Flooding causes train derailment, injuries near Lund, Utah

from Lt. Del Schlosser

IRON COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Last Thursday night, Cedar Communications received a 911 call about a train, which had derailed near Lund, Utah. The occupants advised there had been water covering the track just before the train derailed.

The three occupants of the train had injuries and were able to exit the train, but due to the rising floodwaters, the occupants could not evacuate the derailed locomotive. One subject had a head injury, which was bleeding. Due to the remote location and lack of medical supplies, there was a concern for the wellbeing of those injured.

Also, due to the weather and floodwaters in the area deputies and other emergency personnel had a difficult time getting to the injured subjects. When deputies and other responding personnel were able to make contact with the injured, the subjects were transferred off the train and transported to the hospital for further treatment. Two occupants were in good condition and one was in stable condition.

At this time, it appears the train was traveling approximately 60 mph when it derailed from the tracks. There was a large thunderstorm in the area which brought down a tremendous amount of water. This water accumulated west of the rail line in the canyon and flowed at a high rate across the tracks. It is believed the water undercut the tracks leading to the derailment. All three subjects which

Benson appointed interim president of SUU

from Utah System of Higher Ed.

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

SALT LAKE CITY — The Utah Board of Higher Education unanimously named Mindy Benson as interim president of Southern Utah University to take effect on July 26, 2021. The Board of Higher Education will undertake a search for a new president and immediately begin the process of appointing a presidential search committee over the next several weeks.

“I am humbled and honored at the opportunity to serve in this leadership capacity at Southern Utah University,” said Benson. “I have a deep and abiding love for SUU. My father worked here, I earned my degrees here, I teach here, and I value the heritage that has established a solid foundation for our students and their promising futures. This is an important time at SUU as we have been a leader in growth, innovation and, most notably, student success. I look forward to working with SUU’s administrative leaders, faculty and staff to elevate the university’s impact on our students, our community, and our region.”

Benson was appointed as the first vice president for Alumni and Community Relations in 2014 and will be the first female to serve in the presidential role for the institution. Benson has excelled at SUU advancing through a variety of positions, including director of student life and leadership and executive director of Alumni Relations.

“Benson’s success and reliable institutional knowledge of Southern Utah University have prepared her to fill the role of interim president,” said Harris H. Simmons, Chair of the Utah Board of Higher Education.

“Benson’s strong leadership throughout her career has ensured successful execution of campus events and other student activities. With her exceptional relationships and connections across campus and in the community, the Board is sure that she will see Southern Utah University through a successful transition period.”

USHE Commissioner Dave R. Woolstenhulme announced on June 14, 2021, that current SUU President Scott L Wyatt accepted the new position of Senior Executive Director of Statewide Online Education within the Office of the Commissioner of Higher Education, where he will run Utah’s new system-wide approach to online higher ed programming beginning on August 15, 2021. It is anticipated that a new president will be in place by the spring of 2022, but the Board will take the necessary time to find the most qualified candidate.

“I’m grateful for the contribution and leadership of President Scott Wyatt over the last seven years. I have the highest confidence in Mindy

Benson to guide, stabilize and continue the progression of Southern Utah

University in this interim period,” said Rich Christiansen, chair of the SUU Board of Trustees.

“Mindy’s ability to unify, collaborate and build community will allow SUU to thrive in this transition. I also have confidence in the executive leadership team to rally around

Mindy at this time. SUU’s Board of Trustees unanimously supports and stands behind Mindy and the administrative leaders.”

As vice president for Alumni and Community Relations, Benson oversees Alumni Relations, Regional Services, Utah Center for Rural Health, Business Resource Center and Small Business Development Center, Southern Utah Museum of Art, and Larry H. Miller Utah Summer Games.

She’s responsible for a variety of community outreach projects, alumni engagement, workforce development, economic growth, community leadership trainings and special events. Benson will return to her current role as Vice President of Alumni and Community Relations at the university when a new president is named.

During her time at SUU, her primary focus has been to connect and engage with institutional stakeholders who are often overlooked. Benson has strengthened the University’s ties to its alumni network, along with creating deep and lasting relationships with community members and leaders in rural Utah. She is also actively involved in the community and region by serving on the Cedar City Historic Downtown Economic Development Committee, Bryce Canyon National History Association Board, SUU’s Community Advisory Board and Rocky Vista University Executive Advisory Council.

Along with her University responsibilities, she is a professional event consultant and planner with experience producing hundreds of productions, concerts, events and political inaugurations nationally. She is a Cedar City native whose ties to the University go back generations. Benson earned her bachelor’s degree in zoology and her master’s in communication from SUU.

“I look forward to working with SUU’s administrative leaders, faculty and staff to elevate the university’s impact on our students, our community, and our region.”

Iron County Local Homeless Council hosts candidate conversation

from Peggy Green

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Iron County Local Homeless Council (ICLHC) announced an election preparation event focused on the topics of housing, homelessness, hunger, and poverty in the community. The event, the first hosted by the council, is open to all community members interested in participating in solutions supporting the most vulnerable populations in the community.

The event will be held in the community classroom at Libertad Apartments located at 1044 N. Hovi Hills Drive, Cedar City, Utah, 84721 on Thursday, July 22 from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. and will be live streamed via the council's Facebook page.

"As a City Councilman and chairman of the LHC for the past several years I have seen the vital need to have conversations that address needs for the homeless in our community! Unless you work with these people on a daily basis, as the members of this committee do, it looks as if there are no needs in our area. The community needs to look for ways they can help with housing, homelessness, hunger and poverty. It is real and does exist!" says Ron Adams, "It will take a community effort to meet the needs that are all around us!"

"The community needs to look for ways they can help with housing, homelessness, hunger and poverty. It is real and does exist!"

Ron Adams

The ICLHC is hosting the event to broaden the awareness of the issues and to provide a platform for city council candidates to share their knowledge, vision, and solutions for the critical issues faced by the community, including: Gaps in vital services - mental health, substance abuse programs and facilities. Increased collaboration and support with service providers, local government and the development of a housing plan for the community.

About Iron County Local Homeless Council

The Iron County Local Homeless Council is a multi-agency collaboration of homeless providers, public agencies, and private entities committed to reducing homelessness in Iron, Beaver, and Garfield and Kane counties. The Iron County LHCC brings partners together to address the causes and conditions of homelessness and find collaborative solutions to strengthening the homeless system. As active members of the Utah Homeless Network, the Iron County Homeless Council participates in statewide efforts to strengthen local opportunities.

Multiple first-responders and rescue agencies were on scene to help transport the injured crew to safety and begin the investigation and clean-up process.

The Defund the Police movement has a broader agenda

Constitutionally, through the 10th Amendment, all powers not specifically granted to the federal government, belong to the states. The U.S. Constitution and the Utah Constitution contain checks and balances that act as blueprints in the distribution of state and federal powers that determine how government is supposed to be run. Most will recognize a corruption of that process over time. In a recent letter to the editor the distinction was made between the authority of local policing and national policing. It illustrated that local policing maintained a closer tie to 'We the People' and that they were more in tune with our property and other constitutional (natural) rights in a bottom up approach against federal tyranny.

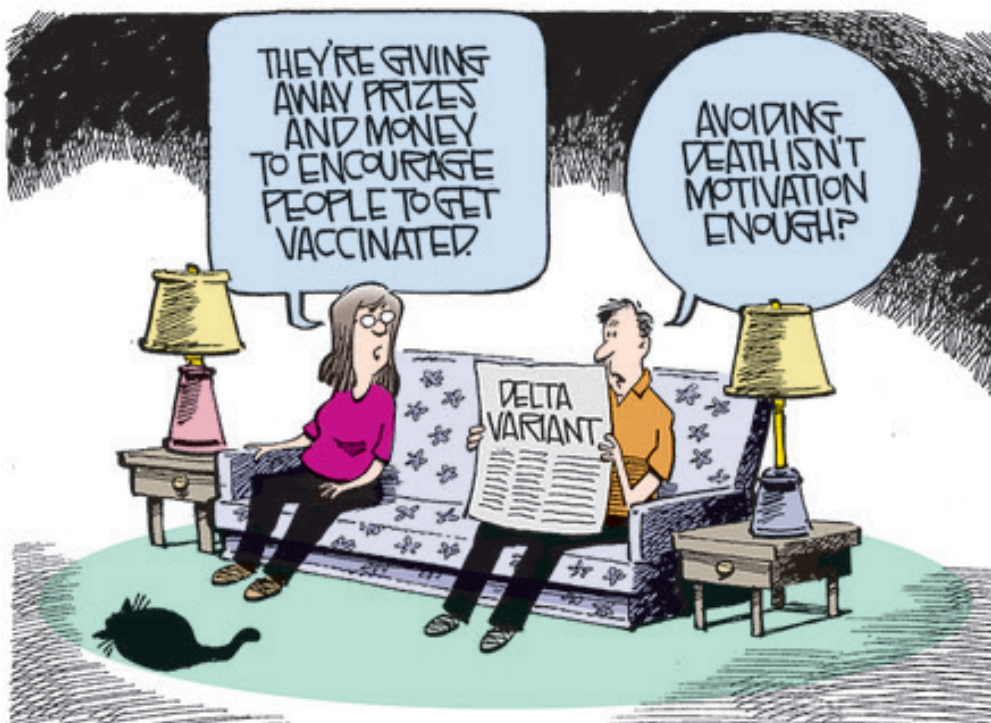

National and local newspapers have been reporting on a federal police takeover, such as "The Defund the Police movement has a broader agenda..." Defund the Police has become a popular phrase of confusion given to us by the media.

OP/ED

Former Arizona police officer Brandon Tatum explains there is a broader ".....agenda to completely destroy and dismantle the local police departments so that the federal government can have control of law enforcement in this country and push a nationwide agenda." Tatum goes on to explain that if law enforcement is federalized and there are unconstitutional mandates or restrictions, such as those involving vaccines or guns, the federal government will then be able to enforce those directives more easily. Tatum said, "I don't believe it has anything to do with racism, and police brutality.... That is a talking point to push an even bigger agenda." The agenda is to by-pass local control through policy and federal money incentives. Former FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover stated he saw no need for a national police force.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

"We may not be able to prepare the future for our children, but we can at least prepare our children for the future."

Franklin D. Roosevelt

True freedom cannot be fueled by fear

The opinions stated in this article are solely those of the author and not Iron County Today.

It is mean to call someone stupid, yet it is reasonable to call out people for stupidly acting out (Bill Clinton's affair with Monica Lewinsky) or stupidly spouting nonsense (Donald Trump saying COVID was just like the common cold and would vanish in warm summer temperatures).

This month Utahns saw stupidity at its finest in the form of a social media declaration from Lex Scott, the founder of the state's Black Lives Matter chapter.

Scott posted "When we Black Americans see this (the American flag) we know the person flying it is not safe to be around. When we see this flag, we know the person flying it is racist."

The blowback was immediate. The NAACP called it ridiculous, and Scott later tried to walk back the statement. But the damage was done. Unlike Dale Carnegie's study of "How to Win Friends and Influence People", Scott figured out to "Infuriate People and Make Yourself a Laughingstock and Your Organization a Pariah."

Martin Luther King was heavily criticized when he opposed the Vietnam War. But his statement related to a specific policy which had already split American opinion. In Scott's case, she was tarnishing not only the symbol of the country but foolishly painting 80% of white Americans who say they are proud of the flag.

Black Lives Matter previously received support in pointing out incidents of police brutality and discrepancies in the criminal justice system. From Oscar Grant in Oakland to Philando Castile in Minneapolis to the recent freeing of Yutico Bradley in New Orleans, Black Americans have too often been victimized by a few trigger-happy cops and second-rate prosecutors who fear minority men wearing hoodies.

But due to people like Scott, the goodwill has vanished. You don't win support (or elections) by attacking the son of a veteran who hoists a flag on their porch to celebrate the Fourth of July.

Granted, the flag is presently being used as a political tool by far-right extremists and disgruntled Trump loyalists. But to the vast majority of Americans, the flag showcases loyalty to one's country, not its officeholders. As Pres. Woodrow Wilson said more than 100 years ago, "The flag is the embodiment of our history" – and this may even include some aspects we are not particularly proud of.

While support for Black Lives Matter plummets, Scott's statement may also strengthen opposition to needed justice reform and promote the election of hard-right conservatives who say, "Enough is enough." That would be an ironic legacy of Black Lives Matter.

TO THE EDITOR

Politics Schmoltics! Are you tired of politics as usual?

If you are tired of your inability to affect government actions and politicians, then it would refresh your point of view if you would get involved in local politics, that is, in the Cedar City elections that are just about to occur.

Soon, Cedar City residents will be voting in the primary election for the Cedar City Council. Four people are running for election, and one for re-election in the primary: R. Scott Phillips for re-election, and the following: Carter Wilkey, Ron Riddle, Derek Morton, and Mark Mumford. In the fall, the Cedar City mayor will also be up for election. Two candidates will be on the ballot running for Mayor: 1) Garth Green well known for his expertise in water, and 2) the current mayor of Cedar City, Maile Wilson Edwards.

You have already missed three Meet the Candidate events that have already been held. Three are yet to occur. Please add them to your schedule as follows: 1) July 22 tomorrow at 6 pm at the Libertad Apartments hosted by Iron County Care and Share, 2) July 27 at 12 pm at the Cedar City Library hosted by the Lions Club, and 3) July 27 at 5:30 pm hosted by the Leavitt Center for Politics and to be held at the SUU Great Hall.

Many important issues are discussed at these meetings including the following: 1) Water and drought, 2) Rising cost of housing in Cedar City and Iron County, 3) Zoning changes, 4) Roads and transportation.

The candidates hope to see you at the remaining events. Your input as community members and voters is important.

Edyth Meredith, Cedar City

What's the score?

Over the years I have enjoyed watching and participating in the creation of many of the baseball/softball ballparks in Cedar City. We have now in our City an excellent complex of diamonds that in recent summers have been the host for teams gathering here from throughout Utah and surrounding states. Thousands of dollars and man hours have gone into the ballpark construction. Included on each ballpark have been excellent scoreboards which have also cost many dollars.

The past two summers I have attended numerous games played on these diamonds and have been amazed that the scoreboards have been blank- not in operation. If one wanted to know the score he or she had to access the app "Game Changer" on their tablet or cell phone. It has been my experience that most persons including players and coaches did not know what the score was to say nothing of how many outs, the inning or the ball/strike count. How do you play or watch a ball game without knowing WHAT'S THE SCORE??

Sitting in the bleachers amongst the spectators, many who have come many miles and spent hundreds of dollars on motel rooms and food, I am embarrassed when asked why Cedar City does not operate the scoreboard.

Recently Mayor Maile Wilson-Edward's administration has opted to use the RAP tax revenue to build some outdoor pickle ball courts. Mayoral candidate Garth Green says he would use these funds to build some indoor recreational facilities. I suggest that before we fund any of these worthy projects we spend a few dollars and put these unused scoreboards in operation so that local and visiting fans can know WHAT'S THE SCORE.

Jeff Marchant, Cedar City

Rain, Rain, don't go away!

I'm sure we're all familiar with the nursery rhyme that begins with, "Rain, rain, go away, Come again another day..." However, in today's current drought conditions, we don't want the rain to go away, but come today and again tomorrow!

Because these past few months have been filled with pleas, prayers and proclamations for our communities to unite together in the hopes of not only receiving rain, but also using wisely and protecting the precious resources we currently have. That being said, I hope we will each take a moment today—whether or not we thank a specific spirit, deity or Mother Nature—and still be grateful in our own way for the miraculous moisture we have received and hopefully will receive much more of in the near future.

DUE TO THE EXTREME DROUGHT, residents that irrigate with culinary water are asked to abide by water conservation and restrictions, with even numbered addresses watering on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and odd numbered addresses watering on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. No watering on Sunday. Only water before 8 AM or after 6 PM, not during the day. Please do your part in helping to conserve our precious water resources. During a drought even little changes can make a big difference. Please visit the website www.slowtheflow.org for tips on other water conservation measures you can take.

Southern Utah University

Award winning filmmaker launches new program at SUU

by Ashley H. Palmer

SUU COLLEGE OF PERFORMING & VISUAL ARTS

Southern Utah University is proud to announce Harun Mehmedinovic as the Assistant Professor of Film and Area Coordinator for their new Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) in Filmmaking. Mehmedinovic was born and raised in Bosnia and then relocated to the United States in high school. He earned a Bachelor of Arts degree at University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA), where he studied screenwriting and theater directing, and a Master of Fine Arts degree in Film Directing from the American Film Institute (AFI).

Speaking of starting the film program at SUU, he shared, "It is important for us to build a program that will get people jobs once they graduate. It is a very complicated industry. The question for us is 'What can we focus on as a film school that is less about fantasies and more about getting jobs?' With our program, we can focus on technical aspects that people can actually practice."

He wants the students to "take away the experience of the location. The parks and the federal lands nearby are very important. We need to facilitate some sort of storytelling that will benefit the area."

No stranger to southern Utah and the surrounding Mighty 5 National Parks, Mehmedinovic is well acquainted with the beauty the region provides and has a passion for filming and photographing the night skies. He is the author of an Astrophotography Book and Time-lapse Series: SKYGLOW. His videos have been used at various events, most notably by The Rolling Stones on their ZIP CODE tour & 2016 Tour, Pink Floyd's

Roger Waters 2016 Tour, Desert Trip Concert, Paul Simon's 2018 Farewell Tour, and Cosmic Gate music video "am2pm," and National Park Service's "100 Years" centennial video; among others.

Mehmedinovic shared, "Some people don't understand the value of something they have in their backyard because maybe they are used to it. For example, Cedar Breaks is a Dark Sky park that is close to campus, but that night sky is what 80 percent of humanity can't see. It is important for me to stress that there is this major resource close by that people aren't aware of or they take for granted."

As the cinematographer and co-producer, Mehmedinovic worked on Ice on Fire, a Leonardo DiCaprio-produced feature documentary for HBO which premiered in the Official Selection at Cannes Film Festival 2019, and a co-cinematographer on Akicita, a documentary film which premiered at Sundance Film Festival in January 2018. He is a regular video and photography contributor to BBC Earth, and has contributed photographs and videos to Vogue Italia, National Geographic, Astronomy Magazine, BBC Travel, Discovery Science, and Blindfold Magazine. Mehmedinovic's photography work has been featured by various media outlets, including The New York Times, Wired, Time, Forbes, NPR, CNN, Gizmodo, Slate, Los Angeles Times, LA Weekly, Vice, and Washington Post.

Mehmedinovic said, "We have to support local students interests and take advantage of what SUU has to offer with its resources. We also need to make it a unique program that will bring national and international film students to the area."

SUU looks forward to working with Harun Mehmedinovic with the professional experience he brings to the program. The BFA program for filmmaking will be available in the fall of 2022. Students who may be interested should reach out to an SUU academic advisor closer to that time to inquire about the requirements of the program. Southern Utah University

SUU implements new water conservation efforts

from David Bishop

SUU DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

CEDAR CITY — In an effort to preserve water during the state's ongoing severe drought, Southern Utah University has established new conservation efforts to further enhance water management methods previously adopted. These new efforts bring SUU into full compliance with Utah Governor Spencer Cox's recent executive order.

Since April, SUU has cut water irrigation on campus by 25-30%. In addition, the University is also developing strategies for further water consumption by installing low-flow fixtures in all restrooms, saving an average of 60% of water over older faucets, toilets and sinks; installed synthetic turf in Eccles Coliseum, saving 300,000 gallons of water per year over the past decade; replaced water-cooled ice machines with air-cooled units; and installed smart irrigation systems that reduce the frequency and duration of each watering station on campus.

As students return to SUU for the fall semester, they are encouraged to save water as much as possible to preserve the diminished reductions. Those new methods include: reducing the frequency and duration of turf watering; removing turf in low use areas; additional mulching added to retain soil moisture levels; and raising the mow height to three inches or greater.

SUU continues its efforts to make our students and community better whether it's in or outside the classroom.

"Stewardship over all of the resources we have available to us is important. Over the last 15 years, Facilities Management at SUU has made remarkable strides in managing utility consumption in more efficient ways," said Tiger Funk, SUU assistant vice president for facilities management. "As the campus continues to grow, we recognize our impact on local resources increases, but with prudent management and input from everyone on campus, we can significantly minimize that impact."

SUU has previously reduced natural resource. "Resource conservation is definitely a collective effort on campus, we rely heavily on students, faculty, and staff to bring ideas and issues to the table for conversations," said Funk. "There are several facets to conservation on campus beyond the projects being completed by Facilities Management - the Sustainability Club, campus recycling, academic course content, the Sustainability Committee, T-Bird Bikes, an academic sustainability minor - are all examples of positive impact on resource utilization at SUU.

Everyone can take part. It's as simple as turning off a light or reporting an issue when you see it that can add up to remarkable savings." For more information about SUU's conservation efforts, go to <https://www.suu.edu/sustainability/>

UTAH LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

I hope you all had an enjoyable and safe Independence Day! With Pioneer Day approaching in the next week, I am not only grateful for the freedoms we experience in this great nation, but also grateful for the pioneer spirit that was established by Utah's ancestors nearly 174 years ago is alive and well. Utah continues to lead the way in innovation, growth and economic outlook, and we face opposition with resilience and hope. I am grateful for our pioneer heritage.

Utah Fires

Wildland firefighters have responded to over 500 wildfires this year, with close to 90 percent of wildfires having been extinguished before reaching 10 acres. Over the past few weeks, the leading source of human-caused wildfires has been abandoned campfires and vehicle-related starts. Currently, campfires are widely restricted throughout the state, and fireworks are restricted on state lands.

Redistricting

As I mentioned in my last newsletter, we are beginning to prepare for redistricting, or creating new district boundaries, for congressional, legislative and state school board districts based on the state's resident population. A redistricting overview with information on the legislative committee, the independent redistricting commission, the process and anticipated timeline has been added to the Utah Legislative Redistricting Committee website. <https://redistricting.utah.gov/redistricting-overview/>

Energy Assistance

Utah's Home Energy Assistance Target (HEAT) program now provides year-round energy assistance to eligible households to help with cooling costs. HEAT also helps eligible households pay for home heating and other energy costs.

COVID-19 Update

On Friday, July 16th, the Utah Department of Health reported 5,202,362 total COVID-19 tests administered, 422,619 total positive cases, 422,619 estimated recovered cases, 18,020 total hospitalizations, 281 current hospitalizations, 2,413 total fatalities and 1,620,127 people have received at least one dose of one of the vaccines.

The Southwest Utah Public Health Department reported the following data:

Since May 1, unvaccinated individuals comprise of most COVID-19 cases, hospitalizations and deaths as seen in the table below. Data shows vaccinated individuals have significantly less chance of contracting COVID-19, including the alpha and delta variants. There are still plenty of vaccines available. If you have not yet received a dose, I would encourage you to consider getting the vaccine. For information on how to sign up for the vaccine visit <https://coronavirus.utah.gov/vaccine>.

I will be providing these COVID-19 updates from a legislative perspective every month. I want to hear from you and get your feedback, thoughts and ideas on what's happening in our local communities. Please contact me anytime at evickers@le.utah.gov. Thank you.

Sincerely, Evan Vickers,
Utah State Senate

Hi everyone, I wanted to update you on some important events that happened during the 2021 June Interim meetings. Interim meetings are the meetings the legislature has throughout the year to prepare for the General Legislative Session.

For more information about the Interim meetings, as well as what the committees I'm assigned to have been up to, please continue reading below. Please reach out to me if you have any questions or concerns about our work at the Legislature. I appreciate your feedback, and I look forward to hearing from you.

During the interim, I serve on the following committees:

- » Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Environment Interim Committee
- » Public Utilities, Energy, and Technology Interim Committee
- » Higher Education Appropriations Subcommittee

Medical Care for Transgender Minors

The committee discussed issues related to proposals in Utah and other states that would prohibit certain types of medical care for transgender minors. The committee received input from a transgender advocacy organization, a clinician, and me as the 2021 bill sponsor.

Land Conservation Efforts

In the Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Environment Interim Committee, we heard from a legislator regarding the need to study conservation efforts in the state. We discussed multiple entities that work on conservation efforts and whether the state could study how to make conservation efforts more efficient and effective.

REP. REX SHIPP
UTAH HOUSE DISTRICT 72

State Monuments & Parks

In the Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Environment Interim Committee, we received a presentation from the Division of Parks and Recreation regarding the processes to create state monuments and state parks. Discussed the increased use of state monuments and parks and related challenges facing the division.

State Energy Plan & Statewide Transmission

In the Public Utilities, Energy, and Technology Interim Committee, we received presentations discussing Utah's energy security, how to prevent large scale blackouts as witnessed in California and Texas, what consumers need and want, and how to incorporate renewable energies in a reliable way from the following organizations:

- » Governor's Office of Energy Development;
- » Public Service Commission;
- » Division of Public Utilities;
- » Dixie Power;
- » Utah Rural Electric Cooperative;
- » Utah Associated Municipal Power;
- » Office of Consumer Services;
- » Rocky Mountain Power; and
- » Utah Clean Energy.

IRON COUNTY WATER STEWARDS

by Ashley Langston

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

RECOGNIZING THE CENTRAL IRON COUNTY WATER CONSERVANCY DISTRICT BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Central Iron County Water Conservancy District, formed by a petition of residents in 1997, is tasked with conserving, developing, and stabilizing the Cedar Valley water supply for the benefit of all current and future water users, but none of those responsibilities could be met without the seven-member Board of Directors that governs the District.

The Board is busy creating solutions, and on June 17 it passed a resolution urging stakeholders to implement conservation measures and resolving to take certain water-saving actions. The resolution acknowledged that Iron County had perspectives and expertise as they discuss current challenges and solutions, and work to protect Iron County's future. They meet monthly as a Board, attend related meetings, do their own research and visit projects to make sure they are able to understand and advocate for the valley's water needs.

"Each person on the Board has a background that is valuable to our discussions and decisions," Monroe said. "We have members who understand finance, engineering, development, agriculture, and their specific communities. It is a great group of people who are looking out for Iron County's future."

Over the years, Board members have made recharge projects possible, explored water import options, attended meetings for the state's Groundwater Management Plan for Cedar Valley, met with state and local leaders and organizations to ensure the future of the Pine Valley Water Supply project, and so much more. The Board also oversees the District's water systems, which experienced its driest 18-month period on record, and the governor had declared a state of emergency because of the drought. It urged community members and stakeholders including Cedar City, Enoch City, Kanarrville Town, the Iron County School District and Iron County to take action, and outlined ways the District would work with stakeholders and the community.

Board members are appointed by the Iron County Commission, with a goal of representing various water interests and all communities in the basin's limits.

Brent Hunter chairs the Board and represents agriculture, Tyler Melling and Terri Hartley represent the Cedar City Council, David Harris represents the Enoch City Council, Tyler Allred represents the Kanarrville area, Spencer Jones represents the development and agriculture aspects of the county, and Joel Myers is an engineer by trade.

Paul Monroe, District General Manager, said these dedicated board members bring a variety of service many areas of unincorporated Iron County.

"Our Board members are invested in Iron County now and into the future," Monroe said.

The Central Iron County Water Conservancy District Board of Directors has a public meeting the third Thursday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the Cedar City Council Chambers. For more information, visit www.cicwcd.org/meetings.

The Iron County Water Stewards program recognizes community members for contributing to the effort to optimize every drop of water in Iron County. The Central Iron County Water Conservancy District (CICWCD) is actively engaged in education, conservation, reuse and import projects to meet the growing demands on local water supply. For every effort you make to conserve, we consider you a water steward, too. For more of the story and to Get to Know Your H2O, visit www.cicwcd.org.

★★★ 2021 IRON COUNTY PRIMARY ★★★ Election Guide

As we are each well aware, great leadership is a key to growth and sustainability in every community. And the key to electing such qualified leaders is making the time to get to know and then get out and vote for them.

To help you make the best decision in this year's election selection process we reached out to each of the candidates involved, inviting them to submit a bio and platform statement along with their photo. However, you will notice that not every candidate was able to participate at this time.

To each of the candidates running for office, whether you are an uncontested incumbent or running for the very first time, thank you for your courage and commitment to help continue to make our Iron County communities great. And to those who can and will vote, thank you also for your courage and commitment to take an active stand for what you believe in and your involvement in helping choose and support our leaders now and in the future.

Ballots were mailed out to all active/eligible registered voters on July 20 and the last day to register to vote by mail, in person, or electronically will be on July 30 by 5pm. For more information, including polling locations, please visit <https://www.cedarcity.org/1262/Elections>.

CEDAR CITY MAYOR

— ONE 4-YEAR SEAT —

Maile Wilson Edwards

INCUMBENT

I am Maile Wilson Edwards, and it has been my honor and privilege to serve as Cedar City Mayor. I respectfully ask for your continued vote of confidence in the November General Election. I will continue to work on your behalf, and offer the following for your consideration:

Every day I seek to keep my commitments to residents and businesses of Cedar City and work hard on their behalf. I always remember I work on behalf of the citizens of Cedar City!

I deliver results. I assure projects are completed that make a difference. I strive for efficiencies and always prepare a balanced City budget that is respectful of the use of taxpayer dollars.

I have a firm grasp of the pivotal issues facing Cedar City and the best plan to address them. I am best positioned to hit the ground running to keep the City going in the right direction.

I am committed to assuring the delivery of quality services to residents and businesses while planning for tomorrow and doing so in the most fiscally responsible way.

I have the background and experience to address the challenges and seize the opportunities that will keep Cedar City the best place to live, work, raise a family and retire.

Born and raised in Cedar City, Utah I know the impact being involved in your community makes. It is service to community which inspired me to seek to serve Cedar City through public service.

It has been my honor and privilege to serve you, as Cedar City Mayor, and I ask for your vote of confidence in the November General Election.

Garth O. Green

When Garth retired, he could have lived a quiet life relaxing with his grandkids. Instead, he turned to service, solving water problems in Africa and Malaysia, teaching self-employment in Europe and leading self-reliance classes in the Philippines.

As a business owner, philanthropist, volunteer, father and grandfather, Garth Green has seen every side of Cedar.

Garth Green is the right man to give Cedar that same love and care, solving our water issues, attracting businesses and building our economy.

After eight years of inaction on water, we now have a true crisis on our hands, and we are wasting water every year. It is time for a mayor who can solve serious water problems and guide Cedar City out of confusion and into hope.

Your quality of life matters. Garth will make sure Cedar stays the best place in the world to live.

CEDAR CITY COUNCIL

— TWO 4-YEAR SEATS —

Derek Morton

I'm Derek Morton. I'm seeking your vote to help bring proven leadership and innovation to the Cedar City Council. We need to do more as a community to prepare for the future. In a recent survey I sent out, 85% agreed.

I've LEAD OUT IN

THE PAST, cultivating a desire to work on solutions and serve the community through service. As an innovator, I'll bring fresh thinking to our challenges and help us get on track. With rapid growth and a changing world, we must ensure that Cedar City is set up to solve the problems that we are facing now, and in the future.

I'm LEADING OUT NOW, developing first of their kind services to those coming out of homelessness and domestic violence. Our company focuses on supporting our tenants' needs to maintain stable housing.

I'll LEAD OUT TO WHAT'S NEXT for our community. Whether it's housing, inter-generational poverty, economic expansion, or water resource management, we can expand and engage with public and private partnerships so that the burden isn't falling solely on the city. If the city assumes full responsibility, the city will ultimately fail.

Bringing together resources to not only solve challenging problems, but continually working together with those organizations to solve them is something I've been doing all along.

Mark Mumford

I am running for City Council because I love Cedar City and want to have a hand in keeping it a great place to live and hopefully make it a better place for all of us.

Cedar has a number of challenges both currently and on the horizon that need to be handled with intelligence and courage. Our city is a regional hub with a great university, ample services for visitors to nearby state and national parks and forests, and home to top-rated events like the Larry H. Miller Utah Summer Games and the world-renowned Utah Shakespeare Festival. All of these things (and more) mean that Cedar City has the potential to grow, and right now we can see evidence of that growth in a very tight housing market and extreme difficulty in securing water rights for developers to build new homes and businesses.

If I am elected to the City Council, I plan to advocate and vote for measures that will allow developers to continue building so that Cedar can continue to be an affordable place to live. I also want to do other things to help our community be a friendly place where we can all live happily.

R. Scott Phillips

INCUMBENT

I am running for re-election for the Cedar City Council. After spending 40 years working and leading the Utah Shakespeare Festival and living and volunteering in Cedar City, I want to continue to provide public service and to give back to the City I love.

I have never forgotten my past and remember well growing up in the small rural town of Caliente, Nevada. I understand the importance of strong families, small business, and hard work. I have been honored locally, regionally, nationally and internationally for my leadership and service.

Being a Council member requires being a good listener and a willingness to investigate the important issues in order to make informed decisions. You can trust me to always keep the greater-good of the community in mind. I want our City to continue to flourish and prosper.

I am grateful to the residents of Cedar City for allowing me to represent them as a City Council member for the past four years. I look forward to being able to represent you once again and ask for your vote on August 10th in the primary election.

Ron Riddle

I am running for Cedar City Council to build the kind of community my family—and each of you—can proudly call home for years to come.

I have deep roots in Cedar. I raised my family here and have owned and operated a business here for 30 years. I want to represent the values of hard work, perseverance, and family on the Cedar City Council.

I have listened to concerns and implemented solutions my whole life. As the owner of Fine-Line Cabinets, Mill and Interior Finish, I have worked with employees and customers from all walks of life, and have made hard decisions for the growth and good of the company. I am prepared to do the same for Cedar.

In 29 seasons of coaching youth sports and leading scout troops, I have organized tournaments, marketed our community, and worked with parents and kids of all ages. I want to continue to represent Cedar families—to listen to concerns, elevate our quality of life, and keep our community moving forward in the right direction.

If you want someone who will listen and get things done, I ask you to vote Ron Riddle for Cedar City Council.

Carter Wilkey

My name is Carter Wilkey and I am asking the voters of Cedar for their support. At the center of a good city council person needs to be a true desire to serve. During my entire life, service to others has been a core principle I take to heart. With that true desire to serve and a good vision of how to help Cedar City stay an amazing place, I know I am the right candidate for the job.

Early in my campaign I chose my mission: Keep Cedar Strong. Cedar is an amazing place to LIVE, WORK and raise a FAMILY. Serving on council is not just worrying about water, affordability, public safety, infrastructure, recreation etc. It's about all of it.

During the past 3+ years I have attended the majority of all city council meetings and have watched and learned. This has given me an understanding of what issues and concerns come before the council body and I am prepared to serve my community. As we continue to grow, I will ask the question, "Are we getting what we WANT today at the expense of what the future will NEED tomorrow?" Together we can KEEP CEDAR STRONG!

I have been a resident of the Parowan/Paragonah area for over 22 years now. I spent four years on the City Council from 2015-2019. Prior to that I was the PTO president at the Elementary School for 4+ years and also a substitute teacher for approximately 7 years (teaching at both schools).

My husband and I owned a business in Parowan for 17 years known as Victoria's Bed and Breakfast. We were also business owners as 7-Eleven Franchisees owning 5 stores for 46 years.

I am currently the Treasurer for two HOA Associations up at Brian Head. I know fiscal responsibility. I know how to manage employees and I know how to run a business. I feel I have a lot to offer Parowan. I love this community and would love the opportunity to "Keep Parowan Great!" Parowan is growing in leaps and bounds and needs to focus on what the community needs to grow wisely, and I think I am that person. I would appreciate your support.

Danny Eyre

My name is Danny Eyre and I'm running for Parowan city council.

I believe it's important to be involved in the community and to serve. I believe if you want to see change, you get involved. Hard work & service to the community is the way to make a positive difference. I believe private property rights should be #1 on the forefront of public policy. I believe in limited government and standing up for what you believe in, even when it's not popular.

My wife and I have been married for 12 years and we have 4 wonderful kids. We have served the community volunteering in the little league and the PTO. We moved from Beaver almost 6 years ago when I was employed with Rocky Mt. Power. Now I own my own business where I work hard as a mobile equipment mechanic. I believe my knowledge in public utilities as well as working for the state of Utah would be a good asset to the city council.

We appreciate the support we've been given & we look forward to serving the community.

Megan Gatlin

Hi! My name is Megan Gatlin, and I am running for Parowan City Council to preserve and improve our community. My husband Brady and I are raising four amazing children here in Parowan. I have hiked, ran, and biked all over our beautiful area and am committed to keeping our small-town culture, while at the same time advocating for trail, park, pool and other community improvements.

I am passionate about services for youth and families. I have helped youth professionally for over 20 years, including as a teacher and currently as a school counselor. I have a Master's Degree in Educational Psychology and hold a license in school leadership.

Focusing not only on children's academic needs, but also on their social emotional intelligence better prepares them for future success. Our children are our future, and I want to better represent them in our community. I enjoy the strong bond and support our citizens lend one another and hope to strengthen that as a council member. I will represent the city in planning for a future that builds up our community.

David M. Harris

David M. Harris has been an active member of Parowan City for 27 years with family ties to the community going back over 50 years. He has been married 26 years and has 5 kids that have attended or are still attending Parowan schools.

Over the past 25 years he has built and operated a successful cabinet business bringing many jobs to Parowan. Since purchasing Southern Country Chevron in 2015, he has been able to add even more local jobs and increase sales tax revenue for the city. He has also built new homes, remodeled old homes, revived dying businesses, and worked to form lasting relationships with many members of the community.

David enjoys meeting community members and listening to their concerns and suggestions. He is willing to work with others to create solutions that will benefit the community.

Parowan City Council needs someone with the kind of proven good business sense that David has demonstrated to guide us into reasonable growth while still maintaining a small-town atmosphere.

James M. Harris

Parowan has been my hometown since 1965. I spent 30 years working in Las Vegas, but always considered Parowan my home, and I love being home. I have forty years of experience in residential and commercial construction: ground-up construction consisting

Maile's Plans to Address the Issues

Infrastructure and Growth

Investment in public infrastructure must be done ahead of growth to maintain Cedar City's Quality of Life.

- Continue to plan, fund and complete important infrastructure projects. This includes widening critical roads, upgrading water and sewer lines and improving storm drains to assure systems remain reliable.
- Continue to mitigate the impact of new construction due to growth including monitoring access, travel, and commute issues, to adjust traffic patterns and reduce impact on businesses and residents.
- Proactively secure funding for city projects that improve the overall safety of the community and facilitate better land use.

Water

Water is our most critical natural resource, and we must seek to use it wisely and manage it appropriately. The City must lead out on water conservation and re-use efforts.

- Plan, fund and complete important water retention and reduction projects.
- Continue the collaborative efforts established with the Central Iron County Water Conservancy District on long-term water planning and infrastructure issues.
- Working with local, state and federal partners on funding to establish a wastewater re-use secondary irrigation system.
- Explore multiple avenues that efficiently use water resources, including secondary watering systems and recharge areas.
- Water conservation projects will continue and must be an ongoing priority for the City.

Economic and Business Opportunities

Business retention and development is critical to Cedar City's healthy economy.

- The City must always be sensitive to the needs and the impact of decisions on businesses. Ongoing collaboration assures information is available for business owners and their employees.
- This City is committed to remain business and customer friendly through training and updated service delivery methods.
- Quality internet access is critical to attracting business, families and schools.
- Continue seeking large scale opportunities for Cedar City businesses and economic development.

Quality of life

Services, gathering area and access to information create a high quality of life in Cedar City.

- Cedar City's Historic Downtown area and its year-round experience must be maintained. A vibrant downtown reflects an active and engaged community and healthy economy.
- Parks, open spaces and trails are essential. On-going improvements to recreation facilities provide quality areas for residents and to host games and tournaments.
- City arts facilities, their programs and our extensive library resources are important public services to preserve and improve.
- Accurate and timely information to residents and business remains a top priority.

I am a graduate of Parowan High School. I have served two years in the United States Marine Corp. I have worked hard and know the rewards of hard work and doing it right. I am a husband, a father, and grandpa, and I am proud of my heritage.

Fiscal responsibility, financial self-reliance, and a pride in work are paramount. We should have a smile on our face when we tell people that we are from Parowan, UT and that comes from a personal pride in our city. We need to be a friendly community.

Rochell Topham

Hi! I am Rochell Topham. I grew up in Enoch, UT and graduated from Cedar High School. My husband Travis and I married in 1997. We decided to make our home in Parowan in 1998. We have loved raising our family in this beautiful community we have called home for the last 23 years. I am currently finishing up a bachelor's degree in Elementary Education & Special Education. I love being able to work with children and people in the community.

I am running for Parowan City Council because I believe that I can make a positive difference in our community. As an elected official I would listen and consider all aspects of the issues that need to be looked at and the concerns of the community before making a decision. I am not a politician so I have no hidden agenda or any personal gain for wanting to run for office.

I would truly work hard and do what is best for Parowan and the citizens that live here. I love Parowan and the people in it and want to make the quality of life better for everyone who lives here while keeping with the hometown feel.

Huzzah!

for the Ren-Faire

It was a weekend of celebrations for both much needed rain and the reign of minstrels, mongrels, magicians, jugglers, belly-dancers and feathered-creature tamers. As the famous Ren-Faire returned to the Main Street Park in Cedar City, thousands of people came to enjoy sword-fights, artwork, various vendors, pick out the perfect addition to their medieval wardrobe, drink some real root beer and feast upon a traditional giant turkey leg. If you happened to miss it this year, fear not, it shall return next year!

CEDAR CITY ARTS COUNCIL

“Profoundly: Originating in the depths of one’s being.” That is the word and its definition that Brian Vaughn and Frank Mack use to express how much they miss Fred Adams as the new Utah Shakespeare Season begins. Fred is missing this year and I feel it too. He should be walking around with his shirt sleeves rolled up, greeting you with a gentle sarcastic remark—one person whose vision produced the balcony I stand on during intermission to look over the rest of the grounds with “profound” happiness. I heard Fred call the years of the new campus construction “hell”, but I want you to know, Fred, it was worth it.

The new season is peopled with other individuals who leave their marks in my heart. The wrenching Ragtime with its panoramic presentation of early 1900’s America is made compelling by the individuals who populate the stage. Melinda Pfundstein is a commanding presence whose demeanor and influence as Mother controls the narrative. I believed in her response to every devastating experience, felt her heartache and compassion just in the way she moved and spoke. She was beautiful, as always.

And Ezekiel Andrew was riveting as Coalhouse Walker. I rejoiced with him, grieved with him, despaired with him, and couldn’t wait to hear him sing again.

This actor is a singer of the highest caliber. Note to Frank and Brian: Is it possible to sign this gentleman to a ten-year contract? We are the luckiest of theater-goers to have this guy on our stage. We’ve seen him here before and I hope for more to come.

Aaron Galligan-Stierle is also not new to us and is an actor that I have a second-hand connection with. I was so touched by this gentle father’s love of his little girl and then was so delighted to see that she is his real-life daughter. (His son is also in the show.)

Those three are just the suns around which other actors rotate, memorable in their portrayals as individuals caught up in a time of racial conflict and immigration issues. Have we learned nothing since then? We are fighting the same battles in the same ways. See this show. You won’t forget it soon.

Rhett Guter is another individual whose presence is huge this season. In Pirates of Penzance, he is a pirate king who dances, sings, dances, plays to the audience, dances, and does the splits. And acts up a storm. And when he does a dance-off with the Police Sergeant, our own SUU graduate Ian Allred, that voice yelling “more, more”, was mine. Wherever Ian’s future lies, he will be able to say he held his own with Rhett Guter!

Now don’t be offended, Michael Doherty, but in our family, we call you Gumby, after that rubber toy that could bend into all configurations. Michael is an eye magnet for me when on stage in Comedy of Errors. And there is another role waiting later in the season!

We miss you, Fred, but you have left us so, so much....

SUMA hosts intimate exhibition exploring past, present of corsets

from James Culbertson

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

CEDAR CITY — Southern Utah Museum of Art (SUMA), on the campus of Southern Utah University (SUU), announces a historical timeline of corsetry with the exhibition, The Corset as Art: Past & Present. In Connection with Utah Shakespeare Festival Production of Intimate Apparel, the Exhibition will Feature Both Utilitarian and Artistic Corsetry.

The exhibition was curated by Laura Crow, costume historian and professor emerita from the University of Connecticut, and will feature more than 30 corsets participants from more than 40 countries. One of the winners, Nika Danielska from Poland, is included in the exhibition at SUMA.”

Crow added, “Some of these objects display extraordinary sewing craftsmanship, but many are three-dimensional objects created from artistic minds using different methodologies to make three-dimensional art. One of the works is, in fact, a costume created for the actress Scarlett Johansson’s appearance on Saturday Night Live and made entirely of plastic mylar.”

The Corset as Art: Past & Present is being held in conjuncapproached me about the play and partnership,” said Jessica Kinsey, executive director of SUMA. “As the art museum at the Beverley Center for the Arts, this is a great example of how we can bring the performing and visual arts together.”

SUMA is currently open Monday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. SUMA will host several in-person events related to The Corset as Art: Past & Present, both members-exclusive and open-to-the-public events will be available. For more information on the activities, dates, and times, please check SUMA’s website regularly at <http://www.suma.edu>.

from national and international artists. The Corset as Art: Past & Present will present a historical timeline of corsets, ranging from early period pieces to contemporary works of wearable art. Viewers will be immersed in the intriguing history, evolution and artistry of corsetry.

“I have chosen this subject in particular to highlight a very undervalued art form. The concept of wearable art—not fashion—has been evolving since the 1960s,” said guest curator Crow. “In 1987, Dame Suzie Moncrieff founded the World of Wearable Art (WOW) contest, which occurs every September over a 3-week period and draws tion with the Utah Shakespeare Festival (USF) and their production of Intimate Apparel. The play is the heart-rending yet hopeful story of Esther, an African American woman in the early 1900s that creates intricate pieces of lingerie for a wealthy clientele while also searching for love and acceptance. Written by two-time Pulitzer Prize winner Lynn Nottage and directed by actor, theatre educator, and director Tasia A. Jones, Intimate Apparel explores social divisions of race, religion, equality, class and sexism.

“I was thrilled when Frank Mack, executive producer of the Utah Shakespeare Festival, suu.edu/suma. Any changes to hours and programs will be communicated immediately via email and SUMA’s social media channels.

This, along with the Utah Shakespeare 60th Anniversary Exhibition, will provide a breathtaking look into an underrepresented art form, and celebrate the legacy of the Utah Shakespeare Festival. More information about the exhibition can be found on SUMA’s website at www.suu.edu/suma. Admission to the museum is free and open to the public thanks to the above sponsors and by Cedar City RAP Tax, Utah Division of Arts and Museums, and Zions Bank.

Jewish artist visits Pioneer Iron County, 1854

PART ONE: JOHN C. FREEMONT'S 5TH EXPEDITION SAVED AT PAROWAN

from Jay M. Jones

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

On 7 Feb 1854, a lookout in Parowan noted a party of men entering the north end of the valley about 20 miles away. The Walker War, a conflict between Utah settlers and the Ute tribe, was not yet resolved and the Southern Utah settlements were on high alert. It was supposed that the men observed were Native Americans.

As it turned out, the group was led by John C. Fremont on his 5th exploration into the Western United States, this time looking for a viable route for a transcontinental railroad along the 38th parallel.

About two-thirds of Fremont's men were Native American, with eleven Delaware and three Wyandot on the expedition roster.

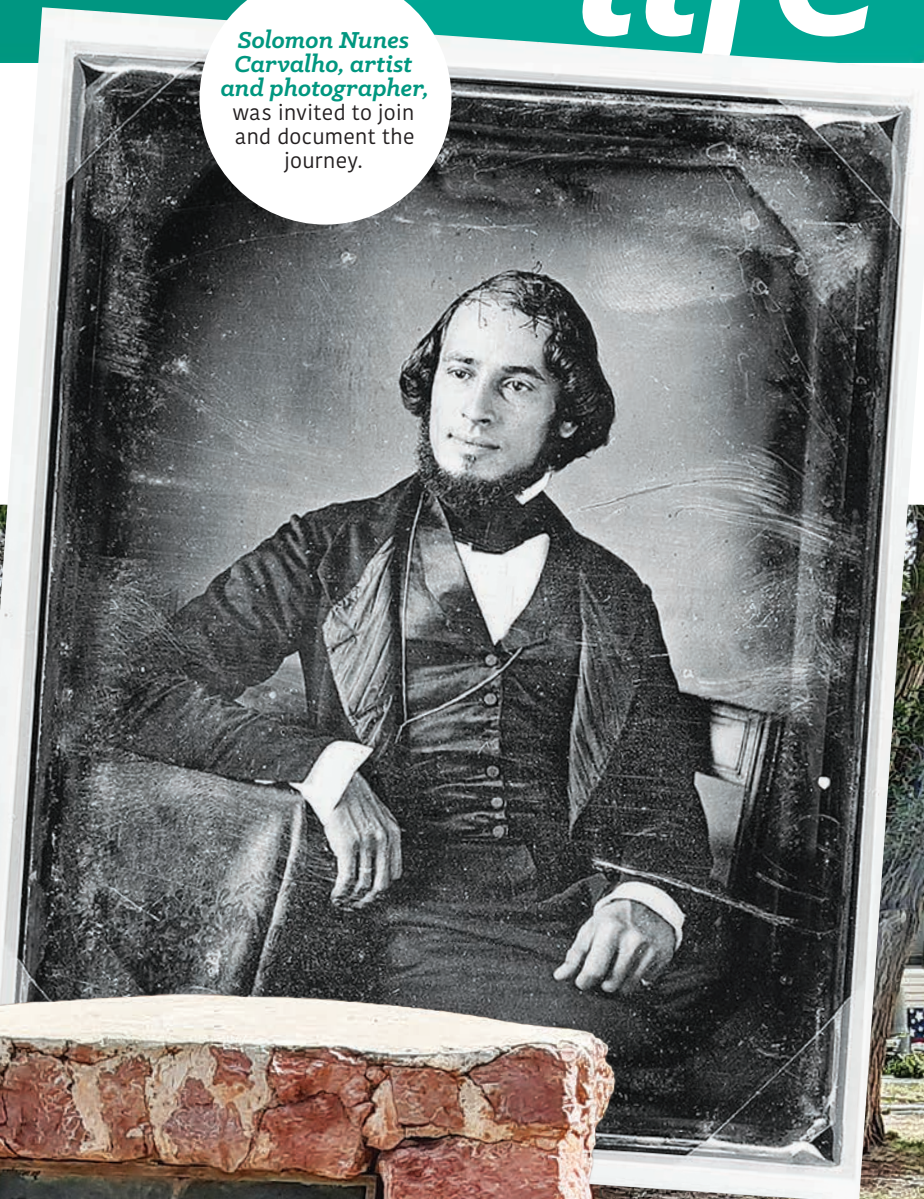

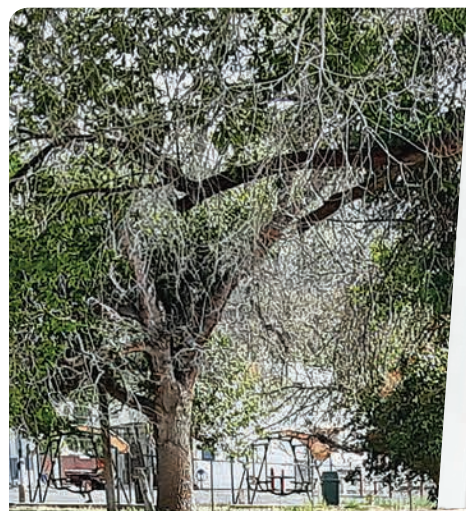

One of Fremont's party was Solomon Nunes Carvalho, an artist and photographer who was invited by Fremont to join the expedition to document the journey with daguerreotypes, an early type of photograph. Carvalho also kept a written record of the trip, which he published as "Incidents of Travel and Adventure in the Far West".

Starting at Westport, Missouri, Fremont's group of just over 20 men traveled west through Kansas and Colorado. Carvalho writes about a buffalo hunt on the plains, narrowly escaping a massive grass fire, crossing several mountain passes in the Colorado Rockies and a near freezing crossing of the Colorado River.

After crossing the Green River in Utah, the explorers continued to the southwest through Goblin Valley and Capitol Reef. Although most of Carvalho's daguerreotypes were either lost or later destroyed in a warehouse fire, some paintings had been made from a few of them, including a scene of Wild Horse Butte and another of rock spires in Cathedral Valley.

Fremont chose to make his journey in the winter time in order to

We all scream for ice cream!

What's your favorite ice cream flavor? Me, I am a chocolate kind of gal, but every now and then I let my tastebuds wander. My love affair with ice cream began years ago. My maternal grandparents are Beaver people so every so often I would pile into our 1974 Ford Esquire Station wagon with my six siblings and hit the road with mom and dad to grandma's house. On rare occasions, we would take the "old road" to Parowan and grab ice cream cones at the Pit Stop. They were simply delicious.

AMYANNE RIGBY
CONTRIBUTOR

Intertwined with my pit stop memories of ice cream are the memories of churning ice cream in my grandma Hofheins' ice cream freezer. As a family, we would gather in grandma's kitchen and participate in the ritual of freezing the ice cream. It was fun, as cousins by the dozens flocked to take a turn at churning, knowing there would be a big payoff.

In my later years, I ventured just two streets west of my home and discovered Cedar City's Main Street. This was a huge discovery for me. Back in those days, Cedar Drug and Fernwood's both had soda fountains. It was big business for me to take my Cowley Drug candy money and spend it on ice cream. But it proved worth it. After all, during the dog days of summer, don't we all scream for ice cream?

Today, Bulloch Drug on Cedar City's Main Street is my favorite soda fountain. I have been frequenting Bulloch's for the past twenty-three years with one or more of our five children. The history of this place is just as delicious as the ice cream.

GETTY IMAGES

In 1934, present day Bulloch drug was Thornton Drug until 1955 when Don and Sylvia Bulloch purchased the business. Don and Sylvia expanded the drug store to house a café and a long soda fountain along the north wall. Unfortunately, in 1960, their doors closed. Gratefully, in 1996 Evan and Chris Vickers purchased Bulloch Drug and resurrected Cedar City's gathering place.

This 1950's themed soda fountain serves up milk shakes, ice cream sodas, and banana splits. Bulloch's "soda jerk" can customize any ice cream order. The store is complete with a vintage jukebox, 1950's parlor chairs and tables, bulk candy, Fernwood Sweets, Utah Truffles and chocolate covered Cinnamon bears.

Other fun Cedar City summer treat spots worthy of your wander include: Palette Bakery, Sub Zero Nitrogen Ice Cream, Crumbl Cookies, Hermie's, Culver's Dairy Queen, Finney Farm Dairy and Country Store, Tiki Shack, and Cones Shaved Ice.

Scald 2 quarts milk until layer of milk forms on the top. Remove from burner, then add the following ingredients:

- » 3 cups sugar
- » 8 tablespoons flour
- » ¼ teaspoon salt.

Stir until custard consistency. Let cool until room temperature and then add 4 eggs slightly beaten then add vanilla and lemon extract to your liking. Add 1 1/2 pints whipping cream pour into ice cream freezer and churn.

“THE LINEMAN”

No matter where you go in your city, you're probably not far away from seeing a telephone line, or several. I can't tell you how many beautiful pictures have been ruined by intruding phone and power lines. Yet, we need them to continue communicating with others, right? So, this particular rut is an both an ode of gratitude owed to those brave men and women who not only put them up, but repair and replace those lifelines in our world, and also a reminder to us to use them wisely.

Even with our more modern cell-towers, we can only imagine what wonderful illustrations Norman Rockwell would have painted had he lived just a couple of decades longer. Think of all the precarious predicaments and scenarios technology has allowed each of us to become entranced by and entangled in! He could probably devote the rest of his life to just painting people using (abusing) our technologies.

Would he paint the person too busy texting to pay attention that walks into a door, or into a fountain? Would he paint a family in the living room spending time together, but everyone has their head down in their

Communication and connection are crucial to not only our survival, but our happiness. That's not just a personal opinion, that's been proven when we are born and the nurturing power of being held by human hands and recently proven again by COVID-19 when the happiness and health of so many were hindered by being deprived of even a simple smile or hug from loved ones.

As much as we humans seem to be created to create, it would also stand to reason we are also created to connect. How do you connect to others in your life? Only through texts and emojis? Are we in the habit of asking people how they're doing and leave it at that? Or, we assume people don't care and so we answer, "I'm fine." This not only create disconnection, but distance and even dissonance amongst ourselves.

Don't worry, this isn't a trip down judgement lane, or a reprimand for those moments when we do give in to the demands of our (potentially) divisive devices. Today's technology is amazing! We can accomplish so much more (potentially) with the convenience and capabilities of our smartphones and other technological tools/toys, then even just a couple of decades ago. Thus, this week's rut is just a reminder to not let them control our lives to the point where we forget not only how to truly communicate, but also connect with our fellow humans. Perhaps we've been spoiled by technology for too long?

phones, or tablets because their "family time" is more about texting, playing games, or doing their own thing? Perhaps one of his more spiritual illustrations would similarly show people in church, but instead of listening to the preacher or pastor, it shows them with their heads down—not in reverence, but playing games on their distracting devices.

demonstrate that travel was possible over the route year-round.

Four days before reaching the Little Salt Lake Valley, Freemont's party was surrounded by very deep snows. On near starvation rations for weeks, some of the horses and mules were slaughtered for food. Two Delaware scouts were sent out to find a good route through the mountains, but they returned without success. Freemont knew of the young settlement of Parowan in the Little Salt Lake Valley. Reaching it was their best hope for survival.

That night Carvalho assisted Freemont in making astronomical observations. Freemont knew that an occultation (likely involving a moon of Jupiter passing out of view behind the planet) would occur that night. By noting the time of the occultation, the longitude of their camp could be determined. With careful observations of the angle to the north star, their latitude could be known.

Knowing the coordinates of their camp and also those of the Little Salt Lake Valley, Freemont calculated the distance and direction they needed to travel to get there. The next morning, he reported to his men that Parowan was three days journey away, directly over an imposing mountain with deep snow and steep slopes. When one of the men stated that it would be impossible to cross that mountain, Freemont replied, "That is not the point. We must cross, the question is . . . how we can do it."

The exhausted and frost-bitten men followed Freemont over the mountain. A day before reaching Parowan, Oliver Fuller, the assistant topographer, succumbed to the rigors of the journey.

Carvalho describes the emaciated condition of the whole party and his own feelings of reaching Parowan. He then reports, "I was conducted by a Mr. Heap to his dwelling, where I was treated hospitably." He continues, "When I entered Mr. Heap's house, I saw three beautiful children. I covered my eyes and wept for joy to think I might yet be restored to embrace my own."

"Mr. Heap was the first Mormon I ever spoke to, and although I had heard and read of them, I never contemplated realizing the fact that I would have occasion to be indebted to Mormons for much kindness and attention."

After recuperating for two weeks in Parowan, Freemont and most of the men were ready to continue on to California. Carvalho, not sufficiently recovered, stayed behind. In March, Carvalho traveled north to Salt Lake with Henry Lunt and others who were on their way to general conference.

During his time in Salt Lake, Carvalho made some striking comparisons between the doctrines of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and his own Jewish faith. He talked with appointed territorial officials and others who opposed church practices, particularly plural marriage.

Carvalho also picked up a paint brush. "I painted several portraits in Great Salt Lake City; among them were two of Gov. Brigham Young; one of Lieut. General Wells, General Ferguson, Attorney General Seth Blair, Apostle Woodruff; Bishop Smoot, Col. Ferrimore Little and lady, Mrs. Wheelock, and several others." A notable Carvalho painting of Chief Wakara is now in the Gilcrease Museum in Oklahoma.

Carvalho would return to Iron County in May 1854 on his way to California.

Cedar City Rotary Club raising funds for school pantries through golf ball drop from Tessa Douglas

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Cedar City Rotary Club and SUU's Rotaract Club are raising funds to support two Iron County School District (ICSD) pantry projects by selling numbered golf balls that will be dropped by helicopter onto the Cedar Ridge Golf Course.

These pantry projects will serve hundreds of hungry children and their families, and will allow an already existing program to become more efficient and better supported. After learning that Iron County has one of highest poverty levels in Utah, and that childhood hunger and homelessness are significant issues in this area, the Rotary Club decided to work to help address those needs. In speaking with Iron County School District staff, Utah Food Bank, and Iron County Care & Share, two projects were identified that can make a difference.

First, the district's central pantry, funded by donations, needs a new location. It is currently housed in a space which will be transitioned into a classroom in August. The central pantry provides food, blankets, clothing and hygiene supplies to homeless youth and to schools in the county. To meet this need, ICSD located a retired driver's education modular unit which will serve as the new pantry; however, the unit needs to be retrofitted with new flooring, shelving and a new exterior shell. Additionally, the pantry needs the ability to purchase and power a refrigerator/freezer in order to accept and provide donations of dairy, meats, and fresh fruits and vegetables to the families it serves. To finance the modular unit retrofitting, Rotary has received funding from Utah Food Bank, Utah District Rotary, Seth Porter State Farm grant, and private donations.

The second project identified by the Rotary Club is an additional Utah Food Bank Mobile School Pantry for an Iron County elementary school. The mobile pantry program provides supplemental food assistance on a monthly basis during the school year for children and their families from a safe and trusted environment—the school playground. There are currently four county schools serviced by a mobile pantry. Beginning this fall, the Cedar City Rotary Club will sponsor a mobile pantry for Fiddlers Elementary School, the next school eligible based on criteria identified by Utah Food Bank. Rotarians will volunteer to box delivered food from the pantry for the children to take home to their families.

To help raise funds for the central pantry, the Rotary Club is selling numbered golf balls which can be purchased for $10 each. The golf balls will be dropped by helicopter on the 18th fairway of Cedar Ridge Golf Course on August 11th, where numerous flags representing prizes will have been placed. The golf ball which lands closest to each prize flag will win that prize, and participants do not have to be present to win. Donated prizes include a 65" LG tv, a Henry Golden Boy 22 rifle, a Savage Axis 6.5 hunting rifle with a Bushnell Scope, overnight stays at Ruby's Inn and Iron Springs Resort, golf packages at Sand Hollow Golf Resort, tickets to a Shakespeare Festival performance, and numerous gift cards and gift baskets, among others.

To make a donation to the School Pantry Project, purchase golf balls, or donate prizes prior to the ball drop, please email cedarcityrotaryclub@gmail.com by August 4, 2021.

Other county schools could benefit greatly from a mobile pantry if additional community sponsors are interested in supporting one. For more information, contact lindat@utahfoodbank.org.

“Battle Scars” (Paradise Fears)

GOD'S playlist

Corey Baumgartner
IRON COUNTY TODAY

I recently lost a good friend and the world lost a good man to suicide. There is no need for judgement, blame or shame. Whatever demons he faced in those final moments, I know he went down fighting and God was and is still with him.

Most of us cannot imagine the pain and torture that would bring a person to such a dark place and decision. While he is gone too soon, I know there are those who still struggle with such life and death choices from their challenges and battles in life. As much as we mourn for those we have lost to suicide, there are those we can still do our best to help. How? Jesus gave us the perfect way when He said to, “Love one another, even as I have loved you.” (John 15:12-13). We may not have all the answers in such harrowing moments, but we can still love courageously.

My heart goes out to all who have experienced and are experiencing such darkness, whether personally or with a friend or loved one. I pray this song will be a blessing through its hopeful and encouraging words. Because this is more than a song about each of our own personal battle scars from life, its lyrics remind each of us about the victory scars of our Savior, Jesus Christ. His scars are promises of hope and healing from God’s heart to yours, right now. Isaiah 49:8-26, (especially verses 15-16) emphasize this beautiful reminder that your Savior cannot forget you because the scars on His hands and feet beautifully bear your name. No matter the tragedies that seemed tattooed on your soul, you can trust that His love for you sees more than you can in this moment. Don’t give up. You are not alone. You are loved and you are needed now in this world.

Here are some scriptures to encourage you in your battles:

Deuteronomy 30:19-20, Psalm 6:6-9, Psalm 13:2-3, Psalm 30:10-12, Psalm 94:17-19.

It’s no coincidence that most Psalms came from David’s hand and heart. Even God’s chosen king, the man who slayed Goliath, was not perfect. He made wicked decisions and yet God never gave up on Him. As David let God’s mercy begin to heal his heart, his words can help to heal and encourage us in our darkest moments. Because God will not give up on you either, ever.

Along with this song, scriptures and resources, please know that God has also provided a hope-line through prayer and scriptures. He knows your heart is hurting and though you can’t seem to rise above the pain, don’t give up on Him or think He has forgotten or forsaken you. His merciful Atonement is an anthem for the broken and defeated. It’s a battle cry that turns your battle scars into miracles of life and new beginnings. No matter the depths of your darkness and pain, please know you’re not alone.

Are you suffering from the drought?

DIFFICULT QUESTIONS & TRUTH 101.28

by Edy Meredith

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

What are the specters, causes, and consequences of this drought that is plaguing the southwestern United States? What can be done? Emergency declarations by mayors and governors are having little to no real impact. I was living in California years ago when the City of Los Angeles paid residents to convert their landscaping from water intensive to desert landscapes. Time will tell what this ghost of drought will bring.

One major effect of Utah’s drought has been a terrible allergy season. I was waylaid by allergies for two weeks about a month ago. Doctors say dry air, an early growing season, and haze from wildfires have brought a nemesis of high pollen counts, making allergy sufferers miserable. Normally weed pollen allergies appear in late summer until the first frost, but this year daily temperatures were higher than normal, allowing weeds to begin growing earlier.

There is another kind of drought going on in the United States. While the western parts of the United States lack normal precipitation and suffer from wildfires and the eastern states suffer with a surfeit of water and storms from tornadoes to hurricanes, something else is going on behind the scenes. Despite these difficult weather events, all the while sports and musical events have reopened to throngs of attendees. Why are people apparently thinking mainly about entertainment? Perhaps it could be called a drought of thankfulness, prayer, and supplication to our great Creator.

In Jeremiah 14, we find, “Judah mourns, and her gates languish; they mourn for the land, And the cry of Jerusalem has gone up. Their nobles have sent their lads ... to the cisterns and found no water...

because the ground is parched for there was no rain in the land.” (Jeremiah 14: 2-4) In fact, there are over 50 references to drought in the Old and New Testaments of the Bible as a warning from God to turn from wicked ways and return to Him. Physical drought follows spiritual drought—life is rough, harsh, dry, and arid. The biblical and ancient advice tells us:

“Blessed is the man who trusts in the Lord. He is like a tree planted by water, that sends out its roots by the stream, and does not fear when heat comes, for its leaves remain green, and is not anxious in the year of drought, for it does not cease to bear fruit.” (Jeremiah 17:7-8).

Nearness to God is like being planted next to a river. “The Lord is near to those who have a broken heart and saves such as have a contrite spirit. Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the Lord delivers them out of all.” (Psalm 34:18) May we each continue to trust in the Lord and plant our lives next to His overflowing river.

Kathy Beck

Kathy Beck passed away on June 14, 2021, at Stonehenge Care Center. She was 69 years old. Kathy Ruth Beck was born on July 5, 1951, in La Mesa, California. She is survived by her brother Phillip and children Craig and Michelle.

Kathy was a good Christian woman with a heart for God and a zest for singing Christian hymns and contemporary Christian songs. She was a prayer warrior, always asking others to pray for concerns close to her heart. She had a special place in her heart and in her prayers for the Guido Evangelistic Association in Metter, Georgia.

Kathy attended various churches in Cedar City while she lived in southern Utah. She had friends throughout the community. Many people assisted her in going to worship services as she became more disabled and needed a wheelchair to get around. Kathy was most appreciative of the love and care she received from her neighbors and friends of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Most recently Kathy attended First Baptist Church and was also connected to Community Presbyterian Church.

Kathy did not ever fail to show and share her love for the Lord. She was always concerned about the community where she lived and wanted people to be safe and free from addiction. She lived simply and took delight in the world around her. She was an encourager and helped others to feel confident in praying aloud. Her birth date is July 5, so on July 4th, we can celebrate her freedom to join the God she loved so much.

Kathy is now living free and whole in the presence of her Lord Jesus Christ, whom she loved with her whole heart and soul.

Gayland Lee Farrow

Gayland Lee Farrow, age 85, died peacefully at his home in Summit, Utah. He was born January 11, 1936 in Cedar City, Utah to Raymond Lee and Jean Walker Farrow. A few days after he was born his family, and other relatives went to Delamar, Nevada, an old gold mining town (no longer in existence) where some members of the family operated a gold mine and other members worked in the Smelter. The family left Delamar in April 1941 and returned to Utah where his father used the money he made from the gold mine to buy a 600-acre farm.

He attended schools in Cedar City, Utah and graduated from Cedar City High School in 1954 and the College of Southern Utah in 1961.

Gayland was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints where he served in various positions. He was an avid sports fan and loved to watch sports, both live and on television. He was an avid BYU follower and for several years a Utah JAZZ fan.

He enjoyed writing verse about events that inspired him. He devoted many hours to keeping a written record of his life and left several volumes of his personal history.

For several years he and his wife would take a trip to various places each summer. Traveling about the United States. One year they went to the British Isles.

He married Carolyn Purvis December 5, 1958 in Memphis, Tennessee. Divorced, then they remarried October 20, 1961 in Lake Village, Arkansas. This marriage was later solemnized in the St. George Temple October 20, 1964.

He is survived by his wife Carolyn of Summit, two sons and a daughter, Scott Edward Farrow of Amissville, Virginia, Paula-Jean Muckey, of Bullhead City, Arizona, and Gregory Lee Farrow of Salt Lake City, Utah, two sisters Mrs. Marc (Margie) Allton, of Meridian, Idaho, Mrs. Charles (Francis) Corder, of St. George, Utah and two brothers, Richard R. Farrow, La Verkin, Utah, and Dennis W. Farrow of Cedar City, Utah.

A viewing was held July 15th 2021 at 10:00am LDS Chapel; Summit Utah. Funeral services followed at 11:00am in the LDS Chapel; Summit Utah. Interment was in the Summit Cemetery under the direction of Val Williams and Southern Utah Mortuary. Online condolences can be sent at www.sumortuary.com.

Steven W. Nixon

On July 16, 2021, Steven W. Nixon climbed the stairway to Heaven. Steve was born on November 16, 1955, in Kearns, Utah. It was at Kearns High School that he met the love of his life Naomi Nixon. They were married and sealed May 21, 1976.

Steve worked for UPS for over 3 decades before he enjoyed a short retirement and started working as a ticket collector for Southern Utah University and a paraprofessional at Iron Springs Elementary. "Mr. Steve" was deeply loved and cherished by the students and staff. He had an amazing work ethic and put forth his full effort into his job and the people around him.

Steve is well known for his passions in life. He seemed to be the happiest when he was out in his woodshop covered in as much sawdust as possible and blasting classic rock. He never hesitated to help anyone with their own projects. Many close family and friends shared cherished memories of Steve from vacations to Lake Powell where he connected with family, God, and nature.

Dry humor was Steve's specialty. He shared inside jokes and little pranks with his favorite people. At times, deciphering if he was joking or serious would make you wonder 'cause you know sometimes, words have two meanings.

Steve loved supporting his children and grandchildren and was their biggest cheerleader from wrestling, soccer, debate, and recitals. Steve served as a bishop and in other various callings as a devout member of the LDS church, most recently serving as temple ordinance worker alongside his wife.

So much of Steve will continue to live on in his children and grandchildren as a representation of his "teach a man to fish" and lead by example philosophy. He instilled in them his best qualities: hard work, faith, love, service, and loyalty.

He is survived by his wife Naomi Nixon, his 5 children and their spouses, Denise and Todd Panhorst, Sidney and Melanie, Andrea, Anthony and Jessica, Bradley and Kenzie; his grandchildren Avery, Kai, Harper, Jet, Kellan, and Crew; his siblings Ira Paul, Chris, Kerry, and Julie; his two dogs Parks and Moki.

Steve was preceded in death by his parents Paul Ira Nixon and Shirley Theone Nixon.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, July 23, 11:00 am at Canyon View Stake Center. A viewing service will be held Thursday evening from 6-8 pm at Southern Utah Mortuary.

Edward Leon Schrandt

Edward Leon Schrandt, 89 years old, passed away on July 10, 2021 in his home in Cedar City, Utah. He was born on March 9, 1932 in Van Nuys, CA to Edward John Schrandt and Ethel Houchen. In his early childhood he lived in California, and then later moved to Cedar City where he grew up and graduated from Cedar High School. Two years after graduating, Edward served in the military in Korea for two years. Following his service in Korea, he returned to Utah where he married his high school sweet heart, Ethel Jeannine Thompson in Cedar City, UT on December 14, 1953.

He attended Utah State University in Logan, UT and earned a B.S. in Civil Engineering. Once Edward graduated from college, he and Jeannine moved to the Los Angeles area where Edward worked for 40 years as a civil engineer, designing shopping malls, golf courses and other large projects. At the age of 65, Edward retired and he and Jeannine moved back to Cedar City UT.

Some of Edward's great loves in life were camping, hunting, and fishing in the great outdoors, woodworking, and gardening.

Edward is survived by his wife, Jeannine, and his three daughters; Lorna Thacker (Thomas Eric Thacker) from Peoria, AZ, Julie Ann Call (James Ellis Call) from Clovis, CA, and Nadine Ethel Medley (Marshall Kevin Medley) from Kaysville, UT. He has 9 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his son, Curtis Leon Schrandt.

Funeral services were held on Friday, July 16, 2021 at 2:00pm at the Southern Utah Mortuary at 190 N 300 W Cedar City UT 84720. A viewing was then held at 1:00pm at Southern Utah Mortuary. Interment was in the Cedar City Cemetery under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary. Online condolences can be sent at www.sumortuary.com.

Douglas Pooser Sonntag

Douglas Pooser Sonntag – beloved son, grandson, relative and friend – died on Monday, July 12, 2021, at his home in Cedar City, Utah.

Doug was born in Glendale, California on June 13, 1976, the son of James William Pooser and Cheryl Rae Sonntag Pooser. Doug moved to Cedar City, Utah in December 1986, during his 5th grade year of elementary school with his mother and grandparents, Harry and Mona Sonntag. The Sonntag's selected Cedar City as their home because of its small-town atmosphere and its proximity to Southern Utah University which offered future educational opportunities for Doug.

The Sonntag's were introduced to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and were baptized in 1987. Doug embraced the church doctrines and culture and thrived in his newfound faith. At age 19, Doug was called as a full-time missionary and served in the Harrisburg, Pennsylvania Mission from 1995 to 1997. After his mission, Doug enrolled at Southern Utah University where he graduated with a bachelor's degree in Accounting. During his years at SUU, Doug worked in the campus post office and was on the SUU Journal newspaper staff. In addition, Doug was active in the student business club, Phi Beta Lambda ("PBL"). In 1999, Doug represented SUU at the National PBL Conference in Southern California, where he won 1st place in the Quantitative Methods competition. After graduation, Doug worked for public accounting firms in St. George and Cedar City before joining the Leavitt Group in 2014.

Doug loved the members of his St. George and Cedar City Singles wards. He was an able and willing servant of the Lord and accepted each church calling with humility and enthusiasm. His most recent church calling was that of ward finance clerk. Doug was very supportive of others and could be counted on to volunteer to help at every service project, activity, or event. Doug was always prepared and willing to share. Doug's comments during Sunday School and Priesthood meetings were thoughtful and inspiring and gave evidence that Doug had taken time to read the lesson material in advance.

Doug was devoted to his grandmother and was her primary caregiver until her passing in June 2021 at age 95. Doug and Mona were seldom apart and enjoyed watching TV, playing games attending singles ward activities and traveling together. Mona was an accomplished dancer in her youth and she and Doug would dance together at single adult dances.

Doug enjoyed golfing, hiking, and running. He also played the piano and created crossword puzzles, crypto-quotes and word searches for ward newsletters or team building activities. Doug was a member of Toastmasters and had earned the Toastmasters Competent Communicator award and the Advanced Communicator-Bronze award.

Doug was well thought of, appreciated, and loved by his peers and colleagues. Doug was meticulous, and accurate in everything he did. He was also quiet, kind, and helpful. When asked what he enjoyed most about his job, he said that he liked the unassigned little odd jobs he did to help others such as emptying the shredder bin, helping to stuff envelopes, holding doors open, smiling and greeting co-workers and anything else he could do to lift a burden or gladden a heart.

Doug was preceded in death by his mother, father, and grandparents.

Funeral services included a graveside service at 10:00am on Saturday, July 17, 2021, at the Cedar City Cemetery, under the direction of Affordable Funeral Services. John Knight III withdraws from NBA Draft

by Tyler Roper

SUU ATHLETICS STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

CEDAR CITY — Southern Utah University men's basketball star, John Knight III, announced Tuesday he has withdrawn his name from the NBA Draft and will return to play for the Thunderbirds during the 2021-22 campaign.

"I first want to thank all those who have helped and supported me through the NBA Draft process," Knight said. "I received great feedback and know what I need to work on to improve my game. With that, I will be returning to Southern Utah for my senior season. Go 'Birds!"

STAR RETURNS TO SUU FOR SENIOR SEASON

Knight's return is significant news for SUU as he was the team's second-leading scorer with 14.4 points per game during the 2020-21 season, which resulted in the program's first ever Big Sky regular season championship. Knight also led the team by averaging 4.4 assists and 1.4 steals per contest while playing a team-high 31.7 minutes per game.

"We are excited to have John back for another season," said head coach Todd Simon. "He has an incredible opportunity to build on his legacy here at SUU and set himself up as a professional in the future. He has been a great Thunderbird on the court, in the classroom and in the community."

Knight hails from Jackson, Mississippi where he starred for Callaway High School before beginning his collegiate career at Southwest Mississippi Community College. Knight then transferred to Utah State where he played one season before joining the T-Birds in Cedar City.

Wilson, Porcaro named Big Sky Scholar athletes

by Tyler Roper

SUU ATHLETICS STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

FARMINGTON — The Big Sky Conference announced its final academic awards of the season last Thursday, and Southern Utah University's Launa Wilson and Jordan Porcaro were honored for both their athletic and academic achievement.

"Our annual Scholar-Athlete awards always shine a light on some of the best and brightest representatives that our league has to offer, and that is especially so for our 2020-21 recipients," Commissioner Tom Wistrucill said. "This group navigated a global pandemic while not only performing well in their respective sport but also being amongst the top of their peer group academically. On behalf of the Big Sky, we are incredibly proud of these individuals, and we

Almost ready for some football

RANDOM thoughts

Tom Zulewski
IRON COUNTY TODAY

Another summer vacation is almost gone. They say time marches on, and it's marching toward another school year and another season of high-school sports.

Teams from football, girls soccer and fall baseball can begin official workouts and select the players starting Monday, and the newness of it all is a lot more interesting than in past years.

For starters, realignment for the next two seasons has put an end to the schools from our area being part of Region 9. With 5A expanding to five regions, Cedar will be part of a newly-created Region 10 along with the Washington County schools, and Region 11 – the schools from Logan and Cache County – makes up the rest of the 4A ranks.

For the second time, Canyon View will fall back to the 3A ranks in Region 12 for all other sports and 3A South for football. The new football division includes the likes of defending state champion Juab along with Carbon, Manti, North Sanpete and Richfield.

Cedar is coming off one of its best football seasons in the last decade, a 7-5 overall record that included a second-round playoff shutout over region rival Dixie, 28-0. The Reds were seeded 8th, the last team that secured a home game along with the opening-round bye.

Parowan football finished its first year under head coach Ryan Heath with a 5-7 overall record in 2020 that included a 2A home playoff win over Gunnison. As they did from 2015 to 2017, the Rams will return to the 1A ranks for football along with Enterprise, Gunnison, Kanab, Milford and North Sevier.

Here's where things will get interesting with the presence of the RPI. Cedar is part of a new 4A that has 13 schools, which means only the top three teams get first-round byes. Canyon View (3A) and Parowan (1A) are in 12-team classifications, which mean the top four RPI teams get opening-round playoff byes.

As long as you're reading this on the day it's published, there are 23 days left until the regular season starts Aug. 13. It's also worth noting that Parowan will play in 2A in all other sports, and baseball will be played in the fall for the first time. An official schedule for the Rams has not been released.

Cedar and Canyon View will begin its football seasons on the road the first two weeks and the Falcons will host the Reds for its home opener Aug. 27. Cedar will not play at home until Sept.

“With each area school in its own competitive bubble now, it's gonna be interesting to see how it all shakes out. I'll do my best to make sense out of the developments as the games get set to begin.”

17, but will stay home for the final four weeks leading up to the playoffs.

If you need to see a football game live without traveling far when the new season starts, Parowan will play Juab, the first of four straight at home that includes 1A title favorite Duchesne, Grand and Monticello.

With each area school in its own competitive bubble now, it's gonna be interesting to see how it all shakes out. I'll do my best to make sense out of the developments as the games get set to begin.
