Brothel Bed
PHNOM PENH, CAMBODIA

Children as young as six years old were victimized on this wooden bed in a former child brothel. While our team was visiting the area, a mother offered her small daughter to perform oral sex in exchange for five dollars.

TERRORS OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING

EXPOSED AT SUU

THE APATHY EFFECT EXHIBIT, created by iEmpathize, was on display in Southern Utah University's Sharwan Smith Student Center Ballroom last week. The exhibit was created as part of iEmpathize's work to eliminate child exploitation and featured various videos and displays providing information on human trafficking. The exhibit was brought to SUU by the Human Rights Advocates Club and supplemental lectures on human trafficking and related issues were provided during the week as well.

Author speaks out against polygamy in Utah

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

Kristyn Decker, author Fifty Years in Polygamy: Big Secrets and Little White Lies and founder of Sound Choices Coalition, spoke at Southern Utah University last week about the harms of polygamy and why it should not be legalized.

Decker began by explaining her father was the prophet of the Apostolic United Brethren fundamentalist Mormon group. She said she was born and raised into that group, where polygamy is a foundational principle.

"You hear a lot of people talk about this is choice, this my choice, I want to do it, I want to be a plural wife," she said. "But the majority of fundamentalists are born into that and believe with all their heart that's what they have to do to get to Heaven and what they have to do in order to have a relationship with their family through the eternities and if they don't, ... 'If I don't conform and let my husband have other wives then I won't get to have my children.'"

Education and Outreach Specialist for the Refugee and Immigrant Center--Asian Association of Utah, Allison Smith, spoke at Southern Utah University last week to inform the community on the realities of human trafficking.

Smith began by explaining what human trafficking is, as stated in Utah Code 76-5-308. She said the definition comes from the actions of an individual; the means by which they accomplish trafficking and purpose of trafficking others. Potential actions could be recruiting or soliciting someone into trafficking; the means by which this is accomplished are force, fraud and coercion; and the purpose is to traffic an individual for sex or labor services.

She explained that means are a necessary factor for prosecuting cases of any human trafficking for an adult, but means are not required in cases of a juvenile trafficked for sexual services due to the individual's inability to give consent.

Smith also explained some of the myths surrounding human trafficking and the perceptions people hold of how often it occurs. She said that trafficking victims are often portrayed as physically restrained, and while that does happen, it is often symbolic because victims are often coerced under threats to themselves or to loved ones.

"What we also know is that in great measure, this is how a trafficking victim feels," she said. "This is symbolic of how they feel because of the coercion, because of the dynamic. The trafficker has their kids and they don't get to see their kids but maybe an hour a day, if at all."

She explained that a recent study discovered 73 percent of people surveyed

5-year old boy rescued in Brian Head

Gold Cross, UDOT, town of Brian Head coordinate to save sick child

by Klarrissa WILLIAMS
Iron County Today

On the night of Feb. 10, a 5-year old boy vacationing with his family in Brian Head became very ill. Gold Cross Ambulance was paged to respond during heavy snowfall and high winds. Because of the high winds, the snow plows were not running, and although the ambulance was four-wheel drive, State Route 143 was too hazardous for them to brave alone.

Brian Head Marshall, Deputy Danny Abbott, explained what happened. "One of our deputies responded and assessed the child and spoke with his parents. It was determined that he should go by ambulance." According to Abbott, that deputy arranged for a Utah Department of Transportation (UDOT) driver out of Parowan to escort the ambulance up the canyon. "It looks like he also contacted Brian Head Public Works to assist in clearing the road to the cabin and also the driveway to access the cabin" Abbott said.

One of the paramedics that responded, Ty March, also gave account of what happened that night. "At 11:30 at night, we got a call for a sick child up in Brian head. We had heavy snow and heavy wind. And we started out the door." March said that dispatch told them to wait for a plow at the cemetery just outside the mouth of the canyon. "Once he arrived, we headed up the canyon, it was about 12 miles. He was pushing heavy snow for us, there was no way we would have made it up that road," March recounted.

When they got to Brian Head, the ambulance crew realized they still had a ways to go to reach the sick child. "Once we got up to Brian Head, we noticed we had another approximate mile, and had noted that the road had been plowed." Once they got to the cabin, they met Deputy Danny Abbott and the driver of a front-end loader who was working for Brian Head Public Works. "He even went so far as plowing the driveway because the snow was up to the Marshall's knees and there were 6-foot banks on the side of it," March explained.

Once they got to the child, they headed back down the canyon. "We were able to get to the child, the Marshall followed us down and the UDOT plow had

Vicinity plans, plats approved

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

Two vicinity plans were approved and two final plat approvals were granted for developments during last week's city council meeting.

The vicinity plan for Aime Avenue PUD was recommended for approval by the Planning Commission with a condition that the traffic impacts on the neighborhood will be examined. A study was conducted Jan. 15 and 16 that calculated 398 trips per day along Harding Avenue, an access road to Amie Avenue. The roadway capacity for Harding Avenue is 800 trips per day, and the development project will add a total of 60 vehicle trips per day, so no traffic impacts are anticipated as a result of the development. The PUD is in the general location of 51 North Aime Avenue in a High-Density Residential Zone and will include six three-bedroom townhome units.

A vicinity plan for the Willow Creek Subdivision was also approved by council with a positive recommendation from Planning Commission. It is located near 2400 North Lund Highway and consists of 30 lots that range from approximately 20,000 square feet to 37,000 square feet.

The Fields PUD Phase 3, located near 550 West 1350 North, and Old Sorrell Ranch Phase 1, located near 3600 West and West View Drive, both received final plat approval as well.

Cedar enters fire agreement with Cedar Highlands

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

The Cedar City Council voted during last week's meeting to approve an interlocal fire protection agreement with the city of Cedar Highlands.

Cedar City Fire Chief Mike Phillips approached council members during the Feb. 6 meeting to explain the agreement, and said that Cedar Highlands approached the fire department for an agreement about a year ago.

City Attorney Tyler Romeril said the agreement is a one-year agreement that will go from year to year for as long as five years. Romeril explained the agreement will require Cedar Highlands to pay a portion of the fire department's actual budget that will be determined by the city's taxable market value.

Chief Phillips said that the Cedar City Fire Department protects approximately 5.2 billion dollar's worth of property and Cedar Highlands represents 30 million dollars of that total, so Cedar Highlands represents 5.77 percent of the department's budget. It is estimated this will result in around $9,500 contributed annually from Cedar Highlands to the fire department's budget.

In addition to reimbursing the fire department for expenses acquired by Cedar Highlands, the city will also pay a yearly preservation fund fee of $1,500.

The agreement is structured so that Cedar City is not obligated to fight fires in Cedar Highlands due to the difficulty in transporting equipment to the area, but basically says that if the fire department can get to a fire in that area and help it will.

The agreement was approved during last week's meeting.

Service dog seminar to be offered

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

Friends of Festival Country K9s is offering a service dog training seminar on Saturday, Feb. 23, at 9 a.m. at the Iron County Visitor's Center.

The seminar will feature Henry Pfeister from Pahrump, Nevada, who has over 50 years of training and competing experience and has extensive education in canine behavior and training techniques.

The purpose of the seminar is to educate community members on what is required to have a service dog, including what kind of temperament and training is necessary as well as what the rights of the dog are and the responsibilities of the owner.

"What I want more than anything else is for people to understand what exactly is entailed in both selecting an animal to be trained as a service animal and what type of training is actually required," Pfeister said.

He added that it's important for people to understand what the difference is between a true service animal and an emotional support animal.

"If people are claiming they have a service animal and it is not a service animal, it will in time change the public's perception of what a service animal is," Pfeister said. "And it will start to detract from the people who have true service animals because the animals will eventually wind up being banned from certain places."

Service dogs perform a variety of functions that help handicapped people more effectively deal with their handicap.

"That could be anything from a medical alert dog that alerts somebody when they're having a diabetic crisis or the onset of an epileptic seizure," Pfeister said. "It can entail providing mobility for somebody who is unsteady on their feet, they can retrieve objects on the floor for people that have a hard time bending over and picking things up. There's a variety of things that service dogs can do."

Evaluations of dogs will be available by appointment following the seminar for $20 per dog. Register at <https://www.festival-countryk9s.org/events.html>. The Visitors Center is located at 581 north Main Street in Cedar City.

Cedar City moving forward with approved bid projects

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

Several bids for city projects were approved during last week's City Council meeting.

A bid from Interstate Rock Products was approved for the Main Street Waterline Replacement Project. This project entails installing a new eight-inch diameter waterline on the east side of Main Street from Center Street to Monterey Drive. The approved bid amount is $787,234.88.

Project Engineer Jonathan Stathis explained, during the Feb. 6 council meeting, that the Utah Department of Transportation will be resurfacing Main Street this year and the city has been experiencing problems with the existing waterline so the project is considered a priority.

The project is over budget, which Stathis said is due to the fact that it will require replacing the waterline where Main Street intersects with both Center Street and Monterey Drive. Finance Director Jason Norris said the difference in funds for the project will be covered by the city's enterprise fund and will be included in a budget revision next month.

Another bid for a sewer project in the area of Cedar Meadows was awarded to Schmidt Construction. The sewer project includes installing new 21-inch and 24-inch sewer lines from 1600 North to 4500 West. The bid was under budget, at $2,048,817.

Munford Building was awarded the Main Street Diversion Primary Sand Separator Project for its bid of $136,793.20, which was significantly under budget. City Engineer Kit Wareham explained that the purpose of the project is due to the fact that the current facilities at the Main Street Diversion are not working effectively to separate particles from irrigation water and is causing problems with irrigation systems.

The city also approved a bid from Lewis Young Robertson and Burningham for $48,075 to update the city's impact fees. During the Feb. 6 meeting City Manager Paul Bittman said the last update of impact fees was in 2011 and there is now a need to include large fire trucks and effluent re-use.

These bids were all approved during last week's city council meeting.

Adding a touch of class to your class reunion

The opinions stated in this article are solely those of the author and not of Iron County Today.

My wife encouraged me to attend my recent high school reunion. I refused because a high school reunion is similar to receiving a fruitcake for Christmas. In both cases, we put on a forced smile but cannot figure out the purpose of the event or the gift. The only difference is we can easily sneak the fruitcake into the trash whereas the reunion lingers at least five hours, sometimes over several days. Here are some tips for those questioning whether to attend a reunion:

First, there is nothing lonelier than a non-alum spouse at a reunion. You are simply there as decoration. You have no more use than a clothing manufacturer in a nudist colony. Thankfully, most reunions have a cash bar where lubricants (be it Diet Coke or Dewar's Scotch) offer an alternative to standing around looking perplexed or embarrassed.

Never approach a classmate and say, "You look the same!" They know you are lying, plus, no one wants to be reminded they wore disco boots to chemistry class or had a Farrah Fawcett hairdo. Just look in the yearbook at your own photo; would you really want to look as geeky and insecure now as you did then? In a similar vein, don't approach a classmate and say, "Gee, you sure have changed!" A guy who used to have a full head of hair and a lean physique and now looks like a stand-in for Shamu doesn't need to be reminded of his former self. If you are unfortunate enough to emcee the event, play it safe by taking verbal jabs at the humorless history teacher or the sour vice principal (neither of whom will be there). Refrain from referring to the childish bullying or taunting of the former football star or science brainiac. Watch the alcohol intake. People might not remember your glorious moments driving the 1975 Gremlin, but they won't soon forget your drunken Bee Gees impersonation on the dance floor at your 40th reunion. Be cordial to all attendees, even those poor souls you abused and demeaned as a student or those who treated you like you had a bad case of leprosy. Rise above and give the benefit of the doubt. We were all hormone-driven children decades ago. Hopefully, the years have given some perspective and maturity. Don't brag about your accomplishments, and avoid getting into the "one-up" game regarding your children. You might feel proud that your daughter is enrolled in Harvard Law, but another person might be equally proud that his daughter is attending Stevens-Henagar Business College. There is no advantage to boasting. The only thing you might learn at a reunion is that the dumpy-looking boy or girl that the "cool kids" made fun of is now the CEO of a well-known and successful company. In my case, the boy who was picked on made a fortune developing psychedelic light shows for San Francisco music events, and the most-taunted girl ended up owning a prosperous welding operation. At my one and only reunion, a man put his arm around me and said, "I know you. Aren't you the guy who writes that silly newspaper column?" And that's another thing you will learn... You can't forget your hideous past or ignore your current status from a person who is into his fifth Coors Light.

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE: Week 3

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

Last week our community lost a great man, Brad Stapley. Brad was caught in an avalanche while snowmobiling in Beaver County. I considered Brad a friend and have always had tremendous respect for him and his father, as fellow pharmacists and business owners. His father, Evan, and I not only share the same name but we share the same hometown of Beaver, as well as sharing the same profession and the fact that some of our children have followed us into our profession. My son, Robbie, who is a pharmacist, and Brad have recently been collaborating on a number of pharmacy-related issues. Our families are strongly connected in so many ways. His sudden passing is a true tragedy and our family's hearts and thoughts are with his wife, Jana, their six daughters and all of his family.

It's now the closing of week 3 for the Utah Legislative session, and I wanted to provide you with an update of some of the work and highlights of the week:

Medicaid Expansion

At the beginning of the week we passed SB 96, Medicaid Expansion Amendments, which creates a sustainable path to Medicaid expansion. Under this bill, everyone in our state will have the option of health care coverage, whether through the private market, Affordable Care Act or Medicaid. This bill differs from the proposition, by expanding Medicaid only to those up to 100% of the federal poverty level, which is commonly referred to as the "coverage gap." Those who fall between 100-138% of the federal poverty level already qualify for significantly-subsidized health insurance through the Affordable Care Act. The version we passed in the Senate on Monday, and was signed by the Governor, includes a fall back plan, should we not receive the federal waivers that allow the state to pay 10% of costs, while the federal government covers 90%. If we are not granted the waivers, then Proposition 3 in its original form will go into effect. By altering Proposition 3, we stand a chance to actually save money on health coverage, rather than experience funding shortages. The graphic below shows the difference in the economic impact under Prop 3 and SB 96:

SEN. EVAN VICKERS
Utah State Senate
District 28

The committee will listen to all presentations and then prioritize the requests. The Higher Education Appropriations Subcommittee hears priorities from the Utah System of Higher Education, as well as from individual universities and departments within the university. By listening to all of the presentations we are able to best understand where the greatest needs are in our state.

Office Holder Amendments

This week I had the opportunity to present on my bill, SB 50, Local Government Office Amendments, on the Senate floor. As you may recall in the survey I sent out, I asked if you believe an individual should be allowed to hold multiple elected offices simultaneously, for example, serving as both a city council member and county commissioner at the same time. An overwhelming majority of respondents indicated they did not believe an individual should be able to hold multiple elected offices simultaneously. This bill prevents elected officials from holding multiple offices simultaneously in the future. This passed unanimously in the Senate and will now be considered in the House.

Sales Tax Changes

Since 2001, Utah has been working with other states to implement and collect sales tax from online purchases. Until recently, it was difficult at best to collect sales tax from online purchases. Individuals would go to brick-and-mortar shops to see a product in person and then buy the same product online from a company advertising no sales tax, which gave an unfair advantage to online businesses over brick-and-mortar stores, and prevented all transactions from being treated the same. With the Supreme Court decision on Wayfair v. South Dakota, states are now able to move forward with collecting sales tax on all transactions, no matter how they are made. This change has resulted in additional revenue to the state, which was not the intention of the change in sales tax policy. The change was only to level the playing field and treat all parties equally. SB 99, Sales Tax Amendments, seeks to lower the rate of sales tax on items other than food and fuel to honor the commitment we made to keep this revenue neutral instead of collecting more money from our taxpayers. This bill passed out of the Senate and will now be considered in the House.

Once again, thank you for taking the time to share your thoughts with me, your responses offer me important insight. I appreciate the opportunity I have to serve as your state senator. Please feel free to share your thoughts and concerns with me, particularly during the legislative session. I can be reached at evickers@le.utah.gov or 435-817-5565.

Thank you,
Evan Vickers

patients we serve. The town Marshall Danny Abbott went above the call of duty in providing care to a sick child in addition to getting ahold of the UDOT snow plow and public works to ensure our safe arrival. We were simply doing our jobs as paramedics but they helped reduce a lot of stress and ensured that the patient was able to make it off the mountain to receive needed medical attention."

Deputy Abbott also expressed his gratitude. "We're grateful for the connections we have and the people we work with, both in UDOT and the public works department. They are a great group of guys. The ambulance wouldn't have been able to get up here without them." Abbott stated.

Based upon those presentations the winners were chosen and are listed in the table below (Note: an additional $2,000 in prize money was personally donated by Steve Lindsley for the Opportunity Quest competition).

As can be seen, the winners' ideas covered a wide range of business possibilities. All represent very practical and innovative business ideas, with very bright prospects for the future. Many of the winning ideas were submitted by SUU students.

The mutual purpose of each of the sponsors of this competition is to support the development of small businesses in the Tri-County area (Iron, Beaver and Garfield Counties), and to promote healthy economic development with more jobs and an increased tax revenue base. With the integration of community resources and the talent of our own successful entrepreneurs, we can help more and more small companies get started and successfully grow.

The mission of the SUU Small Business Development Center (SBDC) is improving people's lives through small business success. The SBDC is located within the SUU Business Resource Center (BRC), which opened its doors in April of 2009 as a "one-stop-shop" business resource center and incubator to provide necessary support and counseling services for smaller businesses. The SUU Business Resource Center and partners are located at 510 West 800 South in Cedar City. The SBDC and BRC provide counseling and support services, as well as help with financing alternatives (including micro loan programs), business partnering facilitation, marketing, government contracting assistance and more.

Craig Isom, Executive Director of the SUU Business Resource Center and Small Business Development Center said, "It is very rewarding to see the response to the competition challenge. There's lots of talent in our community and many untapped ideas and opportunities. We're happy to see so many great ideas and to have the level of interest we have in this kind of event. What's most rewarding is seeing so many different resources come together (university, public and private) for a very important and common cause. We extend our thanks to all who participated. Now we just have to keep the ball rolling and support the launch of some new, successful businesses, and build upon this start to increased community partnership."

Lennert named City Employee of the Month

by Kelsey KEENER
Iron County Today

Jeff Lennert was awarded February's Employee of the Month award during last week's City Council meeting.

Lennert is the Senior Operator at the Wastewater Treatment Plant and was nominated by WWTP Superintendent Eric Bonzo. Public Works Director Ryan Marshall presented Lennert with his award during the meeting and read Bonzo's nomination statement.

Lennert has worked at the WWTP for 13 years and was moved into the Senior Operator position in 2016. He is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the treatment facility as well as the maintenance and making sure processes run smoothly. Bonzo stated Lennert has the ability to identify and solve problems quickly and maintains a positive working relationship with operators and staff.

"(Lennert) has been very instrumental with the safety programs and protocols of the facility and has updated and created many Standard Operating Procedures for safety and compliance," Bonzo wrote. "(Lennert) accepts any task or request given to him by the superintendent and follows through to make sure they are completed. (Lennert) also responds to any after-hour/weekend emergencies if needed to assist the other operators or to ensure the facility is kept running smoothly."

Lennert recently passed the Utah Wastewater Operator Certification Grade III exam and has moved into a Direct Responsibility Charge.

TRAFFICKING

reported believing that human trafficking happens in the United States, but only 20 percent believe it happens in their local community.

"It's important for all of us to realize it's happening and it's happening here," Smith said. "It's happening where we live."

In 2017, there were 8,759 confirmed cases of human trafficking reported to the National Human Trafficking Hotline. In Utah, there has been 573 confirmed cases of human trafficking reported to the NHTH and more than 500 human trafficking victims identified since 2012. Smith reported that her agency currently has 92 open cases.

She also discussed a trend that has been identified in rural areas of Utah and identified Cedar City as a relative hot spot for human trafficking.

"There are some smaller rural communities where drug addiction is becoming a massive issue," she said. "So, we're seeing parents trafficking kids, we're seeing sisters traffic sisters, in order to finance their drug habit. That's happening in rural Utah."

She added that traffickers can be male or female.

"Our most violent trafficker thus far in Utah has been a female out of Ogden," she said.

In 2017, there are increases in investigations, cases prosecuted and victims, when compared to 2016. Smith explained that this is largely due to gangs beginning to traffic people.

She also discussed signs that may indicate someone is being trafficked, such as an untreated illness or injuries, the inability to speak separately or alone and exchanging sex to meet basic needs, as well as what types of people are targeted.

She said that victims often don't view themselves as a victim.

"(It's) really important that we don't assume that a victim is going to identify as a victim," Smith said. "They're not going to come running up to you and say 'I'm a victim of trafficking, help me, save me.' That's not the way they operate because they don't view themselves as a victim."

Smith explained the reason for this is that human trafficking victims often develop a trauma bond with their abuser. A trauma bond is typically characterized by positive feelings of the victim felt toward their abuser, while having negative feelings toward people who want to provide assistance. It is a relationship where the victim helps the abuser by adopting a lack of willingness or ability to engage in behaviors that could result in freedom or release from trafficking.

She said a trauma bond happens as a survival mechanism: it is the brain's way to ensure survival by increasing the sense of safety and decreasing the sense of pain of an individual when there is a real or perceived threat to that individual's life. It forms when the victim perceives acts of kindness from the abuser, is isolated from outside perspectives and perceives an inability to escape the situation.

"That allows them to deal and cope with the trauma," Smith said. "And the trauma we're talking about -- regular beatings; not getting fed; being told that the reason all of this is happening is because it's their fault and if they wouldn't behave the way that they did, they wouldn't get the beating. There are all of these dynamics at play."

Smith encouraged audience members to continue to educate themselves on the subject and issues of human trafficking, as well as commit the NHTH phone number to memory: 888-373-7888.

POLYGAMY

to write her book and be done sharing her story, but as more and more stories came forth from others experiencing the same abuses and trauma she did, she decided to keep talking about it and trying to educate people on the harms of polygamy.

Decker discussed Canada's attempt to legalize polygamy. She explained that Chief Justice Robert Bauman, after years of research, came to the conclusion that polygamy is harmful and read the statement he issued after his findings.

"What he says is, 'the harms associate with the practice (of polygamy) are endemic, they are inherent,'" Decker read. "'Social, physical emotional harms are inevitable wherever polygamy exists. Polygamy is harmful to men, women and to society as a whole.' And at the very, very end, he said, 'We are going to keep it illegal, and that does infringe on religious freedom. ... We have discovered that even though this might be taking away some religious rights, it is by far more harmful to these people.'"

Decker shared some of Bauman's findings and explained with her own experiences why she supports them. One of the findings was regarding "consenting adults."

Decker said she originally thought polygamy was her choice and shared her experience when her husband married his second wife. She said she thought that she would become physically ill, but forced herself to smile through the ceremony while telling herself she was doing God's will. After the ceremony, performed by her father, was complete, she thought she had passed some form of "test."

"I thought that was my choice," she said. "... And yet, it would have been like my dad, who was the preacher and the prophet, standing with a gun to my head saying, 'you will live plural marriage, you will let you husband have other wives, or you will go to hell.'"

COREY BAUMGARTNER

KRISTYN DECKER SPEAKS TO STUDENTS at SUU about her personal experiences with polygamy and the dangers of decriminalizing it.

She said in reality, it was not about consenting adults. It was religious coercion and many people do it because they are born into it. Decker added that one of Bauman's findings was that having many wives and children creates division among the family members.

"The more wives, the less attention you're going to get, the more money is divided up between people," she said. "When I was a kid, I was lost in the crowd, literally. People didn't even know who I was and I wishing somebody would come take care of me."

Decker also explained that polygamy does not foster equal rights because women do not have the same rights as men.

"I said, while I was crying and he was leaving to go to the other wife, I said 'how would you like it if was the other way around?'" Decker explained, as she shared an exchange she had with her husband. "He goes 'I'd kill him.' And of course, many men would ... (Women) were submissive to that, to the belief system. We were taught that from the time we were born."

She also explained that polygamy cannot be compared to gay or lesbian marriages, because polygamist relationships are forced through religious coercion. Decker said individuals cannot freely leave polygamist relationships, because resources and children are frequently used as manipulative tools.

Decker said polygamy should not be legalized because it would provide legal backing for the abusive nature of polygamist relationship. There are also many challenges presented, such as childcare, healthcare and property rights, when there are so many individuals involved in one relationship.

"There's so many things involved in legalizing, and decriminalizing polygamy," she said. "We heard hearsay that this might come up again and it's really terrifying ... to decriminalize means it's a free for all."

She also discussed the inevitability of incest in polygamist communities and the inability to financially support such large families. She also cited Bauman's findings that the rate of depression in women in polygamy was higher in addition to the mortality rate of those women and that fundamentalism draws criminally inclined men.

"My abusers were men I was told to respect and do whatever he said because they were my elders," Decker said.

Decker further explained that some of the reasons why victims who have left polygamy are speaking out against it is relatively rare. It is taught from a very early age that the principle of plural marriage is to be protected at any cost, often under punishment of blood atonement, and many women fear for the safety of their children who may not have been able to leave with them.

"They don't want me to tell you, or anybody else, the truth about the (harm) and what's going on there and how sad the women really are," she said.

ONCE UPON A TIME WARP

Show wins hearts in Iron County kingdom

by Corey BAUMGARTNER
Iron County Today

During their Valentine's Day dinner theater, the Cedar City Children's Musical Theatre added a new spin on some familiar fairy tales. The performance featured the adults of the CCCMT, who put on a show featuring comedic and classic clashes between famous Disney princesses and villains. This was the first year of the time-warped performance and proceeds from the dinner will help to locate a new home for the theatre.

Whether you come from a castle, a forest, or under the sea, Once Upon A Time Warp reminds each of us that every princess should have a prince and that all villains aren't so bad. And no matter your story, there are still many moments to enjoy laughter, life and love, even if your happily ever after doesn't mean perfectly after.

'Mamma Mia!' comes to Cedar High

by Zac TROTTER
For Iron County Today

The Broadway hit, "Mamma Mia!" the musical, is playing at Cedar High School February 21-25, at 7:00pm in the CHS auditorium theatre.

The worldwide Broadway musical sensation and influence for two Hollywood movies is well known and beloved by residents in Southern Utah. Based on the music of ABBA it makes for an exciting night of familiar songs, hilarious antics, and dances that you would be hard-pressed to sit still through. Set on a Greek island paradise in the 1990s, "Mamma Mia!" follows the story of Donna Sheridan (played by Samantha Nakken), an independent resort owner and single mother to Sophie (Eliza Allen), who is planning to wed her fiancé Sky (Mekhi Sobel). Antics ensue when Sophie finds her mother's diary and finds there are three potential candidates to whom her father is. She invites all three to the wedding... and all three show up! (The potential fathers are played by Tito Garcia, Ethan Anderson, and Alex Beraja)

Cedar High's theatre department, Studio Red, is taking their talents to new heights in this production. Since this musical is bigger than life, they have chosen to make everything about this production bigger. The

2-story set, special effects, cast size, and live band all contribute to making this the most ambitious and sizable production to date for the group. "We were the first high school in Utah to be given rights to do this show," said Zac Trotter, the director and theatre teacher at CHS. "However, keeping with February as the traditional month for our musicals, a couple of high schools did beat us to the curtain." The Dance Captain for the show, Rose Urbanek said, "We've been putting a lot of work into making this the exciting show everyone is imagining. It's going to be a lot of fun!" Musical Director and band leader, Randy Allen added, "The school has done a lot of great shows over the years and we intend to have this one following that tradition."

"Mamma Mia!" plays February 21-25 at 7:00pm and is appropriate for audiences of all ages. Tickets are sold the night of the performance at the auditorium door at Cedar High School. Prices are $8.00 for General Admission, $25.00 for a Family Pass, and $10.00 for a VIP ticket that grants early access to the theatre and premiere seating. There are also discounts available for students attending school in the Iron School District.

Magical Fairytales through music

by Tanisa CROSBY
For Iron County Today

The Orchestra of Southern Utah has been hard at work preparing for a concert that no one will want to end. "Memorable Music Tales" is the theme for February's concert and it is one the orchestra has been enjoying immensely. From big time film scores to music that tells a story from one note to the next, members of the OSU have been thrilled to experience magic and even more thrilled to share that magic with an audience on February 21st.

On the agenda for this concert will be a medley from Lord of the Rings. The orchestra will embark with the fellowship and play with Hobbits as they bring the J.R.R. Tolkien story to life on the stage. They will also perform popular tunes that many know from classic cartoons such as, the waltz from Sleeping Beauty and selections from Swan Lake, both by Tchaikovsky. Originally depicted through ballet, the orchestra is delighted to tell these beloved stories on the stage with music. Another story that will be told through music will be the classic Hans Christian Anderson tale of Hansel and Gretel, in the overture to the opera by Engelbert Humperdinck. With whimsical melodies, this piece will have the audience transported to a world full of magic and wonder.

This concert will also feature International

BALLERINA
will perform on Feb. 21.

Ballerina, Dance Artist, Choreographer, and Teacher, Michelle Ramos. Ramos is a performance and choreography specialist with a focus on ballet, contemporary ballet, and the development of the MindBody as an instrument of art. "My work as a dancer and choreographer is based on experience, observation and imagination. I strive to find the extraordinary in the ordinary," Ramos wrote in her artist statement on her website. "I play with the possibilities and share the result with the audience, hoping it will leave a meaningful imprint on their lives, that it may be of use to all of us."

The orchestra, along-side the children's choir, will also perform the Peter Pan Suite from the motion picture Peter Pan. This piece features the story of Peter Pan and will also be narrated, telling the story of our much-loved characters Peter Pan, the Darling children, Tinkerbell, and Captain Hook.

With James Newton Howard's beautiful orchestration, the audience will be transported to neverland with live narration and accompaniment by the children's choir. An enchanting and magical number you don't want to miss.

The "Memorable Music Tales" concert will take place on Thursday, February 21st, at 7:30 pm and will take place at the Heritage Center Theatre (105 N 100 E, Cedar City, UT, located behind Lin's).

Tickets are $12 for adults and $6 for students. Children 6 and older are welcome to attend. For more information contact OSU Manager Rebekah Hughes at (435) 592-6051 or osucedarcity@gmail.com.

Orchestrating a memorable and musical future

by Mary Anne ANDERSEN
Cedar City Arts Council

First of all, don't forget to apply for a Cedar City Arts Council Artists' Mini-Grant. You know about this; go to the website and get the details.

I worry when I attend concerts and recitals and see that many of the attendees are white-haired. Mind you, I have nothing against white-haired persons of any kind; I'm married to one, in fact. But I fear that as these folks leave this veil of tears, our concerts will eventually lack an audience! That is why I was so happy to recently attend the Orchestra of Southern Utah's Children's Jubilee, which had in attendance 620 people of all ages, 1 to 85. The Orchestra is especially good at nurturing its future audience.

Second of all: the CCAC could have a mini-grant with your name on it. Go to the website and apply.

The Orchestra will repeat the success of that day on Thursday, February 21—tomorrow. "Memorable Music Tales" will tell stories in the language of music. Most are tales that we know and love already and the music will be so welcomingly familiar. "Lord of the Rings", "Peter Pan", "Hansel and Gretel", and music by the supernal ballet composer of all time, Tchaikovsky, will repay any effort to attend. If all that beauty isn't enough, the recent new-comer to Cedar City, ballerina Michelle Ramos will dance and bring to life Tchaikovsky's music as he intended.

Ms. Ramos is here, teaching in Cedar City, after training in New York, Boston, and Mexico City. She has performed around the world, and is going to add Cedar City, Utah, to her resume. She and students from SUU will be on stage. It will be exquisite.

Trust OSU to know how to guild the proverbial lily. If you don't already have season tickets, you can enjoy all that magic for just $12.00.

Third of all: the deadline to apply for a CCAC mini-grant is February 28. That means just one week to pull yourself together and apply.

And then, just as you're catching your breath, you can go back to the theater, to the Festival Hall on the second floor, on Monday, the 25th, at 7:00, to the first Cedar City Arts Council social of 2019. These socials feature our own home-grown artists, who will likewise reward your efforts to get downtown. Natalie Young and Nano Taggart are co-founders of the poetry magazine "Sugar House Review", and they will be reading some of their poetry that night.

And then you can dance to the music of the 8eez Band, a group that enjoyed themselves so much after their first performance in 2017 that they haven't quit practicing and performing since. Camille Dailey will show her plans for the round window on Main Street that badly needs her attention, and there will be art displays by Mona Woolsey, Malcolm Howard, and Marta Mitchell. Refreshments will be furnished by Nature Hills Farm. And this evening is free.

Cedar City unveils first Historic District sign

by Corey BAUMGARTNER
Iron County Today

Mayor Maile Wilson, along with members of the Cedar City Historic Preservation Commission and members of the community, gathered at the corner of Shakespeare Lane and 200 West to unveil the first of many signs designating Cedar City's Historic District.

City Councilman and Commission member, R. Scott Phillips, remarked, "History is important because it's where we all come from and today is about celebrating our history and what it means to each of us."

Ryan Paul, co-chair of the Commission, read a special letter from Chairperson Aleese Cardon, who was unable to make it to the unveiling. "The Cedar City Historic district is an important resource to our community. It represents the settlement and the development of our beautiful town," expressed Cardon. "These homes play an important part in our community's character and are integral in telling Cedar City's unique story."

Paul then added, "Our stories make us who we are. These things make us relevant. These homes and the architecture in our community are actually essential to who we are, not only as human beings, but as residents in Iron County."

Following Phillips and Paul, Cedar City Mayor Maile Wilson unveiled the beautiful sign. She thanked everyone involved and reminisced that she had explored these neighborhoods in her childhood. "This is such a special opportunity for our community," she shared. "This is a way to make sure that we keep ahold of our past as we continue to grow the foundation of our community."

"These homes...are integral in telling Cedar City's unique story"

Enoch Elementary

Family week was February 11-15. Thank you to Mrs. Kirsten Anderson for a fun family art night! The halls were filled with love notes from parents and a beautiful Enoch Elementary Family Tree. Thank you, Samantha Palmer and the PTA for putting it together! Students also got to share lunch and morning donuts with their family members, and dress up to show their family heritage. What a fantastic week of celebrating families!

Marvin and Jessie taught the importance of service by thwarting off Apathy Woman. Students were taught to synergize and persevere through problems. Thank you to Mrs. Megan Gatlin for all you do for our school.

Our school has an overwhelming number of unclaimed coats, scarves, gloves, and lunch bags. If your child is missing any items, please have them check the lost and found. Remember to label your child's items so that they can be returned if lost.

Three Peaks Elementary

Three Peaks Elementary held their annual PTA Reflection's assembly on February 12, 2019. Students submitted entries in many different categories including: 2D and 3D art, literature, music, dance, and film production. Congratulations to each of the students who participated in this year's contest. A special thanks goes to Mrs. Mande Adams for coordinating this year's contest and for organizing the awards assembly.

We would also like to thank Mark Bradshaw, from Bradshaw Chevrolet, for providing a therapy bicycle, "Pumper Car," for our students in need of extra physical therapy. We appreciate the constant support that the community gives us to help educate our students.

A 'Confucius' classroom

This story is Part 1 of a two-part series. The editor apologizes that due to a logistical miscue, Part 2 was printed earlier in the February 13th edition.

Gone are the days of the Spelling Bee. Welcome to the world of the Confucius' Institute: that's everything from ink-blown straw art and chopsticks, to learning standard Chinese (Mandarin) in the global reach of the Communist Party of China (CPC).

In afterschool clubs at North and South Elementary Schools, and at the Gateway Preparatory Academy, Confucius-operated classes are geared to children, ages 7 to 12 and up. The curriculum asks students to listen, learn basic dialogue, writing script, to follow a text on Chinese culture and practice phrases in a group setting.

It's an outreach concept for everything Chinese. According to lead instructor Clara Dong Ye, students learn the Pinyin System of pronunciation, repeat basic greetings, follow the ancient strokes of Chinese writing, learn to use chopsticks and how to ask and answer questions in the Chinese manner. "We are now opening the doors to China," said Dong Ye of students, "to visit, experience and embrace the culture."

It was May 2015, that Southern Utah University (SUU) President Scott Wyatt, with Associate Provost Stephen Allen, International Affairs, signed the agreement with the (Hanban) Normal University, Language Council International, and Confucius Institute Headquarters in Beijing.

The formal-agreement launched language training and an academic-partnership for cultural activities in the Cedar City community.

Under the directorship of Dr. Jacob NK Ng,

(Hanban), Global Affairs; Confucius Institute, the aim was to create cultural ties in language, through course programs and outreach. Today, there is a high-school summer camp, exchange programs, sponsored visits to Beijing, a Chinese New Year's Celebration held on campus and Confucius 'clubs' for kids.

In short, the Chinese-governed Confucius Institute has evolved into a campus-based program with six selected short-term Chinese 'scholars' who share Language skills with a Chinese State-approved syllabus at six primary, and secondary schools in Cedar City.

"It was the Confucius Institute at SUU who contacted me first about the idea of starting a Chinese Club," said Ray Whittier of the afterschool program that began in October of 2017. "This was considered an opportunity for young students to explore another culture and language."

At North Elementary school, 3rd through 5th graders gather each Wednesday with an assigned (Hanan) Institute teacher who focuses on listening, writing and speaking skills. They follow the approved (Council) syllabus: Experiencing Chinese (Book 1) published by the Higher Education China Press (Hanban), Chinese Language Council Int'l., a.k.a., Confucius Institute headquarters.

It's the Hanban that dispatches trained Confucius (scholars), with textbooks on language and cultural curriculum that now reaches into 100 American Universities with an estimated 500 Institutes established in over 135 global locations including: Africa, Latin America, Russia and Europe.

Magic and math at Gateway

from Rebekah HUGHES
For Iron County Today

It's been a very busy week for Gateway students, in both the classroom and other county events. The week started with the wonderful opportunity the choir students had to perform the Peter Pan Suite with the Orchestra of Southern Utah. Students rehearsed long and hard to create the magic of neverland with the narrated performance of the Peter Pan suite. If you missed out on this enchanting performance you can still catch it as they will be performing again this Thursday, February 21st, at 7:30pm in the Heritage theater. Math students have also been practicing hard to prepare for their Math Counts! competition that was held at SUU on Thursday, the 14th of February. The Gateway team placed 3rd. What a wonderful achievement and result of hard work. The students also had a fun celebration at the bowling alley afterwards. As for the rest of the school, the students have been busy studying revolutionary flags, rocks and minerals in science enrichment, and of course Valentine's Day. Don't forget kindergarten registration is coming up. Go to the school website for more information www.gpacharter.org.

I still believe in love

The Rut LESS TRAVELED

by Corey BAUMGARTNER

Valentine's Day has come and gone. Cupid has retreated to his lover's lair to refill his quiver, rest his weary wings and practice his aim for next year's heartfelt hunt. To those whose hearts were not found in Cupid's crosshairs, or were pierced by painful arrows of rejection, loneliness, or loss, may my words be an arrow of peace straight into your heart.

We all need love. There are many kinds of love in this world, both true and counterfeit. Sometimes it seems true love is impossible to find because of all the corrupt competition preying upon the purity of good hearts. Some misled lovers have learned to mistrust anything that resembles comfort or companionship for fear their hearts will be hurt again. Others, jaded by jerks, believe true love is just a myth to mock their loneliness. They still want to believe, but their tears fall in vain upon the deserts of their enduring, yet wavering hopes.

As the hourglass in each of our lives slowly shrinks, one grain of sand at a time, we may have forgotten how love can bring us light and life when the rest of the world seems dark and dead. Those who have experienced such meaningful moments know true love and the prevailing peace and power its privilege provides. Those who have been passed by, or have lost such a precious treasure, have experienced true pain. It is a pain so great that it seems there can be no healing for a heart so broken, no comfort for a heart so alone, and no forgiveness for a heart so betrayed, or left behind.

To those who have loved and lost; to those who "for better or for worse" has become just another empty promise; and when that love you waited for forever has been blinded by busyness; there are few words that will bring comfort. Nevertheless, I know that love still believes in you.

Your heart may have been broken and beaten, but it's still beating and no matter how many grains of sand fall before you find that hand to hold, those lips to kiss, or to hear the long-awaited whispers of, "I love you," don't stop believing, living or loving yourself and your life. There are still good and great hearts out there waiting to love you and for you to love; hearts you can trust and be safe with. I hope that you will find that person, and they will find you. Let your heart so shine because it's your time to believe and love again.

When you find that love, honor and cherish it. It is a gift and a responsibility. It will become a union of strength and stability. Upon its foundation will be built homes of love and unity; warm hearths and hearts where courage is cultivated, poisons purged and broken hearts healed. When wielded wisely in your heart and home, love will guide and guard all who are within the never-ending reach of its endearing and enduring embrace.

of phrases, basic greetings with time for ink-blown straw art. According to Executive Director Ng, the Institute was developed by (Hanban), International Language Council to offer expanded opportunities for students pursuing Chinese or Asian studies using a proscribed syllabus.

In 2004, Confucius Institutes were launched world-wide under the Chinese government, Chinese Language Council, Int'l., (Hanban) which falls under 12 heads of Government Ministry: State Publicity Press, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Ministry of Education in China's centralized government (a.k.a. Communist Party of China).

According to Dong Ye, there is interest in outreach programs for students, as cited in People's Daily Overseas (1-19 ed.) "The local optimism and a 'craze' for learning Chinese, is considered a 'Bridge' to engage foreign students." That said, Confucius classes are required to adhere to Chinese Law, and their Council's Constitution while American Universities are mandated to sign curriculum agreements.

"We are very excited to host the Chinese New Year's Celebration," said Dong Ye, of the SUU event set for February in the SUU Ballroom. We are opening the doors to China, to visit, experience and embrace the culture – and to broaden the vision for children."

Obituaries

Gerald Alan Pipkin

Gerald Alan Pipkin, our family herbalist, passed away on February 12, 2019, after a long battle with Congestive Heart Failure.

Gerald was born September 17th, 1947, to Gelene Cox and Donald Ray Pipkin, in Price, Utah. He was the fourth of six children born to them. He passed away early February 12, 2019, in Cedar City, UT.

Gerald married Kathaleen Cooper, April 28, 1966. They had seven children: Carrie, Warren, Jerry, Rachel, Donald, David and Edward (deceased). They have four grandchildren: Jeremy, Gelene, Martha and Joy. They also have three great-grandchildren: Daxton, Ember, and Mason.

Gerald began working at the age of 14 at a café in Salt Lake City, UT. Afterwards he worked in many different jobs including logging and a railroad job that took him into Canada working for the Canadian Pacific Railroad. He also worked in restaurants and janitorial jobs. After his mother passed away in 1974, Gerald and his family moved back to the U.S. to the Salt Lake valley. Here he worked as a mechanic and worked in a tool manufacturing plant. He received an associate degree at Salt Lake Community College and later got his BS in business education at Southern Utah University.

Gerald taught high school business classes for several years and worked again in manufacturing in the summers. He retired after a heart attack.

Gerald earned a certificate as a Family Herbalist in 2018.

Although he was retired Gerald never stopped learning and never stopped looking to find ways to support his family. He was also always writing stories, plays, and poetry.

After his recent hospitalization he moved to Stonehenge of Cedar City with the hope that after some rehab he would be able to return home. He liked to sit out in the hall while at Stonehenge in order to interact with the other residents and encourage them.

Gerald was preceded in death by his mother Gelene Cox, his father Donald Ray Pipkin, son Edward and his oldest brother, Lynn Pipkin. He will be greatly missed by his family and many, many friends. A viewing and gathering will take place February 15, 2019, 6 - 8 PM at Hughes Mortuary in St. George, UT.

Beautiful balance

[MATTHEW 3:3]

As I travel upon my chosen roads through life, there are days when I feel out of balance and misaligned. I get worn out, deflated and even feel like I'm asleep behind the wheel. Even when I know I'm on the right road, I feel like I'm driving crooked.

If you've ever had unbalanced tires, or a vehicle out of alignment, you know how frustrating and stressful driving can be. It's difficult to drive straight, your gas mileage is diminished and your safety, and the safety of your passengers and those around you, is jeopardized.

It's the same way with life. When your life is unbalanced, or out of alignment, you wear out more quickly. You don't seem to enjoy things as much. You can feel off-centered and even depressed. In this worn out state, you can metaphorically fall asleep behind the wheel in your life, faith, family, marriage, education, career and other important roads you travel in life.

However, creating and maintaining greater balance and alignment in your life, through your physical, familial, spiritual and financial health, isn't just about being able to carry more weight. It's about being able to enjoy more of the things you do carry while you carry on and navigate the roads of life. This also includes getting rid of, or reducing any unnecessary weight in every area of your life. Because over time, unnecessary weight can cause your life to get out of alignment. When your life becomes misaligned, it negatively affects your ability to steer correctly. It can cause you to be pulled off of the right roads or wander onto the wrong ones. Misalignment can also cause you to miss your exits or swerve into the oncoming traffic of temptation. Spiritually speaking, God makes your paths straight as you allow Him to help you get your life back into balance and proper alignment.

GOD'S

by Corey BAUMGARTNER

Even with proper balance and alignment, you will still get flat-tires or hit the proverbial pot-holes of life. You may still miss your exits, get into accidents, have to make U-turns, run out of gas, and wish you would have stopped at that last rest-stop. But God didn't send you on this mortal road trip without help. He has provided many good people, places and tools to help you implement regular maintenance and repairs. As you let Him help you balance and align your life, it will help you to prepare the way for and make the Lord's path straight, so He can more easily and effectively become your Navigator, Co-pilot and Companion for the roads ahead.

This week, if anything feels un-balanced or out of alignment in your life, then it's time to leave God's Porch head over to God's Garage. He has the right tools and skills to help get you back into alignment and find balance and joy again in every area of your life, no matter how many miles you've traveled and how many you have left to go.

Rams cruise in 2A playoff opener

by Tom ZULEWSKI
Iron County Today

The Parowan Rams may not be the favorite to win the 2A boys state basketball title, but they got their quest to be among the contenders off to a solid start Feb. 16.

Porter Wood poured in 34 points as Parowan used a big second quarter to break the game open and run past St. Joseph 81-55 in the 2A playoff opener played at Snow College in Ephraim.

The Rams were tied with the Jayhawks at 15-15 after the opening quarter, but grabbed control of the game by outscoring them 26-11 over the next eight minutes. Parowan would shoot 59 percent from the floor and open up the lead further from there.

Krue Stubbs added 17 points and Max Topham chipped in 11 as Parowan improved to 20-3 on the season and advanced to face Draper APA, the Region 17 runner-up, in the quarter-finals Thursday at 11:10 a.m. at the Dee Events Center on the Weber State campus in Ogden.

Draper APA made 27-of-35 at the free-throw line and pulled away to a 70-53 win over Duchesne in its opening-round playoff game.

Elsewhere around Iron County, Canyon View finished its regular season with a 43-40 road loss at Dixie on Feb. 16. The Falcons finished 6-6 in Region 9 play and will be the No. 4 seed for the 4A playoffs that begin Friday.

CV led the Flyers by six after the opening quarter, but scored just four points in the second to fall behind 24-20 at the half. As was the case when the teams played at the Falcons' Nest, the game stayed close throughout the second half before Dixie held on and finished Region 9 play with a 9-3 record.

Parker Holmes was the only Canyon View player in double figures with 10 points. The Falcons will travel to Orem for its opening-round playoff game Friday and play the Region 10 champion Tigers in a 7 p.m. tipoff.

LADY REDS CAP OFF UNBEATEN REGULAR SEASON

by Tom ZULEWSKI
Iron County Today

When the Cedar Lady Reds got its first look at Snow Canyon earlier in the season, the Warriors put a major scare into their dreams of finishing unbeaten.

With a major run that closed out the first half, Cedar left no doubt who was boss this time around.

Mayci Torgerson led three players in double figures with 16 points, and the Lady Reds used a 27-8 run to break the game open on the way to a 60-33 rout over Snow Canyon on Feb. 12, extending its record to 20-0 on the season.

"We've got some girls who just flat shoot the ball," Cedar head coach Corry Nielson said. "We weren't pleased how we played (in the first meeting)." Sophomore Logann Laws (14 points) got the big run started with a pair of baskets and Torgerson added two more - including a 3-pointer - that completed an 11-0 burst to end the first quarter and give Cedar a 21-10 lead.

The Warriors had to play for much of that time without leading scorer Tylei Jensen after she suffered an ankle injury. Jensen would return later in the game, but finished with just nine points, less than half her season average of 18.1 per game.

The Lady Reds led 37-18 at the half and the win was a memorable one for seniors Ashley Davis and Kaila Gleave. Both players started in their final regular-season home games, but Gleave failed to score a point.

With all the winning going on, the statistical part didn't matter to her.

"More than anything, I love watching my friends succeed and do good," Gleave said. "That's what made this so fun for me. I wouldn't be where I am without them and all the coaches."

Samantha Johnston added 14 points, including four 3-pointers, for Cedar in the victory. Rachel Durante led Snow Canyon (4-8 Region 9) in the loss with 11 points.

The Lady Reds finished off an undefeated regular season by putting up a season-high in points with a 74-45 road victory over the Hurricane Tigers on Feb. 14. Cedar led by 10 at the half, but scored 44 points after intermission to complete a 21-0 record.

Torgerson had 21 points in the win while Laws and Johnston each added 13. Cedar will host Salem Hills, the

Before the Feb. 15 game between Cedar and Hurricane began, doubts still remained about positioning for the 4A boys state basketball playoffs. With a hot shooting display and strong defense, the Hurricane Tigers put them all to rest and rolled to a convincing win.

Hurricane hit 3-pointers on its first four possessions and allowed only one first-half field goal in a 60-36 rout over Cedar that clinched a third-place finish in the final Region 9 standings at 7-5. The Tigers not only snapped a brief two-game losing skid, but they earned the right to face the No. 2 seed from Region

By the time the first quarter was done, Hurricane led 21-3. When the Redmen hit their first and only field goal of the half - a Zab Santana 3-pointer - the Tigers were up 24-8. They would stretch the margin to 35-12 at the break and lead by as many as 33 in the fourth quarter.

Daxton Dayley led three players in double figures with 14 points for Hurricane, who hit eight 3-pointers in the victory.

Cedar finished Region 9 play with a 2-10 record and will miss the playoffs for the fourth straight year. Tanner Eyre led the way with 13 points in the loss and Santana added 10.

The Redmen hit just seven field goals, but made 20 of 26 from the free-throw line (77 percent).

In Cedar's other game of the week, Snow Canyon rallied from a nine-point halftime deficit and beat the Redmen 78-74 in overtime Feb. 13. The teams finished regulation tied at 65-65, but the Warriors made the plays in the extra four minutes to finish its season with a 4-8 record in Region 9 play.

Five Snow Canyon players scored in double figures in the victory, led by 17 points from Cade Guerisoli. Chance Barney and Cole Warner added 16 apiece. Santana led Cedar with 24 points and Gaige Savage added 18.

Local wrestlers capture crowns, pin a piece of history

by Tom ZULEWSKI
Iron County Today

If there was ever a picture of what a win-win situation looks like, Canyon View's Brady Lowry and Cedar's Nate Ellis provided it on the mats at the UCCU Center on Feb. 16.

The rivals on the mat made history at the 4A state wrestling tournament in Orem as both schools crowned a champion on the same day for the very first time. Lowry won his second title for the Falcons in dominating fashion at 152 pounds and Ellis gave the Redmen a champion for the second straight year by winning the 220-pound title.

After suffering a loss in last year's final, Lowry was named outstanding wrestler of the 2019 state tournament, pinning Cedar's Mike Anker at the 1 minute, 31-second mark. The senior finished 57-1, winning all of his matches by pin, none after the second round.

It would be an emotional day all around for the Lowry family as head coach Dallas Lowry was named Coach of the Year. The Falcons not only finished fourth overall, its best ever and just 10 points behind third-place Bear River, but saw two additional wrestlers - junior Gavin Carter and senior Brayden Cavalieri - reach the finals.

Cavalieri was CV's only No. 1 seed from the divisional round and had Payson's Tyson Carter in a 6-6 tie late in the 170-pound final. Carter was awarded the winning point for an escape with 11 seconds left, but Cavalieri ran out of time before he could complete a takedown move.

"If he only had two more seconds, he would have had a title, too," Lowry said of Cavalieri, who finished his t year with a 54-7 match record.

Carter, a junior, was seeded fifth from B Division, but came through with three third-round pins, all in the final minute - including over Payson's Harrison Judd, the No. 1 seed - to get to the final before he fell in a 13-5 decision to Merrell Morley of Salem Hills.

"He wrestled out of his head. He was phenomenal," Dallas Lowry said of Carter. "At that point, you can't coach; just have to believe in him. At this time of the year, you've done all the coaching you can do."

Cavalieri was one of a trio of Falcons who were named to the 4A Academic All-State team. Ryan Ball and McCrae Webster were also honored for their classroom work.

Cedar finished ninth as a team and Ellis was the highlight with a pair of falls along the way and a 6-2 victory over Payson's McCoy Cook in the final. The Redmen finished ninth as a team with 88 points, only 1.5 behind Region 9 foe Desert Hills.

Ellis also won by fall over Jason De Denney of Uintah and Colter Freeze of Bear River along with a 6-0 decision over Region 9 foe Tulis Kanosh of Snow Canyon.

No. 4 seed from Region 10, in the opening round of the 4A playoffs Saturday night at 7 p.m.

The Skyhawks are the defending 4A champions who eliminated Cedar in last year's quarterfinals.

Canyon View closed its regular season with a 61-55 home loss to Dixie on Feb. 14 in its only game of the week. The Falcons led 32-30 at the break, but were outscored 18-9 in the third quarter.

Ashlyn Banks led three players in double figures with 16 for CV, Addie Newman added 13 and Harlee Nicoll finished with 12.

CV wrestling taking sign-ups for youth

Fresh off a fourth-place finish at the 4A state wrestling tournament, head coach Dallas Lowry is taking sign-ups for the Little League Wrestling program for pre-kindergarten through 8th grade.

Sign-ups and the team's first practice will happen tonight (Feb. 20) in the Canyon View wrestling room on campus from 5 to 7 p.m. Cost to enroll is $50, which includes a T-shirt and USA Wrestling card.

Practices for the 13-time state champions will be held at three separate times: Monday and Wednesday from 4 to 5:30 p.m. or 5:30 to 7 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

» Block out the noise: With an unbeaten regular season signed, sealed and delivered, the hard part is about to begin for the Cedar Lady Reds. In the greatest ironic twist of recent memory, the first-round opponent will be the team that knocked them out in last year's quarterfinal round.

Cedar will welcome defending 4A champion Salem Hills to its gym Saturday night. While the Lady Reds were able to rout the Skyhawks 64-25 on Dec. 7, that came in the midst of a 1-9 preseason effort.

In Region 10 play, Salem Hills has won four of its last six games, but saw its visions of a higher seeding dashed when Uintah posted a 58-52 win Feb. 15 to move into sole possession of third place with the tiebreaker edge. The Skyhawks closed the regular season with a game against Spanish Fork on Tuesday night.

And all of it doesn't matter much to Cedar as they've kept on winning. For head coach Corry Nielson – owner of a 39-5 record in two seasons leading the team – it's all about the next game, not the next week or next month.

With the winners advancing to the America First Events Center for the quarterfinals that start Feb. 28, it's a prudent and smart move for a team that would love to have a zero in the loss column along with its first state girls basketball championship trophy when all is said and done.

» Good luck: With the regular season complete, Canyon View's boys basketball team knew it needed a win and some help in order to pass Hurricane and claim the No. 3 seed for the 4A playoffs.

It didn't work out on either end as CV lost a close one to Dixie, 43-40, while the Tigers couldn't miss and routed Cedar, 60-36. The Falcons are in the only first-round game that's officially set for Friday night as they will travel to face Region 10 champion Orem.

To say Canyon View has a challenge would be more than a mild understatement. The top teams in 4A in Utah County are averaging more than 78 points per game in region play while the Falcons have scored over 70 twice all season.

» Stop the insanity: It's a sad state of affairs when the Utah High School Activities Association has to resort to going on TV to search for people to be officials or referees at sporting events. Parents who believe their children can do no wrong and the referees do everything wrong are a huge reason why.

I've witnessed this way too many times in 21 years.

At Cedar's home finale, visiting Hurricane was never in serious danger of losing its huge lead or the game against the Redmen last Friday night. That fact didn't stop several parents from berating the referees at the top of their lungs at every available opportunity.

In their eyes, traveling violations and fouls should be called on the other team at nearly every opportunity. Even as the Tigers' lead kept growing in the second half, the disagreements with the officiating just kept coming. Nothing about what the officials were doing was good enough for them.

Here's a word of advice: If you don't like how games are being called – and yes, they're only games, not life, death, or the possible denial of your son or daughter's future scholarship – try staying home and doing something else.

People who believe in being civil will thank you all the time.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has auctioned spectrum previously used for television services and required all television stations to move to lower channels. All television stations operating above Channel 36 are now required to relocate or cease operations. This will affect most "over the air" television services in the Iron County area. These are changes that are required by the FCC and designed to make more spectrum available for cellular telephone and other uses. This will not have any effect on television signals received by cable or satellite services.

Iron County plans to begin making these required changes within the next two weeks and continuing for about 120 days. The first of these changes will have primary affect in the Beryl and Kanarrville, Parowan, Paragonah, Summit and Enoch areas. Changes in the Cedar City and Cedar Canyon areas and more changes in the Enoch area will follow during the spring and summer Months of 2019. This should not affect your ability to receive the television signal for any extended period of time. In most cases, any television station should not be off the air for more than a single day. This should require only rescanning your television to locate and continue to receive all stations. All stations in Iron County will continue service.

For those setting up new television antennas in the Beryl, Parowan, Paragonah and Summit areas, UHF antennas are required. VHF/UHF combination antennas are required in the Cedar City, Cedar Canyon, Enoch and Kanarrville areas to receive all signals.

In rural areas using low power television broadcast, it is recommended that good quality outdoor antennas, lead wires and signal preamplifiers are used. Please try to locate antennas where there is line of site to the television towers in your area. Buildings, trees and other obstructions will reduce the signal to your antenna and television. Iron County does not recommend the use of indoor antennas.
