefield, 83, passed away on April 15, 2017 in Beaver, Utah. He was born on October 11, 1933 in Adamsville, Utah to Samuel Alma Littlefield and Etta Caroline Limb. He grew up in Beaver, Utah and graduated Beaver High School in 1951.

DeLoy was involved in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in various callings: scouting, Elder's Quorum, home teacher, custodial services and Sunday School teacher. He enjoyed gardening, taking care of his yard/lawn, liked Indian artifacts, worked in a mine near Indian Creek, and liked to prospect. He also worked at Cache Valley Dairy. He loved his grandkids and great-grandkids.

DeLoy is survived by his daughter-in-law, Florene (Kelly) Holdaway of Beaver, Utah, 6 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren, many nieces and nephews, his brother-in-law, Donald Potter of St. George, Utah, his sister Rollene Taysom of American Fork. He was preceded in death by his parents, his wife, Ruth, his son, Michael Littlefield, daughter, Linda Littlefield, sisters Marie Ward, Nelda Walker, Bertha Bowler, LaVerne Louder, Elva Hodges and brother Victor Littlefield.

A funeral service was held at 1 p.m. on Thursday, April 20, at the Beaver 2nd Ward Chapel. A viewing was held on Wednesday, April 19, at Southern Utah Mortuary (Beaver) and a viewing held on Thursday, April 20 at the Beaver 2nd Ward building. Interment was at the Mt. View Cemetery under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary. Online condolences can be made at www.sumortuary.com.

Joan Stewart

Joan Adams Stewart was 86 years old when she passed away on April 14, 2017, in Boulder, Col. Joan was born on November 21, 1930, to Lawrence James Adams and Emily Augusta (Dalton) Adams in Parowan, Utah. On April 6, 1953, she married Lynn Hansen Stewart of Spanish Fork, Utah. They were sealed for all time and eternity in the Manti Temple in Manti, UT.

After high school, Joan attended Brigham Young University where she met Lynn. In 1965, when Lynn and Joan moved to Boulder, Joan was employed as an Administrative Assistant at the Grandville-Phillips Company in Boulder and worked there for over 30 years.

Joan had a good voice and loved to sing, she and her four sisters sang in harmony together and often performed at functions. She particularly loved jazz music. She was a great bowler averaging a score of over 200 and would often beat her husband. She loved watching sports right up to the end and knew her sports statistics. Joan served many callings in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints faithfully.

Joan is survived by her sister Beverly (Adams) Pendleton of Parowan; her two daughters Debra Lyn (Stewart) McKay (Timothy J. McKay) of Ludington, Mich., and Teri Alison (Stewart) Gardner (Gene H. Gardner) of Fort Lupton, Col.; five grandchildren, Aaron McKay and Rachel (McKay) Howard of Michigan, and Jacob, Sarah and Nicole Gardner of Colorado; and five great-grandchildren, Hannah and Brooklyn McKay, and Natalie, Gavin and Vivienne Howard, with one on the way. She is preceded in death by her husband, her parents, her two brothers Bruce and Lawrence Adams, and two sisters Helen Hansen and Renee Fife.

Services were held on April 19, 2017, with a viewing at 10 a.m. and service at 11 a.m. at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at 4655 Table Mesa Drive, Boulder, Col. She was laid to rest beside her beloved husband at Mountain View Memorial Park.

Please visit www.cristmortuary.com to leave condolences. Arrangements are under the direction of Crist Mortuary, Boulder, Col.

Donald Martin Cripps

Donald Martin Cripps finished his earthly journey and returned to his maker on Wednesday, March 22nd, 2017. He was born in San Bernadino, California, to Teddy Ray and Carol Erlene Cripps on March 19, 1956. He was the third of six children. After growing up in California, his family moved to Hurricane, Utah, where he met his eternal companion, Tressa Hatch Clyde. They fell in love, and were sealed for time and all eternity in the St. George Temple on November 4, 1988. Both having children from previous marriages, they blended their families together, moved to Cedar City, and have loved each other for almost 30 years.

Don enjoyed talking with people, playing with his children and grandchildren, singing Hymns, writing poetry, and making his wife laugh.

He is survived by his loving wife Terri, son Robert (Chelsea) Cripps, daughter Tricia (John) Adams, six Grandchildren; Gideon, Serenity, Gavin, Jasper, Joshua, and Rebecca, siblings Dan (Lila) Cripps, Debra Cripps, Dianna Davis, Denise (Dan) Husk, as well as many nephews and nieces. He was preceded in death by his parents and older brother David (Cathy) Cripps.

The family would like to express their deepest appreciation to the staff at Iron County Nursing Home, the staff and members of Oasis House, and the IHC Home Health and Hospice for all of their care, help, and support.

Funeral services were held Saturday, April 1, 2017 at the Heritage Park LDS Chapel (290 W. 1045 North) in Cedar City at 12:15 p.m., with interment at the Cedar City Cemetery following the service.

Happy Administrative Professional's Day

The Rut LESS TRAVELED

by Corey BAUMGARTNER

Today is the day when we honor each of the administrative professionals in our lives. And by lives, I mean the places where we feel like we spend most of our lives, at work. However, no matter where we work, there is usually someone behind the scenes making it all run more smoothly for us. Whether it's keeping the temperature cozy, making sure the wi-fi connections are working, or making sure we get a paycheck, (etc. etc. etc.) the rest of us in the workplace would be out of place without these professional people.

Once called secretaries, though in politically correct circles, that term is thought of as demeaning or undermining, these talented men and women continue to find their sanctuaries in cubicles and offices; often barely big enough for a desk, computer, phone, filing cabinet, candy jar and a potted plant. Yet, upon these small, but sacred grounds, where all too often their office and break-room are the same place, these admirable administrators find a way to work modern-day miracles.

With so much responsibility upon their shoulders, they routinely provide the back-bone and back-up to every business they serve within our community. Whether typing a memo, taking messages, on the phone, on the computer, faxing, filing and trying to stay smiling; their skills with co-workers, other humans, multi-tasking and organizing are unmatched. They truly are the superheroes of the workplace.

We should take a moment this week and marvel at their superpowers, which few can (or have) surpassed. Their daily heroics are both bona fide and certified.

Therefore, wherever you work as an admin-pro, please know that you truly make the other side of the desk, wall, or cubicle run more smoothly and effectively. Just because people don't seem to show or say it, or who unwisely think that your pay-check is ample appreciation, please continue to do your best knowing you truly are making a difference! You give new meaning to the title, administrative professional. Therefore, today, and every day, you are very appreciated for your dedication.

To the rest of us, let us raise our water-bottles, coffee mugs, memos and post-its to our administrative professionals. Let us celebrate those without whose work, which may often feel like it's behind the scenes, we would be lost, overwhelmed and underperforming in the land of schedules, voice-mails, e-mails and dead-lines.

And remember, when work gets dark and dreary, don't forget to keep calm and talk to the secre... I mean, the administrative professional. I'd say go give them a hug, but I wouldn't want you to get in trouble with Human Resources, or fired for such workplace heresy! Finally, regardless of how we address them, we need them. We appreciate them and I hope we will continue to do so the other 364 days of the year.

Yes, even on holidays and the weekends because a great administrative professional is irreplaceable. Those are the fax! Thank you to each one of you!

They truly are the superheroes of the workplace

SUU students awarded Utah medical school scholarship

SALT LAKE CITY — Two Southern Utah University students have gained entrance and received scholarships to the University of Utah School of Medicine. They both received $5,000 scholarship from the Marriner S. Eccles Foundation.

Spencer Lindsay is a Cedar City native who recently graduated from SUU with a master's degree in public administration. Lindsay plans to return to practice in a rural area of Utah after completion of medical school at the University of Utah. During his time at SUU, Lindsay was an active student director of the Utah Osteopathic Medical Association and completed an internship at the Utah State Legislature, among many involvement opportunities.

Adam Penrose graduated with a degree in biology from SUU last December and is originally from Portland, Oregon. Penrose plans to enroll at the University of Utah School of Medicine as well, and is thankful for, "the support they've already shown in many ways, including this scholarship." Penrose currently serves as an intern with the Rural Health Association of Utah, housed at SUU, in which he leads rural health initiatives across southern Utah.

The intent of this scholarship is to provide support to students who plan to practice medicine in underserved areas within Utah, which is exactly what both Penrose and Lindsay plan to do upon completing their medical residency. There is an extreme need for physicians across the state, especially in rural areas, where nationally only 10 percent of physicians practice, yet about 25 percent of the population lives.

The Marriner S. Eccles Foundation funds various charitable, scientific, health, and educational organizations in Utah. Marriner Eccles was the son of David and Dore Eccles, who were committed to supporting important community needs across the state and established the George S. and Dolores Dore Eccles Foundation in 1960.

The School of Medicine at the University of Utah is highly competitive, with a class size of only 125 students. When compared with their almost 4,000 applications they receive each year, it is quite an accomplishment to be accepted. This program combines excellence in teaching, research, and clinical expertise to successfully train tomorrow's physicians for the rapidly changing world of medicine. More details can be found online at <http://medicine.utah.edu/>.

Both Lindsay and Penrose are members of the Rural Health Scholars Program, which assisted them greatly in their success. This program is available at Southern Utah University, Dixie State University, Snow College, and Utah State University-Eastern in Price. Through a partnership with the University of Utah School of Medicine, this program assists students in becoming successful applicants to medical, nursing, podiatry, dental, pharmacy, and other health professions programs. For more information about the Utah Center for Rural Health programs, contact Karen Ganss at 435-865-8660 or visit www.suu.edu/ahcc.

SARAH MURPHY AND HER SUU TEAMMATES are now 9-6 in conference play after taking four of five from Sacramento State over the weekend.

SUU SOFTBALL FALLS in home finale

by Tom ZULEWSKI
Iron County Today

In search of its first series sweep of the Big Sky softball season, the outlook was bleak for the Southern Utah Thunderbirds. Down by seven runs early, they weren't about to let an opportunity get away.

The Sacramento State Hornets held on and played spoilers on Senior Day.

SUU rallied from a 7-0 deficit into a 9-9 tie, but Sacramento State scored three runs in the sixth inning and added a valuable insurance run in the seventh to hold on for a 13-11 win April 22 at Kathryn Berg Field. The T-Birds won the fourth of its five series on the Big Sky season, but fell to 9-6 in conference play.

Sacramento State started with a five-run first inning and added two more in the second to build the huge early lead, but SUU wasn't about to throw in the towel. The T-Birds started the comeback with a six-run fourth sparked by a bases-clearing triple from Sarah Murphy and a two-run homer from Nicole Simonson that cut the Hornets' lead to just 7-6.

After the visitors countered with two runs in the top of the fifth, the T-Birds found a way to pull even with three in the bottom half. Cedar High alum and sophomore second baseman Javlyn Weaver hit a triple to drive in two runs and Morgan Leonard plated Weaver with a single that tied the game at 9-9.

Sacramento State rebuilt the lead to four, but not before SUU made them sweat in the seventh. Simonson and Kendall Kapitzke came through with RBI singles for the final two runs, but the rally ended there and the Hornets escaped with a win in the series finale.

As they did last week against Idaho State, the T-Birds opened the series with a doubleheader sweep, beating the Hornets by scores of 9-3 and 8-7. Both games featured timely hitting in the late stages.

In the opener, SUU fell behind 2-1 after the top of the fifth, but rallied with two runs in the bottom half and six more in the sixth. The T-Birds led 5-2 in Game 2 after three innings and secured the sweep by scoring a run in the bottom of the seventh on a one-out home run from Kapitzke.

SUU finishes the regular season with a pair of road series starting at defending Big Sky champion Weber State on Friday.

Cedar baseball rallies for first region win

by Tom ZULEWSKI
Iron County Today

The Cedar Redmen knew it would only be a matter of time. Big offensive innings weren't quite enough to get them into the win column, but a few good breaks provided a big breakthrough when they faced the Desert Hills Thunder on April 20.

Ben Hulet reached on a throwing error in the bottom of the sixth inning that allowed two runs to score, and the Redmen added a third run that broke a tie and held up to beat the Thunder, 8-5, for their first Region 9 win of the season.

As had been its pattern, Cedar (1-5) fell behind early thanks to a two-run homer from Desert Hills starting pitcher Trey Winget. The Thunder (4-2) would stretch the lead to 4-0 after single runs in the fourth and fifth.

That's when the Redmen fired the rocket boosters on offense.

Sophomore Bridger Bunnell led off the bottom of the fifth with a home run to get Cedar on the board, and Drake Lewis added an RBI double later in the frame to cut the lead in half.

With two runners on after a throwing error, that brought up

Hulet, who turned around a pitch and sent it well over the fence with the help of a strong wind blowing out in left field for a three-run shot that put the Redmen in front at 5-4.

The Thunder pulled even with a run in the top of the sixth when Trey Allred singled, stole second, went to third on a sacrifice, and scored on a groundout from Seth Betts, but the fireworks continued for the Redmen as they responded once more.

Bunnell led off the inning with a walk and went to third on a Travis Tait double with one out. Lewis popped up to first base for the second out, but Jaden Hulet drew a walk that loaded the bases and kept the inning alive.

Ben Hulet hit a shot in the direction of Betts at second base. Betts made a dive to field the ball, but stumbled as he tried to throw. The ball drifted wide of first base, allowing two runs to score.

Marcus Johnson's infield single that took a bad hop away from the Thunder third baseman plated the third run of the inning.

Desert Hills got a runner on in the seventh, but did no further damage as Cedar held on.

Cedar opened the week with an 11-5 loss at Desert Hills on April 18. The Redmen had an early 1-0 lead after scoring a run in the top of the second, but the Thunder grabbed control with six runs in the bottom of the third.

After Cedar scored three in the fourth inning to creep within two runs at 6-4, Desert Hills answered quickly with four runs in the bottom half to secure the victory.

The Redmen played a key road game at Pine View on Tuesday night and will return home to play the two-time defending 3A champion Panthers on Friday at 4 p.m.

Across town, Canyon View did not play this week. They returned to action with a doubleheader at Carbon on Tuesday, and they will play a single game at home Friday, with first pitch at 3 p.m.

Falcons soccer clinches Region 12

by Tom ZULEWSKI

Iron County Today

The Canyon View Falcons reached another milestone in a season that's been loaded full of them so far. When the referee's whistle sounded for the end of its game against Carbon on April 18, there was no extra celebration, no student section to greet the team.

It may have been the middle of spring break, but the Falcons know they have bigger goals that are fast approaching.

Trevan Wade, Tyler Wheeler and Mark Gibson all scored goals and the defense made sure to slam the door as Canyon View blanked Carbon 3-0 to clinch the Region 12 crown for the second year in a row. Not only did the Falcons secure the No. 1 seed and home games for the first two rounds of the 3A playoffs, but they won their 11th straight game overall (11-2).

"This is awesome, but it's just one step forward for the goals we want to achieve," CV head coach Spencer Davis said. "Keeping the focus of teenage boys is hard, but they're doing a beautiful job."

The match was played in a stiff breeze throughout with wind gusts that topped 40 mph, but it didn't slow the Falcons down.

Wade, a junior, scored the only goal of the first half, while Wheeler made it 2-0 five minutes into the second half and Gibson drove a low rolling shot inside the near post in the 57th minute to finish off the scoring.

It was CV's second straight shutout and sixth of the season for goalkeeper Matt Bench. Fifteen different players have scored at least one goal for the Falcons with two regular-season games still to be played.

Canyon View closes the regular season with a road game at Richfield that was played Tuesday and Juab at home Friday in a 3:30 p.m. kickoff. The Falcons will face the No. 4 seed from Region 10 in the opening round of the 3A playoffs that begin May 4.

Cedar falls to Dixie, still in playoff hunt Like their crosstown counterparts, Cedar played only one soccer game for the week of spring break, but came out on the short end of a 2-1 loss to the Dixie Flyers at home April 18.

The Redmen (1-6-1 Region 9) got a first-half goal from Abe Brower that held up until the Flyers got second-half tallies from Jose Morales and Kian Rocha to rally for the win.

With road games at Pine View and Desert Hills left in the regular season this week, the Redmen can control their fate in the race for the final 3A playoff spot from Region 9. Cedar would move ahead of the Panthers (2-6) with a victory in the game that was played Tuesday night.

The Redmen wrap up the regular season against the Thunder on Friday.

Also from the week, the Parowan Rams produced a win and a tie in 2A

South play. The Rams lost to Delta at home April 18 by a 4-1 count, then traveled to Beaver two days later and played to a 3-3 tie.

Parowan (1-9-1 2A South) closes the regular season with a road game at Diamond Ranch on Thursday.

Cedar track teams finish second at Dixie

by Tom ZULEWSKI

Iron County Today

With only three meets left, including two at home, before the state track championship begins, the Cedar track and field teams are continuing to round into form after another pair of solid performances on April 21 and 22.

The boys and girls teams both finished second by comfortable margins at the Dixie Invitational. The Redmen boys team had 101 points, 15 ahead of third-place Hurricane, and the Lady Reds finished with 136, well ahead of Dixie's 80.

Both Desert Hills teams won the overall title at Dixie, with the boys finishing with 159.5 points and the girls coming in with 176.

Canyon View's teams also competed at Dixie and came in sixth place overall. The Falcon boys had 41 points, three behind Ogden, and the girls had 27 points, one better than sixth-place Hurricane.

Here are the top finishers from Iron County schools for each event:

Lady Reds softball routs Warriors

by Tom ZULEWSKI

Iron County Today

There was every reason for Cedar softball coach Chris Weaver to be concerned. His best pitcher was battling illness and the team hadn't played a game in eight days.

After a shaky beginning, the Lady Reds showed no ill effects and rolled to another victory.

Sage Oldroyd belted a two-run home run as part of a six-run third inning, and Cedar kept up the intensity from there in a 13-3 victory in six innings over Snow Canyon on April 21. The Lady Reds stayed unbeaten in Region 9 at 6-0 and kept a one-game lead over Desert Hills.

Dream Weaver just missed hitting for the cycle with a double, triple and solo home run, while younger sister Japrix drove in four runs, two coming on a double with one out in the bottom of the sixth that ended the game early with the run rule.

"We gave them Monday and Tuesday off, and they started like I expected," Weaver said. "Sage and Dream are starting to pound the ball."

After Cedar's big third inning, the visiting Warriors (2-4 Region 9) had their lone offensive surge in the top of the fourth. Two runs scored on a double from Geena Dolce, and Abby Farrer reached on an error that pulled Snow Canyon within 6-3.

That brought on Bryton Holyoak in relief of Oldroyd, and she limited any further damage.

Cedar regained control by putting together a four-run rally after two were out in the bottom of the frame. Holyoak started things with an RBI single and Amanda Cardon hit a liner with the bases loaded that struck the throwing hand of pitcher Payten Jensen for the second run. Japrix Weaver capped the rally with a two-run single that pushed the Lady Reds' lead to 10-3.

"Once they got some help and scored runs, we knew we had to shut it down," the younger Weaver sister said. "Snow Canyon always sneaks up on you. We can't get comfy."

Dream Weaver added a solo homer with two out in the fifth, and Japrix delivered the walk-off game-winner on a line drive to the fence in left field to finish off a 14-hit Lady Reds attack.

Cedar returned to Region 9 play with a home game against Dixie on Tuesday, and they will travel to play at Hurricane on Friday.

Across town, Canyon View (3-3 Region 12) did not play last week. They returned to action Tuesday with a home game against Region 12 leader Juab and will welcome Carbon on Friday.

SUU softball needs wins, help for chance at title

The Southern Utah softball team wrapped up its 2017 Big Sky home schedule with Senior Day on April 22 at Kathryn Berg Field. For the second straight weekend, the T-Birds had a chance to complete a series sweep over the opposition for the first time all season.

And somehow, the visiting Sacramento State Hornets found a way to hang on by the proverbial stitch of a softball after posting a 13-11 victory. SUU won its third straight series, but their hopes of earning a Big Sky title and the right to host the postseason tournament are on life support at the moment.

The T-Birds have a 9-6 mark in conference play, the last of three teams – Weber State and Montana – with winning records. SUU heads on the road to finish the regular season and has to deal with the defending champion Wildcats first in a three-game set that starts with a doubleheader Friday.

The good news from the schedule is the T-Birds have won four of its five series in conference play. The bad: The only team SUU failed to beat is the Montana Grizzlies, who sit directly in front of them by two full games at 11-4.

Weber State is 11-3 in the Big Sky and holds a half-game lead over the Grizzlies heading into the in-state rivalry showdown. It's imperative for the T-Birds that only a sweep will improve their chances at the crown.

Bad news, Part Deux: Weber State finishes its regular season at home against Montana. Even if SUU can somehow sweep in Ogden, they'd pretty much have to do the same at North Dakota in two weeks to keep hope alive.

Montana had won seven games in a row before falling at Portland State on Sunday, so it's definitely possible.

-A sense of baseball déjà vu may be brewing over at Cedar High. The Redmen found a way to pull off a late-inning rally – story elsewhere on these pages – and beat Region 9 co-leader Desert Hills on April 20.

Just like a year ago, Cedar is 1-5 through the first six games of region play.

Last year, a late-inning win over the Thunder started a turnaround that led all the way to the 3A state title game for the second year in a row. The challenge to make the climb to the playoffs will be much harder this time around.

Cedar has to face Pine View – who beat them in the last two 3A title games – and Dixie twice to try and get over the hump. If the mood in the dugout last week was any indication, the Redmen are ready to embrace the task.

-Speaking of belief, the Canyon View boys soccer team is overflowing with confidence right now after they wrapped up another Region 12 title with a 3-0 home shutout over the Carbon Dinos. The Falcons have won 11 straight games and are worthy of attention that is steadily growing with each passing victory.

With two regular-season matches remaining – on the road at Richfield today, then at home against Juab on Friday – CV's soccer success has reached heights not seen in the 12 years I've covered the school's athletic programs.

After the Falcons face the No. 4 seed from Region 10 in the first round of the 3A playoffs, a win could set up a showdown with whoever the No. 2 seed from Region 9 is in the quarterfinals. Snow Canyon, Desert Hills and Dixie are in the middle of a three-way fight to determine their finishing order heading to the final week. The margin stood at three points between the three teams when play began Tuesday.

CV has already beaten both the Thunder (2-1 on the road March 14) and the Warriors (1-0 at home March 21). They're also ranked No. 2 through April 16 by the Deseret News, so to brush the Falcons off now is no longer an option.

Parowan baseball falls to Enterprise

The Enterprise Wolves pulled away from a tight pitchers' duel in the late stages, putting together all but one run over the final three innings on the way to a 15-1 rout over Parowan on April 21.

Enterprise, the defending 2A champion, led 1-0 until the top of the fifth when it scored four runs that broke the game open. They would add three more runs in the sixth and seven in the seventh.

Enterprise hit three home runs in the victory, one each from Austin Randall, Caden Prisbrey and Truman Fowler.

The Rams (1-5 2A South) have their final two games on the road, starting at Beaver on Tuesday, then at Kanab on Friday.

Parowan softball splits four games

The Parowan Rams had a busy spring break with four games, including three in 2A South play last week.

The Rams posted a pair of wins over Panguitch on April 18 by scores of 10-0 in six innings and 16-2 in five innings. Parowan put together six runs in the second in the opener before finishing the shutout with two more runs in the sixth.

In the nightcap, the Rams struck for 12 runs in the first and secured the win with three more runs in the fourth.

Parowan closed the week by dropping identical 20-4 games against Gunnison on April 19 and Enterprise on April 21. The Bulldogs went to work and put the win away quickly, scoring eight times in the first and adding 12 more in the second in the non-region game.

Against the 2A South-leading Wolves, Parowan had a 4-1 lead after the first inning, but saw Enterprise storm back and seal the win early with 11 runs in the top of the fifth.

Parowan is 4-4 in 2A South and traveled to Kanab for a road game Tuesday. They will wrap up the week with a game at Beaver on Friday.
