Water Conservancy District Board tours water delivery system in Colorado

by Jess Staheli

PUBLIC RELATIONS & CONSERVATION MANAGER (CICWCD)

On March 29-30 board members, staff, Iron County Commissioner Paul Cozzens, and Cedar City Mayor Garth Green traveled to Colorado to tour the Southern Delivery System, a project which was the largest of its kind in Colorado that can deliver 96-Million gallons water per day through a 50-mile pipeline from Pueblo Reservoir to Colorado Springs and was just recently completed in 2016.

The group also learned about the Willamette Water Supply Program that is currently in construction in Oregon and spans 36 miles and will supply water to three communities in that area. Both projects were designed to provide a cost-effective, reliable, and resilient water supply that will benefit current and future generations for years to come. They will also help serve and support vibrant local economies.

“It was very informative to learn more about projects that are so similar to the Pine Valley Water Supply Project,” said District General Manager, Paul Monroe. “Moving water from new sources to communities has happened for thousands of years and is currently being implemented all around us. This is not a new concept, especially here in the west.”

The mission of the Central Iron County Water Conservancy District is to ensure the Cedar Valley has a secure water future, and its Board of Directors and staff are continually looking at projections for the valley 50 years into the future.

With a goal to optimize every drop of water that comes into the valley, the District works on projects to conserve, recharge, reuse, and source water. It is committed to improving the health of the Cedar Valley aquifer and providing water to residents, businesses and communities in the area. With that in mind, the District is working to make the Pine Valley Water Supply Project a reality.

The proposed Pine Valley Water Supply Project in southern Utah would deliver water from Pine Valley, northwest of Cedar City, about 66 miles to the Cedar Valley. This project will provide a redundant and secure water source, help restore Cedar Valley aquifer levels, provide safe and reliable drinking water, and ensure water for current and future generations.

“The process has been a long one, and there is much more to do,” said District Board Member and Enoch City Councilman, David Harris.

“However, we are embracing that process, as this project is important for our valley, and the process ensures it is done fairly, feasibly, sustainably, and correctly.”

The Pine Valley Water Supply Project will help provide water for the Cedar Valley’s future. With drought, population growth, and a state-imposed Groundwater Management Plan that will reduce usable water rights, an additional source is needed. Conservation, reuse, and recharge projects are crucial as well and continue to be pursued and implemented in addition to the proposed import project.

The Central Iron County Water Conservancy District (CICWCD) is charged with conserving, developing and stabilizing the Cedar Valley water supply for the benefit of all current and future water users/consumers in the region. The Water District educates residents about conservation, reuse and water import strategies as it strives to meet the challenges of an overdrawn aquifer, climate changes, community growth and residential development. PAROWAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Representatives of the Painted Hills RV Resort and their families were joined by Parowan City Council members, residents, and the Parowan Chamber of Commerce for an official ceremony for the newest full-service RV park in southern Utah.

The new 29+ acre site will feature pull-through sites with full hookups. The backdrop is beautiful Valentine Peak to the east, the "P" hill and the picturesque panoramic view of the Parowan valley.

Parowan is conveniently situated so that travelers can park here and explore the nearby National Parks, Monuments, Parowan Gap and Brian Head Resort, without having to pull their campers back and forth over the mountain, and struggle for parking or places to turn around.

Painted Hills RV Resort is scheduled to open for tourists later this year and is a fantastic addition to southern Utah.

Iron County Democrats hold Convention

from Dale Rood

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Led by county chair, Glenn Little on April 9, the Iron County Democrats held their county convention. All of the Iron County Democratic leadership were on hand.

After opening remarks, Mr. Little introduced the Utah State Democratic Party Chair, Diane Lewis, who introduced the Vice-Chair Oscar Mata. They said we as Democrats need to get more candidates elected to have a louder voice in state politics and break up the super majority to make Utah more democratic, especially after the legislature overrode the voter-passed redistricting referendum. They spoke to the assembled for about 10 minutes.

We were fortunate to have HD31 Liz Weight from Salt Lake County on hand and addressed the convention for about 10 minutes. We then voted to keep Bruce Washburn for District 71 Legislative Chair.

Steve Merrill then stepped up to the mic to give us information about his campaign to run for school district 5, primarily in the southern area of Cedar City. His platform is to focus on the students and the teachers.

House District 71 candidate, Dallas Guymon then spoke to the convention about why he wishes to represent us in the Utah House of Representatives. He is running against Rex Shipp.

Next up were our candidates for Congressional District 2 to challenge Chris Stewart. First up was Nick Mitchell (nickmitchellforcongress.com) who spoke about his platform, which is especially important to maintain and improve the ACA. He was followed by a presentation by Steve Hartwick, votehartwick.com, who had to zoom in to the convention as he had family matters to attend to. He will be at the monthly meeting on 4/16 at the Pastry Pub at 9 am.

Finally on the agenda was Kael Weston, kaelweston.com, running for US Senate against Mike Lee and Evan McMullin, who was also a guest at the convention. Kael covered many items that he is running on. He graciously gave some of his time to Mr. McMullin to address the crowd for several minutes. Both stated that it is important to break up the super majority in the state to get more Democrats (or independents like Mr. McMullin) to get elected to Wash, DC to save our democracy from the extreme right wing of the Republican Party and insurrectionists.

The last item of business was election of the state delegates. The meeting was then adjourned.

The event was held at the Springhill Suites at 1477 S Hwy 91. The Iron County Democrats would like to thank Springhill Suites for providing a room for our convention. It was a standing room only event with over 50 attendees.

The next meeting of the Iron County Democrats is 4/16 at the Pastry Pub at 9 am. The Utah State Democrats Convention will be on 4/23 at Cottonwood High School in Murray, UT starting at 9am.

FROM THE EDITOR

The Goal of Life

I had the opportunity to learn a great life lesson on the soccer pitch last week. Two young boys were practicing their “moves” and trying to invent new ones like the pros do. During the experience, one of them became goalie and the other a striker. The goalie began giving his friend advice on how to kick the proper goal. “Don’t kick it too high,” “Don’t make me dive for it,” “Kick it a little slower on this side.” I smiled as I enjoyed a glimpse into the past, when innocence allowed us the privilege of predicting life, even pretending to have power over it.

While we cannot always (or often) predict life, we can prepare for it. No, we don’t need to know everything, or everyone. We don’t need to do it all or be it all. Whether we’re a goalie or a governor, a teacher or a trucker, life will sometimes kick the ball too high (or too low), sometimes it will make us dive or duck. Sometimes we’ll make great saves, other times the ball will sail right through our fingers.

That’s alright. The goal of life isn’t to score every goal, or block every attempt. It’s to keep playing and enjoying the moments we do have. Don’t try to predict everything, or prepare for every future event. Prepare every needful thing today, in this moment. Make that your daily goal and you’ll net more happiness.

Bryan Gray is a syndicated contributor to and not an employee of this newspaper. His opinions are solely his own and not those of Iron County Today.

Some members of Congress (I’m looking at you, Sen. Mike Leel!) embarrassed themselves this month in their questioning of our next Supreme Court Justice, Ketanji Brown Jackson. Yes, a Democrat previously embarrassed herself too in an earlier hearing complaining about the religiosity of a Trump appointee along with assorted grumblings about the nominee’s family size, but the pontificating against Jackson was a conservative onslaught of nonsense about race, gender, and Muslim terrorism.

Gee, just make it easy on the rest of us and admit you feel uncomfortable having a black woman, a Democrat who doesn’t belong to a particular church, on the Supreme Court.

But an intriguing aspect was the issue of sentencing. Claims that Jackson’s rulings were soft on child pornographers were easily rebutted by Republican jurists who pointed out that her sentences were in line with national sentencing. I’m sure this enraged some Utahns who want more standard punishment.

We can all find cases where we think a criminal should have received stronger punishment, but each case’s merits are seen differently. It’s all in the eye of the beholder, just as it is with the wisdom of a judge.

For instance, a 73-year-old Utah man was recently sentenced to prison for defrauding his fellow church members of $2.4 million, money he spent to pay off his credit cards and take vacations. At his sentencing, an assistant U.S. attorney said, “Outwardly he presents himself as a loving husband, caring father, trustworthy friend...but in reality, he is a manipulator, a thief, and a liar who uses his ‘righteousness’ to prey on his trusting friends.”

The judge ordered the man to spend one year in prison along with 36 months of probation. To me, that sentence was a “get out of jail” card, a slap on the wrist along with a declaration that we don’t take white collar crime seriously. Yet some Utahns felt differently. One man, a fellow church worshiper, said he still views the man as a “hero,” and another said he thinks the man’s honesty was “beyond reproach because we have knelt in prayer together.” (Evidently one man’s crook is another man’s prayer partner.)

SUU Partners with SkyWest Airlines to give aviation students new career opportunities

from David Bishop

SUU DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

Southern Utah University and SkyWest Airlines are pleased to announce an enhanced partnership that provides students access to SkyWest's Pilot Pathway Program and AMT Pathway Program. This partnership helps solidify the state of Utah and the Southern Utah community as a leading aviation training ground.

SUU students who join these pathway programs will be eligible for a variety of benefits and financial assistance from SkyWest as they work to complete their professional programs. They will also be eligible to receive a guaranteed interview to join SkyWest's team of aviation professionals.

"SUU Aviation is excited to form a public/private partnership with one of the largest employers in Southern Utah. We believe current and future students will benefit from this relationship with SkyWest as we prepare pilots and Airframe & Powerplant (A&P) Mechanics to alleviate the labor shortage in these critical careers" said David Dyches, SUU Aviation's deputy executive director.

"As a Southern Utah company we are thrilled to partner with SUU to provide a clear path for their students to get started in the aviation industry," said Kari Tate, SkyWest's Managing Director People. "SUU does a great job training students to become pilots and A&P mechanics and we look forward to welcoming even more of them to SkyWest in the future."

SkyWest Pilot Pathway Program

The SkyWest Pilot Pathway Program is designed to help meet the growing demand for pilots in Utah and across the aviation industry. Those who join the pathway are eligible to receive tuition reimbursement of up to $15,000 from SkyWest as they achieve certain program milestones. Through the program, student pilots will also enjoy mentorship from SkyWest pilots, enhanced company seniority, and are guaranteed to receive an interview to become a SkyWest first officer.

SkyWest AMT Pathway Program

Students who join the SkyWest AMT Pathway Program qualify for elite access to SkyWest benefits, such as mentoring by experienced mechanics, enhanced company seniority, up to $4,500 in education assistance earned at credit hour benchmarks, and a final job interview to become an A&P mechanic at one of SkyWest's maintenance locations. Plus qualified students can also receive up to $1,000 per semester for up to four semesters in scholarships from SUU.

IRON COUNTY WATER STEWARDS

from Ashley Langston

Q & A WITH CANDACE SCHAIBLE

Get to Know Your H<sub>2</sub>O: Central Iron County Water Conservancy District appreciates questions submitted by community members about the Pine Valley Water Supply Project and other local water needs. As part of its role as steward of water in Cedar Valley, the District is working with a group of experts, community members and elected officials to help prepare viable solutions for the future and to respond to community questions and concerns about emergent water issues.

This week's question from the community is answered by Candace Schaible, Professional Practice Extension Assistant Professor of Horticulture and Water Conservation for the Utah State University Extension.

Question: With the drought continuing to worsen, what changes can I make to save water?

A: Unfortunately, what started out as a good snow year dropped off quite quickly, and the drought continues to hold strong. According to the United States Drought Monitor, the majority of Iron County is already in extreme drought. This is concerning, especially at this time of year, and everyone needs to do their part to help save water.

There are many things you can do. Because approximately 60 percent of residential water use is outdoor irrigation, the biggest residential savings can come through our landscaping choices.

The simplest thing we can all do is wait to irrigate. Resources, including a weekly lawn watering guide, can be found at slowtheflow.org. Lawns don't need to be watered until temperatures are in the mid-70s for several consecutive days. Eliminating just one watering can save about 3,000 gallons of water for the average quarter-acre Utah yard. In Iron County, we don't need to be watering our lawns yet as we are still seeing cool weather.

For those who would like to landscape their yards beautifully and conserve water, the Locascapes program is a great resource. A local in-person course is offered by the Utah State University Extension and Central Iron County Water Conservancy District and online courses are available at localscapes.com. The Locascapes concept helps maintain curb appeal, is customized to your needs, and can be very waterwise. It starts with a central open shape, then gathering and activity areas, then paths, and planter beds fill in the gaps. A Locascapes yard is easier to maintain and irrigation is more efficient.

Residents, businesses and municipalities can convert park strips and other unused lawn areas to desert hardy plants so they aren't watering the sidewalk or otherwise watering unnecessarily. If a lawn is only walked on when it's mowed or fertilized, it's a good idea to evaluate whether it should be removed. Areas of lawn that are smaller than 8 feet by 8 feet, or that are sloped, make irrigation inefficient and are also a great place to start when removing lawn.

Users can also sign up for a free water check offered by the District and USU Extension to learn how to water their existing lawn more efficiently. Call (435) 865-9901 to schedule a free water check.

Water users in the District and local municipalities pay their water bills based on conservation rates, which discourage high water usage. Those who use larger amounts of water pay more.

With Cedar City's recent rate changes, those who overuse water will have much higher rates than they've had in the past. Those who use more

IN A DROUGHT, EVERY DROP COUNTS WHAT CAN YOU DO?

LANDSCAPING:

1. Wait to Irrigate: Follow the weekly lawn watering guide at slowtheflow.org
2. Take a Locascapes Class: Learn how to landscape in our Utah climate
3. Remove Unneeded Lawn: If you only walk on it to mow or fertilize, could it be replaced with waterwise plants?

than 20,000 gallons a month will see their rates more than double over the next four years, so residents are encouraged to prepare now by making any needed landscape changes.

Many resources are available. Learn more about responsible water use and landscaping at <https://extension.usu.edu/cwel/> and <https://cicwcd.org/>. In a drought, every drop counts, and if each person does a little bit to conserve, it will make a large impact. It has never been more important to optimize the water we have available in Iron County.

Or take the case of the Utah man sentenced to 51 months in a Montana prison last year for running a methamphetamine sales business. Prior to the meth operation, he also had four felony cases filed against him in Utah.

I see a guy who should be making license plates at a penitentiary. Yet his grandparents urged leniency because "he had always been good with nephews, teaching them how to harvest plums and teaching them how to make jam." Okay, instead of making license plates, maybe he should be assigned to the prison kitchen!

Similarly, child pornography cases can be viewed in different ways. What is the age of the victim? Did the defendant stumble on the images on a computer or did he actively solicit and distribute the nasty stuff? Did he pass photos to others?

In the end, God or a Higher Power will make the final sentence. But in the meantime, we have to rely on learned judges to examine cases individually. From the statistics, Ketanji Brown Jackson was a fair, mainstream judge, regardless of what a few conservative blowhards spout on Fox News.

Last call for Utah flag design submissions

Utah residents have until April 30 to submit ideas about the symbols, colors and themes that should anchor a new state flag.

The "More than a Flag" effort was launched in January by Gov. Spencer J. Cox as part of a state-wide conversation about Utah's shared identity. The initiative is asking residents to submit their own designs or provide input about the symbols, colors or themes that should be incorporated on a new state flag. So far, more than 3,500 submissions of flag designs and themes have been received.

Utahns may submit a drawing or digital design of a flag, or take a survey at flag.utah.gov/submit. Or download a submission form and send it to:

More Than A Flag, 3760 S. Highland Drive, Millcreek, UT 84106

The Next Phase

In the next phase of the project, members of the Design Review Subcommittee will review design submissions. In August, the public will be invited to comment on designs chosen as finalists, which will be posted on Flag.Utah.gov.

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

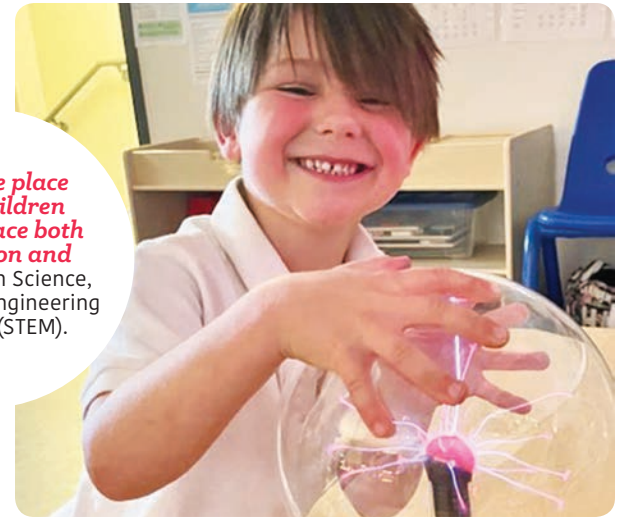

The Center for Hope accommodates 120 students ages 0-5 years old. The SUU preschool head teacher Cassie Ostrowsky applied for a grant to host the STEM event and made it possible. She feels, "At this age children are full of wonder and exploration. It's the best time to plant a seed for the love of science."

The kids traveled from room to room where they found multiple activities to interact with and be hands-on. Catapulting marshmallows, pulleys, a light room with infrared sensors and multicolored tables, dry ice boo bubbles, musical instruments, sensory stations, building blocks, and magnetic robots, just to name a few.

"It's never too early to introduce STEM activities. Children's brains are developing in their early years and these types of experiences teach critical thinking and help make connections to the world around them," says Lead Teacher Kelly Espinoza.

The Center had a great turn out. The families that attended left with arms full of new ideas to try with their kids at home. The center hopes to continue this tradition for years to come. "My favorite part of the night is to see the parents playing with their kids in an interactive fun way, while learning at the same time. Our student teachers worked really hard to make the night a success", says Tayzha Huxford, the Child Care Co-Manager.

This is the place where children can embrace both exploration and education in Science, Technology Engineering and Math (STEM).

MIDLAND

Makes their Mark on Cedar City

by Christina Schweiss

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

On April 5, Midland, the famous country band, took the stage at the America First Event Center on SUU's campus.

The room was filled with energetic people who were excited to have a great night listening to great music with people who also loved it. Students, community members, and Midland fans were ready to dance along to the music — and dance they did.

The opening act was Laci Kaye Booth who was on season 17 of American Idol. Booth was accompanied by guitarist Seth Cook. They played a lot of Booth's songs, some which haven't even been released yet. They also covered songs by Shania Twain and Stevie Nicks.

The Midland men, Mark Wystrach and Cameron Duddy were two of the three members that took the stage. The third Midland member, Jess Carson, was out sick. Carson has been absent from performing for over two months. The singer who took Carson's place was Jonathan Terrell, who used to be the opener for the band just a few months ago.

Midland opened with the song "Electric Rodeo." The concert was filled with the band's hit songs such as "Cheatin' Songs," "Drinkin' Problem," and "Two to Two Step." They also played a song from their new album, which they haven't played before called "Longneck Way To Go" which will feature Jon Pardi. The band also played cover songs by Eddie Rabbitt, John Anderson, and Bruce Springsteen.

In his banter with the audience between songs, lead singer Mark W spoke of the band's gratitude for people coming to experience live music again. He drove over 12 hours from Tucson, AZ to perform in Cedar City. This show was the first time the band has ever been here and Mark let the audience know that they now want to come back year after year.

The concert was exhilarating, the band even played three more songs that were not on their set list. Every single band member got up and sang a song during the encore. The guitarist, Luke Cutchen, who never sings even had a solo moment the audience will never forget.

Midland's new album, The Last Resort, comes out on May 6. You can listen to a few early released songs now and preorder the album.

Midland's Mark Wystrach and Cameron Duddy put on a great show for old and new Iron County Fans.

Spring ceramics sale offers stunning pieces to collect

by Ashley H. Palmer

SUU PUBLIC RELATIONS COORDINATOR

Find the perfect handmade Mother's Day or graduation gift at the SUU Ceramics Guild Spring Sale on Wednesday, April 13, and Thursday, April 14, 2022, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the Sharwan Smith Student Center Living Room. This sale offers a variety of potted plants, pottery, and candles. All of the pots and planters are made by SUU Ceramics students and plants are grown on campus in the SUU Greenhouse. Proceeds from the sale help SUU Ceramics majors go to the annual National Council on Education for the Ceramic Arts Conference. Prices vary based on the ceramics and artist.

Sarah Gardiner, a junior majoring in Ceramics from Magna, Utah, shares, "Funds from our sale go directly towards supporting the Ceramics Guild at SUU and supporting the contributing artists. It is important for the community to attend because as a Guild, we use the proceeds to pay for travel, amongst other things, to attend different ceramics based conferences and events. It's also important because it gives our student contributors exposure as artists in their own right."

Gardiner goes on to say, "My favorite part of working in ceramics would have to be just how few limits there are in what you can create. For me personally, I treat every new project like an inverted puzzle. I start with an overall idea and then I have to determine which steps and processes need to happen to produce the final result."

Southern Utah University offers a Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) in Studio Arts with a Ceramics/Sculpture Emphasis. This is a professional degree focusing on the intensive study of three-dimensional work, as it relates to the ceramic process and multi-media materials. Students develop knowledge and understanding of technical methodologies relating to hand-building and throwing processes, glaze development, various firing methods, mold-making, and slip-casting. They gain a firm foundation of contemporary and historical ceramics and sculpture and have opportunities to combine their ceramic skills with other mediums such as wood, felt, and stone, and each individual determines their own artistic three-dimensional artistic practices.

Cris Van Horne, president of the SUU Ceramics Guild, says, "The guild sales have been a fantastic way to help ceramics/sculpture students raise funds to travel to professional conferences. This year we had students represent SUU at Claycon West in St. George, and nine students were able to attend the National Council on Education for the Ceramic Arts conference in Sacramento. We really appreciate the community support for these opportunities."

Purchase a unique and stunning gift created by SUU Ceramics students on April 13 and 14, 2022 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the Sharwan Smith Student Center Living Room. # SUU student wins prestigious NAMM Award

by Ashley H. Palmer

SUU PUBLIC RELATIONS COORDINATOR

Southern Utah University's Justin Jaramillo has been awarded the National Association of Music Merchants President's Innovation Award for his work as a student in the field of Music. SUU's College of Performing and Visual Arts and Department of Music are proud of Justin and the hard work that he has put into his education.

Dr. McKay Tebbs, Director of Undergraduate Music Technology at SUU, shares, "NAMM is an organization that fosters connections between music product companies and music store owners from around the world. People come to the NAMM show to see and purchase the newest and latest items from instrument and equipment manufacturers. Showcasing companies always bring in their sponsored artists to perform at these events. I will be organizing a school trip for SUU music students to attend the NAMM show this summer. We will be driving from Cedar City to Anaheim in the hopes of seeing and hearing new things that will inspire growth and creativity." The overview of the award explains that the NAMM President's Innovation Award honors college students who demonstrate excellence in the field of music. Winners have proven dedication to pursuing a career in music to include the areas of music performance, music education, media, sound engineering/audio, event technology, production, administration, management and/

SUU's Justin Jaramillo and his saxophone are passionate about improving and performing and will profit in many ways from the NAMM Award.

or marketing along with product creation and innovation.

Justin Jaramillo, a senior majoring in Saxophone Performance from West Valley City, Utah, says, "I decided to study music largely due to the enjoyment I get from it, whether it is from listening or playing. I am especially grateful for the people I have met through this passion for music. As for this award, it is certainly an honor to have received it. The NAMM show is a big deal within the music industry. I am grateful to have the opportunity to attend, and hope to make the most of it in furthering my track in having a career in music.

Dr. Tebbs goes on to say, "Going to the NAMM show can be a life changing experience for a young musician. You get to see and hear so many amazing things from the latest in music gear and technology to some of the best performers in the world. I'm very happy that Justin gets to have this experience and was chosen for this award."

Congratulations, Justin! You are going great places in the world of music! For more information about the Department of Music at SUU, please visit www.suu.edu/pva/music.

SUU Alumni accepted into SILA exhibition

by Ashley H. Palmer

SUU PUBLIC RELATIONS COORDINATOR

Southern Utah University, Cedar City, Utah: Illustration West is an annual competition and exhibition highlighting the year's best illustration – both from L.A. and from all around the world. Society of Illustrators (SILA) is proud to represent established and emerging artists and demonstrate that this continues to be an exciting era for illustration. Southern Utah University (SUU) had recent graduates, Mary Ellen Draper, Emma Clove, Andrew Lee, and Kalen Fernandez, from the illustration program enter their works and were accepted into the exhibition.

Emma Clove, graduated with a degree in illustration and was the valedictorian of the College of Performing and Visual Arts in May 2021. Clove shares, "The piece I submitted is one I had worked on for a couple of months before I went through Illustration West's website and submitted the piece there. The piece was my own concept for a book cover for the novel Redwall by Brian Jacques. Having professionals acknowledge your work as industry standard is honestly relieving. I've put in a lot of hours working on becoming a better artist so knowing that I've been moving in the right direction is a boost of confidence."

SILA was founded in 1953 by a handful of Southern California advertising artists and designers. They sought out to promote the professional status of illustration art as well as foster both philanthropic and educational goals. From this small beginning SILA has grown to a very productive membership whose work is seen locally and nationally by millions each year in all printed media, television, films, the Internet, and gallery exhibitions.

Andrew Lee, a recent graduate from SUU says, "I ended up switching my majors around from Accounting to getting my Bachelor of Fine Arts in Art. I originally lived in Provo, Utah before I attended SUU. SUU has a great atmosphere that is unique compared to other campuses. It's that "outdoorsy" feel, which I personally love. That is what inspires most of the art I do. Landscapes tend to be my go to whenever I'm doing art. When it came to the show, the process of submitting the work is actually simple. Luckily, SUU has Hala Swearingen in the Art and Design department. She's always doing her best to get her students into these competitions. I was grateful that the Art and Design department covered the cost of submitting our works to the show. It's always great to have industry professionals appraise your work and deem it worthy of recognition. It's great to have others enjoy it!"

Mary Ellen, Emma, Andrew, and Kalen are truly amazing graduates of the illustration program at SUU. They continue to astound SUU and the nation as they share their artwork. Congratulations to these dedicated illustrators!

It's great to be an artsy kid in this town

by Mary Anne Andersen

CEDAR CITY ARTS COUNCIL

April is turning out to be a great month to be a student with an artistic bent in Cedar City. Take my student Emma, for instance. On Saturday, April 9th, Emma had two great opportunities to show off her musical skills on violin and piano. In a collaboration between SUMA and SUU, an Arts Festival was held on the Utah Shakespeare Festival grounds, making springtime use of the beautiful Festival grounds from west to east. There were live entertainment and performances, exhibits, vendors, and a chalk art competition. Emma was performing in a string quartet in the afternoon. Participation was free and open to the public and students and families took advantage of the offerings of the day.

On the same day, SUU hosted a Pedagogy Conference with guest Kevin Olson, a very well-known piano educator whose work I have personally taught for decades. When I offered Emma the chance to play for him as part of a master class, she, being the type of person she is, wanted to do both, and so hurried from one event to the other, benefiting from the advantages of living in a small town that values the arts of all kinds. Nice going, Emma.

And what a joy it is to hear that the USF Playmakers are back in business after two years of being scared of the pandemic. Albeit with a smaller cast than usual and limited public performances, twenty young people will present the story of the ugly duckling in the musical "Honk!"

The students are being coached by Dr. LeGrand Andersen, as before; his knowledge of the middle school voice allows him to transpose the music as necessary to give the singers confidence and trust in his direction. Two SUU drama students under the direction of Michael Bahr are directing, and professional costumers, pianist, and choreographer are giving the kids a great, first-class experience. It is just one of the many opportunities for theatrical participation that feed a community of would-be thespians.

On April 23, the Cedar City Arts Council will host its first social of the season. Featured in exhibit in the hallway of the city offices, art students of Tiffany Marchant will display the result of a year's tutoring in the art of painting. These high school students were skeptical when Tiffany told them she could help them create art, but here they are, so pleased to be showing their work to the public. When she said someone might actually buy a piece, they were amazed at the thought! More details to come.

It's not just young people who benefit from what Cedar City has to offer. The Jive Aces rocked the Heritage Theater on April 13th. Families and adults attended the Master Singers' Easter Concert, and Blessed, a concert by In Jubilo will be presented on April 21st. And for something really unusual, the Johnson Center is hosting a mural walk and open house on Friday the 22nd.

Annual SUU Orchestra, Choir performing Easter Weekend

by Ashley H. Palmer

SUU PUBLIC RELATIONS COORDINATOR

The SUU Music Department presents their annual combined Orchestra and Choir Concert on April 16, 2022 at 7:30 p.m. in the Heritage Center Theater. This concert will feature Beethoven's Hallelujah Chorus and Mahler's Symphony No. 2 Resurrection Chorus. Tickets are $10 for adults, $8 for alumni with card, and $5 for youth. SUU faculty/staff (and one guest) and students can attend for free with a valid ID card. Tickets can be purchased at the America First Event Center Box Office, at the door the night of the performance, or online at www.suu.edu/arts.

Mackenzie Williams, a junior Bachelor of Music with a Vocal Performance Emphasis candidate from Mesa, Arizona, says, "While preparing for this show, I have been teaching French and German diction. I have also been working on the soprano solo in the last movement of Gustav Mahler's second symphony. Doing these and being a part of the choir, I have learned a lot about balancing time for what you should practice. I have also started to learn and understand what it is like to teach a choir and how some people need to learn in different ways. That helps in getting the results that you want. Whether that be a certain way to pronounce French or the type of sound you want from the choir to convey a message. I've also learned it takes a team to teach, as I have seen from our choral conductor, Dr. McCoy, and orchestra conductor, Dr. Sun, as well as our accompanist Tracey Bradshaw and all the students who have volunteered or were called upon to help the choirs."

"I think this concert will be very moving and beneficial for the community to experience."

The SUU Symphony Orchestra is open to instrumentalists from SUU's campus. This group of dedicated musicians performs orchestral masterpieces from the standard symphonic repertoire. The choirs at SUU are home to music majors and to students from a variety of other disciplines from across campus, all of whom share a common goal of making great music and performing at their very best.

Williams goes on to say, "This concert is not only a great opportunity for the community to experience some profound and beautiful music, but also an opportunity to think about some deeper messages of life. Overall, I think this concert will be very moving and beneficial for the community to experience."

Drew Holland, senior at SUU, shares, "I play oboe and English horn. I'm really excited to share great symphonic music with the community. It's going to be a real treat.

Experience the collaboration of a vocal and instrumental performance on April 16, 2022, at 7:30 p.m. with SUU's Orchestra and Choir concert. For more information about arts events at SUU, please visit www.suu.edu/arts.

OPEN MIC NIGHT

ENOCH'S WELL-KEPT SECRET

GETTY IMAGES

Enoch City has a well-kept secret. It's their Open Mic Night. This event was organized under the direction of Jane Hunt. Hunt, founder of The Joy Foundation (kidsfindjoy.org), seeks to help local youth discover their talents, develop confidence, and overcome adversity through the arts. Open Mic Night takes place the very first Saturday of each month.

I was awestruck as I attended the most recent Open Mic Night. As a youth, I was introduced to the arts through some of Cedar City's best musicians. Yes, I dabbled in music in my younger years. Jana Dettamanti and Rowland Williams gave me piano lessons, and Tad Brinkerhoff, Leah Brown and June Thorley instructed me on the cello. In high school, I enjoyed singing in the A Capella choir under the direction of Floyd Rigby (yep, I married his son). Today, I get to rub shoulders with present day Cedar City Art Enthusiasts and Mentors, Alex Byers (choir), Dave Jordan (orchestra and band), and Holly Barrick (theatre) as I teach at Canyon View High School. My life was enriched and continues to be enriched by these experiences and these people.

Sitting in The Matheson's Old

Schoolhouse on Midvalley Road, I enjoyed my first Open Mic Night as Dee Keel and Dave Lister opened the evening performing San Antonio Rose on the guitar and Banjo. This number set the tone for a delightful evening. I was further entertained by a recitation of The Bed Pan Poem by Steve Lawrence as he held a bed pan. The mother-daughter duo, Ruth and Ester Hailstone, moved me to tears with their original composition, He Bears the Greater Load (voice and guitar).

AMYANNE RIGBY
CONTRIBUTOR

“Jane Hunt...founder of The Joy Foundation, seeks to help local youth discover their talents, develop confidence, and overcome adversity through the arts...Hunt's dream of helping local youth develop confidence and talent is coming to fruition.”

Daniel Hailstone wiped away those tears as he literally made me laugh out loud with his impersonations of Mickey Mouse, Batman, and Albert from the Movie, Ephraim's Rescue. But in my opinion, Kaeli Madsen stole the show with her guitar and guitar solo, Mother. Madsen's voice is unique, inspiring- something about it simply resonates with me.

Hunt's dream of helping local youth develop confidence and talent is coming to fruition. Original compositions were performed by the younger generation. Dahlin Jordan played a piano piece entitled, Stuck. Jordan and his sister over FaceTime for the first time. Coulson Ohms dazzled those present with his original piano solo, and Sadi Hailstone and Phoebe Carling shared their original vocal duet, Night Dream.

My evening spent at that little schoolhouse was refreshing in so many ways. I loved witnessing the courage the youth had as they performed, and I admired the adults who performed while serving as mentors. The next Enoch Open Mic Night will be held Saturday, May 7th at Enoch's Old School Library located at 4763 Santa Fe Trail at 7:30 PM. Any and all are welcome. If you don't wish to perform, sit back and take it all in - that's a talent too!

How Does It Work?

Each performer or group gets one time slot of up to five minutes in length to share one talent or song. If time allows, performers will be able to share a second selection later on if desired. Participants range from beginners on up and can do just about anything - singing, drumming, dancing (if the dance can be done in a fairly small space), playing an instrument, comedy sketches, telling a story, reciting a poem, showing a piece of art they made, etc.

Ashley wrote the song and it can be found on Apple Music and Amazon Music. Hazley Turek and Abi Myers shared the piano song they wrote

from Karen Plunkett

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

There is nothing that will give your children and grandchildren a great start in life than being a good reader. The more they read the better the better they will become.

That's why the Lion's Club of Cedar City is inviting Iron County Communities to come join the fun during a great opportunity to support the students from preschool to 6th grade for their continuous reading. This event is sponsored by the Cedar City Lion's Club and will be held at the Cedar Middle School on April 23 from 10am to 3pm.

Each child who completes and submits their reading chart gets to choose a prize. They may choose a kite, a book, or a movie pass. There are awards for the best homemade kite,

COREY BAUMGARTNER

Highest and Best flying kite and judges choice.

The ONE class with the highest participation from EACH school gets a Pizza Party from Pizza Hut. Thank you Pizza Hut!

A warm thank you to the many sponsors: Mountain Eye Institute, Cedar Fun Center, Pizza Hut, State Bank of Southern Utah, Rocky Mountain Power, GenPak, Allstate Insurance, Southern Utah Vision Care, Cherry Creek Media are our GOLD SPONSORS.

All of the proceeds from this reading event goes back to the individual school PTO's for each of the schools. Bring the whole family and have some fun. Plus, the Parowan Lion's club will be cooking hamburgers!

“Knowledge is Power”

This Rockwell illustration, like most of his, is one that tells many stories within a single frame frozen in time. The most obvious is the young boy “writing lines” on the chalkboard. He’s doing a pretty good job and from the looks of the clock, he’s been at it for a while. That’s the purpose and punishment of writing lines—the sacrificing of one’s time and comforts to help instill the will to as a positive reinforcement to remind you about the important things in life that you may have been neglecting, or just been distracted and distanced from?

Perhaps it’s spending more quality time with—not just more money on—your family, or finally fine-tuning and turning your hobby into a profession? Maybe you need to take a vacation from your vocation altogether to get a better perspective, or discover a new directive for your gifts and talents? And maybe, as the boy’s sentencing of sentences suggests, What knowledge is power in your life? Or rather, how are you using your knowledge to powerfully improve your life and the lives of those around you?

Also, where do you acquire your knowledge? With a rampant rampage of misinformation on social media, you know that knowledge has power to both create and destroy. Perhaps in today’s classroom, the young boy would be tasked to write, “I will use the power of knowledge for good, not evil.” Still, with all the so-called “knowledge” out there to access in the world (which often causes more duress and distress) we must be more wise with our eyes, minds and hearts. We must learn to discern between truth and falsehoods, even if we have to stay longer after class to learn a lesson, or stay up later with a friend teaching one.

No matter what classroom of life you’re learning within this week, I hope you will keep learning and keep sharing and writing the words of wisdom on and from the cherished chalkboards of your heart.

the rut

LESS TRAVELED

behave better during class, or in this case, to learn better. Though, I’m not sure if this is more a punishment or a practice by writing such a positive sentence.

Playing out in the boy’s background is a man apparently attempting to woo the schoolteacher. This assumption is bolstered by the gift behind his back he is waiting to surprise her with. This also may suggest this is not a first date. However, while we can’t see his face, the look on hers doesn’t seem very cordial. So, either he’s an unwanted suitor, or she’s simply torn between educating the youth—her life’s work—and also making time to enjoy her own life. As teachers understand well, it’s probably been a long day for her, too.

Regardless of how this artistic story plays out in the viewer’s mind, the question is kindled, What reminders (not necessarily reprimands) would you write on the chalkboard of your life today? Not as a punishment, but rather

from LeAnn Woolstenhulme

IRON COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT

Three Peaks Elementary

The second-grade classes at Three Peaks Elementary had the opportunity to participate in a field trip to the Cedar City Canyon Park sponsored by the SUU STEM Center. Each child received a backpack with a clipboard, a pencil, and a student journal. As the students walked along the Coal Creek Trail, they stopped at 5 stations and made observations about various geological features. Stop 1: The Bridge. Students were asked to draw or list everything they observed on the ground, such as landforms, water, etc. 2: Kayenta. SUU students and STEM directors taught the 2nd graders about weathering and erosion and then students were asked to discuss with their partner about any evidence of weathering or erosion they observed and draw a picture in their journal. Stop 3: Tilted Layers. Students were asked to draw examples of a fast and a slow change from their observations. Stop 4: North vs South. Compare and contrast the north and south sides of the canyon. Students were asked to list similarities and differences and record them in a Venn Diagram. Stop 5: Red Hill. Students observed a specified red hill and asked to write about how many layers they could see, what caused the layers, and if the layers occurred fast or slow. After their observation walk, students ate sack lunches in the park and enjoyed the sunshine. Thank you, SUU STEM Center for a fun day!

South Elementary

It was an exciting week at South Elementary! We started the week with a talent show! The students performed their talents in the annual 'South Elementary's Got Talent' show! We saw some amazing talents including dancing, gymnastics, piano solos, singing, violin solos, poetry readings, mimes, bull riding, and even solving Rubik's cubes! We are so proud of all the students who participated and shared their talents with us. We have amazing students at South Elementary!

Later in the week, students at South had a blast at the SUU STEM night. Students rotated through various stations including Lego Robotics, SUU Animal Ambassadors, a planetarium, a helicopter, and so many more hands-on activities! Thank you to everyone who made the night possible!

Iron Springs Elementary

Iron Springs Elementary had our Dudettes and Donuts celebration a few weeks ago. Students were able to bring the amazing "Dudettes" in their life for a donut and to read before school started.

We also just finished up our annual PTA Math-a-thon fundraiser! Students gathered pledges for an upcoming Math test. A Glow Stick Dance Party was the ending celebration. Classes who gathered the most pledges won glow glasses to wear to the dance and head to toe glow bling for their teachers to wear. We have the most amazing school community and want to thank everyone for their generous support. A special shout out to all our sponsors and DJ SPINZ for your support.

We hope everyone is able to enjoy Spring Break and ready to come and finish out the end of the school year strong. Let's go Miners!

Enoch Elementary

Enoch Elementary's 4th graders visited the Red Hills Desert Garden in St. George. The interactive garden displays endangered species, dinosaur tracks, and water-efficient landscapes. The students used this opportunity to learn about water conservation and responsible gardening. After the garden exploration, the students enjoyed a lunch and a splash in the water at Thunder Junction Park.

The 1st graders performed for their families this week. The end of year program titled, "There's No One Like Me" showcased the many subjects the students learned in class. They sang about plants, seasons, months, and losing teeth.

Science fair experiments expand experience, education

from Melissa Dolan

SCIENCE TEACHER, GATEWAY PREP

A Science Inquiry Fair was held on April 1st at Gateway Academy and at the forefront was our Science Enrichment teacher, Melissa Dolan.

Ms. Dolan introduced the fair with a class experiment teaching the concept of Conservation of Matter. She challenged all fourth and fifth graders to ask a testable question, make a hypothesis, and to conduct experiments.

Students studied various topics including how sound affects plant growth, the best vegetable for electricity production, as well as some new ones like how does "long COVID" impact our taste, and how well does the 5-second rule apply.

This year we had 12 teams complete Science Fair boards and 75 individuals who all did amazing work. We can't wait until next year's Science Fair.

Cub Scouts enjoy camaraderie at camp

from LaRee Kurtz

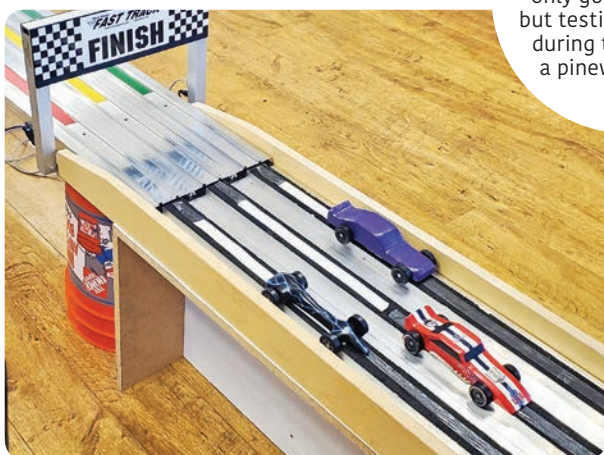

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The local Cub Scouts recently enjoyed Day Camp at the Marion D. Hanks Boy Scout Camp. It was a BLAST and enjoyed by over 90 Cub Scouts from Washington and Iron County areas.

Weekend activities of exploring and experiencing, also included the 2nd Annual Pack 1848 Pinewood Derby. The race was held in the old Enoch Library with 16 custom-crafted cars each vying for the Finish Line.

One of the iconic activities for any scout is not only going to Camp, but testing their skills during the thrills of a pinewood derby.

NEWS FROM THE NEST

Hello Iron County. This is Brooklyn Rushton, your Canyon View High School Student Body Historian. I would like to thank you all on behalf of the CVHS Student Government for making this column happen. Positive feedback has helped us to soar. Personally, writing for my community has been the highlight of my year. I thank you for letting me be the voice of the Falcons. I am so thankful for Iron County.

I also would like to thank you to all those who have helped me in the Sterling Scholar program. My work in the Iron County Today was one of the highlights that helped me to receive runner up in the competition. Thank you for sharing my passion for journalism with me. The Sterling Scholar program includes many rigorous interviews, along with the creation of an all-inclusive portfolio. Being a part of this competition was ever so humbling; furthermore, being surrounded by Southern Utah's most talented students is an extremely motivating experience. Being awarded a runner up in this program was an incredible honor. As a Sterling Scholar for Southern Utah, I promise my community and the incredible Sterling Scholar program to continue to be a Sterling Scholar: a dedicated member of the community who gives back through their passions.

Canyon View would like to congratulate the other Sterling Scholar winners: Quinn Ohms received runner up in Skilled and Technical Sciences and Kelsey Topham received runner up in Agricultural Science.

BROOKLYN RUSHTON
ENGLISH STERLING SCHOLAR

Canyon View is finding success in the community left and right. Our dedicated students are applying their talents to local competitions all across the board and are killing the competition! Skills USA had five medalists from Canyon View: Electronics, first place Lane Cox; Electronics Technology, Mardi Hepworth; Third place Medical Math, Cody Bills; third place Job Skills Demo Open, Tate Ralphs; third place Technical Drafting, Kandice Adams. Advisor, David Sorensen said, "We had a very awesome group of students this year that represented Canyon View very well..." We would like to also Congratulate Mardi Hepworth on her involvement in the Sterling Scholar program at CV this year. Her efforts not only shined in the SkillsUSA competition, but in representing Canyon View in the Mathematics department.

On March 16th, the Canyon View chapter of TSA competed at the state conference, bringing home two sets of gold medals. Hannah Hafley and Devin Howe tore it up in the Fashion Design Technology category. Their performance paid off and helped us to bring home a win. In CIM Tate Ralphs, Ethan Cannon, David Fife, Eli Jones, and Case Curtis attained a victory as a team. We congratulate and thank these outstanding students for representing Canyon View so well.

We are also ecstatic to announce that we have attained two region championships this year. We were elated when drill claimed region 12 in January, and are pleased to announce that CV Theater has claimed the title for Canyon View once again. They took 1st in Sweepstakes, 2nd in Place One Act, and Best Ensemble in A One Act. We congratulate this incredible group on their hard work and successes this year.

Verno Ferris Larson

Dedicated family man and proud WWII veteran, Verno Ferris Larson returned to his Heavenly Father on April 4, 2022, in Cedar City, Utah. He was born in Lehi, Utah on December 5, 1924, to Verno Ellis and Rachel Anderson Larson. His family included brothers John and Donald and sisters Kathleen, Anita, Nancy and Lynette.

His early years were spent in Ruth, Nevada and Moroni and Clearfield, Utah. He graduated from Davis High in 1943. Shortly after graduation, he joined the army with the intent to fly. It wasn't long before he did just that. During training, he flew several WWII aircraft, including the P-38 and B-17. One of his training flights ended with an emergency landing of their B-29 in a Midwest wheat field. He was ultimately assigned to be a B-29 Bomber pilot. He served in the Pacific, even flying low level reconnaissance over the aftermath of the atomic bombs in Japan. After the war, he was stationed in the Philippines and for a time served in the Air Force Reserves flying the F-80, which was one of the first jet aircraft. He loved the United States Constitution, freedom and his time in military service with his whole heart.

Music always played an important part of his life. He was an accomplished musician, especially in his mastery of the violin. He enjoyed sharing his talent with others and playing gave him peace while he was stationed in the Pacific during his military service.

His post high school education happened at Weber College, the University of Utah and Northrop. He was educated as an aerospace engineer. He lived for several years in Southern California while he worked in the aerospace industry. He also worked for Boeing at Issaquah, WA.

He married Celia Vasquez in 1947. Two daughters, Deborah and Pamela, were born to this union. He married Barbara Jean Williams in 1960. They were married for 50 years. They enjoyed traveling to Australia and England together to visit Barbara's family. After Barbara's passing, he married Lettis Marie Anderson McGary in 2011. Following Marie's death, he married Janet Baumgart Larson in 2018. After his sister-in-law Janet became his wife, he became more than uncle to his nieces and nephews. He had the new titles of Gruncle and Duncle. He loved all of the family he gained from his marriages later in life and quickly fit right in.

He was a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Although he was not an active member for many years, he never lost his faith and testimony. He frequently shared about the many times that he knew he was spared death due to divine intervention. After he returned to church activity in his mid-eighties, he entered the temple for the first time. From that point forward, he attended the temple weekly until he or his wife were no longer physically able to do so. He had a special place in his heart for the Prosser, Washington Ward and its members. He was often asked to substitute teach the Gospel Doctrine class. He loved these opportunities. He did not shy away from sharing his faith and his love for Jesus Christ.

Verno Ferris Larson was a thrifty, brilliant world traveler that could tell stories, most of them about his own life, that kept you on the edge of your seat. He was a gentleman, protective caregiver, comedian and patriot. Count yourself lucky if you ever had the chance to cross his path or listen to him recount one of his adventures. If you are one of the many friends that he made throughout the country and world, you know you hit the jackpot.

He is survived by his wife Janet, sister Lynette Swapp and many other family and friends that love him. Graveside Services will be held on Saturday, April 16, 2022, 11:00 am at the Prosser, WA Cemetery. Arrangements are under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary and Prosser Funeral Home and Crematory. Online condolences can be sent at www.mortuary.org.

Kenneth Lavern Haley Jr. (Pops)

Kenneth Lavern Haley Jr (Pops), age 64, (6/15/1957 - 4/5/2022), passed away peacefully after a short battle with cancer on April 05, 2022, in Enoch UT. Ken was born on June 15, 1957, in Cleveland TN, to Juanita (McCarter) and Kenneth Haley Sr.

When talking with Ken about what this should say his answer was, "I'm a simple man." While that may have been true there was so much more to him than that. Ken was a wonderful son, a great dad, the cool grandpa, a father figure to those that needed someone, and an amazing friend. Most importantly he was the most kind and genuine person to have in your corner.

Ken grew up in Tennessee and Georgia. He served in the Army in 1974. Ken enjoyed traveling and never stayed in one place too long. He made many friends on his journeys. He always had a dog, or two, by his side and a Mt. Dew in his hand. Ken enjoyed learning new things and spending time with his family and friends.

Ken was preceded in death by his brother Daniel Haley.

He is survived by his Mother, Juanita Leamond of Cleveland, TN. His Father Kenneth Haley Sr. His 3 children, Christa (Bam) Warren, Tonia (Kenya) Haley, and Kenneth Haley III, and His 7 Grandchildren. He will be missed by numerous family members and even more friends.

Ken's final resting place will be in Cleveland, TN with his Mother. Cremation has taken place under the direction of Affordable Funeral Services, 2002 N Main St Cedar City UT 435-586-3456.

Geraldine Mason Hodge

Geraldine Mason Hodge passed away on April 7, 2022, at her home in Cedar City, Utah after a lengthy illness. She was born August 19, 1942, in Ogden, Utah. Her father was John Mason and her mother was Maren Mitchell Mason. She grew up in Sunset, Utah and attended Clinton Elementary, North Davis Jr. High, Davis High School, Weber College, and Utah State University, where she graduated with a Bachelor of Science, Magna Cum Laude. She was a member of Phi Kappa Phi Scholastic Honorary Society.

She served a Latter-day Saint mission to the United Kingdom and was secretary to the Mission President.

In 1966 she married Robert Michael Hodge and gave birth to 6 children. She is survived by loving her husband of fifty-five years, two daughters, Roberta Young and Ruth Leu, and one son, Jason Mason Hodge. She is also survived by eleven grandchildren.

In 1967 she began working as a computer programmer for the U.S. Department of the Army where she was recognized and formally commended for her outstanding work. Later on, once the children were old enough, she began to work in the private sector as a computer analyst and programmer. She worked in those capacities in both the private and public sectors until her retirement in 2010.

During her life, Geraldine traveled and lived in nine different states as the family traveled from job to job; sometimes for changes to her employment and sometimes due to changes in her husband's employment. But wherever she went, she was a light unto those who associated with her and she made many friends.

She served her church in many positions at the Ward and Stake levels, including Music Director, choir conductor, organist, and Relief Society teacher and counselor.

A bright light has left this darkening planet; but our loss will be eternity's gain.

Services will be held on Friday, April 15, 2022, at the LDS Chapel located at 40 East Mid-Valley Road with a viewing beginning at 9:30 am and funeral services beginning at 11:00am and thereafter a brief graveside service and dedication.

Final arrangements are under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary. Online condolences can be sent at www.mortuary.org.

What it means to be one of 2.3 billion people loving God – Part 6

by Edy Meredith

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

2.3 billion when written out is 2,300,000,000 or two billion three hundred million. This is a tremendously large number and the approximate number of Christians in the world today—a copious and bounteous number out of an estimated 7.9 billion world population. In world population China and India lead the world with China at 1,439,323,776 and India at 1,380,004,385. China and India can be very dangerous countries for Christians, yet Christianity continues to grow even where persecuted in the middle east, the African parents or because of the experiences of others. Some people even have the tremendous and good fortune of having seen Him, heard Him, or dreamt about Him with strong life-changing emotional impact. Jesus is recorded in our generation as having appeared to Moslems and other unbelievers with the result of a total life change. These experiences with Jesus began in the first century A.D. as we know from the Apostle Paul's conversion when Paul changed from being a persecutor of Christians to Christ's best advocate demonstrating his total dedication to Christ through Paul's missionary life. continent, China, India, even in some countries where Christianity is outlawed.

This month is a monumental and important month for Christians across the world as the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus—Christ, Messiah, and Savior—is remembered and celebrated. Without the crucifixion and death of Jesus on the Roman cross, His resurrection from the dead could not be celebrated. His agony and death on the cross paid the price for the sins of humanity as well as for the sins of individuals. The Bible in Romans chapter 6, verse 23, teaches us, "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord." Christians look to the living resurrected Savior for their salvation from personal and corporate sins.

Having our sins erased and paid for by Jesus means to have a personal encounter with Him. Jesus is a personal God that we don't inherit through our Jesus continue even today, and they always lead to the recipient searching for, finding, and studying the Bible. Personal experiences with the true and living Jesus never contradict the Bible if they are truly from God.

We are warned in the Bible to beware that in the end of days, many deceivers will come to lead even the very elect astray through "lying signs and wonders" causing many to leave the true faith (2 Thessalonians 2:8-9). Pray that you and your families will not be led astray but will be found faithful to the Biblical truth when Jesus returns.

Join in the glorious celebrations held in the heavenlies and here on Earth remembering and glorifying God for the resurrection of our Messiah Yeshua/Jesus. Resurrection Sunday (Easter) is on April 17th when many local churches are celebrating. Will you be with God's saved family on that day?

“Hold On To Me” (Lauren Daigle)

I am grateful the Spring sunlight has returned and the snows have retreated. This also means the moisture we desperately needed more of may be delayed and the drought bolstered and undefeated. Nevertheless, there are worse droughts in our communities than that of water that need more faith and focus.

There are those people right now lost in the deserts of despair and suffocating in the darkness of depression. There are those now wandering in forbidden paths, wondering if anyone cares, or can be there to help them find their way home, who feel abandoned and lost to all light and love.

I also realize that many of those who need these periodic melodic written reminders may not even know this newspaper exists, let alone that the Lord still loves them (Romans 8:31-39) and still has a beautiful plan and purpose for their lives (Jeremiah 29:11).

Those who daily embrace and bask in the light and love of the Lord may be confused as to why anyone would feel unworthy of being held in the arms of His love? Why wouldn't everyone reach out for the Lord's leading light in their darkest hours, or slam the door on divinity? These are not questions as much as commissions. Because to those of us basking, the Lord is asking us to let our lights so shine (Matthew 5:14-16) and remind others they are not alone.

For even the most zealous zealots experience darkness in their lives. From leaders at the pulpits to the listeners in the pews, from worshipers in the Temples to the weepers at the tombs, The Lord wants each of us to know that it is within our darkest hours when His love and light are strongest and brightest! (Matthew 11:28-30).

That's why He counsels and comforts us that when we do our best to follow Him, even being willing to come follow Him, we never walk in darkness and reminding us that He is the Light of the world (John 8:12). This may seem misleading, for we are surrounded by darkness (Isaiah 60:2). There is a difference between walking in and walking through darkness. It depends on what and who we are seeking (Matthew 7:7).

For everywhere we look we can see darkness proactively and provocatively portrayed from the news and radio to television shows and movie theaters. And as many community leaders and lighters know all too well (even from personal experience) that most social media is no longer a reliable source of light and truth, but an alluring, deceptively disguised distributor of quicksand for our minds and hearts.

Yes, both the planetary and personal darkness we must press through—not just pass through—daily seems daunting and defeating, but if Easter weekend reminds us of only one thing—no darkness can defeat the light and love of our Savior, Jesus Christ, the Light of the world and of our lives. Let Him hold on to you right now and always.

"HIS HAND IN MINE"

"These poems capture who I am. They are written with a prayerful hand, and are inspired from above. It is my hope that all who read them will be edified, find comfort, and feel God's love."

— L. Brent Jones

God's Mercy

by L. Brent Jones

*You cannot look upon the world,
With its wondrous sights and sounds,
And not realize within your soul,
That God's mercy does abound.*

*He cares for every living thing,
With a singleness of heart,
And wants all to reach out to him,
For His blessings He'll impart.*

*You look inside and know it's true.
Your thoughts recount you are loved,
The many times He's healed
your woes,
And pushed and sometimes shoved.*

*He's been right there and changed
your life,
Such happiness He defines.
My life, my joy, my family,
Those blessings all are mine.*

*You start to doubt, when paths get rough,
His presence and His plan.
Does God exist and is He real,
Or just the ministry of man?*

*For that same love that's with us here,
Will exist forever more.
Our families go into eternity,
Just like it was before.*

*He's our Father and our Comforter,
The Beginning and the End.
He's always there, right by your side,
Just like a loyal friend.*

*His hand extends down through the veil,
And wants you to grasp it tight.
He's always there to lift you up.
You are precious in His sight.*

*His glory is to have you with Him,
When you're finished here on earth.
That's always been the goal He planned,
For each of us from birth.*

*His mercy shines right through His love,
And its presence you will find.
So let that sunshine warm your soul.
It will give you peace of mind.*

When Resurrection Sunday, Passover, and Ramadan overlap

by Edy Meredith

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The three monotheistic and most influential religions in the world rarely celebrate their major holidays during the same time, but this year they do. Monotheistic religions hold the viewpoint that there is only one God. While these three hold different viewpoints of the one God they worship, their God is responsible for everything and is considered generally to be all-powerful, all-knowing, and ever-present. Ultimately that one God is considered incomprehensible because finite human minds cannot understand the infinite. These three religions are Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. Judaism's symbol is the Star of David, Christianity is represented by the Roman cross, and Islam by the Crescent moon. All three have a major holiday that rarely overlap because they follow different calendars, usually do not synchronize, and change dates of observance from year to year.

Twelve solar months consists of 365 days, 48 minutes, and 46 seconds while twelve lunar months consist of 354 days, shorter than the solar calendar, with each of these three monotheists faiths dealing with the date of occurrence in a different and complicated way. Fortunately, this year the holy days overlap. The moon is central, but with important differences. For Jews Passover occurs on the 14th of the month of Nisan, the first month of the Jewish ancient liturgical (religious) calendar in the spring, bringing together the lunar (Nisan) and solar (spring) aspects. Because Passover depends on the full moon of spring, it can occur within a 28-day period. Because Christ died at Passover, Resurrection Sunday is calculated as the first Sunday after the first full moon (lunar) of spring (solar) so that Resurrection Sunday and Passover always fall within weeks of each other. Because the Muslim calendar is purely lunar, Muslim observances such as Ramadan move "backwards" through the solar years. Vis-à-vis the Gregorian calendar dominant in the west, the Muslim month of fasting begins about 14 days "earlier" every year. It takes the Muslim calendar about 33 years for a feast to occur on the same day on the solar calendar.

The religious impulse is very strong among humans and is a deep-seated, experiential recognition of the supernatural and divine. It is deeply embedded in the human heart and mind and is highly transcendent in looking for meaning beyond earthly existence. Respect for that aspect of humanity allows us to understand holy days celebrated by others.

This year Ramadan began on April 2 and lasts until May 1. Fasting from dawn until sunset, Muslims ask for forgiveness for past sins, pray for guidance, and use the time to re-center on their faith by practicing self-restraint and carrying out good deeds. To read the Quran in English, go to the following: clearquran.com.

Passover is from April 15-April 23 and is one of the most important Jewish holidays, celebrating God's liberation from slavery in Egypt. During the eight-day festival, Jews around the world practice abstaining from leavened foods (leaven is a symbol of sin), keep strict kosher, observe days of rest, and retell the story of the exodus from Egypt.

Resurrection Sunday (Easter) is preceded by the season of Lent (a 40-day observance reminiscent of Jesus Christ's sacrifice and withdrawal into the desert), begins on Ash Wednesday (March 2) and ends with Resurrection Sunday on April 17, celebrating the resurrection of Jesus from the grave after His crucifixion where He gave his life for the forgiveness of the sins of humankind.

Let us find joy in these holy days.

Falcons find just enough offense, win twice on pitch

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Finding ways to score was a struggle for the Canyon View Falcons soccer team in its two matches last week. In the end, it found just enough to come through with a pair of Region 12 victories and a boost up the 3A RPI rankings.

Carson Burton scored the game's only goal in the 30th minute of the first half, and Dawson Talbot came through with the clean sheet as CV shut out visiting Grand, 1-0 on April 6 to even its region record at 3-3 on the season. The Falcons started the week by beating Richfield 5-4 in a penalty kick shootout April 5 after the teams played to a 0-0 draw through 100 minutes.

Canyon View jumped four spots in the RPI to No. 14 and will step out of Region 12 for a pair of home games this week. The Falcons played host to Beaver on Tuesday, which was too late for press deadline, and they will play Manti on Friday in a 4 p.m. start.

The Parowan boys soccer team won twice in three matches from last week, beating North Sevier, 6-1 on April 5, shutting out South Sevier 4-0 on April 7, and dropping a 3-1 decision to Beaver on April 8. The Rams are 7-3 in 2A South and 8-4 overall.

Against the Wolves, sophomore Adam Edwards had a hat trick in the victory as Parowan scored four times in the first half on the way to the win. Against South Sevier, Edwards added another goal as four different Parowan players scored. Beaver put an end to the Rams' three-game winning streak by scoring twice in the first half and holding on for the victory.

Parowan will be idle for spring break before returning to play a road game at league leader Gunnison on April 19.

REDS SHUT DOWN TWICE

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Through a scoreless opening half, the Cedar Reds were on equal footing against the Pine View Panthers on April 5. Once the second half began, the Panthers asserted control and left the Reds scrambling for answers.

Jared Casas scored the game's only goal off a scramble in the crease in the 44th minute, and keeper Kaden Cox made it stand up with the help of the defense in front as Pine View beat Cedar, 1-0.

"We still had our chances, but we just weren't organized enough and holding the ball for too long," Cedar head coach Scott Kamachi said. "We saw (Pine View) playing a hard back line, and we don't see that a lot in our classification. We weren't prepared for it, and that's on us as a coaching staff."

"We didn't get the ball up the field and behind the defense fast enough."

The Reds had several good scoring chances in the first half, but couldn't get a ball past Cox into the net. Once Casas beat Cedar keeper Dagan Murray, it changed the complexion of the game.

"There wasn't a lot of physical play on their part, and that frustrates the crap out of you. You're getting ready to attack and do something positive, and all of a sudden the ball is 30, 40 yards away," Kamachi said. "They did what they needed to do to win, but this was a game where we beat ourselves."

The offensive struggles continued for Cedar in their road game April 8 at No. 1 Dixie as the Flyers scored all of its goals in the second half and shut out the Reds, 4-0. Jorge Quintero scored twice as Dixie remained undefeated at 7-0 in Region 10, 9-0 overall. Cedar fell to 2-5, 4-6.

The Reds played host to Desert Hills on Tuesday in a game that was too late for press deadline, and they will travel to play at Crimson Cliffs on Friday in a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

Falcons softball rolls past Grand

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

Canyon View softball coach J.R. Robinson recognized one big key for his team when they faced the Grand Red Devils on April 8. Facing a squad that didn't have nearly the depth, CV stayed on task and closed out another in the bottom of the frame. "We got better because in order to play a game like this, you have to be mentally in the game," Robinson said. "In a game like this, it's easy to check out and go on auto-pilot, but we didn't." Led by Gracie Burt, who went 3-for-3 and drove in five runs, the Falcons banged out of the standings. They opened April 5 with a six-run fifth-inning rally to beat Kanab, 16-13, then followed up with a 17-0 shutout of Panguitch and completed the three-game sweep with a 24-3 rout over the Cowboys in the rematch April 7. Against the Cowboys in Game 1, Taylen Yardley and

Region 12 win in relatively easy fashion.

Sidney Webster hit a two-run homer, and Canyon View scored four runs in the opening inning on the way to a 16-1 rout over Grand in its only game of the week. Ranked No. 6 in the 3A RPI, the Falcons finished the win in three innings due to the run rule.

"When you're struggling pitching-wise, it's tough to get traction," Robinson said. "What I didn't want to happen was for us to get in a game we thought we should win and then not play our game. I thought our girls did a good job of continuing to play our game despite what the circumstances were."

CV (3-1 Region 12, 8-7 overall) added seven runs in the second. The Red Devils scored their only run in the third, and the Falcons put the win away with five more runs 14 hits and took advantage of 10 walks issued by the Red Devils.

Rams stay undefeated in region play

Elsewhere around Iron County, the Parowan Rams put on their hitting shoes and racked up three big wins in 2A South play to stay on top Katlynn Matheson drove in three runs apiece for the Rams. Parowan kept up the momentum by needing only two innings of offense to shut out the Bobcats early with the run rule, then used a 10-run fourth inning to put away the rematch with the Cowboys and extend its winning streak to six straight games.

Warriors rally caps sweep over Reds

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

For a while, the Cedar Reds baseball team had one of the top teams in all of 4A on the ropes. The Snow Canyon Warriors showed why they have the No. 4 ranking by producing the key rally when it counted.

Snow Canyon scored three runs in the top of the seventh inning and survived a close battle to beat Cedar, 6-4, on April 8 and complete a sweep of the two-game series. The Reds fell to 0-6 in Region 10, but took a 4-3 lead after scoring three times in the bottom of the fifth. Braxtan Torres had a two-run single in the frame.

The Reds scored all of its runs off starter Jake Johnson, but sophomore reliever Talan Kelly silenced the Cedar bats over the final two and two-thirds innings to earn the victory.

Snow Canyon (3-3 region, 13-5 overall) got on the board first with two runs in the top of the fourth, but Cedar countered with a run in the bottom half. The Warriors answered that run in the top of the fifth before the Reds produced the rally that briefly gave them the lead.

Kasen Crandall had two hits and drove in a run for Cedar in the loss.

In the opener of the series on April 5, Snow Canyon took control from the start, scoring eight runs in the bottom of the second to break a tie and go on to a 20-7 win over Cedar on its home field. Luke Anderson went 4-for-4, homered twice and drove in six runs for the Warriors.

The Reds will be idle in region play this week before returning to play at home with Hurricane on April 19.

Parowan falls twice

Elsewhere in Iron County, the Parowan baseball team suffered a pair of defeats in region play last week, starting with a tough 6-5 loss at home to Kanab on April 5 and the Cowboys completing a two-game sweep with an 8-2 win on April 8.

In the opener, the Rams (2-2 2A South, 7-7 overall) scored twice in the third and fourth innings, but couldn't overcome an early third-inning run from the Cowboys. Shaydon Benson had three hits and Christian Bost drove in two runs for the Rams in the loss.

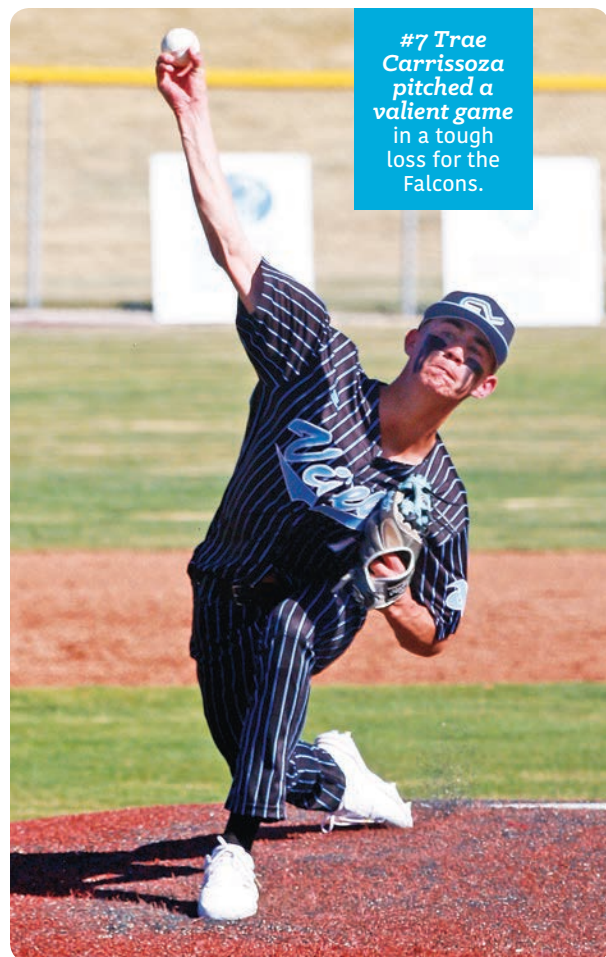

Kanab grabbed control of the second game early with a five-run first inning and a 13-hit offensive attack. Parowan finished with 11 hits in the loss, but also left 10 runners stranded on base.

The Rams played Enterprise in a region game Monday at home that was too late for press deadline, and the rematch will take place Thursday in Enterprise starting at 3:30 p.m.

Thomas Carter and the Cedar Reds kept hitting and fighting to stay in the game against the Warriors from Snow Canyon.

Wildcats rally, deny CV sweep

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

It had been the pattern through several games for the Canyon View baseball team in Region 12 play. Fall behind early, rally to take the lead, hang on and get in the win column. On April 8, the Richfield Wildcats had other ideas and produced the key rally that helped to steal a road win.

Richfield scored three runs in the top of the seventh inning with the help of a throwing error and wild pitch as they beat Canyon View, 15-13, to hand the Falcons its first loss in region and snap a five-game winning streak.

"Baseball is a funny game. You gotta keep playing until the last out," CV head coach Jason Jacobsen said. "There was more to it than just the last inning. We didn't play good enough today."

After the Wildcats (1-2 region, 6-10 overall) got out to a quick 3-0 lead in the top of the first, the Falcons (5-1, 10-6) were able to counter with seven runs in the bottom of the frame. Richfield wouldn't go away quietly, though.

CV led 11-7 through four innings, but Richfield had a key answer when Jaron Ross made the Falcons pay for an intentional walk by hitting a three-run homer to cap a five-run fifth and put the Wildcats up by one at 12-11.

Cameron Calvez helped the Falcons respond with a solo home run in the bottom of the frame to tie the game, but CV could only manage a single run in the sixth after loading the bases with no outs to briefly take the lead.

Following the rally by Richfield, Canyon View was able to bring the tying run to the plate in the bottom of the seventh, but couldn't get the key hit. The Falcons finished with 13 hits for the game and committed two errors.

In the doubleheader matchup in Richfield, Canyon View swept both games, winning the opener, 11-6 and the nightcap, 16-2, on April 5. The Falcons did the bulk of its damage early in Game 1, scoring runs in each of the first five innings and producing a 17-hit attack.

Nick Macias homered in the win and every starter had at least one hit.

CV put the win away quickly in Game 2, scoring six runs in the first inning and adding seven more in the second. Cameron Calvez and Tommy English drove in three runs apiece and the Falcons had another game with 17 hits in the victory.

Ranked No. 2 in the RPI, Canyon View played a doubleheader at home against Carbon on Tuesday, and they will travel to Price for a third game against the Dinos on Thursday starting at 3:30 p.m.

Reds drop two to Warriors, remain winless in region 10

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

In the continuing search for its first Region 10 win, the Cedar Reds softball team got off to a good start, building an early four-run lead. The Snow Canyon Warriors did the necessary things late and rallied for a victory.

Avery Thorkelson and Alyssa Staheli drove in two runs each, and Snow Canyon wiped out a 5-1 deficit to beat Cedar, 7-5 on April 5. The Warriors scored three times in the third, then grabbed control with single runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Jenna Thorkelson picked up the win in the circle for Snow Canyon as she held Cedar to just five hits. The Warriors came through with the victory despite committing five errors.

Amryn Tom and Elli John

drove in runs for the Reds in the loss.

Snow Canyon wasted no time taking control of the rematch on a warm, sunny day at Cedar on April 8, scoring 10 runs in the first and cruising to a 15-1 win in five innings to complete the two-game sweep. Avery Thorkelson homered twice and Emma Daniel held the Reds to just two hits as they fell to 0-6 in Region 10, 7-11 overall.

Between the region games, Cedar beat the Beaver Beavers at home April 6, posting a 12-2 victory. Kodi Nelson, Lexi Ludlow, Elli John and Haylee Campbell homered for the Reds, who scored twice in the bottom of the fifth inning to end the game early.

The Reds will be idle in region play this week and return to play at home against Hurricane on April 19.

COREY BAUMGARTNER

Cedar's Elli John battled on both sides of the ball with pitching and hitting to help the Reds attempt to ward off the Warriors.

T-Birds wrap up play at Wyoming Cowboy Classic

by Tyler Roper

SUU ASST. AD, COMMUNICATIONS

CHANDLER, Ariz. — The Southern Utah University men's golf team completed play at the Wyoming Cowboy Classic Tuesday afternoon, posting a 25th-place finish.

Tyler Jones was the top individual finisher for the Thunderbirds with a final score of 219 to place him three over par for the tournament. Jones' efforts placed him in 65th overall on the individual leaderboard.

As a team, SUU recorded a 40-over-par 904. Tuesday was Southern Utah's best of the three rounds as the T-Birds carded a 299 after rounds of 301 and 304.

Rashon Williams had a big final round, shooting a 69 Tuesday to help him climb 11 spots in the standings. With an 11-over-par 227, Williams finished

Yongyuan wins 13th Big Sky Golfer of the Week award

by Tyler Roper

SUU ASST. AD, COMMUNICATIONS

CEDAR CITY — The Big Sky Conference has named Chanikan (Pluem) Yongyuan Women's Golfer of the Week for the 13th time, adding on to her record for most weekly awards in the conference's history.

Yongyuan won the award by finishing fourth at the Wyoming Cowgirl Classic, hosted by the University of Wyoming at Ak-Chin Southern Dunes Golf Club in Maricopa, Arizona. The Thailand native carded a one-over-par 217 for the tournament, including a stellar 68 in the second round of play.

Throughout her second round shooting four under par, the senior dropped in four birdies and made par on every other hole. She would go on to sink three more birdies on the final day of play, in addition to making par 12 more times.

Another memorable Masters

As I was scrolling around my social media this weekend, a friend posed a fairly interesting question about the game of golf. She wondered why the game is so lacking in interest beyond the legend that is Tiger Woods.

Let's face it here. Considering Woods has a golf resumé for the ages and he draws attention for many reasons, his backstory was the story of the moment.

For most of the time in the early rounds at the 2022 Masters, the focus was heavy on Tiger's return to competition 14 months after a near-fatal car accident. Without question, it was absolutely remarkable that Woods made his return so soon. He even shot a 1-under 71 and only trailed leader Songjae Im by four strokes after the opening round.

But alas, a golf tournament – especially a major golf tournament like the Masters – is played over four rounds and 72 holes. The wear and tear would show once Woods shot a 74 in the second round and made the cut with a 36-hole total at 1-over par.

There would be no magic formula for Woods to kick his game into overdrive, no superhero story for the ages. He shot matching rounds of 6-over 78 on the weekend and finished 47th, clearly very un-Tiger-like.

We were left with a huge standing ovation for Woods as he walked off the 18th green at Augusta for the final time Sunday. The applause was well-deserved for how remarkable his presence at this Masters was, but there was much more to be told from the first major of 2022.

Attention turned to 25-year-old Texan Scottie Scheffler, whose rise to No. 1 in the world golf rankings can only be described as seriously meteoric. Over the last six tournaments Scheffler has played in, he has four wins (WM Phoenix Open, Arnold Palmer Invitational, the WGC Match Play and The Masters, his first major championship).

That's as Tiger-like a run as we've seen in recent memory on the PGA Tour. Scheffler's rise to the No. 1 ranking took all of 42 days. It took Woods 252 days to reach No. 1 for the first time in his career, according to the CBS broadcast.

The intriguing part from Scheffler's personality is how much he's the anti-Tiger. He went about his business in the final round and looked completely unflappable, even after Cameron Smith, his closest challenger, started with back-to-back birdies to trim the lead to a single shot.

But then Smith's bogey at the par-4 3rd hole combined with Scheffler's amazing long-distance chip-in from well off the front of the green created a two-shot swing that changed everything.

No real shows of emotion, no wavering of confidence. Just hit the shots, find the greens, win the tournament.

Even with a weird three-putt on the 72nd hole, Scheffler still won his first green jacket by three shots. It was a moment to savor in his own way.

If the viewers were turned off by the performance, that's OK. The more things change, the more the game will stay the same.

» Back here closer to home, Canyon View has made a bit of a splash with some recent runs of success on the three main spring sports – baseball, softball and soccer. Here are some highlights:

CV baseball started Region 12 play at 5-0 and caught some good breaks along the way as they reached the top of the 3A RPI rankings. Friday's loss to Richfield only knocked the Falcons down a notch to No. 2, but they're still in good shape to host a pod for the playoffs when they begin May 7. The top four teams in the final RPI will earn that privilege.

Canyon View softball is close to the top four, but sits at No. 6 right now following Friday's 16-1 rout over Grand. As they stand, the Falcons would face

No. 11 seed Juab at Morgan with the winner advancing to play the Trojans.

Of course, it's all subject to change in the days ahead.

As for CV soccer, they've risen to No. 14 in the RPI and would earn a first-round home game against No. 19 American Leadership on April 29.

Stay tuned to this space for more details in the days ahead.

113th overall. Behind him was fellow freshman Leo Torres who finished 123rd on a 15-over-par 231.

San Diego State ran away with the team victory by scoring a 39-under-par 825. Long Beach State finished as the runner up, and Colorado State and Nevada tied for third place. Isaac Rodea of LBSU won the individual championship by shooting a 13-under-par 203 while Zihao Jin and Steve Sugimoto of San Diego State and Connor Jones of Colorado State tied for second at 12 under par.

Atthasit (Anfield) Srichun and Ryker Smith finished right behind Torres in 124th and 125th, respectively. Srichun shot a 16-over-par 232 for the tournament while Smith finished two strokes back at 234.

TOM'S SPORTS TRIVIA

In case you missed it, this bit of trivia craziness crossed a pretty large milestone when April began. It's been two years and a grand total (as of this issue) of 1,272 questions asked – hopefully with as little repetition as possible. Here is a celebration of milestones and other things for this week's dozen. Please remember...no wagering!

1. Even with LeBron James in the lineup, the Los Angeles Lakers failed to qualify for the 2022 NBA playoffs. Including this season, how many times has it happened with LBJ?

- A. One
- B. Two
- C. Three
- D. Four

2. As of this writing, Tiger Woods shot a 1-under 71 at the Masters in his first competitive round of golf in 17 months, trailing leader Sungjae Im by four strokes. What is the largest 54-hole comeback to win at the Masters?

- A. Six strokes
- B. Seven strokes
- C. Eight strokes
- D. Nine strokes

3. While we wait for Detroit's Miguel Cabrera to reach 3,000 career hits, which of these MLB players was the most recent to reach the milestone?

- A. Albert Pujols
- B. Adrian Beltre
- C. Alex Rodriguez
- D. Ichiro Suzuki

4. Cabrera hit his 500th home run off the Toronto Blue Jays' Steven Matz on Aug. 22, 2021. Where is Matz pitching this season?

NOTICE OF BONDS TO BE ISSUED

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on April 6, 2022, the Mayor and City Council of Enoch City (the "Issuer"), adopted a resolution (the "Resolution") declaring its intention to issue its Parity Water Revenue Bonds (the "Bonds") pursuant to the Utah Government Bonding Act, Title 11, Chapter 14, Utah Code Annotated 1953, as amended.

The Issuer intends to issue the Bonds in the principal amount of not to exceed $1,000,000, to bear interest at a rate not to exceed 3.0% per annum, to mature in not to more than 23 years from their date or dates, and to be sold at a price not less than 100% of the total principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of delivery. The Bonds will specify that any installment of principal and interest on the Bonds which shall not be paid when due shall bear interest at the rate of 18% per annum from the due date thereof until paid.

The Issuer intends to issue the Bonds for the purpose of (i) financing all or a portion of the cost of construction of culinary water system improvements for the City, including construction of a storage tank, together with related improvements, together with related improvements; and (ii) paying costs of issuing the Bonds.

OUTSTANDING BONDS SECURED BY THE SAME REVENUE

The Issuer currently has outstanding bonds secured by the pledge of culinary water system revenues, namely: the Water Revenue Bond, Series 1994 in the original principal amount of $776,400 and payable to the Utah Permanent Community Impact Fund Board; and the Parity Water Revenue Bond, Series 2009 in the original principal amount of $1,200,000 and payable to the Utah Drinking Water Board.

ESTIMATED TOTAL COST OF THE BONDS

Although the Issuer declared its intention to issue a Bond in a principal amount of up to $1,000,000 with interest at a rate not to exceed 3.0% per annum, the Issuer currently anticipates that the Bonds will be issued in the amount of $645,000 bearing interest at a rate 1.0%. In that case, the estimated total cost for the proposed Bonds would be $717,860.42, which would include interest of $72,860.42.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that a period of 30 days from and after the last date of publication of this Notice is provided by law during which any person in interest shall have the right to contest the legality of the Resolution or the Bonds, or any provision made for the security and payment of the Bonds, and that after such time, no one shall have any cause of action to contest the regularity, formality or legality thereof for any cause whatsoever.

A copy of the Resolution is on file in the office of the City Recorder in Enoch City, Utah, where it may be examined during regular business hours of the City Recorder from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

HEN HATCHES HUGE SURPRISE

COOPERVILLE – Last night, things really started hopping for Henrietta Hen. The young mother of 152 is with excitement over the unusual in her nest last night.

“I was just dozing off, around when one of my eggs began to shake,” Henrietta recalls. “Now I know why I didn’t hear the tapping and sounds the sweet beaks of my chicks usually make as they crack out of their shells.”

When Henrietta’s egg finally opened, a smiling hopped out. “I nearly flew the coop!” Mrs. Hen said.

Although she is a bit “chicken” when it comes to all of the media, Henrietta’s story will soon be made into a book and a movie.

“I guess I’ll enjoy the fame while it lasts,” Henrietta says. “However, I don’t like to put all of my in one basket.”

Silly Scramble

The secret code to crack Beeper’s riddle is hidden in the egg rows.

is the letter A. The egg to the right of it is B. The next is C, and so on.

Say What?

Some phrases people use don’t mean exactly what they say. For example the saying, “It’s raining cats and dogs,” doesn’t mean that cats and dogs are falling from the sky. It is a phrase people use to say it is raining hard.

These kinds of phrases are called idioms.
