SUU hosts town hall for Sen. Mitt Romney

by Kelsey KEENER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Senator Mitt Romney addressed students and community members during a town hall meeting at Southern Utah University last week.

Sen. Romney introduced himself and said the atmosphere of the Senate surprised him.

"I've watched the senators go at each other on the evening news and they can get pretty tough with the things they say about each other," he said. "... I thought it was going to be kind of chilly in the atmosphere in the Senate. ... People are really friendly to each other. People are really very friendly and collegial when the cameras go off."

He also explained that Republicans and Democrats must agree on a bill before it can pass for the Senate, because either party will likely not vote in favor of anything perceived as a "one-sided win" and bills need 60 votes to pass. Sen. Romney also added that because of the House of Representatives only requires a majority vote, the Senate serves as a balance and helps keep the country's policies stable.

"It's actually pretty smart, the way the founders considered it -- which would be that the Senate cools things off -- and for major pieces of legislation, to require the consent of both parties," he said. "Thereby, basically saying, on major pieces of legislation, we're going to try and have the nation more united."

He also discussed legislation that he has proposed or sponsored, including legislation regarding land issues.

"I'd like to have the state have responsibility for our national forests," Sen. Romney said. "So, they'd still be national forests, they'd still be federal land, but the state would take responsibility for the dead trees, getting them cut down, putting in place long-term contracts with people who could use the lumber and reduce the fuel load to reduce the threat of wildfires"

He also stated he feels the President should not be able to designate millions of acres of Utah as a national monument without the support of the state legislature and that Utah should not be subject to the Antiquities Act.

"I'm really concerned about how much debt our country has," he added. "And it's not getting better, it's getting worse. It's not going to be a problem during my lifetime; I predict it's going to be a big problem during yours, for many in this room. So, I want to do something about it. There's not a lot of appetite to do something about it on

Cedar seniors invited to voice concerns

by Kelsey KEENER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Senior residents of Iron County were invited to Senior Voice Day, hosted by the Area Agency on Aging – Five County AOG, to share their concerns on policies and legislation with local representatives and elected officials.

One of the goals of Senior Voice Day is to help officials and organizations know what to advocate for and what seniors in the area need.

Senator Evan Vickers spoke briefly to provide updates on the state legislature and answered questions. He also discussed the efforts to begin restructuring Utah's tax system, the current funding system for education and government services and solutions that are being considered.

"Do we have a money problem? Do we need to raise taxes? No," he said. "We have surpluses, we have a robust economy. We really don't have a money problem, but we do have a distribution problem."

Public Policy Director for the Alzheimer's Association Jeremy Cunningham spoke as well, addressing policies that the association has been concerned with.

"We saw that there were some changes coming, there were some needs in the state," he said. "Two years ago, we advocated for one-time funding, at that point, for one million dollars – 750,000 dollars went to Triple A's across the state for services, in home services, education, caregiver services. And then 250,000 dollars went to the state health department for aging health care issues and dementia issues."

Cunningham said for the first time in the state's history there are more residents over the age of 65 than there are residents 18 years old or younger, and that could present challenges for policies regarding the aging population. He also discussed the concern of elder abuse.

"Most people don't understand elder abuse," he said. "... We're looking into some education pieces this next year to educate the public: what does abuse look like in a senior, aging, adult population? It looks very different than abuse of a child. Many times, its financial abuse, its mental abuse; at times its physical abuse. We are taking on some of these issues next year. We want to know, what does proper training look like? How can we help these families that are taking care of parents or grandparents?"

KELSEY KEENER

DURING SENIOR VOICE DAY, local seniors were empowered to voice their views and questions on everything from politics and senior care to Alzheimer's and elder abuse.

Advocacy Director for AARP Utah Danny Harris commented the services AARP provides and how the organization helps advocate for seniors. Harris said often seniors are on a fixed income and struggle to adjust to rising costs.

"We understand that very well, that's why we work on issues like tax issues, like utility issues, like prescription drug issues, because those things continue to go up year after year," Harris said. "And often our members come to us and tell us that they're choosing between heating their home and buying groceries, between buying groceries and filling their prescriptions."

Harris added that Utah is one of only 13 states that taxes social security benefits and he is helping advocate to remove that. He also said AARP works to help make sure utility rate increases are fair and affordable; and discussed prescription drug prices.

"The cost of prescription drugs just continues to go up," he said. "In 2017, the most common prescription drugs went up about eight percent in one year. ... The average Medicare Part D enrollee takes between four and five prescription drugs every month, so the senior population is disproportionately impacted by these high costs."

Deputy Director of Aging and Human Services for the Area Agency on Aging-Five County AOG, Carrie Schonlaw, discussed what the agency does and some of the services it provides. Schonlaw explained the agency is funded federally.

"Funds come from the federal level down to a state unit on aging," she said. "Our state has a Division of Aging and Adult Services. That state unit on aging designates Area Agencies on Aging throughout the state to then implement at the local level those services and those programs. We at the local level look at what the needs are in our community, what we need to provide and how we can provide that to the best of our ability within our communities. Those Area Agencies go out and develop those services and develop partners and providers within our community to provide those services."

Attendees were also able to attend a resource fair to discover programs and services available for seniors from organizations like the Area Agency on Agency, Adult Protective Services, the Southwest Utah Public Health Department, the Alzheimer's Association, Senior Corps and the Red Rock Center for Independence.

“How can we help these families that are taking care of parents or grandparents?”

OPINION

SHOW ME THE MONEY

The opinions stated in this article are solely those of the author and not of Iron County Today.

Finding a Utahn who thinks campaign contributions from lobbyists are a valuable part of democracy is as difficult as finding a medical doctor smoking a Marlboro or seeking a Democrat in Morgan County.

But lobbyist money is not going away – not as long as it costs millions of dollars to run for U.S. Senate seats, at least $500,000 to run an effective race for a congressional seat, and between $5,000 and $20,000 to campaign for the Utah Legislature. (In larger Utah cities, it is not uncommon for two candidates to spend $50,000 to $400,000 combined in a battle to become the city’s mayor!)

So, wail at the wind, but money from business lobbyists and political action committees has firm roots in the political process. What is laughable, however, are elected officials and politicians who claim that campaign cash has no impact on how they see an issue.

If you believe that, I’ve got a few outmoded pumps in the Great Salt Lake to sell to you.

Obviously, a campaign contribution will not necessarily swing a vote. A hefty contribution from a cigarette company will never sway the Utah Legislature to lower the minimum age for smoking, and a recommendation from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is certainly more powerful than a $10,000 check from Budweiser.

But it is silly to think that politicians simply ignore or even refuse to acknowledge campaign cash. The Salt Lake Tribune’s recent report on lobbyist money included interviews with the state’s writing you a letter (which in most cases you won’t even see since it will be read and responded to by your staff). Rep. John Curtis can minimize campaign donations by saying that he gave his cell telephone number to every GOP state delegate, but I bet a $50,000 check would get you a sit-down lunch with him, not just a phone number.

Campaign contributions are not given because the donor believes in good government. Contributions offer one-on-one access to the candidate in which the donor can explain how a potential vote would impact his or her company and the employee who live in the candidate’s district. There is nothing wrong with this; it allows candidates to hear the consequences they might never have been considered. A developer of affordable housing, for instance, might use the time to point out how a little-known imbedded restriction on parking could block construction on a project which would help 300 families.

Again, I have nothing against lobbyist cash. As in most things in life, you have to pay to play.

But don’t tell me that the money has no impact or influence. If that is really the case, I suggest you call Rep. Stewart or Sen. Romney today and ask him if he could join you for a Big Mac at the local McDonald’s. Let me know how fast he accepts your invitation.

senators and congressmen – and I could only chuckle at what they said.

Rep. Ben McAdams, for instance, said with a straight face that he wasn’t even aware he had received nearly $200,000 from the real estate industry. Sen. Mike Lee’s staff said their boss never let money influence his views, and a similar statement came from Sen. Mitt Romney’s office.

Okay, let’s be real...If a lobbyist forks over $10,000 to your campaign, he or she gets more access to you than someone

OPINION

the EditorYou press the button; we do the rest

No, the title is not talking about your smartphone camera. It's a quote from George Eastman, the entrepreneur, pioneer and philanthropist, who founded the Eastman Kodak Company and helped bring photography to the mainstream. Some of you may remember the days of buying, loading, and shooting rolls of film. Then dropping them off at the store to get them developed while you awaited with eager anticipation to view your Pulitzer prize pictures.

Nowadays we cannot only see instant results, and snap another pic instantly if needed, but we can edit those pics in thousands of ways and then send them to friends and family instantly. We've come a long way from those first Kodak cameras.

If George could see us today with our modern-day cameras and smartphones what would he say? I think he already said it. "What we do during our working hours determines what we have; what we do in our leisure hours determines what we are." I think many if not most of us include some form of technology in our leisure time.

Who are you? What do you want to become? Technology can certainly help you get there. However, no matter how smart our phones, our watches, or our laptops, we still need to learn to use our minds and hearts to not just socialize on social media but use our talents and gifts to change the world; one picture, story, song, painting, sculpture, idea or invention at a time.

Next time you snap and post a picture, pause a moment and remember George Eastman.

Working out with a Marine taught me:

by Skye REEVES
FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

1 – With good leadership, the impossible is achievable. The objective was for three people, a marine, a relatively-in-shape-civilian (me) and a marine-to-be, to run one mile, do 10 pull-ups and do a one-minute plank in the span of 11 minutes. All team members had to complete all three tasks – if one failed, the whole team failed and had to do it again. Our first attempt was unsuccessful, and we had decided how to attempt these tasks as a group. On our second attempt, we completed the workout with one minute to spare – but that time the marine used his leadership experience to dictate how we were going to accomplish our tasks. I cannot do 10 pull-ups. I cannot run a mile in under 10 minutes. I can barely do a one-minute plank. After the first attempt, I could barely move or breathe. I gave it everything I had to give, they carried me, pulled me, lifted me and supported me – the weakest link – and we all finished in under 11 minutes with an experienced, qualified leader.

2 – By no means am I going to let myself give up on a team or on others who are counting on me; but I do not want to be a marine. I could do it if I absolutely had to, but there are many others far more qualified and dedicated that are infinitely more valuable to our military than I am.

3 – Know your weakest link and nurture it. I was very obviously the weakest of the team, but I gave it my all and my team supported me (literally) and had my back. That is why we accomplished our task. Your weakest link might be a flaw of your own, it might be a team member or an employee, but with the right support that link can still accomplish previously unachievable goals.

4 – Being “fireman” carried by someone running, especially when you have just reached your peak physical output, is not nearly as fun or as easy as it seems.

5 – Appreciate any service member for the physical torture they volunteer for in order to protect your rights. That single workout reduced me to nothing more than a mass of cells taking up space – I can't imagine signing up to be put through that over and over and over again myself, so I'm all the more grateful there are those who do.

To the Editor

Dear Mary Anne,

I enjoyed your column in the August 21 edition (pg. 11) telling readers about your family's ride into Yellowstone National Park in search of wildlife. It is unusual to spot bears in the Park these days.

However, on my last visit to Yellowstone, my husband and I hiked up to the Mammoth Hot Springs. On the trail, I followed a young man wearing cut-off blue jeans. There was a large hole just below his back pocket and he wasn't wearing any underwear. That was the only “bear” (bare) I saw that day in the park.

PARTICIPANTS FROM LAST YEAR'S SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT, both law enforcement and community members in recovery.

'Hooked on Life' helps give life to those in addiction treatment

by Kelsey KEENER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Richard Bauer and Kelsey Sanders founded Hooked on Life last year to raise money to help recovering addicts receive the treatment they need.

Sanders said she met Bauer while she was experiencing struggles with substance abuse and going through treatment herself. They recognized that treatment can be difficult to pay for and wanted to help.

"There's a lot of aspects of addiction that hold people back from getting treatment, rather than just going to jail," Bauer said. "The financial issue is a big issue: they don't have the financial means or they don't have the support to get that financial means. It's a big drawback to getting people help."

Bauer is a retired probation officer with Adult Probation and Parole, and Sanders said he played a large part of her own recovery.

"I used for a long time and I finally went to treatment," she said. "I went to the Drug Court program (and) that changed a lot of my life. Law enforcement has played a huge role in my own recovery. (Bauer) has been there since day one and not all require law enforcement care, but there's a lot that do and that makes a huge difference for someone trying to get help."

Hooked on Life began last year with the organization's first softball recovery league tournament, which community members experiencing addiction or in recovery, as well as law enforcement officials, were invited to participate in. This year's softball tournament will take place this Saturday at the Field at the Hills beginning at 9 a.m. and all proceeds will go toward funding treatments for recovering addicts seeking assistance.

Bauer said one of the goals of the tournament was to help bring law enforcement and those recovering together.

"I want to be able to give back and help people that were in my position."

» Kelsey Sanders

"A lot of (addiction) is looked at as criminal, versus addiction -- especially if you get in the criminal justice system because of it, that's a big stigma," he said. "That's why we're trying to mend the law enforcement and the addict's gap."

Sanders added that the recovery league helps provide support as well.

"A lot of people still look at us differently and softball has played a huge part in that," she said. "There's a recovery softball league and the goal is to have people early in recovery or even if they're still using, they have support and we can show them a different way of life."

Hooked on Life works with recovery treatment facilities to cover costs associated with treatment, and may also help with first month's rent in a sober-living environment when a client has finished a program.

"Our main goal is to get someone through detox and treatment, and it's expensive," Sanders said. "...I had so much help from people when I was trying to recover that that's my goal now, I want to be able to give back and help people that were in my position."

Bauer said addiction is problem within Cedar City and the opioid epidemic the nation is facing exists locally as well.

"There's a lot of people mixed up in addiction that have potential and one of the big problems nowadays is the opiate epidemic and it's nationwide it's not just around here," he said. "In 30 years, that's the only thing I've ever seen kill is heroin or opiates...That's the thing with opiates -- you don't know who's on it. There are people in our community that you wouldn't know that have that problem. It's killing people."

Sanders and Bauer agreed that addiction can happen to anyone and they are working to have Hooked on Life be designated as a non-profit organization. For more information, visit Hooked on Life's Facebook page. To donate, contact Bauer at 435-592-9335.

either side of aisle, because it's a lot easier, if you're running for office, to suspend money and tell people what you've got for them and not have to cut back."

Sen. Romney said insurance and the out-of-pocket cost of health-care are also a concern to him.

"I'm in favor of saying that pharmaceutical companies shouldn't be able to charge higher prices for drugs here than they do in other developed countries," he said. "So that you don't have Canada, for instance, getting insulin for $45 a vial and we spend $450 a vial."

Sen. Romney also addressed several questions from students regarding long-term problems; climate change; red flag laws; foreign relations; veteran health care; and insurance.

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Last week the city council discussed the finance options for the Glacier Ice Rink.

Staheli Recreation Management has asked the city to contribute 2,850,000 dollars to constructing an ice rink in a permanent location.

Paul Bittmenn read a memorandum he wrote addressing the finance contribution options. He talked about the bond options as quoted by Zion's Public Finance.

According to the estimates, if Cedar City were to bond for the amount of 2,850,000 dollars, the estimated bonding cost would be about 30,000 dollars. The interest cost of the bond would be about 2.84 percent for the term of 20 years. Cedar City would pay about ing costs, the interest rate would be 2.21 percent for the term of 20 years. The city's approximate annual payment would be 106,000 dollars per fiscal year. Over the term of the bond the city would pay about 9,360,971.67 dollars in interest and the annual payment would be half a million dollars per fiscal year.

According to Bittmenn, there is an estimated 4 million dollars in the city's capital fund. It is the recommendation from city staff to use capital funds rather than bonding. Once the city council agrees on the amount to be contributed to the ice rink project, the city can move forward with how that money will be funded.

City Councilman Scott Phillips gave his opinion on the subject.

"Clearly from these numbers, any contribution that we would make to 977,154.64 dollars in interest and the total cost to repay the bond would be about 3,857,154.64 dollars. The annual payment for this bond would be approximately 207,000 dollars per fiscal year.

If Cedar City were to bond for 1,450,000 dollars, half of the full contribution, the estimated bonding costs would also be about 30,000 dollars. The bond would be sold at about 1,480,000 dollars with the interest of 2.84 percent over the term of 20 years. The city would pay 501,929.98 dollars in interest and the total cost to repay the bond would be about 1,981,929.98 dollars.

Another concern was the city's ability to also fund the construction of gymnasiums. With this concern, Bittmenn said that the city has also considered an option to bond with the ice rink and the gyms combined. The amount for the full contribution to the ice rink and gyms would be 7.35 million dollars. With the bond-the ice rink should be coming out of our capital improvement," he said. "We should not be bonding for it based on the numbers we are given today."

City Councilman Craig Isom suggested that the council make a motion to discuss the terms of a contract.

Phillips agreed with Isom's suggestion and added that there are two possible roles for the city in this project: the first being a donor to the project and the second creating a public-private partnership with Staheli Recreation Management. Phillips suggested that when they discuss the terms of this contract that they assert which role the city will play.

The city council then made a motion to discuss the terms of a contract with the consideration of the two roles. A public hearing will be held on September 18th on the ice rink project.

Olympic Gold Medal wrestler Gardner discusses success from determination

by Trinity PAJÓN

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Earlier this month Olympic gold medalist Rulon Gardner spoke at the Cedar City Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Gardner spoke about his life and overcoming challenges through determination and perseverance.

He also discussed his educational struggles. In his senior year of high school, he was told by advisors that if he were to go to college, he would fail. However, he and his mother believed differently.

"My mom was the one that motivated me the most in life because she was the most positive," he said. "She would say 'Rulon you can do anything' and 'Rulon you can accomplish your goals.'"

Gardner said that his mother influenced him to stay on track with his goals. According to him, her famous phrase was, "Keep your feet on the ground and your head out of the clouds."

Using these phrases of inspiration, Gardner was able to achieve his goals in school. Despite the remarks from his high school advisors, he was able to go to college at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and graduate with bachelor's degree in physical education.

Gardner also spoke about how his determination and perseverance were used to win the Olympic gold medal in the wrestling division. He recalled that his high school wrestling coach advised him to give one hundred percent and to spare no effort. He said that he used this advice for every match he did, and due to this he was able to beat the three-time Olympic gold medalist Alexander Karelin.

Gardner remarked that determination and perseverance is in itself a form of success.

"Success wasn't winning a gold medal," he said. "Success was knowing that I did everything I could in every position I was in."

8 bucks buys a lot of entertainment in Cedar

by Mary Anne ANDERSEN

CEDAR CITY ARTS COUNCIL

Let's start with $8.00. For you Millennials who don't know what that looks like, it is a five-dollar bill and three ones. Or a five, a one, and eight quarters. I know you don't like cash but it helps to visualize this. Ask your grandpa. He's got it in his pocket.

Eight dollars will buy a lot of entertainment in Cedar City. We went to the Cedar City Children's Musical Theater production of Shrek and it bought us nearly three hours of entertainment with a cast that must have numbered two hundred. That came out to four cents per actor. That is a bargain.

If you triple that $8.00, you can see a Utah Shakespeare Festival production presented by our Tony-Award-winning Shakespeare company. I would stack this year's production of Hamlet up against any other production anywhere. It is said that there is a production of Hamlet going on somewhere in the world on any given day. To see one of them for $24.00 would be unbelievable to someone back east or in Canada. There is a condition: to get that price, you must be an Iron County resident and buy your ticket the day of the performance, but still... the shows this season are fabulous. See at least one before the season ends.

Another real bargain is to double your $8.00, or nearly $17.00, that would allow you to see some world-class performers presented by Cedar City Music Arts this coming season. The line-up this year brings international groups from all over the world to our beautiful Heritage Theater. If you buy a season ticket, you can see all six of them for a total of $100.00. (True story: a performer from last year heard that $100.00 figure across the room and assumed that it meant per concert! He was incredulous to realize that we meant for the whole season.)

The offerings are truly international in origin. Think Russia (ballet), Italy (four tenors), St. Petersburg (string ensemble), and Spain (brass quintet). The other two concerts are among America's finest offerings: the Utah Symphony Orchestra and concert pianist Peter Vinograde. It is a valid question to wonder what would bring such performers to our modest southern Utah town.

The booking procedure is an interesting one. The Utah Symphony is committed to concertizing in Cedar City every October. So, no surprise there, and Peter Vinograde has been here before. But how do we get performers from Italy, for instance?

The experienced board of CCMA peruses booking agent offerings and determines which of many possibilities would appeal to a Cedar City audience. Oftentimes, we can see a gap in a group's tour that is convenient to us. If a group is traveling from the west coast to the Midwest with a gap in their schedule, we make an offer, they agree, and voila! —we are part of the inaugural American tour of Four Italian Tenors, for instance. You can see them for $17.00!

See the website for instruction on purchasing tickets. www.cedarcitymusicarts.org

Bobby Morris' 'MY LAS VEGAS'

with book signing

by Stacy BARUFFI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Cedar Music Store hosted a book signing featuring Bobby Morris and his autobiography, My Las Vegas, last Saturday, August 31st.

Bobby Morris has performed with some of the greatest of the greats in music, including; Elvis Presley, Frank Sinatra, Barbra Streisand, Bobby Darin, Ella Fitzgerald, Nat King Cole, Dean Martin and many, many more. Morris was a drummer and sometimes a conductor for these musical legends. Later in his life he became one of the most vital agents in Las Vegas's Golden Age.

Bobby Morris, born Boruch Moishe, was born in the summer of 1927 in Snipiskes, Poland. His autobiography, "My Las Vegas" reflects upon his early life in Poland and his family's journey to America to escape the great war looming over Europe. The book beautifully illustrates Morris's journey to stardom and "It was like an epiphany for me...I knew right then and there what I was going to be when I grew up: a drummer."

the steps he took to become Bobby Morris: drummer and conductor for some of the biggest names in show business.

A section of Bobby Morris's autobiography recalls the moment he knew that he was going to become a drummer; "I was always fascinated with the Big Apple: the rhythm, the pace, the urgency, the importance, the enormity. I would often take the train into the city... One day in Brooklyn, I noticed a sign in a store window that said Benny Goodman was coming to New York with his orchestra... There, featured on his very own riser, sat drummer

Gene Krupa, swinging the orchestra through Benny Goodman's theme song, "Don't Be That Way." It was like an epiphany for me. Time stood still. I was mesmerized. I had to remember to breathe. I knew right then and there what I was going to be when I grew up: a drummer."

Morris arrived in Las Vegas in 1950 and continued to pave a way for himself in entertainment. His autobiography is a journey through the artist's amazing life and the entertainment industry of the 20th century. "My Las Vegas" vividly retells the story of Bobby Morris and his experiences performing with musical legends during the Las Vegas Golden Age.

LOCAL BUILDERS ARE HONORED FOR THEIR INTEGRITY AND INGINUITY during the Festival of Homes kick-off event.

ICHBA 'Festival of Homes' raises the roofs in Iron County

by Corey BAUMGARTNER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Iron County Home Builder's Association kicked off its annual Festival of Homes Opening Ceremonies last week. Held at the Gilbert Great Hall on the SUU campus, the highly anticipated event brought together ICHBA members, builders, sponsors, community leaders and community members to enjoy a Chartwells catered lunch and a special video and photo presentation of each home, created by local professional photographer, Karl Hugh.

On display during this year's festival are thirteen beautiful homes consisting of amazing architecture, imaginative engineering and lovely local locations. With names like "The Great Escape", "Hie to Kolob", "Maplewood Manor" and "Taigh A'Ghlenn" (House of the Valley - Scottish Gaelic), each newly constructed home transforms modern-day technologies and materials into breathtaking dream homes anyone would be proud not only to own but to live in.

These magnificent homes will be each be available to view this weekend. Come walk through and admire the amazing architecture up close. The Festival will be open on Friday and Sunday from 1:00 pm to 8:00 pm and on Saturday from 10 am to 8 pm. For specific locations and more information, please visit, cedarcityfestivalofhomes.com. You can also download an app showing each home and their locations. You can also call: 435-865-1113.

FESTIVAL OF HOMES CHAIR, TOM BRAUN, of Braun Construction, addresses those attending the annual event showcasing the talented builders of Iron County.

Stop living a crumby life

The Rut LESS TRAVELED

by Corey BAUMGARTNER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Have you ever gone to the cookie jar anticipating a chewy chocolate chip cookie only to find—to your hunger’s horror—that there are only crumbs left? Looks like that cool glass of milk will be dancing alone tonight.

Perhaps you felt jilted because you didn’t get there sooner, or that someone didn’t care enough to save you one. It doesn’t help to complain about the crumbs. Nor can you idly sit by the jar waiting for some benevolent baker to magically fill it back up. Like that crumby, empty jar, you can feel like you’re always getting only the crumbs in life.

The problem isn’t knowing where the cookie jar is. You could find it blindfolded if you needed to. The real challenge is in learning how to make and bake your own cookies. However, rarely is that quick or convenient enough. It certainly is not as convenient as having a ready-made morsel waiting to quickly quell your craving quest. Plus, it’s time consuming to search for all the ingredients, get out the bowls, spoons, cups and then clear the countertop before you can even begin mixing. And of course, you have to have a reliable recipe and then there’s the baking time. You could starve before the process is finished.

What recipes have you been following? Have you been following a recipe for a crumby life? Maybe you have the right recipe but not enough motivation to mix the correct ingredients properly or patience to cook them long enough? Perhaps you think you can skip a few steps, or leave out a few ingredients—thinking that the cookies will still taste the same as long as they look good on the outside? Even if you have all the ingredients, without the right recipe you’ll be baking blind, hoping that somehow you’ll miraculously measure and mix everything perfectly. Then, if they do taste terrible, you give up and tell yourself that you didn’t really want a cookie anyway.

Maybe you feel that you aren’t meant to enjoy the goodies from life’s cookie jar? Maybe you’ve got your hopes up before so many times by putting your hand in the jar, but always found only crumbs, so you gave up trying? Sometimes it can feel easier to believe there will never be any cookies for you and become a bitter baker, or bitter at the baker and continue feeling just as empty as the cookie jar.

You are meant for more than crumbs and empty cookie jars. Stop following crumby, ratty recipes. Maybe you lost the recipe, or parts of it got erased or faded by time, but you don’t have to live a crumby life anymore. If you don’t have the right recipe, or ingredients, go find them. Follow the directions with care and then be patient while the oven of life helps bake your new beginnings into more than just tasty morsels, but into jars full of joyful, sweet memories.

SCHOOLS

ICSD News Nuggets

from Le Ann WOOLSTENHULME

IRON COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT

Enoch Elementary

The SUU Cheer Squad taught students our new school cheer.

*We are the tigers, the mighty, mighty tigers
Watch us soar, hear us roar
We use our paws to do great things
Positive, accountable, willing to help, successful
We are the tigers the mighty, mighty tigers
Watch us soar, hear us roar
ROOOOOAAAAARRRRRR!*

This year’s new PAWS Assembly will encourage school pride and positive traits. The Paws Patrol, along with our soon-to-be-named mascot, will be patrolling the halls and playgrounds looking for students doing good and willing to help others. Students will vote for a name for our new tiger mascot.

Thank you to Mrs. Marcy Christensen and the Reading teachers for a smooth and successful Acadiance reading test session!

Please contact our PTA if you would like to purchase a Starving Student Card to support our school.

North Elementary

North Elementary STEAM School would like to thank our PTA for the awesome turn out at our annual WatchDOGS pizza night on August 29th. We’d also like to thank our generous sponsors: North Elementary PTA, Culver’s, Sugar Nerd, Utah National Guard, SUU Athletics, Cedar City Fire Department, Rocky Ridge, Larson Financial, Kurt Built, Coco Prints, SUU Aviation, and the Cedar City Rotary Club. Your support makes a difference in the lives of kids!

Fiddlers Elementary

Our 2nd grade team won the Iron County School District Team of the Year at the opening institute. Congratulations to them and all their hard work!

We will soon be starting the Mustang Medallion award program that will push students that want to go above and beyond. More details coming soon!

East Elementary

East Elementary had our annual Back to School Luau this week. Students of all ages came with friends and parents to enjoy food and fun. Our wonderful PTA and teachers helped run events and hand out food. We also had several high school volunteers come and run each of the booths. One of the highlights of the day was the incredible three-legged race! Many were lucky enough to finish the race. Only a few came away with bumps and bruises! This was a great way to get our year off on the right foot at East!

Three Peaks Elementary

We would like to thank Mrs. Susan Parker for organizing our Dasher’s Club each year for the past six years. Every Tuesday and Thursday, students are given the opportunity to walk and/or run together on the track and record the number of miles they have progressed towards better health and wellness. Students receive a charm every 5 miles to wear proudly on a necklace. Last year, Three Peaks Elementary students ran over 12,000 miles collectively. Maybe this year we can break 15,000! Some students recorded over 80 miles by themselves. At the end of the year, all students who have run more than 25 miles are recognized in a celebration party.

The Utah Food Bank will be delivering food to Three Peaks Elementary on the first Wednesday of each month. Mobile School Pantry deliveries are only available to the students of Three Peaks and are completely free for families in need.

CARING FOR CLOTHES AND FABRICS

We have become accustomed to how easy it is to toss clothes, towels, sheets, etc. into the washer and dryer so we are doing laundry much more often than “in the olden days.” Back then, some people only had one change of clothes to wear during the week, one “Sunday best” set of clothes and maybe two–three pairs of shoes which meant only one day a week was necessary for doing laundry.

Fast forward to the here and now and one might wonder how often clothing and washable household items need to be laundered. According to the American Cleaning Institute (ACI), the sniff test may tell you if you wore enough deodorant or if you were in a smoke-filled environment but the test may not always indicate if you need to wash things like pants or sweaters. Please consider these tips provided by ACI to determine if it's time to wash bed sheets, shirts, underwear, etc. (See: <https://www.cleaninginstitute.org/cleaning-tips/clothes/laundry-basics/do-i-need-wash>)

- » Bed Sheets should be washed at least every two weeks, more often if you sweat a lot at night.
- » Pajamas should be washed after 3 or 4 wears (if you shower before bed, you may get a few more wears before washing.
- » Bath towels should be hung to dry between uses and washed after 3 to 5 normal uses. Towels need to be allowed to dry before they are used again. So, remember to hang up your towel after each use.

- » Underwear and Socks should be washed after each wearing.
- » Bras can be worn 2–3 times before washing. Be sure to give your bra a rest day in between wearing to give the elastic a chance to regain its shape.
- » T-shirts, tank tops and camisoles

Kathy's CORNER

by Kathleen RIGGS

UTAH STATE UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

should be washed after each wearing.

- » Outer clothes like dress shirts and khakis can be worn a few times before washing unless it is hot out and you are sweating or they are visibly dirty or stained.
- » Jeans can typically be worn 3 times before washing.
- » Leggings and tights should be washed after every wear to get rid of the baggy knees.
- » Suits can usually be worn several times during normal use before dry cleaning (3–4 times for wool and 4–5 times for synthetics). Depending on your lifestyle or environment you may need to dry clean more often. Smoky bars, smog, smelly environments or if your suit gets stained may mean that you need to clean them more often.

- » Bathing suits should be washed after every wear.

There are some exceptions to these general guidelines suggested by ACI as well–

- » Whites and silks are prone to discoloration and should be cleaned after every wear.
- » Clothes with stains should be washed, spot cleaned or dry cleaned as soon as possible– this will extend the garment's life which will be better in the long run since you won't need to replace the item until later.

Along with knowing how often to launder various clothing and household items, here are a few additional basic skills to help in caring for and extending the wearing life of clothes.

Sorting

Besides just keeping darks and whites separated, it helps to know how to group clothes for a washing load based on type of fabric, how soiled it is, suggested water temperature and whether it requires a gentle cycle.

Pre-treating stains

Treating a stain as soon as possible after the spill occurs better assures it will be removed. However, it is also important to know what type of stain it is. If you aren't sure, it's best to rinse or soak in cold water before treating or washing to make it easier to remove.

Finally, do your homework on the best type of laundry detergent for your laundry items and type of washing machine. Not all work the same so read the labels for all-purpose liquids and powders; pods; ultra-detergents, detergents with bleach and fragrance or dye-free brands. If you have questions, check out the website above or call your local USU Extension office for assistance.

YVC, Youth Advisory Board seek help with fundraisers

from Cindy ROSE

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Youth Volunteer Corps and the Youth Advisory Board of Cedar City are planning two fundraisers in an effort to make it to our Annual YVC Summit Conference this year. The event is in Kansas City and we have 6 Youth Advisory Board (YAB) members that are trying to earn their way there. All YVC affiliates from within the United States and Canada are invited to attend the Summit as a great opportunity to continue learning about making a difference in a positive way throughout our communities.

YAB will be assisting the staff at Wendy's on Friday, September 6th from 5:00-8:00 pm. For YAB to benefit from their fundraising attempt, you can drive through or dine in! Wendy's will give YAB a percentage of sales for their efforts. This is a great opportunity to interact with the YAB volunteers, learn more about them and more about what their efforts are in our community!

Then, on Monday, September 9th, from 5:00-7:00 pm the YAB will be assisting the staff at McDonalds in our fundraising efforts. Again, no worries about what to make for dinner, just head over to McDonalds and enjoy interacting with the YAB volunteers!

Fundraising efforts will come from dine in customers only, drive through does not count.

Instead of worrying about what to make for dinner, just attend our events and enjoy the time out. All you have to do is come eat and enjoy interacting with the YAB volunteers!

Also, on Saturday, September 7th, from 10:00 - 2:00 the Youth Volunteer Corps of Cedar City will be at Jones Paint & Glass washing cars, hosting a bake sale / bbq hot dogs and playing games. While this is a fundraiser for Youth Advisory Board - we are asking for donations only. There will be no set prices, donate what you choose! Please come have some lunch while your vehicle is getting clean and your kids can play some fun little games in support of the YVC/YAB programs. Thank you for your continued support in our efforts, we very much appreciate you!

YVC is a volunteer for any youth between the ages of 11 - 18. There is never a fee for anything that we do and the only commitment made is what you chose. Volunteer hours are tracked so when the time comes to apply for college, you have a "jump start" as community volunteer service hours are huge on those applications. What a great way to have fun, learn more about your community and collect volunteer hours.

OBITUARIES

Howard Molen Roper Jr

Howard Molen Roper Jr, husband, father, grandfather, great grandfather, brother, uncle and friend passed away peacefully after a courageous battle of pancreatic cancer surrounded by his family on August 25, 2019.

Howard was born on November 25, 1938, in Salem, Utah, to Howard Molen Sr and Lois Roper. He and his 5 siblings were raised on the family farm in Salem. He married Carolyn Huff (later divorced) together they had a daughter. He then married Mary Jane Deuel on February 12, 1965 in Spring Lake Utah. They were married for 54 years, together they had 3 children. He was a member of The Church of Jesus of Christ of Latter-day Saints.

The love for working on a farm never left him as he graduated from Spanish Fork High. He then went to Snow College and received an associate degree. He continued his education at Brigham Young University where he graduated in 1966 and started working for the Bureau of Reclamation, then moved to the Soil Conservation Service (Natural Resources Conservation Service). He worked for 33 years and retired in 1998. During his career, he moved his family to several cities around the state of Utah where he acquired many close friends. He retired while living in Cedar City. In 1963, he joined the Utah National Guard. He served in both the 1/116 Engineers in Springville and 2/222 FA in Cedar City. He retired in 1994 after 27 years of service. He took pride in serving his country.

He loved to spend time at Panguitch Lake. There are not many roads that he hasn't traveled around the Lake during all seasons of the year, whether by truck, snowmobile, or UTV. He loved making things out of wood; there was nothing that he couldn't build. All we had to do was say, "Dad, look at how cool this is!" and he would get to work and make us one. He loved spending time with MJ on the golf course. After retirement they moved to St. George. He loved providing service to various civic groups throughout his life. He was a member of the Elks Lodge for many years. He taught us all the meaning of hard work and if he didn't feel we were working hard enough he would let us know. He left his mark at the house complex they lived at, in doing many landscaping projects. He also spent many hours teasing his children, grandchildren and friends.

Howard is survived by his wife, Mary Jane Deuel Roper; children Janalee, Stephanie (Murray) Condie, Jason (Amy) Roper, Jamie (Sam) Rex; 2 brothers and 3 sisters. He had 13 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren. Preceded in death by his parents.

The family would like to thank the staff at Dixie Regional Medical Center for the care they provided. We also would like to thank Encompass Health for the care they provided in his last hours. In lieu of flowers the family ask that you donate to the Huntsman Cancer Center in his name.

Funeral services will be on Saturday, August 31, 2019, at the East Ridge Ward, located at 912 South 1740 East, St. George at 10:30 am. A viewing will be held at the same location on Friday August 30th from 7-8 pm and from 9:00-10:15 am prior to the service. Master we perish!

MATTHEW 8:23-27, LUKE 8:22-25

The story of Jesus miraculously calming the winds and the waves is both a gentle rebuke and compelling reminder to not only have faith in His power, but also in His love.

When they faced the daunting storm, the disciples panicked; especially when they saw Jesus sleeping. We each have our "Master, we perish!" moments in life. We want our storm to cease, but it seems to increase despite our prayers and pleas for rescue. Nevertheless, whenever we panic and become paralyzed by the storms of life, Jesus is still right there with us reminding us to be still.

Sometimes we may wish we'd never left the safety of the sure shore or the comfortable harbor, but as John A. Shedd said, "A ship in the harbor is safe, but that's not what ships are built for." That's not what our souls are built for either. We're not meant to suffer needlessly. We are meant to learn to turn to God and our Savior to help us endure the storms in our lives so that we may learn how to help others endure theirs. (2nd Corinthians 1:3-7)

For we all have to face storms in our lives; physical, emotional, spiritual, marital, financial, mental and health related. There are as many storms as there are sailors. And how often have we cried out in the midst of our storms; as we are sinking and drowning and feeling that no one can save us, let alone hear our cries to even know where we are?

It may be tempting to think that Jesus is also sleeping while we're suffering. Sometimes, I think He only appears to be sleeping to see if we will really turn to and rely on Him completely. It may also be tempting to think that because Jesus' rescue isn't instant that He is distant, indifferent or deaf to our cries for help. Speaking only from my own trials and tribulations upon the seas of life, Jesus is not indifferent or deaf, nor is He sleeping during our suffering. He is always listening for our cries for help.

He cares when we are suffering and He wants to be right there with us, always. Even when He does not rescue us right away, we must have faith and trust His will and keep sailing. It's been said that sometimes Jesus calms the storms, other times he calms the sailor, even when that sailor lacks wisdom and faith.

No matter who or where we are in life, we each need the Savior during our storms. After all, we have storm windows and storm shelters but what about safety from the storms in our minds and hearts? Where do we find shelter from the storms within? The same Jesus that rebuked the storm and calmed the seas long ago, can and will still rebuke the storms in your life today. The wind and the waves still know His name and He still knows yours.

Mustangs make history, beat Falcons

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

For the Crimson Cliffs Mustangs, a change of scenery – including the big stage at Trailblazer Stadium – made all the difference as the team made history on Aug. 30 in its Region 9 debut.

Curtis Sweeten produced three touchdowns, two coming in the fourth quarter, to lead Crimson Cliffs to a 33-13 victory over the Canyon View Falcons in the game played on the Dixie State campus in St. George.

The Falcons (0-1, 0-3) were able to strike first on a 22-yard touchdown pass by senior quarterback Brisin Jake, but the Mustangs found their groove with three second-quarter scores that included a 35-yard run from Sweeten. Quarterback Chase Hansen added two touchdown passes to Ammon Smith – the second coming on a 55-yard play with 6 seconds left – as Crimson Cliffs took a 19-6 lead at the half.

Canyon View crawled back within 19-13 as Tanner Hardin found the end zone from 7 yards out late in the third quarter, but Sweeten made sure the Mustangs were able to pull away and earn their first win as a program.

The Falcons will be on the road again this week as they travel to face the Pine View Panthers on Friday at 7 p.m.

PANTHERS SPOIL REDS HOME OPENER

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Knowing how high-powered Pine View was on offense, Cedar Reds head coach Josh Bennett had the plan in place to slow them down in the Region 9 and home opener Aug. 30.

While the mission was accomplished, the visiting Panthers showed enough defensive strength to deny the Reds from getting region play off on the right foot.

Iziah Moten returned a kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown and added a 76-yard reception from quarterback Macloud Crowton for another score, and the Pine View defense denied Cedar on three separate red zone trips on the way to a 23-13 victory.

“If we played a clean game, we may have won,” Bennett said. “Have to be able to find a way to get the ball in the end zone. We played an outstanding game defensively and we moved the ball well on offense.”

Both sides struggled with turnovers, but Cedar was able to strike first with a big play late in the first half. Quarterback Jaron Garrett found Tanner Esplin ahead of coverage and won the foot race to the end zone for an 80-yard touchdown and a 7-0 lead with five minutes left until the break.

But the Panthers had an immediate answer as Moten struck on the ensuing kickoff to tie the score 13 seconds later. Following a three-and-out on Cedar’s next series, Pine View was able to grab the momentum.

A bad snap forced a poor punt that gave the Panthers the ball at the Reds’ 27, and Jacob Nobili got outside to score on a 19-yard touchdown with 3:02 to play in the half for a 14-7 lead. Cedar was able to drive down the field with time winding down, but Dylan Becker picked off a Garrett pass at the PV 33 with the clock showing less than

Falcons drop pair of matches at home

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

For the briefest of moments Aug. 27, the light at the end of the tunnel was in sight as the Canyon View girls soccer team looked to break a lengthy winless streak in Region 9 play.

The Pine View Panthers overcame a pair of offensive surges by the Falcons and held on for a 7-5 shootout win to stay unbeaten in Region 9 play at 2-0-0. Canyon View fell behind 2-0 midway through the first half, but scored three times in 90 seconds – one each from Addie Newman, Cassidy Cox and Maddie Roberts – to take a 3-2 lead at the break.

Pine View responded with a three-goal flurry of its own in the first 12 minutes of the second half, but Canyon View had another counter-attack in them as Maia Florence hit a shot into the top corner of the net in the 53rd minute and Cox scored her second goal of the match three minutes later to knot the score again at 5-5.

In the 61st minute, the Panthers' Brynlee Johnston missed on a penalty kick, but didn't miss a second chance to score four minutes later as she beat Falcons goalkeeper Aspen Bergener in close to break the tie. PV added an insurance goal with 10 minutes left and walked away with the victory.

Defensive woes continued for Canyon View in its other game of the week as they dropped a 7-2 decision to Snow Canyon and fell to 0-3 in Region 9 play. The defending 4A state champions earned their first region win of the season.

Heidi Smith got the scoring started early for the Warriors as she scored on a penalty kick in the fourth minute. Snow Canyon would stretch the lead to 3-0 with a pair of goals in the 31st minute.

Canyon View got on the board in the 37th minute on a goal from Brylee Bergener, but a misplay allowed SC to answer with less than two minutes left and restore the three-goal edge.

The Warriors didn't waste any time pulling away, netting a pair of goals in the first three minutes of the second half and cruising to the win. Canyon View was able to score on a penalty kick late in the second half.

The Falcons had a Tuesday home game against Crimson Cliffs that was too late for press deadline, and they will face Dixie at home Thursday in a 4 p.m. kickoff.

Lady Reds soccer sweeps week's games

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Cedar Lady Reds earned a pair of wins on the pitch last week to erase the frustration from an opening loss to Dixie. Head coach Scott Kamachi believes his team is capable of more.

"We were doing positive things and got some goals, but it just wasn't good enough to beat some of the teams we're going to see in region," he said. "We need to play a little better soccer with a little better possession."

Kelsi Oldroyd scored twice as Cedar ran past Pine View, 5-1, on Aug. 29 and improved to 2-1-0 in Region 9 play. The Lady Reds opened the week with a 4-1 home win over new region school

Crimson Cliffs.

Against the Panthers, Cedar took a 3-0 lead at the half and got additional goals from Emily Schuh, Logann Laws and Lexi Bird on a penalty kick. Pine View's lone goal came in the second half from Katelyn Leavitt in the loss.

The Lady Reds got off to a similar fast start in its other game of the week against the Mustangs, taking a 2-0 halftime lead before adding on and securing the win. Laws scored twice to lead Cedar while Bird and Becca Boyer added the other goals.

Cedar faced Hurricane at home Tuesday in a game that was too late for press deadline. They will continue the home stand by welcoming Region 9 leader Desert Hills on Thursday.

2019 SUU Position Preview: Linebackers

by Bryson LESTER

SUU ATHLETICS STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

CEDAR CITY — The position group with the most production to fill heading into the 2019 campaign is arguably the linebackers.

Last season, linebackers Chinedu Ahanonu and Taylor Nelson made the bulk of Southern Utah's tackles.

Ahanonu finished the year as the team's leader, compiling 92 total tackles, 11 tackles for loss and two sacks over the course of the season. Nelson finished second on the team with 83 total tackles, 11.5 tackles for loss and four fumble recoveries.

"We've got some play makers, but right now were still working on fitting into the defensive system," SUU linebackers coach Solomon Tapasa said. "But we're getting better every day."

This group of linebackers has a good mix of experience and youth to put out on the field.

Nela Otukolo missed the 2018 campaign, but the transfer from Fresno State is anticipated to play a sizeable role for the Thunderbirds this upcoming season.

Players like Alex Sims, Quaid Murray, Jayden Clark, Jordan Walker and Jedadiah Lulu have all played a number of snaps for the Thunderbirds, and are all vying for playing time this upcoming year.

Walker finished with 29 tackles last season, quickly followed by Quaid Murray who had 27. Sims played a number of snaps for the Thunderbirds in 2017 en route to a Big Sky Conference title.

"All of them have bought in, and all of them know their role," Tapasa said. "They know that no matter where I throw them, they're going to fit in; they understand every single position. They've picked it up so far. They just need to stick to what they know and what they've been taught and this group will be able to surprise a lot of people," he added.

Keep tabs on the Thunderbirds throughout the entire Big Sky Kickoff by following @SUUFB on Twitter and Instagram and by liking the Southern Utah Football page on Facebook.

Season Tickets and Single Game Tickets are currently available to purchase at the America First Event Center Ticket Office and at www.tbirdtickets.com.

SUU LINEBACKER QUAID MURRAY is looking forward to tackling his way to helping the Thunderbirds have a victorious season.

Cedar's Ursua makes Seahawks final roster

John Ursua was only at Cedar High for his senior season, but it was a memorable one that helped him get noticed. He played quarterback for the Reds as they made a run to the 2011 3A semifinals, but switched to wide receiver when he played in college.

With the NFL preseason complete, Ursua is on his first NFL roster and will play as a wide receiver for the Seattle Seahawks. The seventh-round draft choice out of Hawaii not only made the team, but is drawing comparisons to Doug Baldwin, the man he hopes to replace on a regular basis going forward.

According to a USA Today story, Ursua is being compared as similar to Baldwin for his "size, speed and being a lightly regarded receiving prospect." It's something the 5-foot-9 receiver embraces with little problem.

"I get a lot of those comparisons and it's just such an honor to be compared to somebody that great and somebody who has accomplished so much in the league and in this organization," Ursua said to 710 ESPN in Seattle.

To an even greater extent, there aren't a lot of players who come from Hawaii and achieve success in the NFL. Combine that with Ursua's size, and it's all the motivation he needs.

"I have so much to prove wrong and it's super fun to show that I'm capable of doing this," Ursua said.

The Seahawks will host the Cincinnati Bengals at CenturyLink Field on Sunday in the regular-season opener. If Ursua can see the football thrown his way enough from quarterback Russell Wilson, those comparisons to Baldwin may become even clearer than before.

Watch for all NFL matchups that will be shown locally on TV every Wednesday on ironcounty-today.com.

In other news at Cedar High, the girls soccer team shook off a rough region beginning by sweeping two wins last week at home against Crimson Cliffs and Pine View. Knowing the Panthers had scored seven goals in a win at Canyon View two days earlier, I asked head coach Scott Kamachi what was different about them this time around?

His first thought was logical when the seven goals were mentioned.

"You mean that baseball score?" Kamachi joked.

Kamachi is right in that respect. You see 7-5 games on a baseball or softball diamond far more than on the pitch.

It would be more than enough as Crowton hooked up with Moten on a 20-yard pass that was just enough for A.J. McCarrroll to hit a 41-yard field goal on the final play and push the advantage to 17-7 at the break.

Pine View got the ball first to start the second half, and Moten delivered the big play on the first play from scrimmage to give the Panthers a 23-7 lead.

Cedar wasn't without its chances to get back into the game, but the Pine View defense held firm. The Reds had their best opportunity early in the fourth quarter, but were denied on a fourth down at the Panther 1-yard line with 9:37 left. Cedar got its lone score of the second half when Garrett found Ben Ellis from 4 yards out with 3:32 to play, but the two-point conversion was missed.

The Reds will host Dixie on Friday at 7 p.m. The Flyers are flying high after a 62-36 win over Desert Hills last week in its region opener.
