HUMAN REMAINS IDENTIFIED

from Sergeant Clint POLLOCK

CEDAR CITY POLICE DEPARTMENT

CEDAR CITY — On Saturday December 28, 2019, officers from the Cedar City Police Department were summoned to a drainage tunnel that runs underneath I-15 in Cedar City. Officers were called there in reference to the discovery of human remains. The remains were discovered by two juveniles who had been walking through the area. They reported the discovery to their parents who then called the police. Investigators from the Cedar City Police department along with representatives from the Iron County Sheriff's Office and the Office of the Medical examiner recovered the skeletal remains and sent the body to the Medical Examiner's office for an autopsy.

During the autopsy, a wallet containing identification belonging to Johnny Rollins was discovered. Additionally, dental records confirmed that the deceased subject was Johnny Dale Rollins of Cedar City. Mr. Rollins was reported missing from his home in March of 2018. At the time he was reported missing, family members indicated that Mr. Rollins had health issues related to a previous stroke as well as early stages Alzheimer's. Mr. Rollins was known to walk great distances around the Cedar City area. Multiple searches for Mr. Rollins were conducted at the time he went missing without success. At this time, it is difficult to determine what caused Mr. Rollins' death. There was nothing located at the scene and nothing found during the autopsy that would lead investigators to believe there was foul play. Our condolences go out to the Rollins' family and friends during this time.

County Sexual and Domestic Violence Coalition presents 'A Better Way to Teach Kids About Sex'

from Roxy BURKHART

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

CEDAR CITY — The Iron County Sexual and Domestic Violence Prevention Coalition will present 'A Better Way to Teach Kids About Sex' by Dr. Chelom Leavitt. This seminar will take place at the Canyon View High School Auditorium on Friday, January 17, 2020 at 6:30pm.

According to the National Sexual Violence Resource Center, one in four girls and one in six boys will be sexually abused before they turn 18 years old. However, it is estimated that at least 95% of sexual abuse is preventable through education and awareness. Teaching kids about sex in a healthy and informed way is a critical protective factor and violence prevention tool.

For generations, parents have had the best of intentions when teaching children and youth about sexuality. Despite meaning well, many parents have lacked the essential tools and knowledge needed to arm their children to navigate their own sexuality and prepare for a healthy and joyous view of sexual wholeness. Dr. Chelom Leavitt, Human Development and Family Studies expert and Brigham Young University faculty member, will address the spiritual, physical and emotional dimensions of sexual wholeness as well as teach skills to help individuals gain confidence in discussing sensitive topics with children in this must-attend seminar.

Admission is free and the intended audience is any individual aged 18 and older. The skills taught in this workshop are applicable not just to parents, but to anyone that interacts with, cares for, or wishes to advocate for the health and wellbeing of children and youth. Dr. Leavitt regularly leads workshops and speaks on issues about marriage, relationships and sexuality.

Born and raised in Yakima, Washington, Dr. Leavitt began her college education at Brigham Young University studying Economics. She then attended law school at BYU. She finished a master's degree in Marriage, Family and Human Development at BYU in 2010. She received her PhD at Penn State in the Human Development and Family Studies department. Dr.

Leavitt recently accepted a faculty position at Brigham Young University in the School of Family Life. She is the co-author of the books, "A Better Way to Teach Kids About Sex" and "Sexual Wholeness in Marriage". Dr. Leavitt has been married to David Leavitt for 28 years and they have 7 children.

The Coalition welcomed Dr. Leavitt for this seminar in 2018 and is looking forward to her second visit to Cedar City. Members of the Coalition hope that community members will see the need for this event and commit to educating themselves on this crucial and commonly overlooked topic. The Iron County Sexual and Domestic Violence Coalition engages the local community in collaboration to raise awareness and prevention of sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. The coalition meets monthly and anyone is welcome to join. Please contact icsdvpc@gmail.com for more information.

Better together.

Gubernatorial Candidate offers support for tax referendum

from Caroline BENA
FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

IRON COUNTY — Speaking to a crowded room of voters at the Cedar City Library on Friday, Republican Gubernatorial Candidate Aimee Winder Newton offered energetic support for the Utah Tax Referendum and took questions about some of the biggest issues facing the state.

“I am running for governor because I don’t want Utah to become the next California,” Winder Newton told the crowd. “Our state is at a pivotal moment, and we can seize it.”

A former eight-year planning commissioner, Winder Newton understands the way Utah’s rapid growth will impact housing affordability, water and transportation infrastructure, and air quality. To help manage growth issues, she will restore a planning component as a key function of the governor’s office. “Decisions regarding transportation, housing, and infrastructure can no longer happen in silos,” she said.

The visit was part of a series of meet and greets hosted by the campaign to share Winder Newton’s conservative vision for Utah. She answered questions about workforce development, tax reform, education, and water issues.

As governor, Winder Newton will work with all stakeholders to find fair solutions for tax reform, particularly when it comes to choosing which service-based businesses should fall under the sales tax. “It won’t be based on who has the best lobbyist,” Winder Newton said.

Winder Newton has traveled to all 29 counties and is in the process of collecting 28,000 signatures from registered Republican voters to qualify for the ballot.

Suspect in 15-year-old sexual assault case arrested in Arizona

from Sergeant Clint POLLOCK
CEDAR CITY POLICE DEPARTMENT

CEDAR CITY — Coconino County Sheriff’s Office (AZ) arrested 58-year-old David Louis Slade of Eagar, AZ for a sexual assault committed in 2003 in their jurisdiction. Slade was identified as the suspect in a sexual assault committed in Cedar City stemming from a case in 2004 through DNA.

In July 2004, the 18-year-old victim had reported an unknown male suspect entered her apartment, held her against her will and sexually assaulted her. Detectives gathered DNA evidence left by the suspect where a DNA profile was obtained, but the suspect was not identified.

The DNA profile from both the Cedar City case and the Coconino County case were submitted independently to databases. The database found that the DNA profile from both cases were from the same suspect, but that suspect was unidentified. The cases had remained unsolved.

In late December of 2019, the Coconino County Sheriff’s Office obtained a DNA sample from Slade and sent it to the Arizona DPS Crime Lab where they found that it matched to the suspect in both sexual assault cases from 2003 (AZ) and 2004 (Cedar City).

Thursday January 2, 2020, Arizona Law Enforcement officers arrested Slade. Cedar City Police Detectives were notified of the match from the DNA and the arrest of Slade. Cedar City Police Detectives have started the process to submit for charges through the Iron County Attorney’s Office.

Slade is being held at the Coconino County Jail on charges of Kidnapping, Burglary and Sexual Assault from their case.

The Cedar City Police Department would like to thank all the agencies involved in the identification, location, and arrest of Slade.

OPINION

From the Editor

Batten down the hatches

New years are usually accompanied by new goals, increased motivation and a desire to do better than previous years. New years, even new days, can also bring with them new challenges; storms that can try even the best mortal mariners.

This year, both the goal and the challenge for the Iron County Today is to find additional reporters for our newspaper. It's difficult to provide good content without good people and I know you're out there. With that being said, the Good Ship Iron County Today will continue to sail forward. However, we don't want to do so without your help.

COREY BAUMGARTNER
MANAGING EDITOR

If you enjoy or want to attend and report on City Council meetings and other political events, we need you. If you have a passion for reporting on law enforcement, the fire department and other first responders, we have a place for you. Perhaps you'd like to write about personal stories of people in our community who have overcome personal challenges, or those who have or are trying to accomplish a significant goal or dream in life; we want your talents, also.

The bottom line, if you'd like to share your care and concern for our community and help make it better through your talent of writing, reporting and photographing, we invite and encourage you to reach out and share your time and talents with us and the amazing people and communities throughout Iron County.

You can send an e-mail to me at news@ironcountytoday.com, call me 435-867-1865 x6, or stop by the office 389 N 100 W. I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

Thought of the Week from the desk of R. Gail Stahle, publisher

"I refuse to accept the view that mankind is so tragically bound to the starless midnight of racism and war that the bright daybreak of peace and brotherhood can never become a reality... I believe that unarmed truth and unconditional love will have the final word."

One little idea for making a big difference

OK, world peace may be a little too much to hope for this year. And maybe even wishing for national unity is a bit ambitious. It's hard to unify a group that is so incredibly different. And so opinionated. And on occasion, so rude.

So, I'm hoping for one little improvement in the world this year. One little attitude change. One little outlook adjustment.

I'm hoping for a return of respect.

I know. It's been hoped for before. And written and even sung about. But if hope is the first step, then let's take it.

I hope that even if you disagree with me, you won't stop reading this newspaper.

And I hope that even if I disagree with you, I won't walk away. Or say, change the channel. Or send a mean tweet. Because the first step to respect is to listen.

There is so much to hear these days.

And with the rise in universal access to information and the accompanying rise in universal access to sharing our own insights on that information, we have too often found it possible to be judgmental of what we hear. Then critical. Even insulting. We are, quite simply, losing our reserve. And it is costing us.

It happens with kids who are too young to know better. Somebody does something that bothers somebody else and there is a yell or a hit or a demand that somebody be taken to account. But then we grow up. Usually. And we learn not to throw things.

Or say mean things.

And then the comment section came along. And anonymity. And Twitter. And things changed back. Even for people who are old enough to know better.

And then, with the ability to reach so many people so easily, came the ability of piling on. Whether it's an unpopular movie review or a judgement on a political mis-step or a personal issue, the whole world could gang up on the most innocent mistake or most well-intentioned effort.

As a reporter covering city council meetings, I would occasionally see what happens when there is a mass lack of reserve. While many meetings were just business as usual, every once in a while there

RESPONSIBLE REFORM

The opinions stated in this article are solely those of the author and not of Iron County Today.

I was recently asked if a Democrat would be elected to a statewide office during my lifetime. If I were 16-years old, I'd agree it was a possibility. But as a senior citizen, I see no pathway for a Democrat barring Jon Huntsman's affiliating as a Democrat candidate...and that won't happen any sooner than Nancy Pelosi joining Pres. Trump's cabinet.

That doesn't mean, however, that the Republicans in Utah should confidently pound their chests. The natives are restless since the GOP-dominated legislature passed its tax reform

Cyclops

by Bryan GRAY

bill lathering a host of easy-to-see taxes with the promise of an income tax cut and "do no harm" commitments to the poor and Utah's schools.

As I have written before, I am in support of taxing groceries; everyone – even low-income families – should have some skin in the game. But the optics of the Republican-passed bills are as pleasant as a smell at the county dump. An ex-lawmaker who supports the bill confessed that, "the legislature often does a good job of analyzing and passing decent legislation but does a lousy job of explaining it to people, and it doesn't help that that Republicans ignored the written will of the people and rewrote the Medicaid expansion and medical marijuana referendums. There are certain legislative seats where Republicans could pay a price."

The tax reform bill began with the stated purpose of addressing the lost sales tax from service-based companies and internet purchases. This noble beginning was quickly shut down by the industry lobbyists, meaning the legislators had to find new channels to bolster sales tax revenue.

Taxing groceries was always part of the plan. But when lobbyists from the service sector applied the brakes, legislators turned to taxing gasoline. While a few of the services didn't avoid the taxman, the bulk of the tax – gasoline and groceries – are easily seen by Utahns on a daily basis. In fact, the gas tax due for implantation on April 1, will add about eleven cents per gallon.

To show that Republicans are fiscally responsible and against tax hikes, the plan included a decrease in income tax rates, an adjustment not as noticeable as grocery and gasoline sales tax hikes and one that appears to benefit high-income earners rather than average families. The plan also rewarded large families by increasing their tax deduction per child, angering many senior citizens and couples who produce fewer kids.

Republicans will claim that the tax reform bill will still benefit middle-income families, and that reducing the reliance on income tax which by state law is directed solely to public education will not harm school funding.

The problem? I don't think most people believe them. This was shown in a comment in the Standard-Examiner newspaper in which a letter writer said, "I don't believe much of them anymore. Most everybody I talk to at work doesn't agree with the tax plan."

Then it doesn't help that as of this writing all of the Republican candidates for governor have come out against their party's own plan. (Lt. Gov. Spencer Cox couldn't take a stand because his office will oversee referendum petitions to stop the tax plan.) I expect former Speaker of the House Greg Hughes will actually support the plan when he announces his candidacy, but the environment doesn't favor former legislative leaders who helped concoct this plan.

The arduous attempt to temporarily halt the plan through citizen petitions (116,000 signatures by January 21) faces an uphill climb. But that doesn't mean Utahns are happy about the new tax plan. If the Democrats came to their senses and campaigned against it as a single-issue, a handful of Republican legislators might feel unease this November. And it would be their own fault!

Red Cross and NFL team up give donors chance to win trip to Super Bowl

by Cynthia DE LA TORRE

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The American Red Cross currently has a critical need for blood donors of all blood types – especially type O – to make an appointment now to give and help replenish the blood supply after the holiday weeks. Right now, the Red Cross has less than a three-day supply of type O blood. To help tackle the critical need, the Red Cross and NFL are working together to offer one lucky winner a trip to Super Bowl LIV in Miami.

During the weeks of Christmas and New Year's, about 500 fewer blood drives were hosted by volunteer sponsor groups than required to meet patient needs. Many groups postpone blood drives during the winter holidays when travel and holiday activities may make it challenging for many donors to give. In fact, AAA estimated that a record 115.6 million Americans traveled during the holiday period of Dec. 21 through Jan. 1.

"Lifesaving medical treatments and emergencies never take a holiday," said Paul Sullivan, senior vice president, Red Cross Biomedical Services. "Declines in donations can affect patient care. That's why the Red Cross is encouraging eligible donors to make an appointment to give now and help those sidelined by illness and trauma."

Donors are urged to make an appointment to give now using the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org, calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enabling the Blood Donor

"We hope this may inspire some to make regular blood one of their New Year's resolutions"

» Paul Sullivan, Red Cross

Skill on any Alexa Echo device.

As a special thank-you, those who come to give blood Jan. 1-19, 2020, will automatically be entered for a chance to experience the Super Bowl live. The Red Cross and NFL have teamed up to offer one winner two tickets to Super Bowl LIV, entry to the official NFL Tailgate, tickets to Super Bowl Experience at the Miami Beach

Convention Center, round-trip airfare to Miami, three-night hotel accommodations at The Alexander® - All Suite Oceanfront Resort (Jan. 31 to Feb. 3), and a $500 gift card for expenses.* Additional details are available at RedCrossBlood.org/SuperBowl.

"The Red Cross appreciates the NFL's support during this crucial time of year when every donation – and every donor – matters. We hope this may inspire some to make regular blood one of their New Year's resolutions," said Sullivan.

Utah Legislative Update

Greetings,

We are grateful to each of you for carefully studying the incredibly important issue of tax reform in the state of Utah, and for not buying into soundbites and rhetoric. The words "tax" and "law" appear to cause strong emotions in some, and in turn, those emotions can overwhelm reason and fact. It's been disappointing and difficult to see how a few with inaccurate, misleading, or totally false information can significantly run over the top of reason and data, particularly on social media. We appreciate you for not buying into the emotion, and sticking to logic and fact.

Tax law, by nature, is definitely complicated. We both as your Legislative representatives want to try and summarize the tax reform bill for you as concisely as possible so you have the direct facts. A summary of the bill can be found at: <https://le.utah.gov/interim/2019/pdf/2019s2SB2001sub4.pdf>

Tax Reform

SB 2001, Tax Restructuring Revisions, enacts many changes to our tax code. We will share just a few high-level points here, but you can also read the whole bill or the detailed summary of what the bill does, as well.

The tax reform package recently passed in the Utah Legislature created a $160 million ongoing net tax cut plus an additional one-time $80 million tax cut for the 2021 fiscal year. The change that will have the biggest impact in this bill is the income tax cut. The individual and corporate income tax rates were reduced from 4.95 percent down to 4.66 percent for everyone.

Additionally, we expanded the "Utah Dependent Exemption" from $565 to $2,500. Many of our families were negatively impacted by the federal tax reform bill of 2017 when the U.S. Congress eliminated tax credits for dependents. This change in SB 2001 will be a great help to our families. Those who are eligible to receive this credit will receive a rebate check in the mail early in 2020 based on 2018 tax filing.

An important part of stabilizing our revenue was restoring the full sales tax on unprepared food. We understand this can be burdensome to some of our population, which is why we created a "Grocery Tax Credit" for low-to-middle income residents. The grocery tax credit is a $125 refundable income tax credit for each member of the household. Those families and individuals at or below 100 percent of the Federal Poverty Line (FPL) will be able to receive a portion of the credit early, as a pre-bate if you will, in the form of a check in the mail in July 2020, to further offset the tax rate restoration.

It needs to be clear that the sales tax on food only affects unprepared food groceries, NOT things like toilet paper, deodorant, paper towels, or other things we would buy at a grocery store. We already pay sales tax on prepared food, like at a fast food outlet, a convenience store or even in the deli at the grocery store. It also needs to be clear that many of our low-to-middle income households will receive more money in tax credits than they will spend on the food tax. Currently we pay 1.75% on groceries, and this change will take that tax to 4.85% on unprepared food groceries. But the bill provides a $125 grocery tax credit per qualifying person for up to $4,033 in unprepared food groceries. A qualifying family of four would receive $500 through the grocery tax credit which more than covers the sales tax on $16,129 of unprepared food groceries.

Social Security Income Tax

We both have heard from a number of our retired constituents about taxes reliable and equitable manner. The Utah Department of Transportation (UDOT) is researching potential solutions on ways to implement a fair, true user fee and is required to report on the current status of user fees annually. Once net revenues from a user fee reach a certain level that is relative to what is generated by the sales tax on motor fuel, the Legislature will look at reducing the sales tax on motor fuel.

Services

We're seeing that younger generations are more likely to spend money on services and experiences, rather than things. As we move to a service-based economy we need to make sure we create a consistent approach for our businesses. Currently, a limited number of service industries collect and remit sales tax. This bill brings more service industries under that umbrella. It is important that we level the playing field for our businesses. The list is very small and not a major in public education by moving income tax money previously used for higher education back to public education, and then replaced that money in higher ed with sales tax money. This is very important to understand because it holds public education harmless.

Some myths that are being spread on social media:

1. "The bill taxes all services." This is false and refers to a failed bill in the 2019 general session. SB 2001 requires sales tax on a very small list of services, i.e. Uber and Lyft.
2. "The bar and scatter chart included in the detailed summary of the bill, which outlines the net reduction in tax burden on individuals and families, does not take into consideration the amount of increase that would have to be spent through the sales tax on food and gas tax." This is false. Those charts use a percentage of income based on family size to estimate grocery tax and gas tax. Those percentages come from the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Expenditure Surveys put out by the federal government.
3. "This bill is a tax increase." This is false and in fact this bill is the largest net tax cut in state history and will give $240 million back to taxpayers in the first year of the bill.
4. "Nobody but the politicians support this bill." This is false. The fact is many organizations have done an independent evaluation of the impacts of this bill and strongly support it, including the Utah Taxpayers Association, Sutherland Institute, AARP, Utah Cultural Alliance, Utah Association of Counties, Utah Tourism Industry Association, Wasatch Front Regional Council, Utah League of Cities and Towns, Utah Association of Public Charter Schools and the Utah Bankers Association.

Please read both the statement from the Utah Taxpayer Association, as well as the Tax Restructuring Revisions so you can see them for yourself.

We sincerely hope that this information helps you better understand the tax reform bill and what it does and does not do. Thank you for taking the time to truly understand the bill and its intent to help our state and ultimately taxpayers. Please take great caution when you see the information on social media, and carefully research this issue. We both appreciate your educated approach and feedback and wanted to ensure you have the truth about the bill so you can make your own informed decision.

Sincerely,

Senator Evan Vickers

on Social Security Income. This bill creates an income tax credit for Social Security retirement income. We think this is a real highlight of this bill and it will benefit our retired citizens who are living on a fixed income. This means most Utahns living on SSI will no longer pay income tax on Social Security at all.

As a final highlight on the tax credits created under the bill, we created an Earned Income Tax Credit for those experiencing intergenerational poverty.

Transportation Funding

It is essential that we properly maintain our infrastructure. Road maintenance and construction are best funded by true user fees. The gas tax is currently the best option we have for a user fee, but it is certainly not the perfect solution. As we see more hybrid and electric vehicles on our roads, we see a decline in gas tax revenue, even though there are more cars than ever on the road. As a temporary fix, we adjusted the gas tax to better fund transportation, but we need to transition to a true user fee option in order to fund infrastructure in a portion of the bill. It does NOT include many of the things that I have seen on social media, for example, it does not include piano lessons, snow removal, haircuts, etc.

Education Funding

To create more funding for education this year, we shifted higher education funding from the income tax fund to the general fund, allowing more money to be rededicated to K-12 education. Education funding is an investment in the future of Utah. We have increased new spending on public education by $1.2 billion in the last four years, and that trend will continue. We did not address the constitutional earmark on income for funding education during the special session. We also did not change anything with regard to property tax. This is something we will continue to work on and research as we look for more stable, flexible options that can offer more funding for education.

To make sure you know, we reduced income tax money through a major tax reduction, but we offset that loss

Curtis Statement on Death of Qasem Soleimani

PROVO — Rep. John Curtis (R-UT), member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, released the following statement on the death of Qasem Soleimani:

“Qasem Soleimani was responsible for the deaths of hundreds of Americans in Iraq and elsewhere; the State Department puts the official figure at 603. With reports of Soleimani actively plotting more attacks against the US, the President acted decisively to protect countless lives including our service members, diplomats, and everyday citizens.”

Sen. Lee Statement on Strike Against General Soleimani

SALT LAKE CITY — Sen. Mike Lee (R-UT) issued the following statement Friday morning after learning about the killing of Iranian General Qasem Soleimani:

“The death of Qasem Soleimani is a big victory for the safety of the American people. Thankfully, no Americans were harmed by last night’s missile attack. Whether further military action is warranted is a question that should be answered by Congress. The U.S. should seek to deescalate these raised tensions and I will continue to push to bring our troops back from the region.”

President Trump's action against terrorist general authorized by Congress

FAIRFAX, VA — Americans for Limited Government President Rick Manning has issued the following statement commenting on a resolution by Sen. Tim Kaine (D-Va.) on war powers:

“Here are facts everyone can agree on. Congress in 2002 authorized the use of military force in Iraq and to secure Iraq internally. And President Trump, like Obama and Bush before him, used force in Iraq against an enemy combatant on Iraqi soil who was fomenting war against the U.S. through the attack on our embassy and other attacks on U.S. and Iraqi forces. The President’s decision to target the terrorist general Soleimani is authorized under current law, and would remain so authorized even under the resolution being proposed by Sen. Tim Kaine, which allows for force otherwise authorized by Congress.”

“The President’s decision to have a measured economic response to Iran’s failed missile attack that resulted in no casualties yesterday shows his deep desire for peace. President Trump was right in taking out the single person most responsible for fomenting terrorism throughout the Middle East and indeed in much of the world. The Iranian regime knows with absolute certainty now that when this President says he won’t allow a nuclear Iran that he means it, and the world is safer today than it was a week ago.”

Influenza Death Confirmed in Southwest Utah

ST. GEORGE — The Southwest Utah Public Health Department (SWUPHD) has confirmed a recent influenza-related death of a resident of the five-county district. The individual was an adult under the age of 65 who was infected with influenza type A.

“We have had 36 people hospitalized from the flu this season,” reports Kassidy Peterson, SWUPHD Epidemiologist. “Their ages range from infants to the elderly. It’s not too late to get vaccinated and we urge everyone to do so, especially those whose age or health condition makes them more vulnerable.”

Type A and B influenza viruses cause epidemics almost every winter in the United States. Influenza is contagious and can spread by droplets from infected people when they talk, cough, or sneeze.

Symptoms may include rapid onset of fever, chills, cough, sore throat, muscle or body aches, headache, fatigue, and vomiting and diarrhea (although this is more common in children than adults). People at high risk of flu complications, such as young children, adults 65 years of age and older, pregnant women, and people with chronic medical conditions should consult their doctor if they are experiencing flu symptoms.

The best way to prevent seasonal influenza is to get vaccinated every year. Flu shots are still available at your nearest SWUPHD office. Visit swuhealth.org/flu for locations and more information.

Sen. Lee Introduces Abortion is Not Healthcare Act

WASHINGTON — Sen. Mike Lee (R-UT) today introduced the Abortion is Not Healthcare Act, a bill that would prevent the tax deductibility of abortions.

The IRS currently categorizes abortion as “medical care” and allows taxpayers to include abortions as qualifying out-of-pocket medical expenses on their tax returns.

“The government should not offer tax benefits for a procedure that kills hundreds of thousands of unborn children each year, nor should taxpayers subsidize such a practice. This undermines the truth that all human beings have dignity and worth, and that the purpose of healthcare is to heal and care for them – not kill them,” said Sen. Lee. “Our bill would end the preferential tax treatment of abortion and clarify that this gruesome practice is not healthcare.”

Specifically, the bill would amend Section 213 of the Internal Revenue Code to prohibit abortion expenses from being considered as eligible for a medical expense deduction.

IDEA

would be a controversy that would bring out the public.

Too often, the first one at the microphone would say something to the council members like, “I can’t believe you are doing this.” The second one, somewhat emboldened, would say “You are ruining my life” and the third one would say “How can you look yourself in the mirror?” and the last one would say “You should be run out of office.”

Because when one person says something, it’s all too easy for the next person to say something a bit meaner and then the next person to say something even meaner still.

And that is happening times a thousand in America right now.

And we become mean spirited people instead of people listening with reserve and respect and working together for unity. And world peace.

There is still hope for us.

We can still listen and learn. With interest and compassion even.

And if we do, it will make the world a better place.

I promise.

Parowan celebrates 169 years of history

by Gail HARRIS

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

"On the thirteenth day of January Eighteen Fifty-One, the seeds of Earth, awaited birth Beneath the winter sun, Into this frozen valley Came a hardy Mormon band And they headed south, to the canyon's mouth And said, 'This is our land.'" (LaMar Jensen)

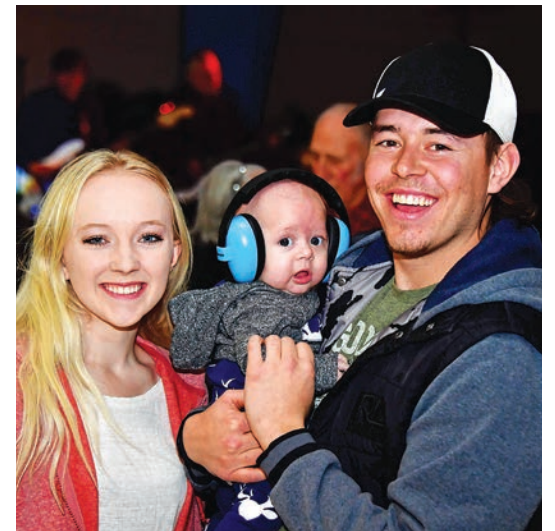

Parowan's 169th birthday celebration theme was, "Now and Then: Celebrating 1920 in 2020." Parowan was the first settlement of southern Utah. Settlers first arrived on January 13, 1851, just 12 months after Parley P. Pratt and members of his exploring party discovered the Little Salt Lake Valley and nearby deposits of iron ore. The Birthday Ball has been celebrated every year since 1851. Traditionally, it was a formal ball, formal dress and an orchestra. The Birthday Ball is now a community event that is still sponsored by the Latter-day Saint Stake Activities Committee, members: Debbie Johnson, Heather Mineer, Dusty Benson, Joyce Evans, and Cindy Shelton.

The celebration opened with an element of glamour being added to the traditional, "Sage and greasewood stirrup high, A lake of salt and alkali" (Parowan Song, LaMar Jensen). The dance floor was alive with kids and older folk all dancing up a storm to live music by "Muddy Boots." There was a floor show: Color Country Cloggers, Boyd Moss singing, "Parowan Valley," Chloe Church and Brentlee Mineer dancing to "Swing," and the youth dancing to "Five Foot Two." People come from near and far, old and young, to dance to live music, enjoy delicious refreshments, and just cut loose to celebrate their town.

On Monday, January 13th, at 9:30 a.m. Parowan High and Parowan Elementary schools combined to teach students the importance of heritage through song and dance. This long-standing tradition is one that began early in Parowan's settlement and is one of the most cherished events in the town's history. It is not uncommon to hear the retelling of stories and memories of past celebrations as the young students circled up to dance "The Hokey Pokey" while the seniors danced the Country Swing. The culminating crowd pleaser was the announcement of "Parowan's Citizen of the Year" who, with Parowan Mayor Griffiths, led the Grand March. This year it was Pastor Rob Bernhardt. Brad Remund was announced as Parowan's City Employee of the Year.

During the annual town meeting Sandra Benson talked about the history of Parowan from 1920 to today and Karen Miller talked about the history of music through the past century and its impact on Parowan. Parowan's Birthday Party ended with a luncheon organized by Parowan City Events Coordinator, Jet Smith.

"Their sons and daughters soon would leave, just as they do today, to colonize, make cities rise, from near to far away.... and it all began with Parowan, The Mormon Mother Town.

Artist Mini-Grant Applications due Feb. 29

by Shaylene BARUFFI-JENSEN

FOR MORGAN COUNTY NEWS

CEDAR CITY — The Cedar City Arts Council works to promote and support local art and artists and arts organizations. We encourage individual artists and arts organizations to apply for the Artists' Mini-Grants Awards up to $500. Applications are due February 28, 2020. The grant application and additional information are available at <http://www.cedarcityartscouncil.org/support/quick-grants/>. A free grants workshop is available on Saturday, Jan. 18, at the Cedar City Library from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. CCAC Board members will be available to assist with mini-grant applications.

Mini-grant funds may be used for multiple purposes. Former awards have been used to purchase supplies or equipment and rent displays or performance venues. Funding may be useful in supporting mileage or registration costs to attend educational conferences or training sessions, purchasing promotional advertising, applying for your 501(c)3, or other needs as revealed in the grant application. Our goal is to broaden our cultural landscape through unusual, unique, and innovative ideas, events, and projects. We appreciate ideas that have a positive connection to the community and an apparent benefit for the Cedar City/Iron County public.

It is helpful to include samples of previous work with the application. The Cedar City Arts Council Grants Committee reviews the applications and is happy to offer several grants every cycle. There are two grant cycles per year. Members of the Cedar City Arts Council help fund this project with their memberships to increase the mini-grant offerings for our area. Membership information is available at <http://www.cedarcityartscouncil.org/support/membership/>. CCAC also appreciates grant support through the Cedar City RAP funds and the Utah Department of Arts and Museums.

The Cedar City Arts Council now provides the opportunity to become a sustaining mini-grant sponsor. We offer five different levels of sponsorship that range anywhere from a one-time giving of $50-$250 to sustaining sponsorships of $100-$1,000 annually. When you become a sustaining mini-grant sponsor, grant recipients will be required to acknowledge your contributions and your business will be regularly acknowledged in the Arts Council's monthly newsletter—and you will feel great knowing you were directly involved in helping to sustain our rich arts community. For more information visit our website or come to one of our socials.

The Cedar City Arts Council is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing the arts in Iron County. Our mission is to foster a thriving arts community in Iron County through advocacy, appreciation, education, and support. The organization is completely volunteer-run, all of the funds CCAC receives through donations or memberships are used to help the arts thrive in this community.

ICAMA presents The Stone Company

THE STONE COMPANY ROCKED THE HOUSE with their unique bluegrass sound and upbeat music using eclectic instruments including bottle caps, a saw and a license plate.

SHAY BARUFFI

by Shay BARUFFI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Iron County Acoustic Music Association presented The Stone Company at their latest show. The Stone Company is a trio from Kanab, Utah. "They consider themselves a potato music trio, they are the king of the roots," said Lisa Cretsinger, one of ICAMA's founding members. The trio have a fun and upbeat bluegrass sound, they utilize unassuming tools to create a unique sound.

In addition to the many instruments the trio had in tow, Byron, the percussionist, amazed the crowd with his ability to play everyday household items. Not only did he make use of a make shift rain stick created using a license plate and some bottle caps, he played a saw with a violin bow, and served up some great beats with the spoons.

The eclectic instruments used by the trio creates a sound unlike any other. They generate a fun-loving and friendly atmosphere. In addition to some great cover songs performed by The Stone Company, the group presented many beautiful original songs from their upcoming album.

WEDDINGS AND MEMORIES PLANNED IN A DAY

by Shary BARUFFI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Iron Springs Adventure Resort hosted a Bridal Expo extravaganza last weekend in their newly built event center. Lesle Dodge, the event coordinator, shared “The purpose of this event is to show those who are getting ready for wedding season that they can do all their planning right here in Cedar City, Utah. Everything can be done locally. You don’t need to travel to Salt Lake or Las Vegas to plan a great wedding.”

The Bridal Expo featured well over 20 vendors located in Iron County. The vendor list included every service you could possibly consider when planning a wedding, from catering to carriage rides, they had you covered. Planning a wedding can feel overwhelming, to put it lightly, and this synchronized showcase of vendors eased a lot of the stress that comes with coordinating the big day.

Cedar City has an abundance of locally and independently owned businesses. Supporting local business is not only more sustainable, it helps the community flourish. This exposition was successful in showing a diverse array of businesses catering to every need locally, including businesses like Wedding Décor & More who have been in business in Cedar City for over 23 years and others like SHE, who are new to the area. Whatever your wedding needs may be, look no further than your local independently owned vendors.

DURING THE IRON SPRINGS RESORT BRIDAL EXPO, brides-to-be found everything they needed to help make their special day more enjoyable and memorable.

1929 - A TOAD KNOWN BY THE NAME OF "OLD RIP" that lived in a Texas building for 31 years died on this day. As reported in a local Texas newspaper, this toad had lived quite a long time without food or water (at least not given to it). Furthermore, it is said that Old Rip was put in the cornerstone of the England County courthouse on purpose when it was built nearly 32 years ago. Freezing weather had been the cause of this animal's death. (thepeoplehistory.com)

HOT SAUCE DAY

1929 - A NEW "DRY BILL" (ALCOHOL PROHIBITION) was introduced to congress by Senator Bryant. The purpose of this bill was to place stiffer penalties on both buyers and sellers of alcoholic beverages, which were prohibited during this time in American History. Those who possessed liquor would receive a fine for the first offense between $50.00 to $500.00. Those who were caught a second time with liquor on them would be fined $250.00 to $2,000.00. Additionally, effort was being made by the State of New Mexico to make it a crime to buy liquor. The possession of liquor for personal use by those in a state political office would also be prohibited pending the passing of new legislation.

1973 - ROE VS. WADE - THE LEGALIZATION OF ABORTION within the first three months of pregnancy was allowed as of this day. This decision was based on a ruling by the Supreme Court upon adjournment of the Roe Vs. Wade Case that women had a constitutional right to obtain an abortion.

1930 - EXCAVATION FOR THE EMPIRE STATE BUILDING began. When completed only 410 days after the construction began, it stood as the world's tallest building. (thepeoplehistory.com)

The REAL Real Housewives of Utah

Unless you've been living in the Gobi Desert, hiding from the toxic political atmosphere, you're well aware that Bravo will air the "Real Housewives of Salt Lake City" in 2020. As if 2020 wasn't going to be terrible enough.

If you're not familiar with the intellectual and thought-provoking series, executive producer Andy Cohen flies to town in his invisible helicopter, rounds up glamorous white women, tells them to act like idiots, then throws a diamond necklace into a swimming pool to watch them jump in wearing slinky evening gowns.

It started in 2006 with "The Real Housewives of Orange County" and then spread like the plague through New York, Atlanta, Beverly Hills and other unsuspecting cities. In any given episode, you can expect nanny drama, coiffed eyebrows, white woman problems, plastic surgery cleavage, mean gossip, pouty lips, cats, jewelry for cats, catty behavior and lots of big hair.

Buy why Utah? Well, the series tends to be overwhelmingingly white, so I guess Utah makes sense. And I've heard that some women in Utah live glamorous lives in upper-class communities. That rules me out. My glamorous life consists of digging through laundry for a pair of matching socks.

What I want to see is "The REAL Real Housewives of Salt Lake City."

Episode #1: Judy is late for church. She's wrangling her seven children into their Sunday best while her husband spends the morning in church meetings. He calls to ask why she's late again and she throws her phone into the garbage disposal and takes all the kids to Denny's for breakfast.

Episode #2: Carol has been asked to plan a girl's camp for a swarm of 12-year-olds. She hates camping. And 12-year-old girls. She reaches out to her friends to create a fun week-long adventure in the Wasatch Mountains. Carol hides a flask of "Holy Water" in her scriptures.

Episode #3: Brittany sewed matching pajamas for her entire family but no one wants to wear them for the family Christmas picture. Brittany locks herself in the bathroom to cry while her husband insists he loves the purple-plaid, footed pajamas that he'll wear for the photo if she'll JUST STOP CRYING!

Episode #4: Shelly is a wonderful cook. She makes cinnamon rolls to DIE for. Her best friend asks Shelly for her recipe. Shelly happily obliges, but changes all the measurements so her friend's cinnamon rolls will taste like s.

Episode #5: Alexa is in love. At 18 years old, she just wants her returned missionary boyfriend to propose so they can live happily ever after. There's lot of seductive hand-holding, late-night scripture reading and even a sleepover, which is actually just a New Year's Eve party with six other couples playing Skip-Bo and drinking sparkling cider.

Instead of all these genuine Salt Lake City scenarios, the new show will feature your basic Housewives' dilemmas. Boo. Here's Stefon from Saturday Night Live to explain what we'll see during the show (because I miss him and want him to return to SNL so much).

"If you're watching 'The Real Housewives of Salt Lake City' you can expect hysteria at the highest levels. There will be screeching, low cut gowns, pygmy goats directing traffic, Aquanet toothpaste, a jewelry heist, several cans of Pillsbury pizza crust, a lusty affair with a diesel mechanic, Spam, cabana boys with cowboy hats, Golden Retrievers wearing red pumps and a gala at Salt Lake's newest club, Spork."

Actually, that might actually make 2020 bearable.

East Elementary

One of the great things about being at East Elementary is that we are so close to the college. Southern Utah University is within walking distance and this allows our students to get to experience some of the joys of higher education. Many of our students had an opportunity to attend a gymnastic meet this week. The ladies' gymnastics team is one of Cedar City's hidden gems and our young men and women are getting a chance to witness up close as they compete with their routines. We're grateful to Southern Utah University for making this possible, and grateful to the teachers who were able to support it.

a variety of tournaments.

CVMS Orchestra and Band Combined Pops Concert on Wednesday, January 29, 2020! These concerts take place at CVHS auditorium! Don't want to miss out on these concerts! Band performs at 5:00 p.m. and Orchestra at 7:00 p.m. Later this month, students will have the opportunity to attend a fun, educational field trip to Brian Head. 8th grade students will attend a Shakespeare play, Romeo and Juliet. In February, students will also experience a Science in the Snow day!

Three Peaks Elementary

As the new year begins and we revisit and set new goals, the faculty and staff at Three Peaks Elementary are fully committed to teach and help each student learn to their full potential. Our school's mission statement is: We will work collaboratively to create a safe and stimulating learning environment. We will support and extend student learning to ensure each student has the opportunity to achieve his/her full potential. Our vision statement is: Create an outstanding educational environment in which students are engaged in meaningful learning experiences, demonstrate personal responsibility and show respect and kindness for others.

We would like to express gratitude to the parents for supporting and helping us with these goals.

MLK Holiday will be observed and no school will be held on Monday, January 20, 2020.

Fiddlers Elementary

We have several events coming up, so mark your calendars! Choir is back in session every Tuesday and Thursday at 8 am. There will be no school January 20 for the MLK holiday. Donuts and Dads will be held January 24 in the school gym from 8-8:30 am. Students can bring their dad or father figure to enjoy a delicious donut from Smith's. Fiddler's STEAM week will be January 27-31, with our school science fair on January 30. Winners will go on to the regional fair at SUU in March.

Escalante Valley

The students and staff of Escalante Valley had an unexpected visitor drop by the school (via helicopter) on the last day before winter break! Thanks to the aviation department at SUU, and a staff member who arranged things, Santa Claus was able to fly out to our school to visit with each student individually. Before hurrying off, Santa took time to pose for a picture with each class. We are certain this experience is not one to soon be forgotten.

Canyon View Middle

Canyon View Middle School is excited to announce that we are the first middle school in Utah to have an Esports program. We just finished our tryouts and now have our teams. We had about 100 kids try out. We will have teams in the following games: Fortnite, Overwatch, Starcraft, Hearth Stone, Rocket League, and Smash Brothers. We'll be practicing with students from the high school and SUU this year and will be competing against Cedar Middle School next year in Select members of Southern Utah University's Investment Scholars Group claimed first place for at the 2019 Student Managed Investment Fund Consortium (SMIFC) Conference. The group was composed of four students; Marin Ward, Natalie Smith, Briley Roundy, and Quentin Vavasour.

"This was an incredible win for us as well as for the university," said competitor Marin Ward, "We were so lucky to be a part of such a talented team and to be led by Professor Engst. This was truly a life-changing experience!"

The SMIF Consortium is a confer-their pick of at least 10 stocks using a virtual $1,000,000. Second, teams enter their picks into a simulator which runs for several months.

Judges evaluate papers on the team's ability to identify and discuss the economic, industrial, political, global and financial factors that might affect the market, describe their asset allocation and diversification strategies, analyze the financial statements of each company of interest, and articulate in writing their overall findings, strategy, analysis, and final recommendations.

During the Awards Dinner, the SMIFC2019 judges announced that SUU's paper had won first place! The team was handed an oversized check for $1,000.

"To walk away with first place was a real thrill for us, especially considering the caliber of the competition," said Stephen Engst, lecturer of finance and faculty advisor to the team. "SUU students did a superlative job."

The SUU team won by a large margin and it was said that the judges would want to hire the team "on the spot."

As for part two of the competition, SUU entered 10 stock picks into the Voleo simulator. In March, after the simulation period has ended, the judges will announce the team with the best investment performance. The winner of this part of the competition will take home $10,000.

FAITH

TWO GATES (2020 Vision Part 5)

MATTHEW 7:13-14

Two verses, two gates. One leads to life, the other to destruction. Interesting that the one leading to life is narrow, while the one leading to destruction is broad, or encompassing. Looking around in today's society, from the Internet to music, movies, magazines and video games, it seems we are surrounded by broad, beckoning gates. Gates that once we enter can entertain every desire and appetite. Some become prisons from which it can be difficult (not impossible) to escape.

Some of these ungodly gates are easier to notice and avoid than others. However, with so many portable portal possibilities, it's easy to indulge in anything we want, whenever and wherever we want. With the click of a mouse, a push of a button, a password, two-day shipping, etc. we can invite, receive, entertain and surf evil in the privacy of our own turfs.

It can feel daunting and overwhelming to live in such a world. Some lament for their children who must grow up surrounded by the devil's gaping gates. Some feel they don't want to have children so as to not bring them into such a wicked world. That's what the adversary wants (begs and beguiles) us to feel; that there is nothing we can do to turn back his tides of temptation or rescue those now drowning in despair and addiction. There is always hope and help.

We cannot let difficulty dictate which gate we enter, especially God's gate. Yes, it's narrow, but do not be deceived into believing it is not more powerful than all other ungodly gates combined. Also, why would God need a thousand gates when one perfect gate can accomplish all things for anyone willing to enter therein? With one gate, there is no second-guessing about if it's the right one, or if there's a better one down the road.

It seems then that the only question or concern is finding this one true gate. Why will only a few find it? I don't think it's hard to find because it's hidden. God does not hide His heart or the way home from any of us. I believe few find it because they have become blinded and bound by other gates which have distracted and detoured them away from finding and entering God's gate.

That's why we need good people, good friends and good parents in this world. We each need to have courage to create, to let our lights so shine (Matthew 5:14-15) and not only show people the way home but use the talents and gifts God has entrusted to each of us to help them get there. As for parents, God needs you! The world needs you! You don't have to be perfect, just be present with your light and love.

For any who have become lost or trapped behind ungodly gates, there is One who has the keys to set you free and heal your wounded heart and bring you home. His name is Jesus Christ.

FAA approves SUU's Aviation Maintenance Technician program

from David BISHOP

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

CEDAR CITY — The federal government has given final approval to Southern Utah University's expansion of its aviation program. On December 31, 2019, the Federal Aviation Administration granted final approval for a Part 147 certificate allowing SUU to offer Airframe and Powerplant (A&P) licenses to students upon successful completion of the academic program requirements and independent testing by a Designated is expanding its offerings and will begin training maintenance technicians through the Aviation Maintenance Technician (AMT) Program in spring 2020.

SUU's AMT Program is the most up-to-date in the nation, with the curriculum stemming from the Promoting Aviation Regulations for Technical Training (PARTT) 147 Act (S.3043/H.R.5427) that was introduced to the House of Representatives and Senate in December 2019. It's also the only A&P program with helicopter maintenance used as growing demand for aviation mechanics across the country. In the 2016 Boeing Pilot and Technician Outlook, it was estimated there will be a need for 180,000 new A&P Mechanics in North America by 2035.

With the shortage of maintenance technicians, regional employers are eager to support and hire graduates of the program and have been crucial to the program's approval. With the current demand, and an average starting wage of $52,000, these graduates can look forward to a greater and faster return

"Historic changes are now underway," said Michael Mower, executive director of SUU Aviation. "For the first time ever, an Aviation Maintenance Technician (AMT) training program to include helicopters is launching at SUU this semester. We worked with our partners in the industry, Washington, DC, and the Federal Aviation Administration to make this happen."

A national leader in aviation education, SUU currently trains 10 percent of the nation's helicopter pilots and a significant number of fixed-wing pilots. With this approval, SUU Aviation the curriculum focus while still covering airplane maintenance. The program is designed to be completed in five consecutive semesters, resulting in an associate degree and A&P license.

"This AAS degree program is one of a kind, and I am excited to finally have it certified by the FAA and accepting students," said Jared Britt, director of global aviation maintenance training at SUU. "It has taken a lot of hard work by the entire aviation team, and we expect to become one of the largest AMT programs over the next few years."

Through the AMT Program, SUU hopes to contribute to the than most on their educational investment.

The first cohort of students will begin the AMT program in spring 2020. Currently, the building capacity is 250 students, but an additional building and training equipment to accommodate 1000 students are part of future plans.

More than 600 students from around the world study at the SUU Aviation program, which includes a fleet of 16 airplanes, 16 helicopters and state of the art facilities. With the recent creation of the College of Aerospace Science and Technology, SUU continues to place emphasis on aviation.

INIGO MONTOYA

This kitty's trademark mouse-tache has earned him the perfect name. While this stray is not so great with other cats, he is very calm and good with people...except those with six fingers on their right hand. "Meow, my name is Inigo Montoya, I lost my father, prepare to adopt me!"

JODY

This gentle female gray tabby is going to "Paws Rescue" to have her injured leg treated. When she comes back, she will need to be neutered and will then be ready for adoption. In Biblical terms, Jody means "God shall add." Perhaps He is talking about adding a new friend to your life?

DINA

This solid black beauty is a stray female. She is not fixed yet, but she is very sweet, calm and keeps to herself. In Hebrew, Dina means Avenged and Vindicated. She needs a loving family to avenge and vindicate her through adoption and love.

BOBBI

This gray tabby is a mature female likes to be around kittens to watch them play. She is a stray so she has not been fixed. She is very sweet and calm and usually finds a place by herself to rest. Her name means "bright fame." May Bobbi bring a bright smile to your heart every day.

PANDORA

This white and gray female is very outgoing and loves people. She is described by the staff as "a really good kitty." She'll be even better once she's fixed and can go home to a nice family. You don't have to acquire avatar training or travel to the Alpha Centauri star system to adopt her! That will save you six years in cryo-sleep. Sounds like a titanic deal to me!

To view these cute kittens and adopt a new friend visit the Cedar City Animal Adoption Center, 1303 W Kitty Hawk Dr, (435) 586-2960, Mon-Fri 8 AM to 6 PM and on Sat 9 AM to 1 PM.

I STILL HAVE A DREAM (PART 1)

This week's rut is a tribute inspired by the great examples of spirit and courage portrayed by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. I have woven some of his wise words with my own and it is my hope that we will remember that we are each a part of the same great family and on the same journey through life. May we truly be a friend and a light to all who need one—for we all need one.

Do you have a dream? Have you ever believed in someone or something so much that you were willing to do anything to help bring it to life? To build it and to protect it? In your daily pursuit of happiness have you found something so exhilarating and beautiful that you would give all that you have just to be a part of it and then share it with the world? If you have, then you have found a dream worth living for. This discovery is one of the great treasures of mortality, but also the most difficult. It will require all that you have, but it will also grant unto you the most fulfilling feelings of your life. I enthusiastically encourage you to never let go of such a dream and to do all that you can to follow the path and plan that will bring it to life. As you put your heart and life into pursuing your passions they shall surely give life unto you and unto others.

The Rut LESS TRAVELED

by Corey BAUMGARTNER

IRON COUNTY TODAY

When you have the courage to dream, sooner or later you'll run into those who don't believe in your dream, who say it's a waste of time and money. Maybe they have lost the belief in their own dreams of ever coming true. Perhaps they abandoned their dreams in the dark and desolate valleys of doubt, or let their dreams drown in the depths of disbelief and despair while they drank deeply from the cup of distraction and procrastination. Pay them no heed when they criticize your creed. Those who can only judge by the colors of your past, more than by the current content of your character, shall never escape their own emotional exile. Nor shall they get out of their own beguiling ghettos and shall wander and wallow alone in the valley of their own withering despair.

Finally, whether criticized or condemned, some of you may have decided to default on your dreams. I'm here to remind you that the bank of opportunity is not bankrupt. There are sufficient funds available for your future. Destiny's debts can still be paid if you will stop letting worry and apathy make so many withdrawals. From now on, your life will no longer be business as usual. Wherever you stashed, stuck or stowed your dreams, it's time to go and get them back. Dig them out of the quicksand and swamps of procrastination and wash them clean in the oasis of hope.

OBITUARIES

Maurice "Mory" Bert Johnson

Maurice "Mory" Bert Johnson, 83, passed away on January 4, 2020 at Dixie Regional Hospital in St. George, UT.

Mory was born to Bert James Johnson and Etta Mae McFarland in Madison, WI, along with his twin-sister Marlene on September 21, 1936.

Mory attended a one room school house, grades 1-8, in Lowville, WI. He graduated from Poynette High in 1954. After graduation he joined the Navy Seabees and later received an honorable discharge. He remained in the Navy Reserve for several more years before relocating to Las Vegas, NV where he worked and retired from the Clark County Fire Department.

Mory was a NASCAR fan and lover of hot rods and muscle cars. He always did something special to any vehicle he owned. One of his cars was even in Hot Rod Magazine. He was very proud of that! He also loved to weld! He made many, many trailers after he retired.

Mory was married to his first wife, Audrey Dawson. They were the parents of two children; Troy Preston Johnson and Anthony (Kylie) Johnson. Audrey and Mory later divorced. In 1977 he married Jerry Orlob and became father to her two children; Suzan Stephens Hogan and Bryce Allen Stephens (Big Bryce).

Mory became a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by being baptized in his backyard swimming pool. He had a strong belief in Heavenly Father and the power of prayer.

Mory and Jerry relocated to Cedar City, UT in January 2005 and brought their grandson Bryce Allen Stephens (Little Bryce) with them.

Mory is survived by his wife Jerry, ex-wife Audrey. Sisters, Marlene Shaw, Judy (Gary) Hahn and Margie Miller. Grandchildren, Andrea (Ronnie), Jeron (Katie), Bryce, Jamie, Britany and Breanne. Great-granddaughters, Mia, Lily and Harper. Daughter-in-law Tina Stephens, son-in-law Mike Hogan, sister- and brother-in-law Judy and Russ Alley. He was preceded in death by his sister Ruth and brother Harold. Brothers-in-law Carl, Paul, Harold and Stan.

As per Mory's wishes, he has been cremated and wanted no service.

The family would like to offer special thanks to all of the doctors and nurses that treated him in Cedar City and St. George. They were awesome!

OBITUARIES

Karen Lee Sant

Karen Lee Sant was born in Cedar City, UT on April 3, 1936 to Rulon Ronnow Lee and Romola Dalley Lee. Karen passed away peacefully at home at the age of 83 on December 12, 2019 in the company of her daughter, Alison and her beloved dog, Bella.

Karen was raised in Panaca, NV until 1943 when her father died in a tragic mine accident. The family then moved to Cedar City, UT and stayed there until 1950 when Karen and Romola moved to Boulder City, NV, where Karen attended High School.

After graduating from Boulder City High School in 1954, Karen attended Arizona State College in Flagstaff, AZ from 1954-1955, then Nevada College of Commerce from 1956-1957, studying Business Administration.

In 1956 Karen began working at Nellis AFB in the Personal Affairs Office for Joseph Ferluga, then in 1960 worked in the Directorate of Personnel – Administration Division – under Bronislaw Plocica. Karen also held other positions in Requisition and Funding, and the Property Account Division, and worked for the LDS Church Offices before beginning her career working for the Clark County School District. Karen began working for the Clark County School District in 1972. She worked in the office at Gordon McCaw Elementary, Robert Taylor Elementary and retired as an Office Manager from Twin Lakes Elementary in 2003.

Karen was devoted to her faith as a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and fulfilled many callings over the years and served as a volunteer at the LDS Las Vegas Nevada Temple. Karen loved traveling with her brother, Kent Lee, and her sister, Renee, and brother-in-law, Lou Schneider, her daughter, Alison Abrams, and son-in-law, Jim Abrams. Among the memorable excursions were an Alaskan Cruise, a trip to Hawaii, Branson Missouri, Switzerland, Italy, trips to Utah, Bryce Canyon and many others.

Karen is survived by her daughter, Alison (Sant) Abrams, and son-in-law, Jim Abrams. She was preceded in death by her son, Milton Michael Sant. The family wishes to thank everyone for their kind thoughts and prayers as we lay Karen to rest. The family would also like to thank Palliative Care and Nathan Adelson Hospice for the love and kindness they showed in caring for Karen. Interment: Panaca Memorial Cemetery, Panaca, NV.

James Reuben Crawford

James Reuben Crawford completed his mission on Earth January 8, 2020. James passed peacefully at home after battling a heart condition for the last five years. James was born December 10, 1937 in Milford, Utah to Zella Nickerson and Reuben Owen Crawford.

James spent the first 5 years of his life in Milford and moved with his parents and 2 sisters to Salt Lake City. He grew up there learning dance ballroom from his Mother and being the typical little brother, irritating his sisters. James graduated from West High School. He went on to join the ROTC and spent time in Texas with the Army where he was honorably discharged.

James met Andra Sanders in St. George at Kelwood where they were both working. They were married May 12, 1973. Together they spent many hours helping others when a call for help was received. He will also be remembered by family and friends for the countless Saturdays spent on Cedar Mountain in search of “killer” wood and taking his 2-wheel drive ’72 ford where no sane person would. James was also a gifted mechanic who could fix almost anything.

James was preceded in death by his parents. He is survived by his wife, Andra; daughter Sonia (Klayton) Holt; 4 grandsons and 8 great-grandchildren.

Graveside services were held January 11, 2020 at the Enoch City Cemetery at 11:00 under the direction of Affordable Funeral Services. A viewing was also held at the Enoch 1st ward chapel from 10:00 to 10:40 am.

Online condolences can be sent to his memorial page at www.affordablefuneralservices.com.

Jose Luis Alvarado

Jose Luis Alvarado (Guicho) was born on April 2, 1969 in Leon Guanajuato, Mexico. He is the son of Juan Alvarado and Manuela Ordaz. Jose was a devoted Son, Brother, Husband, Father, Grandfather, and Friend. Jose was well known for his hard work and sense of humor. He began his adventure in Leon Guanajuato where he met his beloved wife of thirty years Alicia. Jose married Alicia and they went on to have four wonderful children, Diana, Jose, Ana, and Hugo.

Produce was his passion and he spent many years expanding and putting his heart into his business to ensure that it was without question the best one in town. His generosity was unmatched and he loved abundantly and unconditionally. He was always the first person there when anyone was in need. Jose was the life of the party. He would dance for countless hours and would make sure everyone was having the time of their lives.

He enjoyed spending time with his six grandchildren, Oscar, Joanna, Prisila, Noe, Caroline and Dahlia. Jose peacefully passed away at the age of 50 on January 3, 2020. Jose will be deeply missed and we shall never forget his generosity, humor and the unconditional love he offered to not only his family but his friends and acquaintances as well.

“If you continue to love the ones you lose, you will never lose the ones you love.”

A viewing was held on Thursday, January 9, 2020 from 10:00-1:30 pm at Southern Utah Mortuary. A Rosary was held that same day, January 9, 2020 at 2:00 pm at Christ the King Catholic Church. REDS RALLY, BEAT THUNDER

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Sam Johnston wasn't able to hit her shots for most of the night against the Desert Hills Thunder. With the game on the line late, the Cedar junior hit the one that mattered and helped push the Lady Reds to another win.

Johnston drained a 3-pointer with 1 minute, 11 seconds remaining, and Japrix Weaver added two big steals down the stretch as Cedar closed with a 9-2 run to beat Desert Hills, 53-48, handing the Thunder its first loss of the season.

"I knew I was eventually gonna make one, so I said 'it's gotta be this one,'" Johnston said. "Other than Mayci (Torgerson), no one's shot was really falling. To beat a really good team on our worst night is exciting."

After Torgerson hit a free throw for Cedar to start the scoring, Desert Hills scored the next seven points and two layups from senior Kamryn Bliss put the Thunder up 12-5 late in the first quarter. When Torgerson – who had a game-high 22 points – hit a 3-pointer to beat the buzzer, it became a big part of a 15-2 Lady Reds run that extended into the second quarter and put them up 20-14. Torgerson would add two free throws later in the period, and Cedar headed to the half with a 26-21 advantage.

"In these kinds of games, you have to execute, get down and play in the mud," Cedar head coach Corry Nielsen said. "Sometimes our team doesn't play in the mud too well, but I thought in the final two and a half minutes, we got down and played really good."

JAPRIX WEAVER BEATS THE THUNDER DEFENSE and takes the ball to the hoop during the Lady Reds victory.

Cedar took its largest lead of the game at 43-35 when Jaidi Willden hit a basket inside, but a steal and layup from Maggie Westhoff finished a 9-0 run that put Desert Hills back in front at 44-43 with two minutes left.

Following a Johnston free throw, Bliss would hit a jumper to give the Thunder a 46-44 lead before Johnston delivered what proved to be her winning shot.

"I have confidence in Sam," Nielsen said. "I don't mind her shooting those shots because she's earned the right. All I ask her is to shoot a shot you think will go in. Don't have any doubts when you shoot the ball."

Weaver would come through late to help seal the win. She grabbed an offensive rebound off a missed free throw and came up with a pair of steals, hitting all six free throws in the final 32 seconds. The senior would finish with 14 points.

In its other game of the week, the Lady Reds got 19 points from Weaver and Torgerson added 15 in a 55-43 win over Pine View on Jan. 10. Cedar closed the first quarter with a 9-2 run to lead 24-8 and stretched the margin to as much as 20 points late in the third quarter.

The Lady Reds only scored two points in the final eight minutes, but never let the lead go below double figures to cruise to the victory.

Pine View was led by 17 points from Ellie Wilson in the loss.

Falcons start slow, fall twice

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Canyon View boys basketball team struggled to get off to good starts in each of its Region 9 games last week and couldn't come all the way back. As a result, the team is still in search of its first region win of the year.

Bryce Thomas led three players in double figures with 19 points, and Hurricane built a double-digit halftime lead before cruising to a 57-47 victory over the Falcons on Jan. 7. The Tigers held CV (0-4 Region 9) to five points in the opening quarter and led 26-14 at the half.

JAXON JORGENSEN DRIVES AROUND THE THUNDER DEFENSE in a valiant effort to keep the Canyon View Falcons in the game.

JR ROBINSON

Jaxon Jorgensen led the Falcons in the loss with 18 points.

Canyon View saw the pattern repeat itself against Desert Hills two nights later, dropping a 62-53 decision to the Thunder. The Falcons were held to eight points in the first quarter and trailed 34-22 at the half.

Reggie Newby led a balanced scoring attack for Desert Hills with 12 points. Trevor Farrow led Canyon View with 27 points, including five 3-pointers, in the loss.

Parowan fell in its only game of the week Jan. 8, a 41-38 road loss at Enterprise in the Region 18 opener for both teams. The Rams led 16-11 after a quarter, but the Wolves put down the defensive clamps in the second, outscoring Parowan 10-3 and taking a 21-19 lead into halftime.

Krue Stubbs led the Rams (0-1, 8-4) with 11 points in the loss. They will host Kanab tonight in a 7 p.m. tipoff.

Reds run past Panthers

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

When it came down to Region 9 play, the Cedar Reds boys basketball team didn't have a lot of success on its own floor. Frustrating losses were a common occurrence.

On Jan. 9, the Reds took a big step to erase the bad memories from seasons past.

Trey Tebbs hit four free throws to key a 10-1 run that closed out the first half, and Cedar poured it on in the second on the way to a 59-47 victory over the Pine View Panthers. Tebbs led the Reds with 15 points as they won their second Region 9 home game of the season (2-2, 8-4), matching its combined total from the previous four years (2-20).

"We preach every day to get better today," Cedar head coach Mark Esplin said. "Tuesday was disappointing, but we went back to work. We were working hard, but not working smart enough."

With the middle clogged on the defensive end, it led to more opportunities to get baskets in transition on the break. Cedar led 26-18 at the half and built the margin to as much as 17 points in the second half before finishing off the win.

Senior Luke Armstrong delivered an added spark on the offensive end, scoring 12 of his 14 points in the second half mostly through layups against the Pine View defense.

"In Wednesday's practice, we were playing to guard the middle," Armstrong said. "We let D-Hills go middle the entire time, so we tried stopping them going to the middle and staying on the shooters."

The Reds led 44-33 after three quarters and Dallin Grant (10 points) contributed two key baskets on inside moves in an 8-2 run at the start of the fourth quarter to stretch the lead to 52-35, Cedar's largest of the night.

The Reds got into an offensive shootout to open the week, but came out on the short end of an 83-74 road loss at Desert Hills on Jan. 7. Cedar was outscored 22-11 in the fourth quarter as the host Thunder broke a three-game losing streak.

Mason Chase led three Desert Hills players in double figures with 24 points and Keegan Munson added 20. The teams combined for 20 three-pointers, with the Thunder hitting 11 and Cedar draining nine.

Tebbs led the Reds with 23 points while Grant and Zab Santana added 18 apiece.

Cedar traveled across town to play at Canyon View in a Tuesday night game that was too late for press deadline. Proceeds from the Steve Hodson Cancer Classic were presented at halftime.

CANYON VIEW FALCON ADDISON NEWMAN puts up a difficult shot over her tough Tiger defender.

FALCON GIRLS DROP PAIR

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Ashlyn Banks had 17 points and Harlee Nicoll added 11, but the Canyon View Falcons dropped a 48-42 decision at home to the Hurricane Tigers on Jan. 8 in its first game of the week. Banks finished with a double-double by adding 14 rebounds.

CV led 21-20 at halftime, but the Tigers used the combined efforts of Brooke Thomas (14 points) and Kandalyn Hinton (11) to get in the win column for the first time in Region 9 play this season.

The Falcons faced Desert Hills, the No. 1 team in the 4A RPI rankings, two days later and fell 64-54 on the road at the Thunderdome in St. George. Banks led the way with 21 points, but Desert Hills used a 24-10 scoring advantage in the third quarter to break the game open.

Addie Newman added 12 points for the Falcons and Erin Robinson had 10. Kamryn Bliss led all scorers with 24 points for the Thunder in the win.

CV will face Cedar for the first time this season tonight at the Reds gym in a 7 p.m. tipoff.

Thunderbirds claim road victory against Bengals

by Bryson LESTER

SUU ATHLETICS STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

POCATELLO, Idaho — The Thunderbird men's basketball team picked up a road victory against Big Sky Conference foe Idaho State on Thursday evening, topping the Bengals 71-55 in Reed Gym.

With the victory the Thunderbirds move to 10-5 on the season, and 3-1 in Big Sky Conference play. Two of those three Big Sky victories have come on the road.

"It's tough to win on the road in this league, but if we want to compete for a championship these are the type of games that we need to pull out," SUU head coach Todd Simon said. "We always say defense travels, and we were pretty happy with ours today."

The Thunderbirds started hot, and used an early 11-0 run to take a 20-6 lead over the Bengals.

Idaho State responded quickly. After a few minutes back-and-forth, they embarked on an 8-0 run, and followed that up with another 6-0 run to cut the Thunderbird lead to three at the under-four media timeout.

During that stretch, the T-Birds went over four minutes without putting a point on the scoreboard.

Despite the Bengal comeback, the T-Birds fought to keep the lead into the break, holding a 33-29 advantage.

The Thunderbirds turned it on the second half. They shot 64 percent from the field in the second half, going 14-of-22, and outscored the Bengals 38-26 over the final 20 minutes.

"We challenged them a little bit at the half, because we thought we didn't finish the first 20 minutes particularly well," Simon said. "We got shots we liked, we just didn't hit them, and we thought we were giving up a little too much on the other end of the floor. And they stepped up to the challenge in the second half."

Southern Utah held Idaho State to 33 percent shooting from the field, and finished 8-of-29 in the second half.

Cameron Oluyitan led the offensive charge for the T-Birds, finishing with 20 points to go along with six rebounds and two assists. Oluyitan logged 40 minutes in the contest.

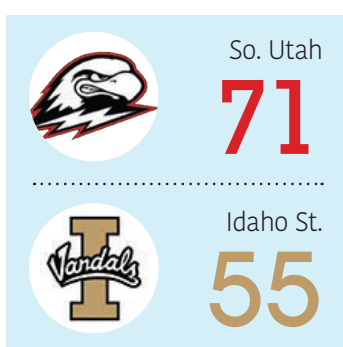

"He was playing great defense, and he does so much for us out there on both ends of the floor," Simon said. "He ended up having a fantastic night."

John Knight III finished with 15 points for SUU off the bench, while Dwayne Morgan scored 13 in the same role.

Southern Utah's bench outscored Idaho State's by a large margin, 36-16.

The T-Birds will be back in the America First Event Center tomorrow as they'll face off against rival Northern Arizona at 7 p.m. MT. The contest will be broadcast on Eleven Sports.

Thunderbirds finish third at first annual Rio Tinto Best of Utah meet

by Taylor WHITSON

SUU ATHLETICS STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

WEST VALLEY CITY — 6,500-plus fans attended the Maverik Center to watch all four Utah teams compete to find the best gymnastics team in the state. The Flippin' Birds finished third with a final score of 194.650. The No. 4 Utah Utes took home the victory with the top score of 197.000, followed by No. 23 BYU who earned a 195.575 and the Utah State Aggies in fourth with a 194.150.

Karley McClain was awarded the Most Valuable Performer for Southern Utah as she finished the evening with an all-around score of 39.175, which was the second highest all-around score of the night.

The Thunderbirds started the night on floor, where they were led by a trio of 9.850's from McClain, Hannah Nipp, and Madison McBride. Madison Loomis also added in a 9.775. As a team, the T-Birds scored a 48.200 on the event.

Things got drastically better for the T-Birds on vault. Madison McBride led the charge with a 9.850, followed closely by Morgan Alfaro with a 9.825. Both Stephanie Tervort and Rachel Smith scored a 9.800 for SUU as well.

Vault was a big bounce-back event for the Thunderbirds, as they scored a 49.050 as a team.

When the Flippin' Birds moved to bars, the high scores continued to roll through. McClain set a brand-new career high, while Tervort tied hers, as they both scored a 9.875 to lead the T-Birds.

Shylen Murakami was close behind on bars with a 9.850, while both Nipp and Becky Rozsa-Thompson had a 9.825, which were the lowest scores that SUU had to count on the event. They improved on their vault team score with a 49.250.

The Thunderbirds concluded the evening on beam with a final score of 48.150. Nipp was awarded a 9.775 which was the highest of SUU's on the event. Rachel Smith scored a new career-high with a 9.750.

The Southern Utah Gymnastics team is set to compete against the University of New Hampshire next Saturday, in a meet scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. MT.

McClain, McBride set new career floor records in loss against Huskers

CEDAR CITY — The Flippin' Birds' gymnastics team opened their 2020 season by narrowly falling to the No. 15 Nebraska Huskers 196.375 - 195.275.

Southern Utah's Karley McClain won the all-around title, posting 9.950 on floor, 9.900 on beam and 9.700 on both vault and bars for a total of 39.25.

The Thunderbirds scored their highest on floor, earning a 49.400. McClain posted SUU's best with a 9.950, which is a new floor personal career record for her. Madison McBride followed with another floor personal career record of her own at 9.900.

Trivia as sport? Yes, please

by Tom ZULEWSKI

IRON COUNTY TODAY

In case you were under a rock during the last week, Jeopardy has given fans of trivia the “Greatest of All Time” tournament, bringing together three of the quiz show’s best players — James Holzhauer, Ken Jennings and Brad Rutter — in a first-to-three fight for $1 million and the “title” of the best player in the show’s history.

Not that any of the trio needed much encouragement. Consider their resumes leading up to this moment.

Before the Jeopardy GOAT tournament (and yeah, it’s trending consistently on social media that way), Rutter had never lost to a human player in any competition. He won five games in regular play in 2000 — champs were retired as undefeated after that point — and followed up with multiple tournament victories on the way to more than $4.6 million in winnings.

Jennings, who called Northern Utah home during his original run on the show, benefited when the show removed the five-game limit for champions in 2004. He reeled off 74 straight wins in regular play and has more than $3.3 million in winnings.

And then there’s Holzhauer, the pro sports bettor from Las Vegas. He came on the scene with a bang, mastered the art of corralling Daily Doubles before his opponents, and betting big on the way to $2.4 million in 32 regular games, missing Jennings’ money mark by around $60,000.

Holzhauer’s run has led to the message in this column. With the ratings for the GOAT tournament going through the roof, the thought of trivia as a sport feels more valid than it may have before.

When Holzhauer started shattering single-game money records in his initial run, he showed up on ESPN’s SportsCenter more than once, talking betting, baseball and other things sports-related. When he finally lost to Emma Boettcher last June, conspiracy theories were discussed.

Holzhauer lost on purpose, the tin-foil hat crowd cried. Those of us who knew how the strategy of the game worked did their best to squash the insufferable, sometimes to no avail.

When Holzhauer earned $250,000 in November by winning the Tournament of Champions, it would only be a matter of time before the creation of the ultimate Jeopardy tournament came to life.

And we’re all the better for it, fans of trivia or not.

The Jeopardy GOAT tournament provided a 10-fold increase in pressure, but these guys are so good, there’s enough left in the competitive tank to have a sense of humor, dish snarky stuff on social media, and have fun.

It makes the money feel secondary, at least to them.

The gauntlet of material the players have to get through is hard enough. With two full games played in an hour-long show, the winner is the one with the most points at the end. The first to win three matches gets the million-dollar payday.

Heading into Tuesday’s fourth match — boo, ABC for making us wait

RANDOM Thoughts

by Tom ZULEWSKI

SPORTS WRITER

through four days — Holzhauer won the opening match, but Jennings has won the last two by basically beating him at his own game, getting to the Daily Doubles first, betting big, and nailing the right answers on the clues.

And that leaves Rutter, who’s been shockingly shut out to this point. Rutter missed on some of his DD chances and finished with a negative score in the second game of the second match.

But no one should count him out, not by a longshot. His record speaks loudly.

And this GOAT tournament — which has outdrawn Game 1 of both the 2019 World Series and NBA Finals — proves to us all that brain power matters just as much, if not more, than physical prowess.

Thanks, Jeopardy!

Lady T-Birds stay undefeated at home with win in OT

by Kyle BIRNBRAUER

SUU ATHLETICS STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

CEDAR CITY — The Southern Utah women’s basketball team kept their undefeated streak at home alive Thursday night with a 72-65 overtime win over Idaho State.

“Really excited to be able to continue our undefeated streak at home. We put ourselves in a difficult spot to start and we didn’t have the best first half, but the girls really bounced back in the second half, especially in the fourth quarter,” head coach Tracy Sanders said. “Those were two teams that really play off transition and I feel like the tempo of the game slowed down and it was difficult for both teams to adjust to, but we started playing better defense and we have some confident people and they started to feed off each other and it provided us that spark that we needed to get back in it.”

With 16 games still to play in the 2019-20 season, the Thunderbirds have matched their win total from 2018-19 with eight wins already this season.

Shalyn Fano led all scorers in the game with 22 points, was 4-for-6 from the free throw line, and was also the leading rebounder for the T-Birds with eight. Rebecca Cardenas put up 18 points and had five steals, two of which came in overtime. Harley Hansen contributed 13 points and five rebounds.

The Lady T-Birds forced the Bengals into 19 turnovers and scored 21 points off of those turnovers.

Both teams got off to a slow start on Thursday, scoring just 14 points combined in the first quarter. The Thunderbirds outshot the Bengals 27.3 percent to 23.5 percent, but trailed at the end of the opening quarter 6-8.

Both teams turned up the heat in the second quarter, shooting over 50 percent. ISU was able to maintain their lead however, outscoring the T-Birds 24-22 and would go into the break leading 32-28.

Southern Utah shot only 10 percent in the third quarter as the Bengals built up their lead, but were able to stay in the game thanks to clutch free throw shooting, going 9-for-12 from the charity stripe. With just 10 minutes to play, the Thunderbirds found themselves down 40-48.

The Bengals pushed their lead all the way to 12 with 7:24 to play, but then with 5:12 to go a layup from Cardenas launched a 15-3 run for the T-Birds that tied the game at 58-58 and set up their second overtime game of the season.

The Thunderbirds dominated in overtime, outscoring the Bengals 14-7 behind six points and two timely steals from Cardenas.

The Thunderbirds will be back in action tomorrow in Flagstaff against Northern Arizona.

A Monument Honoring Dr. Martin Luther King

"If you want to be important—wonderful. If you want to be recognized—wonderful. If you want to be great—wonderful. But recognize that he who is greatest among you shall be your servant. That's a new definition of greatness . . . it means that everybody can be great, because everybody can serve."

— from The Drum Major Instinct, a sermon by Rev Martin Luther King, Jr., 1968

A very special site was selected for a memorial for Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. The location is the National Mall in Washington, DC.

The National Mall is not a shopping center. It is a large park that stretches from the Potomac River to the Capitol Building. Many of Washington's famous memorials and museums surround the Mall.

Sound Bite

On today's Kid Scoop, we use the word site, which means a location. It is pronounced the same as the word sight, which means the ability to see.

Do the math to find out the term for words that sound the same, but have different meanings. The even-numbered term reveals the answer.

16 + 9 = antonym

9 + 23 = homonym

17 - 6 = synonym

Standards Link: Vocabulary: Students understand grade-level appropriate vocabulary.

The memorial honors Dr. King's vision for all to enjoy a life of freedom, opportunity, and justice.

Start at grid A-1. Go twelve spaces right. Move three spaces down. Move five spaces left.

That space is the location of the monument's main entrance.

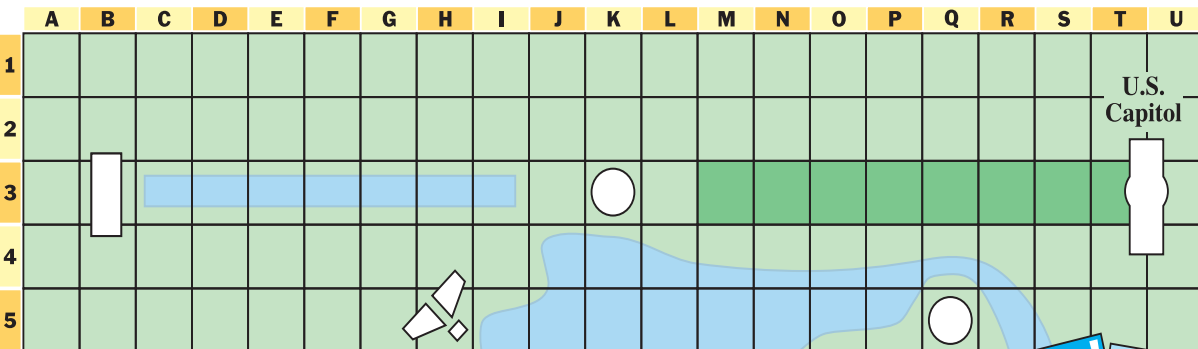

What does the monument look like?

The idea for the design of Martin Luther King's monument came from his 1963 "I Have a Dream" speech. In this speech, King said, "We will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope."

Visitors pass through an entryway cut through a massive stone symbolizing the mountain of despair. Once inside, they come upon the missing section, marking the stone of hope, which features a carved profile of King. The interior walls are ringed with chiseled quotes from King's speeches and sermons.

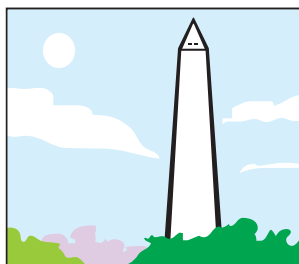

Standards Link: History: Students know that Americans celebrate Martin Luther King, Jr. Day to commemorate his leadership of the civil rights movement; Students know the fundamental values and principles expressed in King's "I Have a Dream" speech.

A Mall of Monuments

Each of these three important national monuments, located on the National Mall, honors a President of the United States. Do you know which monument is for which President? Unscramble the names above each picture. Then find and label each one on the map above using the grid location shown below each of the monuments.
