Fallen fire pilots honored during memorial dedication

LOCAL FIREFIGHTERS GATHERED with the family members of two fallen fire pilots, Todd Tompkins and Ronnie Chambless, at the Cedar City Airport June 3 to express heartfelt appreciation for the pilots' service and dedication.

CEDAR CITY – Dozens of wildland, municipal, and aerial firefighters gathered around the families of two fallen fire pilots at the Bureau of Land Management Interagency Fire Center at the Cedar City Airport June 3 to honor the dead with a memorial dedication.

On June 3, 2012, Boise-based Neptune Aviation Capt. Todd Tompkins, 48, and 1st Officer Ronnie Chambless, 40, responded to a 5,000-acre wildfire raging in the Hamblin Valley near the Utah-Nevada border west of Cedar City. Four years later, a crowd of more than 100 emergency personnel, family and friends surrounded a Lockheed P2V plane and braved the sweat and tears to listen and share stories.

“Then, there was this effort, three years in the making,” Tompkin’s widow Cassie Cannon said while speaking about the changes she had experienced since her husband’s death. “The desire of the Lone Peak Hotshots to honor Todd and Ronnie and the huge sacrifice in fighting the Iron County fire four years ago.”

The plane, Tanker 11, crashed on the side of a small, burning hill where, four years later, the tireless efforts of the men’s families, coworkers and friends produced two obelisks in their memory.

“On behalf of Todd Tompkins’s family and friends,” Cannon said, “I would like to express our heartfelt appreciation for the dedication and perseverance it took to make this memorial a reality. Words are never sufficient, just please know you have created a legacy for our families and friends that we will always treasure, and we will never take for granted.”

Following the event in Cedar City, attendees traveled to the PAROWAN – The Desert Cruisers Car Club and Parowan Events hosted the Parowan Fun Run Car Show June 3-4 at the Parowan Library Park.

After 26 years of hosting the event in Parowan, this year organizers decided to incorporate a Main Street Cruise with the Desert Cruisers, as well as car show entrants and community members showcasing their cars, beginning at the Main Street Gazebo on June 3. Participants also enjoyed a barbecue and gathering.

The cruise proved to be a highlight of the event.

“That was a lot of fun for me,” said Frank Mattison, of Desert Cruisers, of the Main Street Cruise. “Loving the little town of Parowan, to be able to lead the cruise and get pictures with my truck with Main Street Parowan in the background, you just can’t beat that.”

For Mattison and other Desert Cruisers, the show has become a family reunion of sorts.

“(My favorite part of the show) is getting to visit with all our friends up here,” said Mattison, who comes from Nevada every summer to attend the show. “This has become such a family event. When we get done with the show, we’ve got friends to go visit in town. We get to see so many people that we haven’t gotten to see all year.”

On June 4, more than 500 community members visited the car show with approximately 50 entrants in the show. The show was open to all makes and models of cars and trucks.

Don and Tammy Maxwell, of Parowan, walked away with the Club Best of Show award for their '32 Ford Model A.

MORE THAN 500 COMMUNITY MEMBERS visited the 26th annual Parowan Fun Run Car Show June 4. The show had approximately 50 entrants and was open to all makes and models of cars and trucks.

City Council welcomes Utah Summer Games staff

BY COREY BAUMGARTNER

CEDAR CITY – Utah Summer Games Executive Director Casey McClellan and staff members Bob Tate and Pace Clark introduced themselves during the June 1 Cedar City Council meeting.

“This is the 31st anniversary of the Utah Summer Games and we’re really excited about the 2016 season,” McClellan said. “We’re going to celebrate 31 years of everybody’s hard work, blood, sweat and tears and we want to be sure to thank all of you for the support we get from the city.”

McClellan also hinted about a special announcement to be made during the opening ceremonies.

“It’s going to be a great three weeks, and we’d love to have you join us on the (June 9) because what will be announced will be exciting for everyone involved,” he said. “This is a game changer for Utah Summer Games, and for Cedar City and Iron County. It’s a really big deal and we can’t wait.”

The Utah Summer Games opening ceremonies will be on June 9 at 8:30 p.m. and will include live entertainment and a spectacular fireworks show.

To help make sure the city and its venues – such as the grass fields for soccer and ultimate frisbee events—are ready for the events, the council is offering a credit of $400 per each of the eight fields for the two months leading up to the Summer Games. The water credit comes after several complaints in previous years by athletes of the sub-par conditions during the events.

Also during the meeting, City Engineer Kit Wareham took a few moments to update the positive progress on Phase One of the Coal Creek Road reconstruction project as it continues to clear potential roadblocks.

The Lin’s Fresh Market expansion project is also moving forward, as the Redevelopment Agency helps secure the necessary financing and bonds in preparation of the construction. A public hearing has been tentatively set for the July 6 city council meeting to allow the public to discuss the project and help finalize the plans for the council’s vote.

Other announcements included a Flag Day ceremony on June 14 at the Rotary Centennial Veterans Park located at 200 N. 200 East and on June 25 there will be a special wreath laying ceremony in honor of the 10-year anniversary of the Utah National Guard’s 222nd Field Artillery Unit deployment to Iraq. The ceremony will also be held at the Veterans Park.

TO THE EDITOR

'Great teachers should not be made sacrificial lambs on the altar of political correctness'

I always read Bryan Gray's opinion articles, and as I have told Jeff Lowe, I look forward to the Today paper. Gray's opinion piece regarding school teachers, school boards and political correctness was of great interest to me.

I am a retired teacher, having taught high school English for 32 years, 27 of those years in Iron County School District.

Your premise, the quote, "Great teachers should not be made sacrificial lambs on the altar of political correctness" is right on. I certainly agree with the supporting example of the teacher using the movie and educating the historical context of the N-word.

As you can well imagine, that is a scenario with which I am well familiar: teaching literature and providing context to language usage and thematic issues. Most obvious was teaching "Huckleberry Finn." I read a lot of Twain's novel out loud in class; the dialect is challenging. Reading the N-word out loud almost killed me. I spent two class periods preparing the students and explaining the time period/ Twain's intent/ etc., but that is a teacher's job. Educate the usage.

I hope that Mr. Barker stays engaged in the struggle; it's real. We need teachers like him. And we need opinion writers like you.

Thank you.

Scouting numbers continue to slide

Whenever someone brings up the subject of Scouting, I plead woeful ignorance. Although I participated as a Cub Scout for a short two months as a boy, Scouting was never a big deal in my neighborhood. To me, the Girl Scouts appeared to have more fun; they sold cookies!

Yet I understand

BY BRYAN GRAY

that Scouting has deep roots in Utah, especially among LDS youth, and I frequently ask adult leaders if they have seen a surge or a decrease in the number of boys in their troops. The answer is almost always that fewer young men are interested.

Last week the president of the national organization admitted the same. In finishing his two-year term as head of the Boy Scouts of America, former U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert Gates reported a nearly 3 percent decrease in the ## Where's Herbert?

I've been fairly active in local politics, even to the point of visiting some of the rural county political events because I enjoy grass-roots politics so much. Other than the Iron County Commission races for seat A and C there isn't much going on other than the governor's race, so I've been observing things there too.

The big difference this time is that Herbert seems content to send subordinates in his place to many of the rural county events and even some along the Wasatch Front. The governor also spent an enormous amount of money to get his face plastered on billboards up and down the state. Both are big mistakes. I tire of Herbert and any other politicians taking credit for the hard working industrious people of Utah that makes our economy one of the best in the nation.

First of all, many rural counties are disappointed

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I'm thankful for the broad community support I have received from the citizens of Iron County! I am running for County Commission seat "A" to move our County towards a more positive and collaborative place. While there are ups and downs to public service, I enjoy bringing people together to identify innovative solutions by finding common ground so that we can all feel confident in the direction we take.

I have been humbled by your support as I have had the opportunity to serve you on the County Commission for the last month. I have learned a lot and appreciate the experience of others in the complicated issues we work on every day. I am currently working on implementing live streaming of commission meetings. This will help with transparency and community involvement.

Public Lands: I have experience not only with the Public Lands Transfer Act, but also the current State lawsuit.

Water Rights: I have led the charge in Iron County to protect our farmers, homeowners, and small businesses from losing their water rights and want to continue that fight until we are successful.

Law Enforcement: I will be an independent voice that looks at the facts in an unbiased way to ensure that law enforcement is treated fairly and with the respect they deserve. It is important that the Commission and Sheriff's office work together as co-equal partners of County Government and as a form of checks and balances to best ensure the citizens interests are the top priority.

Other Brief Items of Interest:

- I Support Live Streaming Commission Meetings
- I will Develop a Strong Working Relationship with Educators
- I Believe Strong Family Values will Improve our Community
- I Opposed the Commission Salary Increase in 2015
- I Opposed funding the W.F.F. with Taxpayer Dollars
- I will Preserve the Rural Voice on the Commission
- I Support a Robust Primary Election that Involves More People
- I will Focus on Economic Growth and Higher Wages

"I believe that Casey Anderson has a desire to serve and would work hard to make Iron County a better place to live and raise a family. I believe he would work diligently to prove to the citizens of Iron County that he is a voice of reason and compromise. I am confident that if he is given the chance he would study the issues and make good decisions."

World War II and Holocaust exhibit opens at Cedar City Library

BY JEFF LOWE
Managing Editor

"PARALLEL JOURNEYS: WORLD WAR II AND THE HOLOCAUST THROUGH THE EYES OF TEENS," an exhibit detailing information about the Holocaust and World War II through the stories of six teenagers who witnessed the events, opened at the Cedar City Library June 6. The exhibit will run through the end of June.

CEDAR CITY – "Parallel Journeys: World War II and the Holocaust through the Eyes of Teens," a traveling exhibit from Kennesaw State University, opened at the Cedar City Library June 6.

The exhibit details information about the Holocaust and World War II through the stories of six teenagers who witnessed the events, including Anne Frank and Jewish Olympic hopeful Margaret Lambert.

Lauren McAfee, development and grant officer and assistant librarian, said she is impressed with the exhibit and hopes community members will come experience it.

The exhibit gives a brief history of World War II and how it started, beginning with the rise of Hitler following World War I. It details the history of intolerance toward Jewish people and how propaganda contributed to perpetuating prejudices. It also provides information about Nazi concentration camps, McAfee said.

"I am thoroughly impressed by it," McAfee said of the exhibit, adding that the accounts of those teens that experienced the events "bring it to life."

One community member who attended the opening day of the exhibit said she found the accounts both interesting and somewhat scary, a reminder that history can repeat itself if we don't learn from it.

To supplement the exhibit, the Cedar City Library has included Iron County Record newspaper clippings from the era, which detail some of the war's events and give a local perspective from the time period.

In connection with the exhibit, the library will host a question and answer event with local World War II Veteran Richard Gunn and his wife, Shirley Gunn. The event will take place at the library on June 8 at 7 p.m. in the East Room.

The library will also host a scholarly lecture featuring SUU Department Chair of History, Sociology, and Anthropology Dr. Larry Ping on June 23 beginning at 7 p.m., also in the East Room.

The library will be handing out Brag Badges in connection with Play Unplugged, for those participating youth who tour the exhibit.

"Parallel Journeys: World War II and the Holocaust through the Eyes of Teens" will run through the end of June at the Cedar City Library. The Cedar City Library is located on 303 N. 100 East, Cedar City, next to Main Street Park. The exhibition and related programs are free and open to the public.

CODY SMITH

DETACHMENT A OF THE 49-1 COMBAT VETERANS MOTORCYCLE ASSOCIATION organized a veteran's benefit ride June 4 and raised $4,464 to help local veterans.

Veterans organization raises money for homeless

BY CODY SMITH
Reporter

IRON COUNTY – Roughly 160 people with 80 motorcycles attended the first annual Vets Helping Vets motorcycle ride June 4 and raised $4,464 to help local veterans.

Detachment A of the 49-1 Combat Veterans Motorcycle Association (CVMA) organized the ride. Chuck Triplett, veteran, Iron County Sheriff's deputy, and event organizer, said $1,350 of money raised will go toward the construction of a Vietnam memorial wall at Zion Harley Davidson in Hurricane, and the other $3,114 is bound for Southern Utah Vets Aid (SUVA). SUVA plans to use the money to get homeless vets off the street.

Riders met at Veterans Memorial Park in Cedar City before beginning their ride to Zion Harley Davidson where they ate lunch. The motorcade travelled through Enterprise before finally returning to Mike's Tavern in Cedar City. Once at Mike's Tavern, riders listened to live music until 1 a.m. and had the chance to win a prize from the raffle, which contained over $2,000 worth of donated prizes. Artists included Josh Larsen, Raven Cain, Chris Petersen Band, Bila Gaana and Zion Curtain.

Triplett said the CVMA is going to host the event again in June 2017, but that the route will likely take the riders through Cedar Mountain on a poker run.

"We consider this event a huge success, and this is in large part to the tremendous support we have received from the community," Triplett said. "We had a great turnout from our brothers in the 49-1 from the Wasatch Front, as well as CVMA 49-2 from Ogden who drove down for the event that morning and still participated."

In addition to the chapters of CVMA and SUVA, the Color Country Chapter of Bikers Against Child Abuse and RED ROCK RIDERS chapter of the Patriot Guard from St. George attended.

"The greatest reason for our success," Triplett said, "was our great Sponsors like Mikes Tavern, who not only hosted the event but also gave money for the cause, D & D Electric, Southern Utah Alarm, Rebel Bail Bonds, Tattoo Annies, Big Hit Vape, Image Pro, Mega Pro, Law Tiger (Utah), Anytime taxi, Beeline Power Sports, Groovacious Records and Zion Harley."

Mason Cottam and Gradient Sound ensured all the bands sounded their best.

"Mason did a great job of facilitating the transition from band to band," Triplett said. "Raven rocked the house with a very high energy performance of southern rock."

SUVA, according to www.southernutahvetsaid.org, is a free program that provides visitation services to veterans in nursing homes and hospitals, publishes military experiences on their blog, "Veteran's Corner," refers veterans to various service providers, and suggests the best Veteran's Advocate for appealing VA decisions.

Triplett said SUVA founder Pat Lisi noticed an increase in homeless veterans in Southern Utah and decided "something needed to be done."

In January 2014, Lisi met a 40-year-old female veteran living in her car in the St. George area. Living with her were her two small children. Triplett said Lisi worked with a local hotel in order to get a discounted room. Working with other veterans organizations, Lisi found her a job. As a result, she and her children are off the streets.

"There is no end in sight to the homeless vet epidemic," Triplett said, "but 49-1 is committed to helping the Southern Utah Vets Aid get these vets off the street and into temporary housing."

UTAH'S ANNUAL FREE FISHING DAY will take place June 11 with special events planned for many venues in Southern Utah.

Free Fishing Day offered June 11

BY CRAIG BENNETT
Reporter

CEDAR CITY – Utah's annual free fishing day will take place June 11. If you don't have a fishing license but still want to get out on the water and catch some fish, plan on visiting the many streams, reservoirs and lakes in the area.

Several free fishing events will take place, including one at Leigh Hill Reservoir, or "Lake at the Hills."

To reach the reservoir, follow Cedar City's Royal Hunte Drive to the top of Leigh Hill. Prizes will be offered and some fishing equipment will be available to check out and use.

DWR personnel and volunteers will also be on hand to help youngsters fish and to help them keep their hooks baited. The event runs from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sportsmen for Fish and Wildlife is cosponsoring this event.

According to www.wildlife.utah.gov, the no-fee day offers anglers a great opportunity to try out fishing for the first time and to introduce others to the sport.

Division of Wildlife Resources Aquatic Section Chief Drew Cushing was quoted on the website as saying,

The no-fee day offers anglers a great opportunity to try out fishing for the first time and to introduce others to the sport

"Fishing is a great way to escape the hectic pace of life and relax. It's a fun activity, and it's probably closer to your home than you think. Many Utahns are surprised to learn how many good fishing waters are only a short drive from their house."

Community fishing ponds aren't the only place that will receive fish before June 11. DWR hatchery personnel will place extra fish in waters across Utah. Most of the fish will be placed in lakes and reservoirs, making these good places to try on Free Fishing Day.

Other events near Iron County will take place at Little Reservoir, six miles up Beaver Canyon, and Grandpa's Pond in Hurricane, at the north end of 3700 West.

Each event runs from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Southern Utah Anglers is cosponsoring the Hurricane event.

For more information, call the DWR's Cedar City office at (435) 865-6100.

A license to fish is not required on June 11, but all of the other rules in the free 2016 Utah Fishing Guidebook will still be in effect. You can download the guidebook by going to www.wildlife.utah.gov. Paper copies are also available at DWR offices and from fishing license agents across Utah.

Cross Hollows Event Center to host 10th annual Cedar City PRCA Rodeo

BY CHARLEY WALQUIST

Reporter

CEDAR CITY—The Cedar City PRCA Rodeo, featuring champion cowboys from around the western United States, will take place Friday, June 10 and Saturday, June 11 at 8 p.m. at the Cross Hollows Event Center.

The Cross Hollows Event Center is located at 11 N. Cross Hollows Rd. in Cedar City.

Tickets are $10 and are available at the Market Grill, Jolley's Ranch Wear, IFA Country Store, and online.

This is the 10th annual rodeo, and the Cedar City Rodeo Committee is excited to bring the community together for both days to enjoy the rodeo.

Events will include bare-back, steer wrestling, tie down roping, saddle bronc, team roping, barrel racing, and bull riding both days. There will also be cash calves both nights for the kids to enjoy.

In the 2014 Cedar City rodeo, three saddle bronc riders scored in the 90s, a feat unsurpassed in the PRCA.

"It shows the high caliber of cowboys we get here," said Cyndi W. Gilbert, member of the Cedar City Rodeo Committee and Stock Contractor for the rodeo.

In addition to traditional rodeo events, Troy "The Wild Child" Lerwill will appear at this year's championship. The Wild Child is a rodeo clown known for jumping trailers with his motorcycles and for being really good with the crowds.

"He is a true professional," Gilbert said.

Lerwill has been awarded the PRCA clown of the year eight times, and the Cedar City PRCA Rodeo is excited to have him participate and perform in this year's competition.

There has been a complete rodeo committee involved in making this annual event happen. Along with Gilbert and her husband Steve, Joe Lopour, Marilyn Kidwell, Kay Lonnie Myers, Mona Nies, Jesse Hirschi, Melanie Hirschi, Shauna Bulloch, Keith Gilbert and countless others have worked to make this event possible.

In addition, there are many others who take tickets, manage parking, and do so many things that make a rodeo happen.

"We are very grateful for their participation," Gilbert said.

People of all ages are encouraged to attend the rodeo.

"We want to make it a family event for the citizens of Cedar City, the rest of the Southern Utah area, eastern Nevada, and Arizona," Gilbert said.

"As long as you can have an attention span, you'll enjoy it," she added.

The committee as well as the cowboys participating are excited for the event and look forward to giving the community this fun experience.

"It's a gift to Cedar City. It's good quality entertainment for people of all ages," Gilbert said.

"Come and join us."

Paiute Indian Tribe to have celebration powwow

BY CHARLEY WALQUIST
Reporter

CEDAR CITY – The Paiute Indian Tribe of Utah will host its 36th annual Restoration Gathering and Powwow the weekend of June 10-12 at the Paiute Tribe of Utah pow-wow grounds. The grounds are located at 440 N Paiute Dr. in Cedar City.

The celebration, commemorating the reestablishment of the Paiute Tribe in 1980 by the federal government, will begin on Friday night and last until Sunday, June 12.

“It’s a very spiritual thing. It helps people feel good about themselves, who they are, and where they came from,” said Patrick Charles, coordinator of the celebration.

Everyone in the community is encouraged to join in the celebration throughout the weekend, and Charles is hoping to engage and include the community this year.

Prior to the beginning of the celebration, the Paiute Princess and Queen Pageant will take place at 7 p.m. on June 9 at the Heritage Center Theater. This event is also open to the public.

The celebration will then begin June 10 with a Grand Entry at 7 pm. During this time, the colors will be presented, including the American, state, and tribal flags. Each of the dance categories for the evening will also enter with the flags. Dancer registration for June 10 will go from 4 to 7 p.m. that day.

There will be a co-ed softball tournament and a Tiny Tots & Youth Gathering on June 10. The celebration will continue June 11 beginning at 8 a.m. with a Main Street Parade. The lineup will begin at Ace Hardware (200 S. 100 East), and it is open to everyone in the community.

“We reached out to others to be a part of the parade. We met with the city council, and the mayor will be in the parade to help welcome the community,” Charles said.

Dancer registration will begin at 11 a.m., and drummer registration will occur all day until there are five drummers. The Grand Entries will occur at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Also on Saturday, SUU Head Football Coach Demario Warren will speak as a special guest in the PITU gym. This event is free and open to the public. Saturday evening will conclude with an Evening Feast at 5 p.m. on the pow-wow grounds.

The Sunday celebration will begin at 11 a.m. with the Grand Entry. The events that day will include Tiny Tots, The Men’s Northern Traditional Style Dance contest ($1,000 winner takes all), and the Adult Men’s Chicken Dance Contest.

Throughout the week-end, there will also be traditional dancing on the pow-wow grounds. Men, women, teens, and children, who are members of the tribe, will all have the opportunity celebrate their heritage through these dances.

There will also be inter-tribal dancing, where anyone who wants to is invited to dance, even if they are not members.

On the powwow grounds, there will be vendors selling arts and crafts and native foods, in addition to hamburgers and hotdogs.

Charles said the event coordinators have been working throughout the year to make this weekend celebration possible.

“It doesn’t happen overnight,” he said. “I’ve been working on it for a year.”

The Paiute Bands – Cedar, Kanosh, Indian Peaks, Koosharem, and Shivwits – have all been in charge of their own projects that make this event possible.

Everyone in the community is welcome and encouraged to attend the powwow. The tribe requests that those coming do not bring dogs in order to keep the grassy powwow grounds clean.

Cedar City Elks to sponsor Flag Day celebration

BY CEDAR CITY ELKS
Special to Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY – The Cedar City Elks and Bread of Life Community Kitchen have joined forces to sponsor a Flag Day Celebration at Cedar City’s Rotary Centennial Veterans Park on June 14 from 10 to 11:15 a.m.

Community members are invited to enjoy refreshments, then honor and explore our exceptional Veterans Memorial.

In a brief ceremony at 11 a.m. Cedar City Elks will present American flags to city officials, and the ceremony will close with a benediction.

Cedar City Mayor Maile Wilson said, “Flag Day is a day set aside each year to honor and recognize the significance of our American Flag and the symbol of our democracy ... our freedom ... our way of life. Our flag represents the history of our country and the men and women that have, and continue to, fight to protect our freedoms. I hope you join with us this year on Flag Day, June 14 and take a few moments to reflect on the importance of the American Flag and what it means for our lives as Americans.”

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was the first fraternal organization to observe Flag Day. Every year the president of the United States urges all people to observe Flag Day as the anniversary of its adoption on June 14, 1777.

The flag of the United States of America represents the union of 50 states and millions of people into one great country. It stands for millions of Americans who have worked and fought to preserve this nation’s basic ideals, freedoms and way of life.

Saturday farmers' market set to begin new event

BY CODY SMITH
Reporter

CEDAR CITY – Utah's first year-round farmers' market is set to begin a new event to take place on the first Saturday of each month.

Symbria Patterson, proprietor of Red Acre Farm and co-creator of the Downtown Farmers Market, said she decided to help create the farmers market that takes place every Saturday at IFA when Albert Montoya, a local greenhouse builder, encouraged locals to continue farming throughout winter. The market quickly grew, and following a divide between farmers and retail vendors, the five-person council running the Saturday market decided to start the "first Saturday" event.

"For the first time, Patterson said, "we feel that we have enough producers/growers and structure in place that we can now open our market to Arts & Crafts, which will be at the market on the first Saturday of the month from May through October. We will have live music, a real farm breakfast made by one of our farmers using ingredients from local farmers in Utah, and vendors selling arts and crafts."

Red Acre Farm proprietors speak at conferences nationally on topics concerning local food and became "food advocates," Patterson said, successfully helping the "herd share bill" pass in 2015.

While Patterson was aiding legislature and Patterson said the committee is committed to those who support locally grown and raised food.

"For the benefit of the customer," Patterson said, "we only allow farmers and ranchers to sell at the market who pledge that they grow or raise the products they sell, and that every producer here has the majority of their booth be what they produced."

If vendors have anything from another farmer, they are required to clearly label where it is from and how it was grown or raised and who produced it.

"They must know the farmer and have a relationship with them," Patterson said. "No wholesale for retail is allowed. Maybe someday Cedar will have so many folks shopping for local food, and farmers growing food that we will be able to have a market where farmers are only allowed to bring that which they personally grew, but for now we feel this is an excellent and transparent option."

areas as the season progresses depending on conditions.

Fire officials are also asking homeowners to be "firewise" this season when it comes to defensible space around and near their homes.

According to www.Firewise.org, the primary goal for firewise landscaping is to reduce the amount of flammable vegetation and materials that can burn around homes and increasing the moisture content of remaining vegetation. The home itself and everything around it up to 100 to 200 feet is called the "home ignition zone." Within this area are three zones.

Zone 1 encircles the structure, including wooden decks, fences and boardwalks for at least 30 feet on all sides. Embers from a wildfire, even a wildfire in the distance, can ignite these areas and spread to your residence.

In this area www.Firewise.org reminds homeowners that plants should be carefully spaced, low-growing and free of resins, oils and waxes that burn easily. Mow the lawn regularly. Prune trees up six to 10 feet from the ground. Space conifer trees 30 feet between crowns. Trim back trees that overhang the house. Create a 'fire-free' area within five feet of the home, using non-flammable landscaping materials and/or high-moisture-content annuals and perennials.

Remove dead vegetation from under decks and within 10 feet of house the. Consider fire-resistant material for patio furniture, swing sets, etc. Remove firewood stacks and propane tanks; they should not be located in this zone. Water plants, trees and mulch regularly.

Zone 2 is 30 to 100 feet from the home, and plants in this zone should be low-growing, well irrigated and less flammable. In this area www.Firewise.org suggests leaving 30 feet between clusters of two to three trees, or 20 feet between individual trees. Encourage a mixture of deciduous and coniferous trees. Create "fuel breaks," like driveways, gravel walkways and lawns. Prune trees up six to 10 feet from the ground.

Zone 3 is 100 to 200 feet from the home and, according to www.Firewise.org, this area should be thinned, although less space is required than in Zone 2. Some considerations would be: remove smaller conifers that are growing between taller trees; remove heavy accumulation of woody debris; reduce the density of tall trees so canopies are not touching.

For more information about wildfire prevention, fire restrictions, safety tips and resources for preparing homes and property for wildfire, visit www.utahfireinfo.gov. current year, coupled with a 4 percent decrease the prior year.

Some would say that drop is linked to the BSAs welcoming gay Scouts and admitting gay adult leaders. That decision was understandably controversial, but probably necessary since corporations were cutting off donations that kept the BSA afloat.

And I don't think the turnabout on gay youth is a major cause of a decline in numbers. It appears to me that as society changes to a more urban environment, Scouting doesn't have the appeal it once did. Children today are more likely to be fascinated with their computers and video games than they are whittling wood or taking nature jaunts.

Several years ago Conservation Alliance President Larry Selzer told a Salt Lake audience he was concerned by the lack of "outdoor adventures" associated with Scouting. He quoted statistics revealing that 20 percent of American children are clinically obese, three million American kids are being treated for depression, more and more children are being treated for high cholesterol and that an increasingly common ailment is repetitive motion disorders from using a computer or video game unit.

He blamed parents for sheltering their sons while allowing them to stay in the basement family room spending countless hours with technology. Young people who grow up without spending time outdoors will have an uninformed voice on the environment, he said.

"If you have not been in a forest or waded in a stream or seen an elk migrate, visited a farm or gotten your hands dirty working in a garden, you will not know the value of open space," said Selzer.

You don't have to be an Eagle Scout to appreciate a canyon. But Scouting does provide a world away from the iPhone, and I believe an active Scouter is generally more well-rounded than the boy whose passion is watching TV reruns.

Again, I'm not well-versed on the benefits of Scouting. But I was heartened to hear the retiring Gates say that Cub Scouts and Boy Scout troops were experiencing a slight increase in recent months. To me, the uninformed, that is probably a good thing.

At the site, attendees stood around the 5-foot-high obelisks at 1:45 p.m. and their heads bowed in the summer sun for a short moment of silence. The site dedication ended quickly, and attendees hiked back to their cars before heading back down the dusty road.

"What's amazing to me is how close the fire community is," Chambless' mother said. "I've got to admit I wasn't really aware before this happened, and as tragic as it is, it has brought so many people into our lives that never would have been there."

Brian Cottam, director of the Utah Division of Forestry and Fire, said he felt reluctance in naming Tompkins and Chambless with one specific word, but he said it without hesitation - heroes.

Secondly, people are pretty much done with scenery-obscuring billboards, their tired messages, and their low-energy pictures of Governor Herbert. ## Percussion professor is first American to create signature mallets

BY SUU MARKETING COMMUNICATION
Special to Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY — Dr. Lynn Vartan, director of percussion at Southern Utah University, is the first American percussionist to design and launch her own signature line of marimba mallets for Marimba One. Vartan is a world-renowned percussionist, performer and tenured professor at SUU since July 2008.

As an endorsed artist for Marimba One, Vartan has been a long-time representative of the musically innovative company. According to their website, “Marimba One artisans continue to work with musicians worldwide to create the finest concert marimbas and professional mallets that can be made. Marimba One is grounded in the belief that each and every marimba should be custom designed and hand-made for each musician: an instrument of art.”

When Marimba One approached Vartan to create her own series of mallets, she was thrilled.

“I am fortunate that my career as an educator and performer has gotten to the point where I can really have a say as an artist,” Vartan said. “Marimba One saw my talent and knew that I have a unique and important voice needed in the industry.”

Music has inspired Vartan from an early age and she was able to find “great variety in the percussion family of instruments, exploring new sounds and new Shauna Mendini, dean of the College of Performing and Visual Arts at SUU, said, “It is important that professors model the standard of the profession for their students. Dr. Vartan is a professional at the highest level.”

Vartan said the support from SUU has allowed her to thrive as an artist and educator.

“If I’m inspired as an artist, I’m inspired as a teacher,” she said.

Throughout the creative process Vartan has included her students, asking them to test prototypes. The process took more than two years to develop the combination of materials and sound.

Jordan Nielsen, a junior music performance major from Price, Utah, started using the signature mallets in his own personal practice. He said he likes using the mallets because of the contrast in the sound of each mallet.

“The mallets have such a large sound projection and they are not heavy, which is a wonder in the world of mallets.”

The great rewards of being a member of the Cedar City Arts Council

BY MARY ANNE ANDERSEN
Cedar City Arts Council

For me, one of the greatest rewards of being a member of the Cedar City Arts Council Board has been coming to know many of the artists and artistic organizations in our community.

And then, encouraging them in their endeavors with our mini-grants has been an unmitigated joy for me. We feature some of those recipients occasionally in this space and today I would like to introduce Heather Wilhelm.

As many little girls do, Heather sang when she was young and tried to put her love of music onto the piano. It was frustrating, though, when her fingers would not produce the musical sounds she could hear in her head. In fourth grade, when given the opportunity to choose an instrument to play in the fifth grade music program, she felt drawn to the violin, while knowing very little about it.

Heather found that her fingers were much more adept at transferring the music in her head to the violin than to the piano and she began some serious lessons with Megan Cottam. She refined her technique and sound, and after six years, began to study with Dr. Xun Sun at SUU. As often happens, her old violin soon seemed inadequate and she purchased one made by Luke Heaton. A new teacher, a new violin, and Heather was able to make some lifetime decisions, like deciding to attend SUU as a music major.

Like many another aspiring students, she found her time at SUU to be of great benefit musically and emotionally, as she developed musical skill and the necessary character traits to nurture that skill: perseverance, discipline, patience, dedication, self-confidence.

Heather's subsequent career has been two-pronged: teaching and performing. She has experienced the great joy that comes from passing on your passion to others. Students in her care are lucky that she understands the importance of training the above-mentioned personality traits as well as the technique for the violin itself. Since the age of 17, she has fostered students of all ages.

Heather's other love is performance. At age 14, she began playing with the Orchestra of Southern Utah; one year she even performed as a soloist with the orchestra. While at SUU, she took advantage of every opportunity for solo and ensemble work. After her university experience ended, she has been able to perform in a series of ensembles. First, a string quartet played music composed for small string ensemble; when circumstances dissolved that group, she was asked to join Ryan Durfee's band. The band went from western swing music to an interest in gypsy jazz, a genre very different from all her previous classical training!

Known as "Wilhelm" today, the group is well known in the local music scene. Other members of the band include Mason Cottam, Liv Rylan, and Joanna Rylan. Recently, the group's photo appeared on the front page of the newspaper as they were featured in a concert commemorating the late Tim Cretsinger.

As always, Cedar Citians are lucky to enjoy our home-grown stars.

MATTHEW COLEY PERFORMS at the Heartland Marimba Festival and Academy last week.

Magical music of marimbas showcased during festival

BY COREY BAUMGARTNER
Reporter

CEDAR CITY – The Heartland Marimba Festival and Academy has brought the magical music of marimbas to Cedar City.

Matthew Coley, festival director, said the festival gives students a different perspective into the professional side of the music, performing on the marimba and other percussion instruments.

"The students are intertwined with professional artists all week," he said. "It's intense periods of focus, practice and study that helps jumpstart new ideas and concepts into their playing."

Coley not only directs the festival, but is also a master on the marimba, composing his own music. He has released two music CDs and hopes the festival will get more people interested in playing the marimba and give the community more exposure to the uniqueness and beauty of marimba music.

Also lending her artistic skills to the festival is SUU Percussion Professor Dr. Lynn Vartan. Vartan, a percussion virtuoso in her own right, is helping to coach and improve the musicians – many of whom have never met before, or played the selected pieces of music – in preparation for their concert performances.

"I want the students to find something new in themselves in their learning and exploration while they are here," she said. "Not just about the marimba and the music, but how to be in a group and discover some kernel that is meaningful to them."

Both Coley and Vartan will be performing during the week of concerts. They will be joined by Clocks in Motion and world-renowned marimba soloist and composer Michael Burritt.

The concerts will take place at the Thorley Recital Hall on the Southern Utah University campus and are free of charge. However, a $10 donation is encouraged and appreciated.

he said. "I love that I can get gorgeous, ballad-like tone, and harsh violent attacks out of the same mallet."

Vartan is thrilled to finally be sharing her line with the public.

"I love playing with the mallets and I am going to love sharing them with people," she said.

As a concerto soloist Lynn has performed with various orchestras including the Hubei Opera and Dance Company of Wuhan, China, the Sierra Wind Symphony, the Helena Symphony, The Orchestra of Southern Utah, Southwest Chamber Music, The Helena Symphony, as well as premiering new concertos by both American and Chinese composers. She has participated in cultural exchange projects such as the "Ascending Dragon" Project in Vietnam, "The Dream of Helen" project in China and the "East Meets West" project designed around her as a soloist in Wuhan, China for the Spring of 2014.

As a recording artist, Lynn has appeared on the ECM New Series, Albany Records, Cuneiforms Records, Bridge Records, New World Records, Lian Records, Yarlung Records and Cambria. She was three times Grammy nominated on the Cambria label with Southwest Chamber Music in the "Best Classical Album of the Year" and "Best Small Ensemble with or without a conductor" for The Complete Chamber Music of Carlos Chavez, Volume III and for the "Latin Classical Album of the Year" for William Kraft's Complete Encounters Series.

Vartan is launching her signature line at the Heartland Marimba Festival in Cedar City through June 14. They are available for purchase exclusively from Steve Weiss Music (www.steve-weissmusic.com).

Inaugural Frontier Folk Festival coming to Cedar City

BY TODD PRINCE

Special to Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY – Frontier Homestead State Park Museum and The Frontier Homestead Museum Foundation are pleased to bring the first annual Frontier Folk Festival to Cedar City June 17-18 from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. each day.

Original art, live music, traditional craft demonstrations, and a horseshoe tournament combine to celebrate the diverse heritage of Southern Utah. The Frontier Folk Festival promises to be filled with remarkable talent. Featured bands include Stillhouse Road, Wilhelm, The Red Hill Rangers, Hen Hao Fiddlers, The Sonoran Dogs, and Marty Warburton and Homegirls.

For horseshoe enthusiasts, the tournament will take place on Saturday, with Junior level (under 14) starting at 11 a.m., and Adult level (14 and up) beginning at 1 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for first and second places.

“We’ve been talking about this idea for years,” said Todd Prince, park manager. “Working with our Museum Foundation, we finally decided to take the leap and offer a new experience to the community and all our patrons. It will be a great event for anyone attracted to history, the visual arts and folk music.”

Festival Coordinator, Sandi Levy, added, “The Foundation is simply thrilled to offer this family friendly experience to the community. It is a golden opportunity for us all to experience our heritage.”

The Frontier Homestead Museum Foundation is looking forward to a diverse, high quality show, and wish to thank its exhibiting artists, musicians, demonstrators and food purveyors in advance for helping to bring the arts in all of their forms to the residents of Iron County and beyond.

The Foundation Board also

National Get Outdoors Day event planned at Tuacahn Outdoor Amphitheater

Special to Iron County Today

SOUTHERN UTAH – Dixie Arizona Strip Interpretive Association and partnering land management agencies will host an event June 11 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., as part of National Get Outdoors Day (GO Day), the ninth annual event to encourage healthy, active outdoor fun.

Participating partners will offer opportunities for American families to experience traditional and non-traditional types of outdoor activities. Primary goals of the day are reaching first-time visitors to public lands and reconnecting youth to the great outdoors.

This GO Day event will be held at the Tuacahn Outdoor Amphitheater Plaza in Ivins from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Attendance is free to the public. The event will offer a mix of information centers and active fun areas where guests, and especially kids, can see Desert Tortoises, learn outdoor survival skills, experience the heavens with a sun telescope and find lots of information about public lands in the region. Photo opportunities with Smokey Bear and Seymore Antelope will be provided.

The pilot effort of National

Get Outdoors Day was launched on June 14, 2008 and has grown every year. Building on the success of More Kids in the Woods and other important efforts to connect Americans, and especially children, with nature and active lifestyles, the USDA Forest Service and the American Recreation Coalition led an inclusive, nationwide effort focusing on a single day when people would be inspired and motivated to get outdoors.

Last year, more than 171 official GO Day sites across the nation welcomed more than 48,000 new faces to the joy and benefits of the great outdoors. GO Day is an outgrowth of the Get Outdoors USA! campaign, which encourages Americans, especially youth, to seek out healthy, active outdoor lives and embrace our parks, forests, refuges and other public lands and waters.

Working with the FS, Get Outdoors USA! hosted six recreation forums in early 2007 and learned that public lands were missing the right triggers to capture the attention of today's youth. The GO Day concept was first tested at the Outdoor Recreation Village at Super Bowl XLII in Glendale, Ariz., which drew more than 100,000 visitors.

War Veteran Peyton Canary presented with five medals during Utah Honor Flight trip

BY DAVID CORDERO
Special to Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY – Late usually beats never – even when it comes to military decorations earned more than six decades ago.

Peyton Canary, a Cedar City resident who served in both World War II and the Korean War, was presented medals long overdue during the recent Utah Honor Flight trip to Washington D.C.

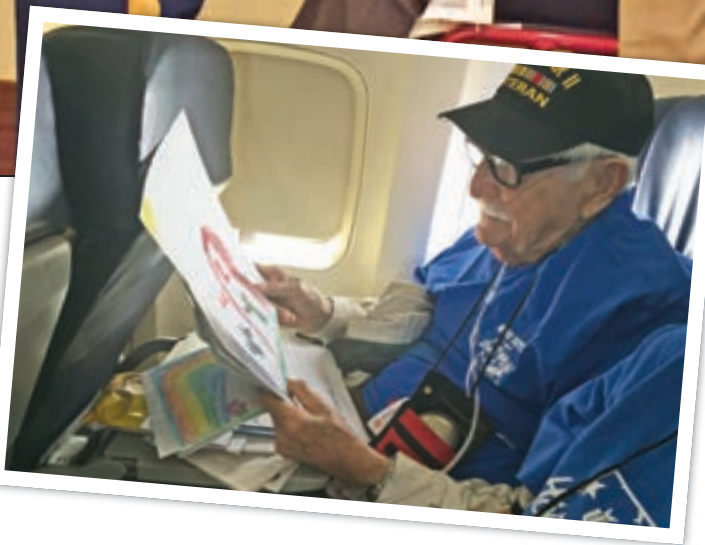

“It was a great moment to see Mr. Canary honored with these awards that he earned so many years ago,” said Mike Turner, chairman of Utah Honor Flight. “For those veterans out there who have not been awarded the medals you are entitled to, contact your congressman and let your representative help you cut through the red tape.”

In a ceremony during the UHF banquet May 27, Canary was given five medals secured by the office of Rep. Chris Stewart. They are WWII Victory Medal, Honorable Service Lapel Button, WWII National Defense Service Medal, Korean Service Medal with two Bronze Service Stars, and The United Nations Service Medal.

Canary served in the United States Army during three different enlistment periods. He first joined and spent more than one year overseas stationed in Japan after World War II. He also served at Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

He was stationed at Camp Cooke, Calif. during the Korean War, but also spent time overseas in combat in Korea. He served as an editor and reporter for the Stars and Stripes newspaper and completed a public information course as well.

Following the war, Canary enjoyed a long career in newspapers. “It was interesting,” he said.

Canary and 12 other veterans of World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War departed St. George for the three-day Utah Honor Flight trip May 26.

Utah Honor Flight, one of many chapters of the national Honor Flight Network, takes veterans to Washington D.C., free of charge, to see their memorials. The National World War II Memorial was built in 2004 and shortly thereafter Earl Morse, a doctor from Ohio, began flying WWII veterans to Washington D.C. on his private plane at his own expense.

The idea spread and Honor Flight chapters began springing up all over the country. Utah Honor Flight began in October 2013.

During a typical UHF trip, veterans, accompanied by guardians – typically sons, daughters or grandchildren – get to see a slew of memorials in Washington D.C., including the National WWII Memorial, the Korean War Memorial, the Vietnam Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, FDR Memorial, the Air Force Memorial, the US Marine Corps War Memorial and the changing of the guard at Arlington National Cemetery.

“It’s the trip of a lifetime for these veterans,” Turner said. “They leave as old men and return young men. It is so inspiring to see how well they are received.”

THE CEDAR CITY FIRE DEPARTMENT provides a live-burn demonstration to show how quickly a fire can spread in a home or business environment during the Preparedness in the Park Emergency Readiness Expo June 4.

Citizens learn life-saving info during emergency preparedness expo

CEDAR CITY – Emergencies and accidents can strike at any time. While it’s impossible to predict and prepare for every contingency, the mission of the annual Preparedness in the Park Emergency Readiness Expo is to help community members “Move 1 Step Closer to Being Prepared.”

This year’s free event took place at the Cedar City Main Street Park on June 4. There were several safety and health vendors on site to help educate and prepare the public not only to better survive during a disaster, but hopefully to help prevent emergencies and accidents wherever possible.

The Cedar City Fire Department also provided a special live-burn demonstration to show how quickly a fire can spread in a home or business environment. The intense flames destroyed a desk, computer, small couch and even the smoke detector in a matter of minutes. The fire department demo helps show the value of having a smoke detector and a fire suppression sprinkler system.

County and Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) members and Management Coordinator John Higley were also on hand to help answer questions and provide ideas and emergency preparedness materials.

“If individuals and families can do just one thing towards their preparedness it will make a difference,” Higley explained. “The more families that are prepared, the less families need to be worried about and we want to be sure people can survive sufficiently on their own until more help can arrive.”

THE MORMON MIRACLE PAGEANT, now in its 50th season, will run June 16-25, except Sunday and Monday, in Manti, Utah.

Mormon Miracle Pageant prepares for 50th season

BY MARY PIPES

Special to Iron County Today

MANTI – Once again, the small town of Manti anticipates thousands of visitors during the month of June to view the popular Mormon Miracle Pageant.

Now in its 50th season, the pageant is preparing for production with a multi-generational cast, including infants and great-grandparents. More than 1,000 cast members, along with support crews, lighting and sound crews, will participate.

The Mormon Miracle Pageant tells three intertwined stories. First is the story of Joseph Smith, prophet of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The second revolves around the Book of Mormon, translated by Joseph Smith, and is a record of the people who lived on the North American continent hundreds of years ago. The third story tells of the Latter-day Saints' journey west to Utah and the Sanpete Valley. With its diverse story line and colorful costumes, this is a production that appeals to all ages.

The pageant begins at dusk (about 9:30 p.m.) and will run June 16-25, except Sunday and Monday. The gates open at 6 p.m. and admission is free. Language translation services are available.

Special activities planned during the 50th season celebration include cast reunions, a historical display of pageant costumes through the years, as well as firesides and concerts most evenings before the pageant. All activities are free and open to the public. A complete schedule is available at www.mormonmiracle.org. Just click on "50th Season Celebration."

Student rewarded for great grades through Pays for A's program

CEDAR CITY — Cedar High School 11th grader Danny Saunders received a $100 scholarship savings account as a regional winner of the spring drawing through Zions Bank's Pays for A's program.

Pays for A's rewards students who put in the effort to make their grades count. Scott Bealer, manager of the Cedar City financial center, surprised Saunders with his win during a presentation on May 25.

Saunders was entered into the drawing by bringing his report card to Zions Bank and was paid for every "A" he received. More than 1,400 students entered the winter drawing throughout Utah and Idaho.

"We know that it takes extra time and effort to earn high marks, so we're proud to recognize the achievements of students like Danny through the Pays for A's program," Bealer said. "Our goal is to help students focus on schoolwork and motivate them to earn good grades."

Pays for A's is open to all Utah and Idaho students ages 12 to 18. Students can participate by bringing their most current term-end report card into any Zions Bank location. Students do not need a Zions Bank account to participate. They'll receive $1 per "A" deposited into their savings account, or 50 cents per "A" if they opt for cash. For each "A" on their report cards, students are entered into a drawing to win one of 150 regional scholarship prizes each worth $100 and one grand prize worth $1,000 in each state.

For more information, visit www.zionsbank.com/pays4as.

Cedar High students rally to help grandson of former teacher

BY JEFF LOWE
Managing Editor

CEDAR CITY — When students at Cedar High School, including next year's student government officers, learned that the grandson of one of their former teachers was in need of help, they quickly answered the call.

Ann Jordan, who retired last year after teaching for 29 years in Cedar City, recently learned that her 3-month-old grandson Bode Jordan had been diagnosed with IPEX, a serious and rare genetic syndrome.

Bode has been hospitalized since April, first in Cedar City and then Primary Children's Hospital in Salt Lake City, said Jill Shirts, student government advisor at Cedar

High School. He will need a bone marrow transplant to save his life, she said, and the family will have to move to Seattle, Wash. to receive the appropriate medical help.

"In his short life, Bode has already touched the hearts of many, especially the doctors and nurses at Primary Children's," according to a statement released to Cedar High students, teachers and administrators. "He is adored by his grandparents and aunts and uncles."

When Cedar High's student government officers learned of the news, they wondered what they could do to help. One student brought up the idea of the power of one quarter, or the impact 25 cents from each student could make in helping Bode's family, Shirts said.

Cedar High Principal John Dodds gave the students permission to go to each classroom to gather donations, and at the end of just one day, the combined student body and staff had donated more than $900. The next two days of contributions brought the total to approximately $1,400.

"It wasn't just change," Shirts said. "Some of (the students donated) $10, $5. One student gave a dollar and attached a note (saying), 'This is all I have. I know it's not much, but I hope it can help.'"

"It's so great to help the cause, but even greater is the feeling those kids had donating that money and feeling like they were doing something that would help somebody," she added.

Shirts said the impromptu fundraiser speaks to the generosity and compassion of the Cedar High student body and provided a valuable learning experience.

"It's a way that they can learn and that they can contribute to society and go on to be more caring and loving," she said, adding that she is excited to work with next year's student government leaders because they "are motivated by helping the student body come together."

For more information about Bode and to donate to help his family, visit www.gofundme.com/25n7xcc or call State Bank of Southern Utah to make a donation to The Bode Fund.

Play Unplugged is back to get kids active this summer

BY DAVID HEATON
Special to Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY – The Southwest Utah Public Health Department is reviving the Play Unplugged summer activity program for the third year in Cedar City.

Play Unplugged encourages kids and families to collect a variety of badges as they complete activities sponsored by local businesses. Lanyards for the badges can be picked up at the Iron County Visitors Center or the Aquatic Center. The program runs from Memorial Day to Labor Day.

“Play Unplugged is a fun, free way to have an active, memorable summer,” said Kylaas Flanagan, SWUPHD Health Educator. “It has proven results in helping kids avoid spending lengthy times in front of computers or the television and returning them to real play activities.”

Play Unplugged began four years ago in Heber City, Utah, when two fathers who were concerned about their kids’ screen time decided to create a model in which local businesses could receive an increase in foot traffic while simultaneously helping kids get out and play. Their efforts were rewarded with a successful program in their home town which has spread to 15 other Utah cities, with some offering more than 100 badges.

If you are interested in knowing more about Play Unplugged, to enroll your kids in this free summer program, or have a business and want to sponsor a badge, contact Kylaas at (435) 865-5151 or visit www.weplayunplugged.com.

Cedar City Library kicks off Summer Reading Program

BY JEFF LOWE
Managing Editor

CEDAR CITY – The Cedar City Library kicked off its Summer Reading Program with games, crafts and activities June 4 at the library. The program is designed to keep youth and adults reading throughout the summer months.

In addition to making paper crafts, playing mini golf, basketball and participating in other activities centered on a sports, health and fitness theme, kids and families signed up to participate in the program, which is designed for everyone, newborns through adults.

"Each age group will have a different reading log that they can use to keep track of the time they read. They can earn different prizes throughout the summer based on how much they read," said Emily Larson, with the Cedar City Library.

Reading progress cards were handed out to youth, who can cross out or color in specific markers for every 30 minutes of reading or listening to a book. Prizes can be claimed throughout the summer on or after the following dates: June 16 (Level 1), June 23 (Level 2), June 30 (Level 3), July 7 (Level 4) and July 14 (Level 5). Prizes will be available until Labor Day.

Teen readers were given a sports-style bracket card with activities to complete. The activities include attending a library event, reading 50 pages, reading for 1 hour, and downloading an ebook through OverDrive, the library's digital catalog.

Adults can fill out a bingo card and return it to the library for a prize. The card encourages participants to try a healthy new recipe, read with a child, walk or bike somewhere instead of driving, and attend a library event, among others.

Glenn Kuhn

Glenn Dean Kuhn, 62, of Cedar City, UT, passed away at home on April 2, 2016, after a long bout with Pneumonia. He was born on November 12th 1953 in Laramie, WY to surviving parents Donald Dean Kuhn, and Mary Keopenick Armstrong. After living his boyhood dream of having the Wyoming plains, and the Colorado Rockies as his backyard, all of which formulated his love for wildlife, and being in the great outdoors.

His father taught him how to hunt, fish and taught Glenn a great respect for the outdoors. The Kuhn family, which included his surviving siblings Bryan Kuhn, Donna Kuhn Johnson, and Twila Kuhn Davis, picked up roots in 1964, and moved to El Paso Texas for a new chapter, and adventure in life. This was the family lifestyle that would instill in Glenn a zest for adventure, and the ability to adapt to any situation, with a smile, a shrug, and a laugh, that will always be remembered by those that knew him best. Glenn went on to graduate from Eastwood High School in 1971 and shortly thereafter joined the US Navy during the Vietnam War; with his High School buddy Terry Handy, Dave Welch all would go on to serve their country honorably. After being discharged from the Navy, Glenn moved with his young family, to Seattle Washington, to begin a seven month program at the Divers Institute of Technology, to be trained, and certified as a commercial diver, and underwater welder. After graduating they moved on to the Houston Texas area where Glenn would start a long career doing what he loved most. His job took him to Africa, India, South America, Mexico, and many places in between, and although a very dangerous, and challenging career, it would fill a passion that he had for an adventurous, life, and an unabiding love for the ocean. He and his friend Doug Calvert (Bull) spent many years diving together. Many years later Glenn would close out his diving career by working for Pinnacle Engineering, as a chief welding inspector on various deep-water platform drilling rigs, and support ships throughout the Gulf of Mexico. Before retiring from the oil, and diving industry Glenn was able to fulfill another longtime dream of purchasing a home on acreage in Colorado, with the ultimate goal of being back in the Rocky Mountains, a place where he could live out his lifelong passion for fishing, hunting, camping, skiing, and all of the other activities that the outdoors could offer him. He moved to De Beque, Colorado to live in his new home on forty acres in 2004, and began a new career as a Real Estate broker.

In 2007 he made the decision to move to Cedar City, Utah to be around his aging mother, as well as other family members in the area. He remained in Cedar City until his death. Glenn is also survived by his two daughters, whom he was so very proud of, and always willing to share stories about. Leah Kuhn Pate, who graduated with a Master's of Arts in marriage and family counseling from Liberty University the mother of his three beautiful grandchildren Andrew, Christian, and Eden living in Friendswood, Texas, and Taylor Kuhn, a student at the University of Texas, (Austin), whom he couldn't talk about without mentioning her artistic ability, and prowess on the softball field. Glenn is also survived by his son-in-law Kevin Pate, of Friendswood, Texas, and Craig Johnson his brother-in-law, whom Glenn considered his other brother, from Summit, Utah, his nieces Jennifer Kuhn & Kristen Kuhn from Portland, Oregon, as well as his stepmother Frances Kuhn, living in El Paso, Texas. Glenn will be missed all who know him, he was a wonderful son, brother, father and best friend. He never knew a stranger and you couldn't help but love him. We will miss you Glenn. The world lost a very special man.

There will be a private Memorial Service and Celebration of life on June 11th 2016, in Parowan, Utah. In lieu of flowers please make your donations to your favorite charity if you wish.

Elaine Chidester Matthews

Elaine Chidester Matthews, devoted wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, passed from this life May 31, 2016, in Panguitch, Utah. Elaine was born July 21, 1939, in Highland, Utah to James Earl and Thelma Esma Strassburg Chidester.

Elaine's childhood was spent in the Highland area. She graduated from American Fork High School in 1957. Following high school, she studied at BYU.

On March 18, 1960, Elaine married Verl Baxter Matthews in the Salt Lake Temple. Their 56 years together took them to many corners of Utah. The past 45 years they have called Panguitch home.

Elaine is a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She has faithfully served in the Relief Society, Young Women's and Primary where her influence has blessed many. Elaine holds her church membership and testimony of the restored gospel as precious. She taught her family through example the importance of keeping covenants and staying true.

Elaine has spent her life building families, communities, youth and friends. She cherished her friends. You all know who you are because she always let you know you mattered to her. She shared her special talents of sewing and cooking with whomever would accept.

Verl and Elaine became the parents of nine children: Verlaine (David) Spencer of Panguitch, Jeanette (Garland) Sawyer of Greenville, Lynea (Chad) Limb of Beaver, Laurel (Darin) Nikolaus of Bellevue, Neb., James (Tiffanie) Matthews of Cedar City, Christian (Melanie) Matthews of Richfield, Jennifer (Eric) Douglas of Panguitch, Benjamin (Ericka) Matthews of Enoch and Cassandra (Joshua) Talbot of Greenwch.

Elaine is the grandmother of 32 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Her family is her joy. She has spent her life supporting her family in all their various school, community and church activities. Each child and grandchild felt special in her presence.

She is the master of turning simple traditions such as good bye waves, Easter egg hunts, turkey bellies, cookie houses and camping trips to Calf Creek and beyond into treasured memories that her posterity cherish.

Elaine is a woman committed to her faith, family and friends. She exemplifies staying the course and enduring well through all of the good and bad in life. She is our example of kindness, generosity and acceptance of all. Her door and heart were always open. She truly is "one of a kind" and irreplaceable.

Elaine is survived by her husband, nine children, 32 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren (with two more on the way). She is also survived by brothers Leon (Irma) Chidester of Cedar City, Reed (Lynette) Chidester of American Fork, Richard (Susan) Chidester of Glenwood, Mo., Dale (Debra) Chidester of Leoti, Kan. and Robbie (Nancy) Chidester of Highland, sister-in-law Kay (Wesley-deceased) Chidester of American Fork, Matthews family brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law and many loved nieces and nephews.

Elaine was preceded in death by her parents, brothers Wesley Earl Chidester and Lee Ray Chidester and sister Diane Chidester.

Funeral services were Saturday, June 4 at the Panguitch 2nd Ward LDS Building. There was a viewing preceding the funeral and a viewing the evening before at the same location. Interment was in the Panguitch City Cemetery under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary.

We love you - wife, mom, grandma, sister, aunt and friend. You are superb. Save a spot on the bench for each of us.

Renee Williams Eyre

Renee Williams Eyre passed away June 1, 2016 at the age of 90, in Delta, Utah surrounded by her family.

Renee was born Feb. 20, 1926 in Minersville, Utah. She was the eighth child of Franklin D. Williams and Leah Hannah Marshall. When Renee was nine months old, Leah passed away with pneumonia and Renee stayed with Aunt Albie Gillins until her father married another special lady, Lucy Pocock, whom she loved dearly as a mother.

Renee grew up in Minersville, Utah, the town she loved most. She attended Minersville Elementary and Minersville High School where she participated in the band and played the clarinet.

On June 25, 1942 Renee married James Alma Eyre in Minersville, Utah. Their marriage was later solemnized in the St. George temple on March 28, 1964. From this union came six children.

She was a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and held many callings. She was a member of the literary club and loved to read. She and James enjoyed square dancing and singing together. She was an expert at bottling fruits and vegetables and making homemade candy, but her greatest pleasure was taking care and serving her children and grandchildren.

Renee was very talented and could do anything. She was a waitress at the Hong Kong Cafe in Milford, Utah for many years. She also worked at the Beaver Sewing Factory. Before retiring, she and James managed the Beaver Travelodge Motel for 15 years.

Renee is survived by her children, Jeanne Edwards (Jim) of Delta, Joan Myers (Mitch) of Delta, Darla Callister (Russell) of Delta, Janet Oakden (Richard) of Beaver, Spence Eyre (Linda) of Minersville, and Jody Robinson (Mike) of Vernal; her brother David Williams (Janet) of Moreland, Idaho; sister-in-law Reva Williams of Beaver; 29 grandchildren; 94 great-grandchildren; and 31 great-great-grandchildren.

She is preceded in death by her husband, James; her parents; her sisters, Viola, Margaret, Naomi, Anna Rae, and Charlene; brothers Spence, Max, John, Dee, Russell, Deloss; and her great-grandsons Zach and Jaxon Eyre.

Funeral services will be Thursday, June 9, 2016 at 11 a.m. at the Minersville Stake Center (130 W. Main St., Minersville). Viewing will be from 9 to 10:30 a.m. at the Stake Center before the funeral. Interment will be in the Minersville Cemetery under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary. Online condolences can be made at www.sumortuary.com.

We would like to give a special thanks to the Beaver and Delta Care Centers for the loving care they gave our mother.

Jasper Philip Eves

Jasper Philip Eves, age 74, passed away peacefully on Tuesday, May 31, 2016. The eldest of four children, he was born in American Fork, Utah on Aug. 27, 1941 to Jasper and Sarah Edith Clarke Eves. Phil had many fond memories of his loving parents and treasured his memories of them both very deeply.

From 1961 to 1963, he served a mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the French East Mission, spending most of his time in Belgium. On June 25, 1965, in the Los Angeles LDS Temple, Phil married and was sealed to Karen Barbara Holder. Phil's pride and joy was his beautiful wife, Karen, and their five wonderful children.

Phil loved his country deeply and served in the Utah Army National Guard and California Air Force National Guard. He became a policeman in the Arcadia Police Department in California.

After a few years on the police force, he decided to complete his bachelor's degree and then applied to law school at UC Davis. Upon finishing his schooling and passing the California Bar, he began his professional career in 1973, in the D.A.'s office in Ventura County.

In 1978, he longed to give his children a small-town upbringing like his. He took a leap of faith and moved his family to Parowan, Utah. He passed the real estate exam and sold real estate while waiting to pass the Utah Bar.

He went into private law practice for several years where he made many friends in the legal community. He was appointed a Circuit Court judge in 1985, by Gov. Norman Bangert. Phil served in many capacities and many communities during his 20 years on the bench. After he resigned as a judge, he became a mediator, and retired in July 2015.

Phil was a devout member of the LDS Church and served in various callings including bishop and high councilman. He loved people and was always willing to help others. He also loved music, and enjoyed performing in community choirs and local plays.

Phil is survived by his wife, Karen Eves; his siblings, Carolyn Cole, David Eves, and Robert Eves; his five children (spouses), Cindy (Ray) Allton, Jason (Liza) Eves, James (Kimberly) Eves, Michael (Melissa) Eves, and Anthony (Jaye) Eves; 17 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren. He is preceded in death by his parents, Jasper and Sarah Edith Clarke Eves.

Funeral services were Saturday, June 4, 2016 at the Parowan 3rd Ward Chapel, 100 S. Main St., Parowan, Utah. A viewing was from 9 to 10:30 a.m. at the church. Interment was in the Parowan City Cemetery under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary. Online condolences can be made at www.sumortuary.com.

Grandpa Phil, you are and will always be the hero of our family. Love you forever!

Phillip Eugene McAlister

Phillip Eugene McAlister, 44, of Cedar City, Utah, passed away Wednesday April 27, 2016 at home. Phil, as he was known to family and friends, will be deeply missed by all who knew and loved him.

Phil was born March 2, 1972 to the late Steven Campbell and Helen Kelsey McAlister. When he was 5 years old he moved to Wyoming and was adopted by Hubert McAlister. Growing up in Wyoming, Phil developed a great love of horses. He enjoyed working with horses, riding them, and training them. He dreamed of one day owning a horse ranch.

Phil was an avid reader and began reading at the age of 4. His favorite books were western and science fiction novels. While in high school he played many sports, and lettered in wrestling and track. He graduated from Mountain View High School, and had recently started working toward getting a degree in psychology.

Phil had a great love of the outdoors and especially loved to hunt, camp, and fish. He planned on taking his kids camping this summer and sharing the things that he loved the most about it. He was a loving kind gentleman and an amazing son, uncle, father, and husband. The lights of his life were his two children, Jack (4) and Piper (2).

He is survived by his loving wife, Misty Erickson McAlister; son, Jack McAlister; daughter, Piper McAlister; father Hubert McAlister; mother Helen McAlister; father Jack Erickson; mother Gerylin Erickson; sisters, Camie McAlister Hadden, Meggan White (Jason), Karra Olsen (Kody), Koral Butterfield (Matt), Shanda Wooding (Jim), and Jaclyn Twitchell (Garren); brothers, Joshua McAlister (Jessie), Christopher Manchester, (Tracie), and Phillip Manchester (Shaunna); grandfather Val McAlister; grandmother Myrtle Robertson; seven nieces; four nephews; and several aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Services were held in celebration of his life on May 2, 2016. In his memory, find someone who needs your kindness and do an unexpected and unsolicited act of kindness in his name.

Tennis offers challenge at USG

BY TOM ZULEWSKI
Sports Writer

When it comes to playing tennis, Sterling Whipple admits he isn't a fan of facing one particular type of opponent.

The Delta native and assistant tennis coach at North Sanpete High doesn't always like facing left-handed players.

Even with that situation, Whipple came through with flying colors at the Utah Summer Games as he defeated lefty Jordan Guccione in a single pro-style set, 8-3, on a warm early evening June 3 at the SUU tennis courts.

"The biggest challenge I've always had with playing lefties is their kick serve on the ad side," Whipple said. "They're usually really good, and he was very good at putting the ball three-quarters into the court, then shooting it off to the left. That's a hard shot to hit."

Whipple stayed patient and capitalized when Guccione had trouble with his service returns and won the final game and the match by breaking the left-hander's serve after falling behind 30-love.

Whipple, who prepped at Delta High and lives in Mt. Pleasant, played in his fifth Summer Games for one simple reason.

"I love the competition," he said. "This is always a very nice venture. You don't get the play-to-win crowd. It's competitive, but not a 'win or it's no fun' kind of thing.

"Jordan was a great example. A lot of fun, generous. I could have lost to him and had just as much fun."

The tournament was split into six divisions, with players guaranteed at least two matches. Those who made it to the final four played best two-of-three set matches with standard tiebreakers for sets that reached 6-6.

Lady Reds just miss USG hoop gold

BY TOM ZULEWSKI
Sports Writer

As the remaining seconds ticked down in the gold-medal game of the Utah Summer Games girls' varsity basketball tournament, the Cedar Lady Reds could be forgiven if their memories flashed back to just three months earlier when they lost the 3A state title game to Snow Canyon.

On the same floor at the Centrum, Cedar just missed capturing the big prize again.

Thanks to a go-ahead basket with less than 10 seconds remaining, Richfield held on and beat the Lady Reds 29-27 in the tournament finale to win the gold medal. Cedar forced the extra two-minute period when Carley Davis followed up a Morgan Myers missed free throw and converted the three-point play to tie the game at 25 with 48.8 seconds left in regulation.

"Our effort was good, especially when you're talking second day and this many games," Cedar coach John Elison said. "Richfield's a team, historically, we had beaten five times, but it's been by five points total. They've

Even though the shots had trouble finding the bottom of the basket at times, it was all about reloading for Cedar as the team looks to replace four seniors and improve on its first runner-up finish in 3A.

"That's what summer is all about," Elison said. "We're trying to get experience and trying to learn some things. We lost four great players, but we have a bunch of great players coming back."

Elison said the rest of June will be filled with a camp at Dixie State in two weeks, then another one at SUU at the end of the month. After last season's success, the Cedar bench boss put an early request on his wish list regarding the team's gold-medal game opponent.

"To me, Richfield is one of the teams to beat next year," Elison said. "I fully anticipate them being in the final four at least and think they might be in the championship. We'd better be there with them."

Beck goes right to work with Cedar Redmen at USG

BY TOM ZULEWSKI
Sports Writer

CEDAR CITY – The game may be the same, but new Cedar High boys' basketball coach Russ Beck had to get himself acclimated pretty quickly to a new home and a new bunch of players.

For his first work on the bench, Beck guided the Redmen at the Utah Summer Games varsity tournament to a 2-1 opening-day record June 3, capping it off with a hard-fought 40-37 win over Beaver. After arriving in town only a few days earlier, Beck was able to hit the court running with his new team.

"It's been easy," Beck said of the transition from Western Nebraska Community College. "We have a great coaching staff and they've been very accommodating in helping me get acclimated. We've got amazing kids and I'm really, really stoked about being here and working at Cedar High."

The Redmen opened play at the tournament with a loss to the Las Vegas Gamers – an AAU team – but rebounded with a win over Cyprus before beating the Beavers.

"We came out of the gate slow against them," Beck said of the opening matchup. "They went up 8-0 before we finally scored. "We outplayed them in the second half and cut it to two (points) with about two minutes left, but we gave up too many offensive rebounds.

"The thing that was nice is we played a lot better in the second half and played with a lot more energy in the second game. There was progress through each of the three games."

Senior Keenan Nielson echoed the sentiment of his teammates about their new coach.

"He makes us feel really comfortable," Nielson said of Beck. "We've only had one practice with him, but we all love playing for him and want to work hard for him."

On the three-game effort June 3, Nielson said, "We played really well together. A lot of us haven't touched a basketball since basketball season ended. I was happy with how well we played.

"Some of our shots were a little rusty, but other than that, I'm pretty excited," he added.

MORE THAN 30 YOUTH participated in Utah Summer Games horseshoes at the Cedar City Horseshoe Park on June 4.

BY TOM ZULEWSKI
Sports Writer

In most of the past years of the Utah Summer Games, the horseshoes turnout has been heavy on adults as they pitched and ringed their way toward gold medals.

For the 2016 tournament, youth were served

After playing five matches – and pitching 100 horseshoes – in temperatures that approached 90 degrees, Yardley and Kemp had to settle who would get the gold medal in one more 20-pitch round.

When it was all said and done, Yardley had just enough to get past Kemp and earn his first gold feeling he got from standing on top of the medal podium as his mother snapped pictures to mark the achievement.

Adding to the success of the youth turnout for the event, tournament co-director Seth Ohms said all the participants will participate in the World Horseshoe Pitching well and did their thing just as impressively.

A total of more than 30 youth participated in horseshoes at the Cedar City Horseshoe Park on June 4, and the spirit of competition was showcased in the match between 11-year-old Dallas Yardley of Beaver and Jayden Kemp.

medal in his third trip to the Summer Games.

"My grandpa got me started playing," said Yardley, who is also on the Beaver Little League All-Star team. "It's fun."

Yardley's grandfather wasn't able to attend due to a back injury, but it didn't detract from the happy Championship when it comes to the Dixie Center in St. George next July.

"The goal for us is to set a new world record for the most youth to participate in a world championship event," Ohms said. "We're already talking to the Guinness (Book of World Records) folks to certify it."

Jayson Kovar qualifies for National Championships

BY SUU STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

Special to Iron County Today

Track and field action came to an end for the Thunderbirds at the NCAA West Prelims at Rock Chalk Park, with thrower Jayson Kovar hitting a qualifying mark to continue his season at the NCAA National Championships in the discus.

In the third flight of the discus, Kovar tossed a 56.92 meter to finish seventh in the event and claimed one of the top spots to move him on to the National Championships in Oregon.

"It means everything to me," he said. "I've been working for this all season and I'm just so happy that I'm going. It's unreal."

SUU head coach Eric Houle said he is thrilled to have Kovar represent the Thunderbirds at the National Championships.

"Weathering the storms, weathering practice for nine months, to now get to this point and make it to the very top stage is exactly what everybody works for."

Kovar hit his peak with his second throw.

"On the first one I felt good, it just came out low and the wind pushed it down," he said. "On the second one I just focused on staying tall and keeping my arms up and it worked."

The Thunderbirds were also represented by Devon Montgomery, as he competed in the 110-meter hurdles.

"I've been working for this all season and I'm just so happy that I'm going. It's unreal"
—Jayson Kovar

Montgomery wrapped up his first season finishing sixth in his heat with a time of 14.37.

The freshman finished in 33rd overall.

"I definitely learned to run my own race," Montgomery said. "I can't get caught up in what everybody else is doing, I've just got to do my own thing."

Houle said he has seen massive improvements in the freshman hurdler this season.

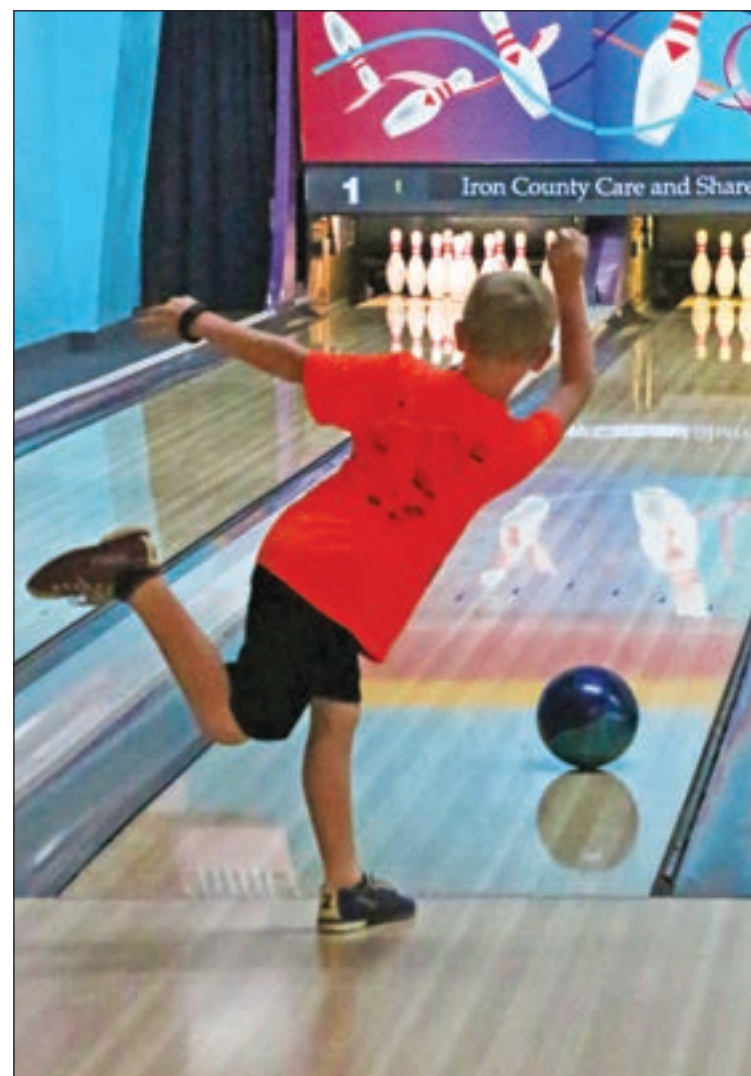

"His improvements have been huge," he said. "And the key thing he's taken away from here is that if you can get to this level and have a great race you have been crazy successful."

Overall, Houle said the experience that the T-Birds had in Lawrence was a memorable one and there will be a lot to take away from it moving forward.

"Getting through the storms we had and the delays, and the crazy strength of track and field in this country, and still have a good meet is a great way to end the season for some," he said. "And we still have one that will represent the university in two weeks."

Kovar will be competing at Hayward Field in Eugene, Ore., at the 2016 Division I Men's Track & Field Championships that will run from June 8 to 11.

Updates about the Thunderbird track and field team can be found on Facebook on the Southern Utah Track and XC page and on Twitter @SUUTrackxc.
