Cedar Band of Paiutes honors women

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

The Cedar Band of Paiutes dedicated last Saturday to an event focused on honoring women.

While the focus of the event was Native women for the morning activities, all community members were invited to take part in the afternoon programs. The event featured keynote speaker Sandy Whitehawk of the Rosebud Sioux Tribe and motivational speaker Tanya Blackhorse of the Ute Tribe, as well as breakout sessions focused on issues facing women of all ages. After lunch, the PITU

Flute Players performed a song, followed by a closing prayer and a healing activity.

Keynote speaker Whitehawk discussed a wide range of topics focused on the question of how tribal community members can honor women. She discussed her experiences through boarding school, serving in the US Navy, addiction and abuse. For Whitehawk, acknowledging hardship is a vital part of healing.

"I'm not going to dwell on past hardships," she said. "Yet, if we don't acknowledge them and how to unravel them, we can't enjoy the healing."

She also said women have been a vital part of healing for Native communities.

"Men are still not talking about the sexual abuse that they endured in boarding school and the sexual abuse they have committed or experienced in our communities," Whitehawk said. "It's been the women that have stepped forward and said what we've experienced."

Whitehawk used the story of the White Buffalo Calf Woman to demonstrate how women are to be viewed. In the story, a beautiful woman appears to two scouts in a white buckskin dress. One of the scouts understands she is sacred, the other expresses lustful thoughts and he is killed.

"That's our first lesson on how we're to be treated as women: with honor and respect," she said. "Not be lusted after, and there is zero tolerance for that."

She also went into detail about her healing experiences and the role that her consideration of others' pasts and compassion had in her healing.

"I know that trying to lock in compassion doesn't mean I accept abuse, accept unacceptable behavior," she said. "It means that in my prayer life, and in the way that I carry myself, it is not with resentment or anger."

Whitehawk discussed the issues like

Cedar residents express concern over planned parking area

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY — Two community members approached the City Council during last week's meeting to address an issue that became apparent in their neighborhood.

The area behind the property located at 156 South 200 West was recently paved for the purpose of providing additional parking to those working at the old hospital. The property is owned by the Dixie and Anne Leavitt Foundation. Jackie Jackson and Judy Higbee, who both live in the neighborhood where this overflow parking was put in, addressed city council in an effort to make a change.

Jackson claimed the use of residentially zoned property for a parking lot violates the zone usage.

"This commercial use of residential property is in direct violation of the permitted usages of residentially zoned property, specifically, section 26-3-5A, (which) reads: commercial and industrial uses are prohibited in this zone," she said.

She asked the council to enforce this zoning and issue a notice to the property owner of the intent to enforce zoning codes. Jackson also used examples from Salt Lake City, Provo and Logan to support her statement that many city limit off-street parking in residential neighborhoods, then asked that council create an ordinance that would do that for Cedar City. She said her neighborhood is a historical area and she loves where she lives.

"I do many things for Cedar City, which I love, and I'm involved heavily in the arts," Jackson said. "But I also want to have a place of solace and a place of peace to go to at the end of the day. I'm asking you to respect the rights of those who do on property and actually live on that street."

Higbee explained that the paved area backs up to her property and she feels her privacy has been violated.

"Basically, they took down two huge trees that really kind of gave me some privacy in my backyard," she said. "Now, I'm going to have 60+ cars coming in and out of there, pretty much all day long, headlights, ... shining into my bedroom. I actually have a total invasion of my privacy."

Higbee also expressed her desire to preserve historical aspects of the city. She said the National Park Service certified making the area bounded by 100 West, 300 West, College Avenue and 400 South part of the historic district, and she thought the reason for that was to respect the desire to preserve the area.

"We want to preserve something in this town, that our forefathers put together, that our children and grandchildren can look at and say, hey this little section here, this is where it all began," she said. "To me that's very important"

Ordinance Section 26-V-21, Paragraph A states as follows about parking facilities in residential zones: "Parking may be permitted in other required side and rear yards in the residential zones, providing all other requirements of this ordinance are met."

Memorial Day services on Monday in Cedar City

Cedar City Cemetery Decorations Guidelines

In order to ensure a safe, aesthetic and enjoyable environment for patrons of the cemetery year-round, the Cemetery staff would like you to be aware of the following guidelines on where to place decorative items on the headstones of your loved ones. This allows the patrons and cemetery crew to be safe while working around the headstone.

- TEMPORARY ZONE: Please place all ground-level flowers and decorations to the sides of the headstone, preferably on the concrete base area. This allows staff to work in front and behind the headstone without damaging anything you have placed near your loved one's headstone. This is called the "Temporary Zone" and items for this area would be potted plants, flower arrangements on wire stands or anything too large to fit on a raised portion of the monument. For the safety of those visiting the cemetery and to aid in the maintenance of the Cemetery the following decorations are prohibited: fragile and breakable items (glass, ceramics, i.e.) perishable foods, permanent decorations, perennial plantings. Shepard hooks, ground stakes for potted plants, and large spinning decorations are discouraged. Items in the "Temporary Zone" should be removed within 5 days after being placed. Any items remaining after the 5 days will be removed and discarded by the cemetery staff and volunteers during cleanups.
- SMALL & LIGHT ITEMS: Smaller and lighter items (toy cars, stuffed animals, trinkets and knickknacks) that may get caught or moved by machinery (mowers and line trimmers) should be placed on top of the headstone or on an elevated section of the headstone to minimize the potential of the decoration being disturbed. These items may remain on the headstone as long as they do not detract from the look and safety of the Cemetery. The Sexton will remove these items once they become unsightly or unsafe. Again, the use of fragile and breakable items (glass, ceramic, etc.) are prohibited.

Illustrated example for suggested placement of items to memorialize your loved one.

The Red area is for smaller and lighter items.

The Green area is for larger tokens.

Cleanup June 4, 2018

Please be aware on Monday June 4th all tokens left in the "Temporary Zone" around the headstone of your loved one, will be removed by the Sexton, or his staff and volunteers. This allows them the ability to continue to maintain the Cemetery grounds. Any items left at the grave site in the "Temporary Zone" after Sunday June 3rd will be respectfully removed and disposed of.

This process is in accordance with Chapter 14 of the City ordinance:

Section 14-19. Flowers, Decorations and Shrubbery

No permanent planting of any kind or description shall be permitted in and about any marker or headstone or upon any grave from and after the effective date of this Ordinance except for landscaping done by the City.

Flowers or other decorations placed upon any grave within said Cemetery shall be removed by the Sexton after five (5) days from the date the same was placed upon said grave.

No permanent decorations shall be affixed to markers or placed on gravesites. Prolonged placement of flowers and decorations shall not be permitted at ground level but only on raised portions of monuments that exceed 5 inches.

All decorations and flowers are to be contained within the boundaries of the marker placed on the gravesite except for 3 days before and 5 days after the following holidays: Memorial Day, Independence Day and Veterans Day. Upon which all decorations reaming at ground level will be removed and disposed of.

We hope you have a wonderful experience in the Cedar City Cemetery paying your respects to loved ones. We encourage the use of the www.BillionGraves.com app to find headstones.

Thank you to the many volunteers and patrons who help us keep the Cemetery beautiful and a place of peace.

-- Cedar City Cemetery Sexton

Put away that cell phone and be present

The opinions stated in this article are solely those of the author and not of Iron County Today.

For the past several months, I have mentioned the disruption caused by technology. The list is long: privacy concerns surrounding Facebook posts... pornography readily available to children... impact on journalism, especially newspapers... the decline in writing ability due to texting and the drop in reading... the instant gratification and loss of patience due to immediate information from technological devices... the closure of retail businesses unable to compete with the on-line vendors... teen suicides exacerbated by on-line bullying.

In fairness, technology provides more benefits than losses. However, the challenges continue even from "low tech" devices.

Take the humble cellphone, now dubbed the "smart" phone. It's not primarily used as a phone; it's an information center which has certainly changed our behavior. How often, for instance have you nearly steered your car into a pedestrian not paying attention to anything but his phone? No one "wonders" anymore. Just pull out the phone and get whatever obscure fact you desire.

Several weeks ago Utah made national news when Broadway actors in "Hamilton" called out audience members in Salt Lake City who were disrupting the performance by viewing phones. (Call me clueless, but why would a person pay $200 for a ticket and be more interested in a cat video than the performance on stage?)

Later that same night, I watched a family (mom, date, two pre-teen children) dining at a restaurant and not speaking or even the photos was that in each one, people are engaged with one another and their real-time activities. People looked at each other, spoke to each other, listened to each other, paid attention to their surroundings. No phones compete for their attention. The simple joys of everyday living and people's engagement with one another lovingly on display.

"In this time of disconnected connectivity in which friends often never look at each other, choosing to look at their phones or take selfies instead, this photo section is a beautiful but heartbreaking reminder of all we have lost."

A sizeable number of Americans recently said they would never attend a musical concert if they couldn't bring their cellphones into the arena or music hall. Another survey found that the average young adult could not go at least seven minutes without looking at their phone.

And I'm reminded of a time in Paris, France where travelers were more interested in posing and taking selfies than being present, experiencing the beauty, and viewing the lights of Paris and the Eiffel Tower on a Seine River cruise.

There's nothing evil about a cellphone. Just know when to put it away and be present in life itself.

looking at one another. They were all glued to their phones, hardly a tribute to "families are forever".

But the best analysis came from a simple letter to the editor in a non-tech vehicle - the opinion page of the New York Times. A woman wrote last week to comment about the special photo section reviewing events in the summer of 1978. Here is what she wrote: "What struck me immediately about

What do you think about girls joining the Boy Scouts of America?

compiled by Craig BENNETT
Iron County Today

“I honestly feel like Boy Scouts help me a lot. Being an Eagle Scout has helped me with confidence throughout my whole life. In this day and age, it seems you can't get away with excluding people for reasons of like sex. I feel like this program might help young women in the same way it helped me so why not embrace it? And a lot of young men stop going to Boy Scouts because they get interested in girls and they miss out on getting to the higher ranks. I think this could be a win win for both the boys and the girls!”

— Grady Sinclair, Cedar City

“Honestly, I think it's silly. The girls have Girl Scouts and the boys have Boy Scouts. Why do girls need to join the Boy Scouts? If it's all in the name of equality...things were already equal. Both genders had similar groups to join. The girls have the option to add elements from the Boy Scouts to their own program if they would like.”

— Brittnee Kay Bennett, Central

“I enjoyed Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts as all boys, just as baseball, hockey, track, and football. As the world is evolving it looks like there's no separation of the sexes at school or the workplace so that said, I think it was inevitable that scouting would be next, so I really can't deny the integration. They may need to add more supervision for outings and separate sleeping quarters to keep it above board but it'll probably be a good thing overall!”

— Bob Eccleston, Orange Beach Alabama

“It doesn't bother me. I still believe this country should be free enough that that private organization should be able to operate how they want. And people should be free enough to choose to participate or not.”

— Slade Hughes, Veyo

Fundraiser for Kimberly Simpson set for Memorial Day

by Cathy BRYANT
For Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY — The 15th annual “Colleen and Kay Scott Memorial Day Foundation Fundraiser” will be held on Monday, May 28 in the Cedar City Main Street Park. Funtime Inflatable Rides, music, hot dogs, cotton candy, sno cones and games and activities for everyone begin at 10 a.m. and run until 3 p.m., along with lots of prizes to be given away.

Kimberly Simpson is the 14 year old daughter of Scott and Allison Simpson of Cedar City and is a student at Canyon View High School. Kimberly has been diagnosed with Chiari Malformation, which is a structural defects in the base of the skull and cerebellum, the part of the brain that controls balance. A small part of Kimberly’s lower brain was descending into her spinal canal, and this is squeezing the brain and blocking the flow of spinal fluid causing severe headaches, neck pain and dizziness. It has also caused Kimberly to have cognitive difficulties and struggles with breathing and sleeping as well as a lack of coordination. She has struggled with these problems for over a year and a half. The condition has become more and more debilitating overtime and has caused Kimberly to no longer be able to do any of the physical activities that she loves such as dancing and attending school. On April 9 she had a very costly decompression Surgery which involved cutting a hole in her lower skull to make more room and removing the brain sheath underneath. The sheath was replaced by a larger piece and the surgeon also removed her top vertebrae.

Any surgery is always costly and can have an emotional and financial burden on a family. This is our time as a community to come out and have some fun and give back to a family that needs support. This event is free to the public, however, we are accepting donations. Come and have some fun and open your wallets and give generously to this family to help Kimberly. All donations collected will go to Kimberly’s family to help with costly medical expenses.

In the afternoon there will be a candy cannon for the kids. We have had several gift certificates donated and will be given away throughout the day from Applebee’s Restaurant, 5 Buck Pizza, Starbucks, Papa Johns Pizza, Chili’s Restaurant, Costa Vida, MCO Tires and many more.

“The Colleen & Kay Scott Memorial Foundation Fundraiser” was started in 2004 by Rick and Cathy Bryant, who owns Funtime Inflatables when Cathy’s mother, Colleen Scott was undergoing treatments for cancer, and they raised nearly $1,000 that first year. Since that first year, the event has grown and several businesses have participated and helped sponsor this event. This year’s event is sponsored by Funtime Inflatables, KB Oil, Jenkins Oil, Zions Bank, Roger Olcott of Farmers Insurance, Mountain America Credit Union, King Ralph’s Kettle Korn, MCO Tires, State Bank of Southern Utah, Wendy’s Restaurant, Applebee’s, Lin’s Marketplace and many other area businesses.

Any volunteers who would love to give of themselves--we will be starting to setup at 8:30 a.m. on May 28, and we would love to have you there. If you would like more information, call 435-531-9327 or 435-531-9368.

Volunteers sought for Tour of Utah Cedar City event

Individuals and groups interested in supporting the Larry H. Miller Tour of Utah professional stage race are invited to volunteer for Cedar City events August 4-7. Applications for a variety of volunteer positions are now available online, beginning today, using the Tour of Utah website at www.TourofUtah.com.

"To have an event of this caliber come back to Cedar City is a testament to how amazing our community and volunteers are," said Jessica Burr, Volunteer Director for the Cedar City Local Organizing Committee (LOC). "Volunteering for the Tour of Utah is such a fun and fulfilling way to serve Cedar City. Plus, you get to be surrounded by world-class athletes, the best event people in the business and the electric vibe of race day."

Burr said that about 300 volunteers are needed to donate their time, talents, and in some cases to use a second language to host international cyclists and visitors. Some volunteers have already been assigned areas to help the Tour of Utah staff and Cedar City LOC directly, but there is a need for additional course marshals (200), bike valets (3), production team (16), green team (8) and other positions.

Individuals can request a specific assignment for one or multiple shifts. Group assignments for families, corporations, clubs and civic organizations are encouraged to inspire teamwork and support the local community.

Each volunteer receives a commemorative Tour of Utah T-shirt, hat, sunglasses, and sun screen products. A box lunch will also be provided daily. The recommended age for volunteers is 18 and older. Applicants must sign a waiver, or have a signature provided by an adult or legal guardian if the applicant is 17 years of age or younger.

General registration will remain open through the end of July. A "Frequently Asked Questions" section is provided on the website to provide descriptions of specific positions, opportunities for groups and more information.

Cedar City will be hosting its fourth Tour of Utah event (2013, 2014, 2016) as the overall start headquarters for the Tour of Utah, meaning that teams will be coming to town early to train, acclimate and staff will be preparing the start and finish line structures and other equipment that will be taken throughout the state. Cyclists will be introduced to the media and the community in Cedar City on Saturday, August 4. After a time trial/prologue in St. George the day before, on Tuesday, August 7, Cedar City will be the Stage 1 start and finish before the race moves to Payson City (Aug. 8); Antelope Island State Park and Layton

City (Aug. 9); Salt Lake City (Aug. 10); Canyons Village and Snowbird Resort (Aug. 11), and Park City (Aug. 12).

The Cedar City LOC--chaired by Bryan Dangerfield, Cedar City Events Director and vice-chair Emilee Ballard, Southern Utah University--is made up of community volunteers with expertise and passion for cycling, who oversee technical, route, production/ancillary events, marketing, media/pr, volunteers and local sponsorship.

Cedar City has set up a "Velo Cedar City" Facebook page to ensure the latest information is posted. Volunteers, race fans and local residents are encouraged to Like the page for schedules,

Brody's reopens in Cedar after remodeling

CEDAR CITY — Brody's Mexican Restaurant has reopened its doors after a remodeling project. Owner Al Garcia and his staff will be celebrating with a Grand Reopening event on June 2 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

"We're going to have some food prizes and will give away tickets to the Tim McGraw and Faith Hill concert in Salt Lake City later this summer," Al said. The reopening will coincide with the opening of two neighboring businesses at the Pioneer Plaza—Pioneer Floor Coverings and Design Center, and Alex Misner Construction Home and Design. The plaza is located at 1166 Sage Drive in Cedar City.

Brody's began in 2009 when the Garcias (Al and Pilar) opened in a small trailer in Minersville. It grew into a taco shop the couple opened in 2012 in Milford, and then they moved to Cedar City in 2013. Al says the menu has changed a little with the new look, but the favorites remain. Their specialty is the Molcajet Supreme. Brody's delicious menu is on their website at www.brodysmexican.com.

"We have a little more seating in our new restaurant," Al said. "The new décor is brighter and we're very excited to have our customers come check us out."

Brody's is open Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., and on Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Phone is 435-531-8773.

Ground broken for Enoch Shelter, Dog Park

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

ENOCH — Community members and their dogs gathered for the groundbreaking for the new Enoch Animal Shelter and Dog Park that took place Saturday at the new site for these facilities.

Enoch Mayor Geoffrey Chesnut welcomed guests and community members. Mayor Chesnut took the time to thank the people involved who helped make these projects realities and said his experience in Arizona taught him the value of dog parks and shelters.

“People who are dog owners that are responsible and take care of their animals, they really do appreciate these types of facilities,” he said. “Because it gives an opportunity for the animals to interact with other animals, socialize, run and play, opportunities that they don’t normally get in the backyard.”

Enoch Chief of Police Jackson Ames also addressed guests and discussed the new animal shelter. Chief Ames said the city has been looking into moving the current animal shelter for over a decade and this project gave him a better understanding of the importance of animal shelters.

“I’m really excited that this came to fruition,” he said. “I think this is going to be a great asset. I don’t think that I fully understood what ... the shelter staff did to provide resources and facilitate the animals into homes where they’re being taken care of and people love them. There’s a lot of effort that goes into that.”

Animal Patrol Officer Chris Johnson identified some of the dogs present who came from the current Enoch Animal Shelter in order to show that stereotypes about shelter animals are not necessarily true. She also added that all Iron County animal shelters are now no-kill shelters.

“We envision a beautiful and exciting park for man’s best friend and their humans to interact...”

— Chelsie Gallagher, FFCK9s

President of Friends of Festival Country K9s Diane Gil spoke on the history of the dog park. The dog park started as a SUU EDGE Project in 2011, then FFCK9s was formed as a non-profit organization to raise funds for the project. Gil thanked city officials and community members who were instrumental in helping organize the dog park, as well as FFCK9s board members and their spouses. She also shared the concept design for the park.

Secretary of FFCK9s Chelsie Gallagher addressed the hopes and desires for the future of the dog park.

“We envision a beautiful and exciting park for man’s best friend and their humans to interact and play,” Gallagher said. “What you see now, the large fenced area filed with natural vegetation, will eventually evolved into a wonderful mix of grass, paved walkways, benches, and natural landscape. This will be a place that will soon allow even more people and dogs to socialize, to develop new relationships, new friendships.”

Following the groundbreaking ceremonies, community members aided in the removal of unwanted vegetation within the dog park. The fencing is now up and functional for the large and small dog sections at the Enoch Dog Park. From northbound on Minersville Highway, turn eastward at 5600 North, then north on the new dirt road.

While the dog park is functional, there is still much that CCFK9s would like to have happen, including installing water features, seating areas, ADA accessibility features and more. Anyone interested in volunteering or donating can contact CCFK9s at 435-867-7347.

With so many Americans traveling for Memorial Day, popular attractions and destinations are sure to be busy. To avoid large holiday crowds, explorers should consider visiting Cedar City in southern Utah, which has many great, lesser-known recreational and relaxing destinations to choose from. For those curious as to why they should spend the holiday in the area, here are five family-friendly options in Cedar City to enjoy this Memorial Day week-

4-H PROGRAMS AT THE IRON COUNTY EXTENSION were highlighted during an open house last Friday.

Iron County Extension hosts 4-H Open House

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY — Employees of the Iron County Extension Office helped showcase activities and programs that will be available through 4-H during an open house last Friday.

Kathleen Riggs, a member of the 4-H faculty, said 4-H is the Extension Office’s focus on the youth in the county and the program is intended to give kids valuable skills and lessons.

“The thing that I like the most about 4-H is the fact that the kids not only get experience having fun, but they’re actually learning life skills, that could turn into hobbies that could turn into careers,” Riggs said.

Riggs also said 4-H programs help teach kids to use those skills the right way, using the Food Preservation Day Camp as an example.

“There are a lot of blogs out there that do food preservation but they don’t always follow the right guidelines,” she said. “When they come through a 4-H program they know how to do things correctly and they can be selling their product at farmers markets or have their own business.”

During the open house, several booths were set up featuring different clubs and camps that are available through the 4-H program.

Archie Schaffer represented the Cedar City Racing Pigeon Club with the hope of preserving the sport of pigeon racing.

“We would like to expose some youth to the sport and all the members in our club are willing to raise babies for new kids that want to get involved in it and then sponsor little races just between the kids ... just get them exposed to it while they’re young and hopefully when they become adults they’ll come back to the sport and it’ll keep our sport strong,” Schaffer said.

Bee Inspector Blaine Nay brought some of his bees to the open house to advocate for the Iron County 4-H Beekeeping Club. Locals Chris, Lilly and William Heaton operated a booth featuring information about raising and showing goats. Nicole Hopkins offered a look at the Extension Office’s Master Gardening programs.

There are many other camps, clubs and activities available through Iron County 4-H, and registration for summer day camps is now open.

Utah Senator Vickers seeking volunteers for state committee

by Sen. Evan VICKERS
For Iron County Today

Hello to all.

With all the graduations and end of school year celebrations I hope you are having a wonderful May.

There is an opportunity for three volunteers, first-come, first-served, to serve on the Utah Educational Standards Assessment Committee for grades 3-8. These volunteers meet for four days in the year, 8 hours a day, and review the educational standards for the coming year, that are then implemented by the State Office of Education. You are not paid for this position, but the State Office of Education can arrange/pay for overnight lodging when necessary. The meetings are typically held at the Capitol, and while it’s preferred you currently have children attending public schools, it’s not necessary.

If you can serve in this capacity, please contact me at evickers@le.utah.gov. Thank you very much.

Red Acre Farm hosts Annual Spring Day

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY — Red Acre Farm opened to the public for its annual Spring Day last Saturday.

Spring Day is an opportunity for community members to visit the farm and participate in activities like story time, May Pole and face painting. Visitors were also able to enjoy a farm breakfast featuring ingredients from the farm.

Red Acre Farm is in its 10th year of operation. Farmer Sara Patterson began the farm when she was 14 after inspiration from a family friend.

“One of my mom’s dear friends did it for a master’s project in Overton, Nevada, and I just loved what she was doing and I loved the concept of people eating right from the land and knowing their farmer,” she said.

Dee Scheuerman, a volunteer for the farm, said she hopes people gain an appreciation for farming by participating in Spring Day.

“I hope that people first of all know that it’s here ... and secondly that they appreciate the farming and they get interested in being more involved in organic gardening,” Scheuerman said.

Symbria Patterson, Sara’s mom and an employee on the farm, said she wants to show community members that farming does not have to be on a large scale to be successful.

Symbria Patterson said she hopes participants have fun and “that they see a farm can be small -- this is our only source of income -- so that they can see you can make a living off of this and learn a little about what we’re doing out here.”

Spring Day also included live music from the Washburn Family Bluegrass Band and featured many animals, like chickens, goats and cows.

PAIUTE WOMEN

how women might carry themselves in their communities so that men see their value rather than seeing them as objects, and how men who recognize that value can teach it to others. She said everyone shares the responsibility for promoting and honoring women.

Dave Coan, the Family is Sacred Coordinator, said Saturday’s event was focused on reminding women of their value.

“We recognize that there’s a lot of domestic violence in the community and, sadly, a great deal of it goes unreported,” Coan said. “Today is not the way it once was in a community like this, there was a lot more honor for women. And the main purpose of today’s event is to remind women of that. Today any man who comes here is to help serve the women. This event today is all about women and reminding them that they are in a position to be honored.”

Representatives from Canyon Creek Women’s Crisis Center were also present. Roxy Burkhart, Rape and Sexual Assault Advocate for CCWCC, said the Cedar Band of Paiutes and the CCWCC have similar goals.

“We work together in the community to provide supportive services,” she said. “A lot of times when one has an event we’re there to support the other. We all have the same goal -- empowering people, getting people in safe places. Also, it’s a women’s event, honoring women, and we want to promote healthy relationships and make sure they know the resources in the area.”

RASMUSSEN EXHIBIT OPENS

at Art Works Gallery

'WADING'
BY JENNIFER
RASMUSSEN is among her works on exhibit at Art Works Gallery.

JENNIFER RASMUSSEN

CEDAR CITY — Art Works Gallery presents an exhibit figurative and abstract art by Cedar City artist Jennifer Rasmusson titled “Abstracts and Figures.” The opening reception takes place on Friday, May 25, from 5-8 p.m. at Art Works Gallery, 16 N. 100 West in Cedar City. The exhibit shows through June 23.

“Painting is a conversation,” Rasmusson remarked. “I may have an idea of what I want to say but there is a process of give and take between myself and the marks on the canvas... there are always unexpected turns.

“My textural, painterly works examine ever-changing relationship in life. I work on a body of five or more paintings at a time. Working on these paintings together I begin with quick layers of acrylic paint, allowing me to build up texture. In some works I will apply a plaster scratching back and painting over again. These first layers always show through somewhere in the finished work. They are where the conversation begins.

“Next I draw with charcoal, oil pastel or pastel, these marks will not be the final drawing, there are many times during the work to draw again. Drawing is coming to shape conclusions.

“My favorite part is oil paint. The rich creamy texture and luminous color begin to tell the real story. The canvas and I understand each other and are better for the conversation we have had.”

Thanks, Iron County Today, for 101 Things...

by Mary Anne ANDERSEN
Cedar City Arts Council

If you haven't already done so, may I strongly suggest that you carefully peruse the publication “101 Things to Do in Iron County,” which arrived in your mailbox courtesy of this newspaper. It is a great offering of...well, 101 things to do close to home. I would like to offer unsolicited testimonials about some of its suggestions, plus some wishes that will not come true for me but might for you.

Of course, you will attend a theatrical production some time this summer. We do theater in this town, from first-class professional to children's. At the end of the summer, our children will present “The Lion King.” Guaranteed adorable. Our Cedar Valley Community Theatre will perform soon, June 9. And then our professional companies, Neil Simon and Utah Shakespeare Festival will present professional work that will entertain us and draw patrons from all over the world. Really! I've talked to people from Hawaii who come every year.

The advertisements for those two companies are impossible to miss in the magazine. The dates and ticket prices are listed and the logos for the Shakespeare Festival are fabulous!! Kudos to that artist, whoever she may be.

Although it offended my father, I have attended our rodeo here. I don't know anything about judging the quality of rodeos, but this one looked pretty good to me. Your kids will love it. The children's pond up at Wood's Ranch has given up many a trout to our grandkids over the years; we remember the time one boy fell in and another time the girl cousin was the first to reel something in, much to the dismay of her boy cousins.

For heart-pumping excitement, go watch the Tour of Utah bicycle race on Aug. 7. You have to ignore the obnoxious announcer, but it is worth seeing. I've heard that bicycling is the most dangerous sport. Watch this, and you'll see why.

For a peaceful contrast to that, which you can do every week, visit our farmers' markets. It is the essence of summertime living, in my book. Details on page 36.

Now, something we've not done with grandkids, yet, are the activities in Brian Head. A zip line, tubing, archery—it sounds like there is enough there to fill a whole day, finished off with swimming back at our Aquatic Center. Another activity that will be new to our family this year is the annual Cedar City Interfaith Alliance patriotic program, July 1 at Christ the King Catholic Church. I don't know how we've missed this one, but not this year.

There is one thing that I wish I were going to participate in, but, alas, it won't happen. Ride the Gap Bike Ride takes place on June 2. It would be so much fun. Just look at the picture, page 11.

I'm out of space. Read the magazine and mark your own must-dos and maybes on your own calendars. This resource should be at hand all summer long. Thanks, Iron County Today.

Finding decor in natural 'stuff'

by Dawn M. AERTS
Iron County Today

CEDAR CITY — When Ed Severance isn't organizing a 'pickle ball' match or leading an impromptu tour of the Historic Rock House, he is doing what he likes best — coming up with ideas for his decorative native inspirations.

"I've always enjoyed just looking for 'stuff' in nature, spending time outside and discovering what 'Mother Nature' has to offer in elements, rocks, and other nature-made materials," Severance, born in New Hampshire, claims to have crisscrossed the U.S., West Coast to East Coast, multiple times, living for a time in small towns like Park City, Utah, and in big cities like Las Vegas. As a former high school teacher, he has dabbled in everything from fraud investigation to grounds-work, but one interest has remained constant, his attention to finding interesting 'stuff' outdoors.

"Everything I gather, has been supplied by nature," said Severson of his Cedar City workshop. "So, you might say, I've always had a coffee-can full of rocks and a collection of this and that."

Severance's work is focused on creating decorative pieces that are a combination of raw or natural elements. "I have these pieces, sometimes it's a wagon wheel spoke, or an interesting limb of wood, a fossil, or maybe a Cholla Cactus," said Severson, "For me it about using these shapes that inspire me, and then putting them together."

His work focuses on Native American objects with a purpose. "Over the years I've spent a lot of time in the Southwest, in Arizona and Nevada. As a high school student, I was very impressed with the Navajo culture and admired how they lived," said Severson. "So, I want people to see the many things that they can find on the land, and all that 'Mother Nature' provides us with."

Severance's wife, Shannon, is likewise impressed with rocks and geology.

"Over the years, (between us) we had quite a collection going — my Grandfather, George A. Wood was a builder and a contractor," said Severance of the old Rock (LDS) Church and chapel Wood had constructed in 1931. "And my Dad worked in the mines, so when we came to Cedar, we put our collections together."

Severance's workshop and studio is full of elk and deer antlers, horns and jawbones which he uses to construct his work. "I still have a gold claim Northeast of Beaver which allows me to take out minerals, stones and things — said Severson of his projects. "I like using the Cholla Cactus and the Manzanita Wood or the Saguaro cacti of Mexico in some of these."

Severson fashions a wide range of decor from ornate-looking hunting knives mounted on wood, to primitives and neck-bolos inspired by the Southwest.

"I decided five years ago that I wanted to start using all of the elements, stones and fossils, the wood-pieces I had gathered over the years," said Severance. "I enjoy having people see these works and how they are now serving a purpose."

While Severance is always looking for 'stuff' it is the challenge of creating a decorative from a concept that he imagines. "Sometimes I will start with one piece, then work on another, and go back again. Eventually I start seeing the shapes come together, so I go back and forth until it's complete."

Since retirement, Severance has come to enjoy the contrasts and mix of natural elements scattered throughout his workshop. "I call this 'Earth Man Creations,'" said Severance of the materials he has gathered over the years. "When I am not busy with projects, I lead an occasional tour at the Old Rock Church," and of course, "Pickle Ball groups are going on five mornings a week."

EDWARD SEVERANCE NATURE-BASED CREATIONS will be featured as one of 30 plus vendors at the Frontier Homestead Museum "Folk Life" Festival planned for Friday, June 22 and Saturday, June 23. He and his wife, Shannon, have collected a mix of stones, rocks, fossils, wood elements, horns, antlers and items from nature for the past 50-plus years.

Kimber students put on two plays

CEDAR CITY — The Kimber Academy theater group recently performed a segment of "Little Women" and "Each in his Own Place" on May 3. The students did a wonderful job.

Our night of talents was held last Thursday evening. Much of the student's work they have accomplished over the past several months was displayed including some beautiful paintings and artwork they had created in art class. Both of the Kimber choirs sang and a couple of solos were sung along with a couple of piano performances. Two skits were performed adding fun and humor to the event.

This past week we had the opportunity to hear two great spirit day speakers. Farley Anderson came dressed up as Benjamin Franklin and taught about our freedoms and liberties and the importance of the Constitution. He displayed several beautiful paintings of American History.

Our second speaker, Rob Bliss, is a beekeeper and taught us all about the workings of bees. He gave us many spiritual analogies that can be learned from the observing and learning of bees. He brought several honeycombs full of honey that the students and staff got to sample. So delicious!

We are sad to be ending another great year at the academy but are looking forward to our end of year picnic at Canyon Park where we will be rapping up our obedience quest with several activities to remind us of our individual goals to be obedient and the blessings that true obedience brings into our lives.

Avoiding family disconnect this summer

Kathy's CORNER

by Kathleen RIGGS
 Utah State University Extension

Walk into almost any classroom of students these days and you will sense the excitement building for summer break- You may or may not encounter the chant, “No more pencils, No more books, No more Teachers’ Dirty Looks!” What students may not realize is that the routine established by teachers and tools they use throughout the school year are great for learning, self-discipline, and practicing to get along with peers and other adults outside the family.

What happens when the last bell of the school-year rings and children head home or perhaps to grandma’s house for the summer? There can be a great disconnect created not just between a child’s brain and structured learning but also in the time established for being together as a family—for there will undoubtedly be changes in schedules/routines.

Before the end of the school-year, consider sitting down as a family two-three times and discuss what summer will look like for your family. As you begin the discussion, parents can be purposeful in directing family members to talk about more than staying busy (participating in sports, finding a job, going on vacation, etc.) Talk about what your family’s summer routine will include and how other activities will revolve around core family activities and functions. This will greatly enhance the summer experience not just for younger children, but for the entire group. It will also insure family closeness and traditions are reinforced.

While there is no one-size-fits-all family routine, the following areas provide a basic model focused on individual and family growth. Keep in mind It is important to establish some type of structure during the summer to keep family members feeling close to one another while allowing a bit more freedom and flexibility than perhaps the other nine months of the year.

Family Time:

» Try to eat at least one meal together every day (much like you would during the rest of the year). Keep conversations flowing and share what is going on with each family member during the week.

» Plan a weekly activity together whether it is a family home -improvement project, a hike, or bike ride or walk. Even one hour per week working or playing alongside each other will help family member feel connected. Consider movie night, game night, or make-your-own sundae night....

Physical Activity Time:

» Whether alone or with other members of the family, get moving. This could cross-over into basic family time. Maybe you start training for a “Fun Run” or take the dog for a daily walk together.

has gone out of style- just change it up a bit.

» Another idea is to plan and prepare a meal to take to a family you want to get to know better- then deliver as a family.

Rest & Quiet Time:

» Whether Sunday afternoon or another time during the week, with everyone home, unplug from work, sports, playtime, etc. even if just for a couple of hours. Read a good book, call family members who live far away, stop by to check on a neighbor or friend you haven’t seen in a while, or update your personal journal. This is a time

THINKSTOCKPHOTOS

» Commit one-two days per week to work in the house or outside to clean and organize or complete a project. Come up with a fun name for the day such as “Tackle Tuesday” or “Whip-into-shape Wednesday”.

Time for Service:

» At least once a week, have the family identify, organize and carryout a meaningful service for an individual, a family, or the community.
 » Consider ways to donate time or talents. Maybe someone needs help writing a letter or being read to. This doesn’t mean that mowing lawns or pulling weeds to relax and recharge.

Summertime can be a wild and crazy time running to and from a myriad of activities. Help your family keep focused with a few routines and scheduled time together. These basic steps may be all it will take for families to feel a stronger sense of belonging and value and truly enjoy the coming summer.

North Elementary

North Elementary would like to give a special "shout out" to SUU's Community Engagement Center for their incredible help with our school garden. On Thursday, May 17, a crew of around 20 youth leaders from around the state came and helped shovel shredded bark and planting soil throughout the garden. ### Cedar Middle Cedar Middle School Creative Writing class had a special visitor this week. Elaine Vickers, Published author and SUU Professor of Chemistry, presented "Getting It Right: Science in Fiction" to the class. She discussed the importance of following the laws of conservation and creating plausible rather than problematic details in stories when it comes to science. She used movie examples to illustrate her point. The students thoroughly enjoyed the presentation and found it very useful in their writing. She is a fantastic presenter and is skilled in gearing her presentations according to her audience. We appreciate her taking the time to serve the students of Iron County!

Three Peaks Elementary

Three Peaks Elementary third grade classes held a special assembly on May 17 to honor veterans and to retire flags. Students wrote letters to entities throughout the United States asking if they had any old flags that needed to be retired and the response was overwhelming.

The students learned symbolism of the flag, how to treat and fold a flag with respect, sacrifices that veterans and active service personnel have made or make for us every day.

Thank you to our third grade teachers- Shaun Hunt, Linda Reid, Shauna Marshall, and Audrey Einerson for preparing the students for this wonderful opportunity.

Pets on planes

The Pet CORNER

by Dawn AERTS

The flight was United Airlines 1284, Houston to the New York Laguardia Airport, when passengers heard barking and wheezing from the overhead bin.

We have all read stories of the pets who don't survive a flight and the policies that outline that an appropriate storage space be allowed at the passenger's feet in an approved hard-sided or soft-side kennel. If it 'fits completely' under the seat. Unfortunately, not all pet carriers and policy is equal.

According to flight reports, Kokito, a 9-month-old bulldog, was taken from the feet of their owner by an attendant who instructed the owner to store their dog in the overhead bin. While some incidents may seem extreme, airlines have their rules and passengers with pets need to be aware of them.

Unfortunately, Kokito was stored in a bag. Follow-up reports stated that the puppy was the victim of decreased oxygen level, stressful conditions, and the French bulldog's narrow airway common to the breed. Passengers reported that the owner pushed back verbally about storing the dog, but eventually complied.

What is more unfortunate are the passengers, the flight crew, and the owner who didn't respond to the barking and whimper of a puppy in trouble. While many people describe airline passenger traffic as something akin to being swept along like a herd of cattle, it was only a matter of time before our pets would fall victim to the insensitive culture.

Airlines have their rules and passengers with pets need to be aware of them

How many of us have felt like we were being suffocated on an idling flight unable to move? The stress of trying to get into the aisle, sitting for hours in narrow confines, or hoping to reach a bathroom when needed? Though prosecutors in New York and Texas are considering the dog's death as a possible criminal matter, why would passengers accept this treatment for a pet?

While French bulldogs have been placed on the airline's 'no fly' list due to the higher adverse health risk, one must wonder about the airline flight with a dog in an overhead bin that no one bothers to check on. It reminds me of the final words by a crew member on the return trip on the Jungle Boat Ride at Disneyland: "Now folks, for the scariest part of the journey -- civilization."

It's best to call the airline company and review the rules and policies with them before you take the next airline adventure with your pet.

The Rut LESS TRAVELED

by Corey BAUMGARTNER

As time for summer vacations approaches, what adventures await you? If you're preparing to travel by car or truck, you've probably already made a potential itinerary, changed the oil, checked the tires and got a tune-up. After all, you wouldn't want to break down along the way to your way to your chosen destination for relaxation, right? So, where are you going? Who are you going with? Where would you travel to if you knew your vehicle wouldn't break down? Where would you go if you knew you wouldn't run out of gas, roads, or get lost? Maybe your adventure wouldn't include roads. Maybe you want wings not wheels. Maybe it simply requires discovering, or creating, a place of peace and quiet and just disappearing for a while from the ruts and routines of daily life.

What about the journey of your life? What would you do with your life if you knew you wouldn't fail? Wouldn't it be great to have that confidence in yourself? Unfortunately, no matter how confident and prepared you are—and no matter where your life's journeys take you—there will always be the potential for break-downs, break-ups, and being broken apart. That doesn't mean you shouldn't keep daring to do great things or continue exploring this wonderful world.

Yes, there will still be dead-ends to avoid, U-turns to make, and the GPS can be wrong. However, sometimes breaking down, or getting lost, can be part of the adventure—for better or worse. I'm sure many of you reading this have a great break-down story. I've had more than I would like to mention. Often, because I thought the low-fuel light came on way too early, or that worn-out and cracked radiator hose, with the bandana tied around it, would last one more trip.

Nevertheless, you can still have confidence as your co-pilot. Maybe you think you can't because you've failed—broken down—too many times in the past? Here's a thought, what if failures, or break-downs, could help you succeed? Don't believe me? Have you ever heard of Walt Disney? Abraham Lincoln? J.K. Rowling? Harrison Ford? They each didn't just have break-downs on their road to eventual success, they were basically told to burn their driver's license and stop driving altogether. Let us not forget how many times Thomas Edison "failed" before creating the lightbulb. Their seemingly hopeless catastrophes became catalysts to help them achieve success. Our adversity along life's roads, skies and oceans will help us, too. Just remember that life isn't about the distance, or the destination. It's about the smiles and memories made along the way. As you travel, keep yourself in good condition to endure the roads ahead. Make sure you're getting enough SPG's (smiles per gallon) and don't just pass the mile-markers in life. Create milestones and memorials of your journey. Not only for your enjoyment, but to leave behind a legacy, a road-map, for those who will follow behind you.

Barbara Ellen Gummo

Barbara Ellen Gummo passed into eternity on April 26, 2018 at her home in Parowan, Utah two months before her 92nd birthday and one day before her 73rd wedding anniversary.

She was born on June 19, 1926 in Lock Haven, Pennsylvania, the daughter of John Robert Mayes and Georgie Beck Milner of Mill Hall, Pennsylvania.

Barbara married Thomas A. Gummo on April 27, 1945, upon his return from naval aviation duty in the Pacific Theater of WW2. Being the wife of a career military man provided her with the opportunity to live in Germany during the 1950s and four states in the western US. After Thomas' retirement from the Air Force, she lived in Pennsylvania and Southern California, retiring to Parowan, Utah in 1980.

Barbara was raised on a farm in Pennsylvania and had to perform the farm chores normal to living on a farm. During WW2, when she was in High School, she worked at Sylvania in a special war production program for High School students. In 1965, she applied for a job as a file clerk at the Lock Haven Hospital in Pennsylvania. Due to a clerical error, she was hired as a medical secretary. She taught herself the skills necessary to keep that job and eventually worked at Kaiser Permanente and Leisure World as a medical secretary in California. While living in Pennsylvania she was a Greeter for the Welcome Wagon program. In Parowan, Barbara and Thomas were part owners of the local Laundromat, spending many hours doing the laundry for Brian Head businesses. She and Tom were also part owners of the appliance store on Main Street.

In Parowan, she participated in local activities with the Parowan Lions Club, the Little Salt Lake Service Club, and writing for the Parowan newspaper. She loved to crochet, and many an infant received a crocheted baby blanket she had made. After giving up driving, she was a common sight driving around Parowan on her electric scooter, visiting her friends and picking up her mail at the Post Office.

Barbara is survived by her husband Thomas and three children: Thomas L. Gummo of Apple Valley, CA, Joy Pierce of Cedar City, Utah and Allan C. Gummo of Parowan, Utah. Four grandchildren and five great grandchildren will also miss her loving attention.

Lee Marion DeFever

Our wonderful husband, father and grandfather Lee Marion DeFever, age 66, continued on his journey to our final place of residence. He is finally without pain and was reluctant to leave his beloved family behind. We called him Superman for his courageous battle with cancer for 1½ years. On May 3, 2018, we knew he was ready to move on and with a tear in his eye, he passed away from Earth.

Lee was born in California on January 19, 1952 to Lee Woodson and Mary Magdalene Arnold DeFever. He met the love of his life, Janet Geahry, in Downey around 1966. They married in The First Presbyterian Church in Downey in 1972 and they have been together ever since. Together they raised their children in Downey until an opportunity in Cedar City, Utah brought them here.

Lee was a very accomplished machinist which made him a successful entrepreneur. In 2002, Lee and Janet opened LD Precision Machining in Cedar City, Utah, where he manufactured parts for our Defense Dept., Aerospace Industry, automotive and much more. Including his own line of Precision Archery tips.

Lee loved to swim, fish, camp, play games, hunt, and shoot. He was an avid reader and football enthusiast! The Arizona Cardinals was his favorite NFL Team and on top of our Sunday venue. But regardless of work and play, the love of his family always came first. He was patient and kind and could fix just about anything. His legacy will live on in our hearts! He was awesomely talented and hard working.

Lee is survived by his wife, Janet Geahry DeFever, his daughter Stacey DeFever Lokovic and son-in-law Jeremy Lokovic, his daughter Crystal DeFever Coon and his son-in-law Josh Coon. Also his 5 beautiful granddaughters and 1 very handsome grandson. He loved all of us with all his heart and soul and we loved and admired him also!

The family will be having a celebration of Lee's wonderful life. No details are available. Arrangements are being handled by Southern Utah Mortuary. Online condolences can be sent to www.sumortuary.com

Lady Reds finish third at 4A softball tourney

“I wish we would have done better, but we made it to Saturday”

— Chris Weaver, Cedar head coach

by Tom ZULEWSKI
Iron County Today

SPANISH FORK — The Cedar Lady Reds softball team made one thing abundantly clear as they made their run through the 4A state playoffs. Getting to Saturday and getting a chance at the title was the only acceptable option.

While the first part of the mission was accomplished May 19, the Spanish Fork Lady Dons ended Cedar’s season with a 13-7 victory in the final elimination game played at the Spanish Fork Softball Complex.

The Lady Reds had to play the survival game after an 8-4 loss to Bear River the day before that ended a 19-game winning streak.

“We showed our weakness this year at the plate, the change-up,” Cedar head coach Chris Weaver said. “That became evident against Bear River and (Spanish Fork) capitalized on it. We still put up seven runs and the kids did great.”

After two scoreless innings, Spanish Fork used the short game to perfection to put up three runs in the top of the third.

Amanda Mitchell led off with a single to right field and Marae Condie reached on a throwing error to put two runners on. Trinity Benson followed with a bunt single that scored two runs, and Mallory Barber reached on another bunt single that pushed the lead to 3-0.

Cedar got a run back in the bottom of the inning as senior and Southern Utah commit Dream Weaver homered, the first of four the Lady Reds would hit on the day. Spanish Fork got the run back in

Cedar girls dust competition to capture 4A state track title

by Tom HARALDSEN
Managing Editor

PROVO — At about 2:30 p.m. Friday, one of Utah’s famous afternoon thunderstorms rolled toward the BYU track and field complex and threatened to delay the state 4A track finals. It ended up swinging to the east and missing the track, but by that time, another storm had surged over the meet—Cedar High’s girls’ team.

The race for the state crown was all but over at that point, though several events remained. The Lady Reds from Cedar pretty much sewed things up earlier on the second day of competition. After Julia Hunt won the 100 meters in a time of 12.41 seconds, and Jasie York blazed to victory in the 400 meters (55.47), it was basically a battle for second-place among the other teams. Cedar finished with 118.5 points to easily beat Desert Hills (2nd at 58), exacting a bit of revenge for a narrow loss to DH in last year’s 3A meet. Both teams moved up a classification this year.

“It was almost like a dual meet between the two schools,” said Cedar coach Robert Corry. “Things were so tight last year, but I know our girls had their sights set on getting that gold trophy back.”

Cedar had taken the lead on Thursday, when a few finals were contested. The medley relay team of Lexi Bird, Rachael Hunt, Maren Street and Mic Webster won the event in a time of 4:09.94. Webster also placed third in the 3200, with Harley Taylor taking fourth. York took fourth in the 800 meters, Marce Tarrayo was third in the shot put, and Sara Kovac placed fourth in high jump.

Friday’s competition began with Webster taking second in the 1600 meters. Tarrayo took third and Brooke Shoop fifth in discus, Julia Hunt took second in the 300-meter hurdles, and York and Julia Hunt went one-two in the 200 meters (both setting personal bests). By time the final event, the 1600-meter relay, rolled around, it was just a matter of seeing if Cedar could best the school record. Bird started off the race with a

REGISTRATION IS STILL UNDERWAY for the Iron Giants Mountain Bike Team.

Local Iron Giants Mountain bike team announce signups

CEDAR CITY — The Iron Giants Mountain Bike Team, a composite team of middle and high school students in Iron County, is still registering riders. All skill levels are welcome, there are no tryouts, and everybody rides. You can register at the website listed below.

"I love being an Iron Giant," said Zoe Knudsen, student athlete. "Riding with friends and hanging out with the team on race day is really fun."

Danny and Ginger Hall are the Iron Giants' head coaches and have over eight years of experience coaching teams in Utah and Texas. Originally from Texas, the Halls moved to Cedar City in 2014 to enjoy all the outdoor opportunities the area offers.

— Zoe Knudsen

"Our main goal has always been to get more kids on bikes," said Ginger Hall. "We are thrilled to be headed into our third season as a team, and excited to meet more kids who love to ride."

During the 2018 season, team members will have the opportunity to race in cities across Utah, including Kamas, Richfield, Moab, Cedar City, and St. George. Participating in races is encouraged, but not required of student athletes.

The team is looking for financial support from local businesses. Team sponsorships are available and help student athletes with the support they need to thrive during the race season.

End of school year means empty notebook

For the final week of another school year, the end of spring sports at the high-school level means another emptying of the mental notebook to enjoy the lazy days of summer ahead.

After all, the graduation diplomas won't wait for the seniors.

» The Spanish Fork softball complex was a busy place over the weekend as last week's rainy weather delayed the 2A and 3A tournaments a full eight days. The Parowan Rams had a shot to reach the semifinals, but couldn't solve the Beaver Beavers in an 11-1 loss May 18, its third straight to the 2A South rival.

After winning its first survival game 8-4 over Altamont later in the day, the Rams saw its season end in a 19-2 loss to 2A South champion Enterprise. The Wolves shut out Beaver 10-0 in the final elimination game May 19, but dropped a 12-2 decision in five innings in the final to Gunnison, who won its first state title in any girls sport in 39 years.

» Some history was made at the 4A girls state golf tournament at Sunbrook in St. George, and it wasn't just Desert Hills winning the team title for the ninth straight time. For only the second time in the 11 years girls golf has been recognized by the UHSAA, the Cedar Lady Reds qualified as a full team.

They didn't make the top 10 team cut, but Cedar only missed by eight strokes after carding a 410 score. Logan was the final qualifier for Day 2 at 402.

Ashley Davis led the Lady Reds with a 95 that played on the challenging Black Rock and Pointe nine-hole layouts. Emma Chapman was next with 100, Shaylee Evans carded 104 and Madison Smith completed the group with 111.

In only its second year with head coach Greg Davis, the future is certainly looking up.

Canyon View had only Keslee Sherman qualify as an individual, and she shot 86, missing the Day 2 cut by a single stroke.

» Proof that sportsmanship matters: From the Region 9 golf tournament that was played at Sky Mountain in Hurricane, Canyon View's Maddie Comstock tried a shot out of a rock formation toward the fairway, but the ball caromed back off a rock and hit her squarely on the forehead, leaving a welt with enough force that left impressions of the dimples from the ball.

When the teams returned home, Evans took some initiative, went to a convenience store and bought some candy to present in person to Comstock at her home as a means of seeing she was OK.

Rivalry always takes a back seat when simple human decency gets a chance to make a difference.

» Lord Stanley's Cup is in sight: The Vegas Golden Knights — that amazing first-year team — has put itself four wins away from holding the best-looking trophy in all of the four major professional sports. Vegas won 2-1 at Winnipeg to knock the Jets out in five games and improved to 12-3 in the playoff year.

Whoever they face in the final — the Tampa Bay Lightning or Washington Capitals — are well aware they're in for a fight. Vegas would open the quest for the Cup in Tampa if the Lightning finish off the Capitals, but they get home ice if the Capitals are able to crawl out of a 3-2 series deficit in the Eastern Conference Finals.

Game 6 was scheduled for Monday, which was too late for press deadline. If needed, Game 7 would be played tonight.

Casper to hold golf clinic on June 15

CEDAR CITY — SUU Community on the Go and the Larry H. Miller Utah Summer Games have partnered to bring golf back in 2018 with a tournament for all skill levels. Limited space is also available for those who want to increase their chances at a gold medal in a golf clinic to be held at Cedar Ridge Golf course against the scenic red rock mountains.

Resolve to work on your swing, chip or putt with golf professional Byron Casper. Casper, son of Professional Golfers Association legend Billy Casper, is instructing a clinic in Cedar City on June 15, and will serve as host to the Larry H. Miller Utah Summer Games golf tournament.

Byron Casper has been around golf all of his life and recognizes that his love of the game started early by going to summer golf camps and traveling to different events around the world with his father Billy, whose career includes 51 PGA victories including the 1959 and 1966 US Open and the 1970 Master's Championship.

Byron began his own career in the golf world as a teenager while serving as a caddy on the SPGA (now Champions Tour) and PGA Tours. He then attended the Golf Academy of America (San Diego) and Southwestern College, and moved on to work for Carbite Golf as the Senior PGA Tour Representative, then as the Player Liaison for the International Golf Tour and the International PGA.

In the 90s, Byron moved to Scotland and served as the Head Club Fitter and Teaching Professional for Heritage Golf of St. Andrews and then the St. Andrews

Golf Company, both manufacturers of golf equipment. Byron moved back to Utah in 2007 and was the first golf professional with GolfTEC Utah. During this time he became a Certified Coach and Master Club Fitter for all major golf brands.

Byron is also a TaylorMade staff member. He has published two books, including: "Billy Casper's Golf Tips" and is actively involved in the Billy Casper Youth Foundation, a children's golf charity also known as "Billy's Kids."

Having the opportunity to grow up around the best in the game, Byron was able to learn many secrets and techniques that have helped him become an accomplished instructor and player.

"I have been fortunate to have had many unique life experiences due to my father," Casper said. "My strategy in teaching is simple — helping my students to understand their own swings and making them the best golfer they can be with the minimum amount of changes to their game."

SUU Community on the Go Director Melynda Thorpe said partnering with Casper to bring golf back to the Larry H. Miller Utah Summer Games has been something she has always wanted to do as an avid golfer.

"If we were going to bring golf back to the annual summer games, we wanted to do something big," she said in a release. "We are grateful for the opportunity to bring such a high level professional golfer to Cedar City who will pass on his knowledge learned from golfers around the world."

SUU'S AIDEN REED RAN OFF with the Big Sky Conference Freshman of the Year title in track.

SUU's Reed named Big Sky Track Freshman of Year

Thunderbird Aidan Reed has been named Freshman of the Year by the Big Sky Conference following the 2018 Championships.

Reed, who was a redshirt freshman this outdoor season after sitting out the 2017 campaign, has continued to improve for the Thunderbirds through each season of competition.

He claimed the 10,000-meter Big Sky Championship last weekend, winning the race in a time of 30:04.06. His gold medal performance was the first of his career at a Big Sky Conference event.

Reed ran his 10K personal best earlier this season at the Mt. SAC Relays, finishing in a time of 29:31.01.

Reed also finished sixth at the Big Sky Championships in the 5,000-meter, claiming valuable points for the Thunderbirds in an extremely close competition.

the top of the fourth when pitcher Briley Young singled and hustled home from second base after a throwing error.

The Dons would add three more runs in the fifth, all coming on a two-run homer from Aislyn Sharp and a solo shot from Young. Allie Meisner joined the home run party for Cedar with a solo blast in the bottom half, but Spanish Fork put the win away with four runs in the sixth and two more in the seventh.

Sophomore Denim Henkel gave the Lady Reds their last doses of offense with a pair of home runs – a lead-off shot in the bottom of the sixth and a three-run homer in the seventh. Henkel set a new school record at Cedar with 17 home runs for the season.

"I wish we would have done better, but we made it to Saturday," Chris Weaver said.

Against Bear River, who ended Spanish Fork's three-year 4A championship run with a 5-4 victory later Saturday, Cedar got off to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first on home runs from Dream Weaver and Pua Johnson, but the Bears put up four runs in the bottom half of the inning and added four more in the second. The Lady Reds got two runs back in the top of the fifth, but couldn't get any closer.

Cedar pulled off the upset of the tournament when it beat the Lady Dons, 2-1 on May 17. The winning run scored in the bottom of the seventh inning when Henkel won a foot race to the second-base bag on a Johnson ground ball. Henkel scored the Lady Reds' other run with a home run in the bottom of the fifth that tied the game after Spanish Fork scored its run in the top of the frame.

great pace, handing the baton to Rachael Hunt, who then passed to Kaysie Klemic, who passed to York for the final 400. The Cedar team finished in 3:56.60, breaking the mark it ran last year in 3A.

A long two days of competition ended with Cedar's ladies bringing home the coveted gold trophy, and riding into town near midnight on a Cedar City Fire Department truck. It was an appropriate way for the blazing Lady Reds to come home, a team who burned up the Provo track.

Canyon View's girls finished with 16 points in the meet (16th place). Larissa Dabb took second in the 400 meters at 57.24, and Cristal Elias was third in the javelin at 114-5.25.

In 4A boys, Cedar placed sixth with 34 points and Canyon View seventh with 32 points. Jensen Lambert of Cedar was second in the 3200 meters and third in the 1600 meters. Trent Howard of Cedar won the 100 hurdles, and Trent Maurer was second in the discus. The Canyon View medley relay team of Justin Hillyard, Nelson Douglas, Britt Dunnell and Korban Cook placed third at 3:38.61. Mitchell Wright of Canyon View was fifth in the 100 meters and second in the 200 meters. The 1600 relay team of Dunnell, Wright, Douglas and Easton Brandt was third.

In 2A competition, Parowan's boys finished in seventh place with 35 points and the girls finished 13th with 11 points. Hunter Lorenz was fourth in the 3200 (10:33.92) and fourth in the 1600 (4:46.52), McKenna Murphy was fifth in the girls' 100 hurdles (17.85), Kaden Gale placed second in the 100 hurdles (17.12), and the 1600 relay team of Lina Biasi, Alaska Shapley, Murphy and Aubrey Pickett finished fourth (4:23.50).

Parowan's Porter Miller was third in boys shot put (41-4.75), and Daniel Horton was third in boys discus (129.75) and fifth in boys javelin (139-5.25).

Free fly fishing clinic this Saturday in Cedar City

CEDAR CITY — If you're 12 years of age or older, you can learn the basics of fly fishing—and then practice your newly learned skills—at a free clinic on May 25.

The clinic runs from 6 – 9 p.m. at the Cedar City Aquatic Center. The center is at 2090 W. Royal Hunte Dr. in Cedar City, just across from Cedar Middle School. The clinic is limited to the first 75 people who register. You can register at http://bit.ly/fly\_fishing\_clinic.

If you attend the free clinic, Heather Talley, regional wildlife recreation coordinator for the Division of Wildlife Resources, says you'll learn the basics of casting, including the different types of casts you can use while fly fishing, fish identification and feeding preferences, and when to utilize various types of flies. "Sportsman's Warehouse will also give you a ticket you can take to their Cedar City store, for a chance to win a prize," she says. Sportsman's Warehouse, Sportsmen for Fish and Wildlife and the DWR are offering the free event.

Talley says experienced fly anglers will teach the free clinic. "When you arrive that evening," she says, "just come in through the main entrance, and we'll direct you to the classroom for the first session of the clinic."

Talley says classroom instruction will last about an hour. "After the instruction," she says, "you can ask questions at a question-and-answer session. Then, you'll have a chance to head outside and—with the help of an instructor—practice the skills you've learned. If you have a fishing license, you can cap the clinic off by heading to the Lake at the Hills community fishery, next to the Aquatic Center, to try to catch a fish."

For more information about the clinic, visit http://bit.ly/fly\_fishing\_clinic or call Talley at 435-868-8756 or 435-865-6100.
