A March for Awareness...

Take Back the Night march hosted at SUU

by Kelsey KEENER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Members of Students United for Reproductive Freedom and representatives from Canyon Creek Services organized a Take Back the Night event at Southern Utah University last week.

The event included a march around campus and a public forum afterward, where CCS Awareness and Prevention Director Roxy Burkhart and SUU Student Body President D'Mia Lamar spoke and attendees were invited to share their stories or support.

Burkhart said although the exact origins of Take Back the Night are not well known, it began because women were afraid to go out at night.

"Night was taken from them," she said. "Rape, sexual assault was happening a lot and violence was happening to them at night, so women got together and organized a safe environment, a place where they could come together, they could talk about the problems and protest violence against women."

The event coincides with Sexual Assault Awareness Month, which is the month of April, and was intended to raise awareness and provide a safe place for survivors to feel supported. SURF President Peyton Carter said one of the goals of the event was recognizing that there is a problem.

"Our purpose (is) to make some noise, make some visibility here and to be able to essentially just represent for people who are not able to represent themselves, who may not feel comfortable coming out or speaking up because we want to make it known that this campus is a campus that is safe," he said.

Burkhart added that creating this environment for survivors was important as well.

"Creating a space where people feel like they're going to be believed, they're going to be respected, they're going to be supported, they're going to be okay saying 'hey me too,' is really important," she said. "And this event just kind of allows that in a public forum in that you can come here and it's a safe place for you."

Prescription Drug Take Back Day on Saturday

by Heidi BAXLEY

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

CEDAR CITY, UT — To raise awareness about the potential for abuse of prescription medications, [Southwest Prevention, the Iron County Sheriff's Department, the Iron County Prevention Coalition and Smith's Food and Drug] are sponsoring a Prescription Drug Take Back Day event on Saturday, April 27th from 10am -2pm. Items collected include: Prescription medications, over the counter medications, liquids. Items not collected include: Medical waste, syringes, intravenous solutions, and injectables. For more information visit www.southwestprevention.com

According to the Office of National Drug Control Policy prescription drug abuse is the nation's fastest-growing drug problem. Most individuals who misuse prescription drugs, particularly teens, believe that these substances are safer than illicit drugs because they are prescribed by a healthcare professional and dispensed by a pharmacist. The first step in attempting to tackle the problem of prescription drug abuse is to educate parents, youth, and patients about the dangers of abusing prescription drugs.

To address the abuse and misuse of prescription drugs, community organizations, public health entities and law enforcement are collaborating to host drug take-back programs nationwide. These drug disposal programs are a good way to remove expired, unwanted or unused medicines from the home and reduce the chance that someone may accidentally or intentionally take the medicine.

What can you do in your community?

Follow disposal guidelines. Don't flush your prescription medications. If no instructions are given on the drug label and no take-back program is available in your area, take them out of their original containers and mix them with an undesirable substance, such as used coffee grounds or kitty litter — to make the medication less appealing and unrecognizable — then put them in a sealable bag, empty can, or other container to prevent the medication from leaking or breaking out of a garbage bag.

Talk to your kids: It's important that our children learn about the use and abuse of prescription drugs.

Take advantage of community drop boxes: Prescription Drug Take Back Day occurs twice yearly in April and October. For year-round safe disposal don't forget about the drop boxes located in the Cedar City Police Department, Iron County Sheriff's Department, Township Pharmacy and Parowan Pharmacy.

From the Editor

CHERISH EVERY MOMENT

For historians, artists, students and everyone else affected by the tragic burning of the Notre Dame Cathedral, my heart goes out to you. Not only was the historical architecture lost, but also the precious artwork that adorned its ancient walls; priceless works of art never to be replaced, reproduced, or enjoyed again.

Too often in life we wait to enjoy the blessings of our lives. We postpone personal and family time until the weekend, or late at night, when we're too tired to make things as productive or meaningful. Don't get me wrong. I know there are dedicated men and women, mothers and fathers who ache and long for their homes and families before the nightshift even begins. I get it, we have to work. I'm just asking, where does it end?

If our work keeps us from enjoying the precious things in life, what's the point of putting in all those hours only to realize that there's nothing left to come home to when it's over? If you are providing for your precious things, but don't take time to enjoy them, where's the payoff?

BAUMGARTNER
MANAGING EDITOR

No matter your schedule, you've got to enjoy and love who you serve. That means you can't always wait for the weekend, a tragedy, or an illness to motivate more effort, or to change your perspective and directive in your life. Don't put off life and love while waiting for special occasions. Make today a special occasion. Tell that someone you love them, or that you're sorry, or that you want to spend more time together.

In other words, we need to stop only storing our blessings in the cathedrals of our minds and hearts and start sharing them with our loved ones and the world before they are forgotten or worse, lost in the unforgiving flames of time.

“ Too often in life we wait to enjoy the blessings of our lives.”

To the EditorThe kindness of strangers

Dear Editor:

Carolyn and I were headed for Brian Head on Monday evening when we encountered a closed road. It was getting dark as we sought help from an employee at a gas station on Route 89. When she told me what route I would need to take to get there, we asked if she knew of a place where we could stay and she came up with two places.

Thus, did we wind up at The Falcon's Nest where Tee and Sid, with help from their grandsons, cleaned up a cabin. We were able to have a comfortable warm place to stay on a cold night far from home. The next day we made it up the mountain because of the kindness of strangers. Thanks to all of you.

OPINION

COLUMNIST

The opinions stated in this article are solely those of the author, not of Iron County Today.

As next year's presidential and congressional elections approach, there is one thing Democrats and Republicans can agree upon: soliciting the votes of the "working class." Donald Trump won the presidency by shaving off blue-collar votes that historically went to the Democrats, and most Democrats agree they took the working class votes in the Midwest for granted.

The next election will be different. Republicans will argue that the liberal "progressive" movement favoring government-sponsored health care and "open borders" is a slap to hard-working Americans. Democrats will say that Trump's tax cuts helped the rich, not the working class, and the

Ring Around the Blue Collar

Republican's anti-labor union policies have hurt manufacturing wages.

And both sides will pour money and time into influencing voters in working class neighborhoods in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. Republicans will paint Democrats as unpatriotic; Democrats will portray Republicans as a millionaire party caring little for struggling families trying to pay their bills.

The challenge is that the working class has been generally ignored by politicians, since blue-collar workers typically vote less often than white-collar workers and were not seated at the head of the bald of either political party. A 2018 report, "Restoring Opportunity for the Working Class," noted that government has welfare programs for the poor and tax loopholes and saving programs for the rich, but little for families making $50,000 a year.

In the meantime, technology has eroded the working-class jobs in manufacturing. It takes fewer laborers to build a car, and robotics is changing how products are stocked in warehouses. Americans seldom repair anything; it is often less expensive to replace. At the same time, families push their children into college careers and the working class feels they are scorned by the university crowd.

The blue-collar worker has not benefited from a booming Wall Street. Some 80% of salary and benefit gains have gone to white-collar executives, not the workers on the floor. Divorce rates have soared; only half the children in working class families are being raised by stably married parents.

Pres. Trump's vow to bring manufacturing jobs back to middle America is more rhetoric than reality. Some companies have reversed plans to move their plants to Mexico and some steel-producing plants have reopened, but in general the manufacturing statistics from the Department of Labor show little advancement. As Republican columnist David Brooks wrote, "Businesses like Amazon will invest in rich places like New York and Northern Virginia, but they won't invest much in working-class communities in Ohio and Kentucky. Religious organizations will recruit from the affluent suburbs and serve those in dire poverty,

ICHBA presents benefit breakfast funds, donation to SWT

by Kelsey KEENER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

During this month's general luncheon, representatives of the Iron County Home Builders Association presented two local families with funds raised during the Spring Home and Garden Fair benefit breakfast and a donation to Southwest Technical College.

Following new member recognition and committee announcements, Chair of this year's fair Roger Thomas presented $6,340 to each beneficiary of the breakfast and their families. Hector Cruz, a 47-year-old father of three, received funds to help with his battle with Cellulitis, which has resulted in amputation of both legs below the knee and seven of his fingers and requires ongoing medical treatment. The second beneficiary was 11-year-old Jonah Banks, who was diagnosed with Hodgkin's Lymphoma stage three cancer last year and is still undergoing treatment.

ICHBA President Adam Hahn then presented a donation to Southwest Technical College President Brennan Wood for $30,000 for construction trade scholarships for the next three years.

"As (Wood) came and he presented the ideas of what they were looking for, the (ICHBA) Board of Directors was able to contemplate the idea of making a donation to this organization. ... This man and his organization are helping to build the community and raise people out of poverty and that will only help all of us."

After receiving the donation, President Wood expressed his gratitude for the community's support and those that have sponsored or provided funds to the college and gave a brief presentation about the college. He discussed the evolution of the college and the programs that are offered, as well as many partnerships with other community organizations and the dual enrollment program that was developed with Southern Utah University.

President Wood also discussed poverty rates in Iron County and how the college helps raise community members out of poverty. Iron County has one of the highest poverty rates and lowest per capita income rates in the state of Utah, which as a whole also has a very low per capita income rate. Iron County also has a high intergenerational poverty rate with 12 percent of children living in IGP.

President Wood said of those living in IGP, 88 percent do not have education past a high school level.

"In most cases, they can't afford school," he said. "We've developed a scholarship program and our average scholarship is about $700. Think about how you can stretch the money for donors, where for $700 you can get someone to complete a certificate and give them valuable jobs and that gets them on the road towards getting out of IGP."

President Wood also discussed the improvements to the college's facilities and recognized the sponsors making those improvements possible.

SUU brings hi-tech ADA accessibility to campus

by Rachelle HUGHES

SUU MARKETING COMMUNICATION

CEDAR CITY — Many of the building entrances across Southern Utah University's campus are now Bluetooth enabled to open hands-free, making campus more accessible for everyone thanks to a partnership with Portal Entryways.

During the fall of 2017, SUU Facilities Management and the Disability Support office began working with a group of students from Brigham Young University to help develop the product for Portal Entryways (which at the time was a small startup). This breakthrough technology provides an incredible opportunity for ADA access points.

"We are having more and more students using wheelchairs and having mobility difficulties, the fact that they can have an app to open doors on campus immediately, without even having to touch their phone once the app is set up, is a step forward towards universal design," said Carmen Alldredge, director of disability services at SUU. "SUU is moving forward thanks to those who understand and are willing to improve the lives of many."

The Bluetooth technology works to open the exterior door(s) automatically when a patron, with the corresponding app downloaded on their smartphone, comes within a certain amount of space from the door. At least one exterior door in most campus buildings will be equipped with this technology.

"We have contracted with Portal Entryways to install 40 transceivers across campus, knowing this will make a tremendous difference to those needing assistance accessing campus buildings more readily," said Tiger Funk, assistant vice president for Facilities Management.

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Area Agency on Aging-Five County annual Magic of Aging Seniors Conference will take place Friday, May 3 starting at 9 a.m. at the Heritage Center Theater.

In addition to keynote speaker Dr. Ryan Whitaker from Hearing and Balance Doctors of Utah, there will be several breakout sessions, benefit enrollment screening, door prizes and information on services from local agencies and businesses.

New to this year's conference will be a Prescription Drug Take Back, sponsored by Southwest Behavioral Health and the Iron County Prevention Coalition; a shred truck to safely dispose of personal documents sponsored by the Senior Medicare Patrol; and an expanded Senior Expo with 30 vendors. These three elements of the conference are available to all seniors, but those interested in the other aspects must register for the event.

Breakout sessions will cover topics such as veteran services, music therapy and Alzheimer's disease. There will also be many other volunteer and educational opportunities and lunch is included during the conference.

"We are so excited to have the Portal Entryways devices installed. This provides easier access for anyone who can't access a door, whether it's a person in a wheelchair, a parent with a stroller, or a student with an armful of books," said Disability Support Specialist Christine Bonnett.

Facilities Management has also committed ongoing funding for the annual contract price which includes technical support, data analytics, and future opportunities to expand the system.

The Portal Entryways app is available on the App Store and Play Store for all Apple and Android devices. Doors with the transceivers installed on the SUU campus are indicated with a Portal Entryways decal on the door, which also has a QR code that can be scanned for more information.

"Portal Entryways has created opportunities for mobility that have never before been realized by persons unable to operate building access points," Funk continued.

but they barely touch the working class."

Businesses tend to search out large urban areas with technology-advanced college graduates. Ironically, that usually helps Democrat controlled areas, not rural small cities in the Midwest where Trump won big.

The economy is moving away from manufacturing and toward service and information-based jobs. And don't listen to the political rant about coal mining coming back. We exist in a world economy where cooperation among nations has more impact on America than what a shop foreman says at a union meeting.

Will blue-collar men vote for a female? Will working class voters return to their Democrat roots or stand by Trump's promise to make their lives better? Will millennials and minorities turn out and minimize the impact of the working-class vote?

None of us know. But both political parties will be on high alert.

VIRTUOSO VIOLINISTS

to perform on Thursday

by Marin COLBY

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Rocky Mountain Strings, a group of 37 outstanding young violinists from Northern Utah, along with the Suzuki Strings of Cedar City, will be performing in Cedar City, Thursday, April 25, at 7 p.m. in SUU's Thorley Recital Hall.

Ramona Stirling, Chandelle Fairbanks, and Ruth Godfrey direct the Rocky Mountain Strings with Shelley Astle as accompanist and Michael Thomas McLean as their in-house composer/arranger. They have toured Poland, Italy, Argentina, Belgium, Russia, and Austria since their founding in 1997. The group also performed at the Suzuki Association of the Americas International Teacher Convention in 1998 and 2006.

Rocky Mountain Strings will be performing classical favorites like Salut D'Amour and crowd pleasers like Millionaire's Hoedown and a medley from The Greatest Showman. Cedar City's Red Rock Singers, directed by Steve Meredith, will also be featured with the visiting violinists in the song Come Thou Font of Every Blessing.

Local musicians along with current and former members of Suzuki Strings will provide an orchestra under the direction of Lindsay Szczesny for the joint performance of Concerto for Two Violins in D Minor by J.S. Bach. This rousing number will

Thank you, OSU

by Mary Anne ANDERSEN

CEDAR CITY ARTS COUNCIL

We should be grateful for the Orchestra of Southern Utah. It offers this community things that we can get from nowhere else. I thought of this on April 11 as my husband and I attended their last concert of this season. It was the bi-annual Roy L. Halversen Young Artists Concert, a concert held every other year that features young musicians from the southwest.

This year there were three artists who presented an unusual variety of performances: a tuba player, a pianist, and a composer, not the usual program of violinists and singers. Aria Williams is a student at Southern Utah University who has chosen the rather uncommon path of being a female tuba player. What is perhaps just as unusual is that there is music written for tuba solo, in this case a suite by Don Haddad for tuba and winds. And it was lovely to hear and see, a real cut above the oom-pa-pa role we usually relegate to this instrument. It was tuneful and rich, and it was a treat to watch her perform, take a bow, and pick that big thing up under her arm and exit the stage.

Aubrey Aikele, pianist, is a junior at Moapa Valley High School and a very charming young woman she is. She played, by perfect memory, the first movement of a concerto by Edward MacDowell, the first major composer in America (1860-1908). She was poised, elegantly dressed, and very skilled at what she was about, and that was a technical and expressive performance of a very nice romantic composition.

Robert DeBry is an aspiring composer who has studied with Keith Bradshaw and Doug Ipson here at SUU. His instrument is the trombone but his goal is to become a composer, and the orchestra premiered a work of his called Ashtoreth. Like anything else of worth, composing takes a long time and a lot of hard work to master, and my husband and I were impressed with this new work of his. When I complimented him the next day, saying it sounded like movie music, he broke into a grin and said, "Great! That is what I want to do."

But these young people would remain in obscurity, as it were, if it weren't for the orchestra. This modest community orchestra in a small town offers students such as these the opportunity to perform with an orchestra in front of loving and appreciative friends and family. University orchestras regularly perform with their own students, but a public performance requires a competent orchestra that understands its responsibility to its patrons to entertain and educate the audience.

Reading the program, I saw another virtue of our OSU: a place for musicians of all ages to join together. The flute player just back from her mission, the agriculture major who loves his violin, the shy violist all had a seat with older semi-professional musicians. And we all benefitted as appreciative listeners. Thank you for another season, OSU. We will see you in the fall.

feature over 50 violinists in a fast-paced Baroque delight.

"We are so excited to be there and collaborate with the Suzuki Strings in Cedar City," said co-director Ramona Stirling.

Stirling, founder of Rocky Mountain Strings, also directs the annual Intermountain Suzuki String Institute (ISSI) in Salt Lake City, Utah. This two-week string music camp involves over 800 students and teachers of the Suzuki method. Many of our local Suzuki students and teachers have attended ISSI and received valuable instruction and teacher training. Violin teacher and concertmistress of the Orchestra of Southern Utah, Heather Wilhelm, has stated, "I attended Intermountain Suzuki Strings Institute this past June and received Suzuki violin teacher training. Since then, I've noticed that I've become a more effective teacher, and that my students are happier and more successful in their studies." Thanks to great organizers like Ramona Stirling, wonderful things can happen to enrich the lives of our young people. The concert at the Thorley Recital Hall on Thursday, April 25 at 7 p.m. will surely be evidence of that. The concert is free and the public is invited.

'EGG-CELLENT' ATTENDANCE

at 32nd Annual Cedar City Easter Egg Hunt!

by Shay BARUFFI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The children's nervous tension could be felt throughout the park, anxiously awaiting the signal for them to run out and retrieve as many eggs as possible from their designated locations. The firetruck carrying the Easter bunny had just arrived and when the large engine sounded its sirens the children set off.

The 32nd annual Sigma Nu Alumni Easter Egg Hunt happened on Saturday, April 20th. Roger Olcott, a Sigma Nu Alumni and the event announcer, considers the event "the most fun 15 seconds in Cedar City." Olcott encourages parents and guardians to consider this event another opportunity to show children the importance of sharing and generosity. The Easter Egg hunt has been occurring for 32 years, it was created by the Sigma Nu Fraternity when the fraternity was at Southern Utah University. The event has since become a much larger endeavor, but the goal is the same; to serve the community. Youth volunteering to help out with the hunt have participated as children in the years before and their experience had driven them to do what they could to see the event effect further generations. There was not one unhappy child in the park and if there was, the volunteers did what they could to make that child's experience wonderful.

The women and men of Horizon House helped stuff over 20,000 eggs for the hunt. "Without the people of

Cedar Band Corporation (CBC) puts profits to work for the community

by Richard FERGUSON

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

CEDAR CITY, UT – From its humble beginnings in 2002, Cedar Band Enterprises, and its successor-in-interest, Cedar Band Corporation (CBC), have blossomed to include a diverse array of companies, from premier defense and government contracting firms to a thriving mortgage agency, successful convenience store, award-winning wine distributor, and soon-to-open full-service travel plaza.

Headquartered in Cedar City, Utah, CBC and its family of businesses now employ scores of people scattered across 14 states, serving as a vital source of employment and reliable revenue generator.

Often overlooked, however, is how CBC directly benefits the tribal entity that founded and governs it – the Cedar Band of Paiutes.

The Cedar Band is one of five constituent bands of the Paiute Indian Tribe of Utah, people whose roots in Southwestern Utah stretch back thousands of years. Formal recognition of the Cedar Band and Cedar (Suh'dutsing) People, came on April 3, 1980, with congressional passage of the Paiute Indian Tribe of Utah Restoration Act.

Today the band occupies a 2,200-acre reservation that stretches from the middle of Cedar City southward along the Interstate 15 corridor. Its people's name, Suh'dutsing, which means cedar, derives from the cedar tree commonly found on the lands long populated by the band.

Through the years, the band's leaders have used distributions from CBC's enterprises to sustain essential government functions, preserve and promote band culture, and create and expand a wide variety of programs that benefit members.

Revenues support medical and dental care benefits; anti-drug, tobacco, and alcohol education; after-school tutoring; elder care programs; scholarships to help with college tuition; grants that enable tribal members to purchase off-reservation homes; and many other projects.

A summary of some initiatives funded by CBC's earnings distributions follows:

Youth Programs: Seeking to enhance youth development, the Band provides a range of after-school programs, assisting students through tutoring and the opportunity to complete homework in a structured and supportive environment. Students who are struggling to qualify, recipients must be enrolled full- or part-time in a university, college, junior college, or technical/trade school and have a cumulative GPA of 2.25. Scholarships are granted on the basis of academic achievement and/or financial need.

Elder Assistance Programs: The Cedar Band cherishes its elder well as a small monthly stipend to each band member over the age of 62.

Southern Paiute Language Study and Research: As part of its cultural preservation efforts, the Band offers members the opportunity to learn the Paiute language in classes provided twice each week. In addition to learning to speak Paiute, students can further their skills and knowledge of Paiute history and traditions by engaging in guided research and writing projects.

Cultural Opportunities: The Band's leaders are dedicated to sustaining and expanding awareness of important historical and cultural customs. Toward that goal, the Band periodically funds culturally significant opportunities, such as Spirit runs and hunting camps where youth can learn to hunt and field dress.

Cedar Band Building Renovation and Maintenance: One of the most significant improvement projects undertaken by the Band has been the recent (and ongoing) renovation of the headquarters building in Cedar City. Work completed in 2018 included upgrades to the kitchen, bathrooms, classrooms, CBC's headquarters, and landscaping. Remodeling will continue in 2019, when CBC will re-roof the Cedar Band of Paiutes building. Revenues also finance ongoing building maintenance.

Work Training: A key element of the Band's ongoing economic development efforts is providing work opportunities and training to its members, particularly youth. The Work Training Program is designed to offer hands-on job opportunities, as well as education. Participants in the Work Training Program provided substantial assistance in the recent renovation of the Band's headquarters. They also perform building maintenance and landscaping.

New Travel Plaza: Thanks to ongoing revenues, the Band has been able to move ahead with plans to break ground on a new enterprise that combines a gas station, travel plaza, and convenience store. The complex, scheduled for completion in January 2020, will provide additional jobs and income opportunities for members of the Band. Profits from CBC's companies allowed the Band to build this travel plaza without taking on long-term debt.

Fundraiser for Enoch Dog Park Saturday

by Kelsey KEENER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Board members of Friends of Festival Country K-9s are hosting a fundraiser at Mike's Tavern this Saturday starting at 9 p.m. to raise money for continued improvements to the Enoch PetSafe Dog Park.

The evening will include live music from Fenwick Way and Lincoln County Conspiracy as well as drawings for items such as an eight-day, seven-night vacation in Mexico, donated by Mike's Tavern. Items have been donated by many other local businesses as well, and there will a 50/50 cash drawing that will benefit all four animal shelters in Iron County.

Tickets for drawing items can be purchased at www.festivalcountryk9s.org/Fundraiser.html until tomorrow or at Mike's Tavern before and during the event. Proceeds from the items drawn will help to continue improvements to the infrastructure of the dog park, and the cash drawing will help the animal shelters pay for emergency medical needs or necessities like cat and dog food.

The Enoch PetSafe Dog Park is currently open and available for use off Minersville Highway near the new Enoch Animal Shelter. While sprinklers and grass are being installed in the large dog area, that area will be closed and all sizes of dogs are welcome in the small dog area as it will remain open. When improvements are completed in the large dog area, it will become open to all sizes of dogs while the small dog area is under enhancement.

Donations and fundraisers fund all improvements to the park, and volunteers are always welcomed. To volunteer, contact Vice President of FFCK9 Lynn Brown at 435-590-7451. More information can also be found at www.enochdogpark.com or the Enoch PetSafe Dog Park Facebook page.

Final funding secured for SUU's Child and Family Development Center

by Rachelle HUGHES
FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

CEDAR CITY — Additional funding has been secured for Southern Utah University's Sorenson Legacy Child and Family Development Center allowing renovation construction to begin this July with plans for the center to be completed and operational by August 2020.

The much-anticipated project, the Sorenson Legacy Foundation Child and Family Development Center is committed to the retention and graduation of SUU students by providing a high-quality facility offering on-campus childcare, a preschool lab, and parent and family support.

SUU has now secured gifts, pledges and capital improvement funding for a total of $2.9 million dollars. The most recent funds come from an additional $1.5 million in capital development funding and $300,000 pledged by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Foundation. The Foundation's pledge was motivated by SUU's decision to repurpose the university president's home to serve the needs of students and their children. Additional donors include Sorenson Legacy Foundation for whom the Center is named, Emma Eccles Jones Foundation, Dixie and Anne Leavitt Family Foundation, Eric and Melissa Leavitt, Mark and Jana Leavitt, Dr. Robert and Sydney Nakken and many other donors including numerous campus employees.

"It is absolutely thrilling to know this Center will be up and running in a year," said Kathy Wyatt, SUU first lady and steering committee chair of the Center. "I am grateful, not only to the foundations who have donated significant amounts but also for many individuals who saw the need for such a facility and gave whatever they could. students, flexible care hours, a safe and enriching environment for infants and toddlers as well as a facility for SUU education students to use for practicum.

The building costs are budgeted at $2.1 million with the remaining $870,000 for soft costs that include design, furniture, fixtures and equipment. A preschool/

Less screen time, more play!

by Kathy WELLS

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

In the Let's Play Music program children learn effectively through play! Peek into any of our classes and you'll see jumping, singing, skipping, storytelling, and laughing! We understand that a child has to be physically involved in the learning process, so we use the eyes, ears, hands and full body movement to learn concepts usually taught on paper. We also know that children enjoy learning in a peer group setting. The synergy of a Let's Play Music class naturally encourages children to participate and to excel. Children will learn advanced concepts and skills using age-appropriate methods!

In Cedar City/Enoch there are four licensed Let's Play Music teachers! One is sure to be close by your location.

Here is a description of the classes taught here in our amazing town.

Let's Play Music (ages 4-7)

- » First Year: We use engaging games and songs and incorporate Tone Bells to teach staff awareness and rhythm reading skills.
- » Second Year: We transfer these skills to playing the piano where we also learn chord notation, intervals, and harmonic improvisation.

- » Third Year: Students are playing piano at level 1-2, transposing music, composing their own music, sight-reading music, and are prepared for further private piano instructions.

Sound Beginnings is a family music class for children ages 0-4 and a parent or caregiver. By providing solid music and preschool foundation, Sound Beginnings prepares students for success in Let's Play Music and Kindergarten. Classes include singing, movement, instrument play, nursery rhymes, games, stories, and ear training activities. The curriculum is organized into six non-sequential semesters (15 lessons per semester). Each semester explores musical and kindergarten skills such as in-tune singing, keeping the beat, counting, colors, name recognition, telling time, and much more! Attending Sound Beginnings with your young child will strengthen your relationship. In class, purposeful play, eye contact, partner activities, and generational nostalgia develop the highly significant parent-child bond.

Presto

New in 2019, this is a two-year (30 lessons per year) beginnings piano course for students ages 7-12 that teaches all of the skills of Let's Play Music. Because students are older and have more developed dexterity, we have added heavy emphasis on proper piano technique and repertoire.

- » First Year: Students use the piano as their primary instrument from the very first lesson. We use age-appropriate songs with catchy beats and appealing games to teach music

Happy Administrative Professional's Day

Today is the day when we honor each of the administrative professionals in our lives. No matter where we work there is usually someone behind the scenes making it all run more smoothly for us. Whether it's keeping the temperature cozy, the copier running, the wi-fi connections on, or making sure we get a paycheck, the rest of us in the workplace would be out of place without these professional people.

Once known as secretaries, outside of politically correct circles, that demeaning or undermining term no longer defies or defines their abilities. There are over 22 million such administrative professionals in today's working world. These talented men and women continue to find their careers in the sanctuaries of cubicles and offices, which too often are barely big enough for a desk, computer, phone, filing cabinet, candy jar and a potted plant. Yet, upon these small, but sacred grounds, where their office and break-room are often the same place, these admirable administrators find a way to work modern-day miracles.

With so much responsibility upon their shoulders, they routinely provide the back-bone and back-up to every business they serve within our community. Whether typing a memo on the computer, taking messages on the phone, faxing, filing and trying to stay smiling; their skills with co-workers, other humans, multi-tasking and organizing are unmatched. They truly are the superheroes of the workplace. We should take a moment this week and marvel at their super-powers, which few can (or have) surpassed. Their daily heroics are both bona fide and certified.

Therefore, wherever you work as an admin-pro, please know that you truly make the other side of the desk, wall, or cubicle run more smoothly and effectively. Just because people don't seem to show or say it, or who unwisely think that your pay-check is ample appreciation, please continue to do your best knowing you truly are making a difference. You give new meaning to the title, administrative professional. Today, and every day, you are very appreciated for your dedication.

To the rest of us, let us raise our water-bottles, coffee mugs, memos and Post-Its to our administrative professionals. Let us celebrate those without whose work, which may often feel like it's behind the scenes, we would be lost, overwhelmed and underperforming in the land of schedules, voicemails, e-mails and dead-lines.

And remember, when work gets dark and dreary, don't forget to keep calm and talk to the secre...I mean, the administrative professional. I'd say go give them

GRATEFUL FOR THE CROSS (PART 2)

[Luke 23:33]

From Gethsemane's grueling grief, Jesus Christ would now face the cruel cross and complete the transaction that would provide the penitent a transformation from sinner to saint and a path from lost to found.

While in Gethsemane, Christ suffered the greatest pains of all, ours. Nevertheless, His sufferings and sacrifices were yet not complete. His eternal and unconditional love for each of us had another page to write in the divine book of love. He still had to endure torture, public humiliation and the crucifixion as part of providing our escape from sin and death. Ultimately, the cross would be Christ's signature of salvation on each of our lives.

We do not need to know the how, only the Who. It was Jesus Christ, both the Son of God and the Son of Man. He had to be both as to feel the sufferings of a mortal, and then to overcome them. With greater love and sacrifice than we can ever understand, He wrapped our pains, sorrows, sins and even our deaths in His eternal loving arms.

It was finished. Christ's mortal work was finished. However, our work has just begun. Therefore, what can we learn from such a harrowing and hurtful final affliction in our dear Savior's life? First, we must remember that Christ did not suffer one pain or shed one tear that wasn't for each of us. He also didn't forget about or miss one pain or tear that any of us has or will suffer. It was a perfect atonement. None were or are exempt from His gifts of peace and love, if we will receive them.

It doesn't mean that we instantly become perfect and life has no more Gethsemanes and crosses to bear. It does mean that we can confidently and boldly got forward in life knowing that we can trust and rely upon Jesus Christ, perfectly, to help us to endure our own Gethsemanes and bear the shame and crosses of the world. As He was triumphant over His trials and tribulations, he will help us take up our crosses and overcome ours.

When life gets dark and dreary, when your sufferings and sorrows seem too great to carry and endure, remember there is

“The cross would be Christ's signature of salvation on each of our lives.”

GOD'S

by Corey BAUMGARTNER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

One greater who will never leave or forsake you. Though it was also painful for Him, Jesus Christ never gave up. He knows what it's like to feel forsaken by friends and even abandoned by Abba. From the flogging to the mocking crown of thorns; to the carrying of His own cross to the hill of shame, He did not give up. Why? Because He loves each of us and He will never give up on any of us.

He knows how difficult it is trying to live in the world, but not be of the world when so much wickedness surrounds us. But fear not and don't give up. There is a day appointed for your rescue and resurrection.

Utah women business owners awarded over $19,000 in grants

by Ann Marie WALLACE

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

HOLLADAY – Today, the fourth annual Women's Entrepreneurial Conference (WEC) was held at Holladay City Hall which brought one hundred and fifty women business owners together from across the state to learn how to harness the power of social media and digital marketing. The event ended by awarding $19,500 in grants to twenty-three women business owners to help them grow their businesses.

The Women's Entrepreneurial Conference, co-presented by Women's Business Center of Utah, Utah Women's Networking Group and Utah's Own, is a one-day educational conference for women business owners which provides an opportunity to gather, develop entrepreneurial skills, access resources and build relationships in order to run more profitable and scalable businesses. The conference is a fundraiser for an annual grant competition which wraps up at the conference where attendees get to hear competition finalists pitch live for the top grants awards.

From the one hundred and fifteen applications received from women business owners in January, twenty-three were selected and each prepared a three-minute pitch. Pitches were focused on their opportunities, how they would spend a $5,000 grant and what the potential for growth could be. Two pitch rounds were held leading up to the conference and six finalists pitched live at the last session of the conference.

"The Utah Women's Networking Group is honored to be a small piece of each woman's journey who participate in the conference. Connecting them with and providing resources can make a big impact," said Karin Palle, Executive Director of the Utah Women's Networking Group. "These small grants tell women business owners we believe in them and that they can conquer the world."

WEC Grants were awarded to the following Utah women business owners:

REDMEN SWEEP PANTHERS

FALCONS FALL TWICE TO FLYERS

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The stakes couldn't have been any clearer for the Cedar Redmen baseball team. A two-game sweep over the Pine View Panthers would go a long way to determining its fate for the 4A state playoffs.

Thanks to big offense, clutch pitching and a big break on the bases, the Redmen got what they wanted and left with two big victories.

Junior Andre Castaneda allowed only two earned runs in 6 1/3 innings, and McKrae Spencer's bloop single scored Tyler Robinson with the go-ahead run in the top of the eighth inning as Cedar beat Pine View, 5-3, on April 18 to even its Region 9 record at 5-5. Spencer earned the win by getting the final five outs in relief.

One day earlier, Cedar scored five runs in the first and rolled to a 14-5 win over Pine View on its home field.

"I can go home and sleep," Cedar head coach Eric Fieldsted said after the Thursday game. "Andre threw the heck out of the baseball and got out of some really sticky spots."

Connor Moss – who had a solo home run in the Wednesday game at Cedar – singled to drive in two runs in the first inning to stake Pine View to an early lead, but Tanner Esplin – the No. 9 hitter in the Cedar batting order – lined a two-run triple and scored on a sacrifice fly by Robinson in the top of the second for a 3-2 advantage.

The Panthers answered with a run in the third to pull even at 3-3 as Daniel Elder scored on the front end of a double steal, but Castaneda left two runners stranded by striking out Trayton Staley and McClain Briggs.

TANNER EYRE DELIVERS A STRIKE, helping to earn the win for Cedar.

The Cedar defense kept the game tied in the fourth when Colby Hansen was thrown out at the plate trying to score on a Brock Roundy double, and the score stayed that way until the eighth. Castaneda finished with eight strikeouts, no walks and one hit batter in his night of work.

The winning rally began for the Redmen when Robinson reached on an infield single. An error allowed the leadoff hitter to advance to second, and he was awarded third base when an obstruction call was issued for a fake tag attempt.

Spencer would break the tie with his bloop hit and Castaneda drew a walk. Both runners moved up on a Trevor Brunson sacrifice and after Bridger Bunnell struck out, Teague Speakman added an insurance run with a single to left.

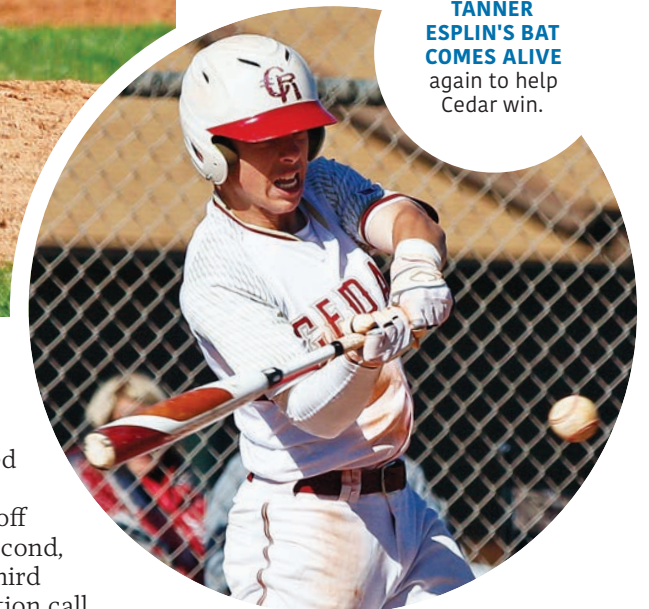

Moss would reach on an error leading off the bottom of the eighth, but Spencer would get the next three batters in order on two ground balls and a fly to left to complete the sweep.

Cedar closed its regular-season schedule with the first of a two-game set against Dixie on Tuesday at home. The second game will be played Friday at 7 p.m.

Across town, the struggles continued for the Canyon View baseball team as

The Falcons fell twice to the Flyers by scores of 11-1 on April 17 and 13-0 one day later. Dixie was able to end the opening game early with seven runs in the bottom of the fourth inning, and they finished off the Game 2 win with a six-run outburst in the seventh.

Canyon View will play a pair of non-region games on the road this week, including at Timpanogos on Thursday and finishing up at Salem Hills on Friday.

Lady Reds slip past Warriors, stay unbeaten in region

FALCONS BEAT PINE VIEW 5-3

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Cedar catcher Britnie Simcox had to miss her team's games a week ago after taking two foul balls off her ankle. The junior delivered the clutch hit at the right time and kept the Lady Reds in front of the Region 9 race.

Simcox belted a three-run homer in the fourth inning and teammate Kylie Oldroyd added a solo blast for insurance in a two-run sixth as Cedar held on to beat Snow Canyon, 5-1, on April 18 to stay unbeaten in region at 8-0. Kenzie Waters went the distance and earned the win, but had to escape a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the top of the seventh to secure the victory.

"Their hitters relaxed and did a great job, but we got three outs in a row. That's every bit as cool," Cedar coach Chris Weaver said. "Kenzie Waters pitched her best game of the year."

As they did in the first meeting, the Warriors (5-3 Region 9) struck first when Tyler Mooring homered in the second inning for a 1-0 lead. Cedar struck back in the fourth when Kelsi Oldroyd led off with a single, stole second, went to third on an error, and Denim make it 3-1.

"I was hoping and praying that would stay fair," Simcox said of her home run. "When we go out there, we fight every single inning, no matter what the score is."

to drive in the first run, and Oldroyd's home run had just enough to clear the fence in right-center field.

Snow Canyon threw in added dramatics in the top of the seventh when Jael Syd McCaul flew to center, pinch-hitter Ginny Deming struck out and Alex Deming grounded into a fielder's choice to end the game.

Waters scattered six hits, struck out six and didn't walk a batter.

Canyon View also faced a single game last week that was delayed by a day due to rain. The Falcons started fast and broke the game open with six runs in the sixth for a 12-3 victory over Pine View on April 17 to improve to 5-3 in Region 9 play. Tatum Millett homered in the win and CV led 6-0 after two innings while pounding out 15 hits.

Cedar played at Pine View on Tuesday while CV took on Desert Hills at home. The two teams will face each other at Cedar in a 4 p.m. start Friday.

Redmen soccer beats Falcons, climbs into playoff hunt

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Through much of the Region 9 boys soccer season, the Cedar Redmen struggled to find anything resembling an offense. Shutouts were common, and the losses kept piling up.

With its season hanging in the balance, Drake Olson gave Cedar a new lease on life and a real chance at a postseason berth.

Olson scored twice, and his marker in the early stages of the second half proved to be the difference as Cedar held on for a 3-2 victory over Canyon View on April 19, its second in a row. The Redmen moved into a share of fifth place in Region 9 with Pine View at 3-7-0 heading to the final week of the season.

As was the case when the teams played at Cedar a year ago, the Falcons (3-7-1) fell behind 2-0 at halftime on goals from Olson and Tito

Garcia. Olson's second goal came less than two minutes into the second half and pushed the lead to three.

Canyon View struck back in the space of 10 minutes as Kellen Bowden cleaned up a rebound from close range and Hunter Talbot added a penalty kick to trim the lead to one, but the Cedar defense limited the Falcons' chances down the stretch as they were able to hold on.

While CV played its only game of the week against Cedar, the Redmen matched their goal output in its second game of the week as they beat Hurricane, 3-1, on the road April 16. Bridger Heinz, Eli Sobel and Isaac Fletcher scored one goal each in the win.

Cedar played host to Pine View on Tuesday in a game that was too late for press deadline, and they close the regular season at defending 4A state champ Desert Hills on Friday. Canyon View had a bye Tuesday and will host Snow Canyon on Friday with its playoff status very much in doubt.

Pair of Thunderbird golfers receive All-Conference honors

by Bryson LESTER

SUU ATHLETICS STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

BOULDER CITY, Nev. — The Big Sky Conference announced their 2018-19 Women's Golf All-Conference Teams on Thursday ahead of the 2019 Big Sky Conference Championships. Thunderbird freshman Chanikan (Pluem) Yongyuan was named Freshman of the Year by the conference office, as well as First Team All-Conference, while Kamonwan (Poy) Prasurtwong was named to the All-Conference Third Team.

Yongyuan is the second Thunderbird to earn the honor since the T-Birds joined the Big Sky Conference, as Prasurtwong took home the title in 2017.

The freshman Thunderbird has been nothing short of spectacular for SUU, never finishing lower than 17th in the field at an event this season.

With two individual victories this season, Yongyuan tied the Big Sky record for number of Player of the Week honors awarded to a single player in a season with five. She also earned eight top-10 finishes through the course of the season.

For Prasurtwong, this is the third season in a row she has received an honor from the conference office.

She earned First Team All-Big Sky honors as a freshman, and Second Team honors as a sophomore.

Don't look now...Cedar soccer in playoff chase

As I watched the soccer game between Cedar and Canyon View unfold April 19, the halftime score had a feel of déjà vu all over again.

When the teams played at Cedar last season, the Redmen had a 2-0 halftime lead. The Falcons were facing an uphill climb and needed the win to put pressure on Pine View for the fourth and final Region 9 state playoff spot.

CV found a way to rally and won in overtime.

Under a warm, wind-free sky one year later, the Falcons were in the same 2-0 hole against a Cedar team that knew it was fighting for its playoff life. Drake Olson made sure the Redmen would survive and stay alive.

Olson scored twice, and his second goal that came in the opening moments of the second half provided a monumental boost as Cedar held on late for a 3-2 win over CV and jumped right into the thick of the playoff race.

With one week remaining before the postseason begins, Canyon View is clinging to the fourth and final 4A playoff spot with a 3-7-1 record in Region 9. In what has potential for both good and bad news, Cedar and Pine View are tied at 3-7-0 and played each other in a Tuesday afternoon matchup at CHS while the Falcons were idle.

Whoever won that game would jump over CV into fourth place and control its playoff fate. A tie would forge a three-way tie and leave a lot of scoreboard watching for the final games that happen Friday.

If we were to evaluate who may have the easier road, Pine View closes with a home game against winless Hurricane (0-9-1 heading to Tuesday) while Cedar has to travel to face Desert Hills and Canyon View hosts Snow Canyon.

The Panthers needed overtime to beat the Tigers in the first meeting in Hurricane (2-1), while the Redmen were shut out by the Thunder (5-0) and the Falcons suffered the same fate against the Warriors (4-0).

If Cedar or Pine View is fortunate enough to win twice, it will be in the playoffs. CV would be in with a win over Snow Canyon paired with at least one loss by the Redmen or Panthers.

Cedar has scored six goals in its last two games. Anything is possible when a chance to extend your season is on the line.

Lady Reds. She was honored by USA Today High School Sports with a second-team selection on the All-USA Utah team for the 2018-19 school year.

There was one small problem. North Sevier, Torgerson's former school, was listed in the story that was published April 17 instead of Cedar. You can play a part to help correct this information by tweeting to @usatodayhss with the link.

Another error on the school of a second-team player was also found. Maddy Eaton, a 5-foot-10 senior guard, transferred from Maple Mountain to Lone Peak. She was listed as a junior in the story.
