Parents & Grandparents Are Voting For Billy Davis

Tyrel & Mari Eddy

We support Billy Davis for school board because we are concerned about the pressure being put on our teachers and school district to adopt controversial curriculum, and ideologies. We know he will be a line of defense against these things.

Ryan & Erin Gregerson

Our 4 children have attended Iron County schools, they have been blessed with good teachers and a good education. Billy Davis has the exemplary character, temperament and skills needed to balance the needs of the teachers with the needs of the students to advance education for future students. This is one of many reasons we are voting for Billy Davis for Iron County School Board.

Chris & Beth Stephenson

From our interactions while serving with Billy over the years, we know that he has a heart for strengthening our community and protecting our children.

Volney Morin

I endorse Billy Davis for Iron County School Board. He has a better vision for the future and better understanding of the school board's past.

Blaine Nay

I studied all of this year's candidates and where they stand – or fail to stand – on issues important to me and our community. I've had the privilege of meeting most of the candidates to see where their values are. In the race for Iron County School District 5, I find that Billy Davis best fits my values and the direction I think our schools need to take. He has my vote and my endorsement. I proudly display his sign in my yard. If you're in Iron County School District 5, vote for Billy Davis.

Mike & Emily Green

Billy Davis has shown commitment and transparency to his constituents throughout this election cycle. If he is willing to answer and publicly engage through this entire process, we know he will do an EXCEPTIONAL job representing his district. His commitment to knowledge and growth, dedication to families and their students, and ability to intelligently and thoughtfully create solutions, earns our vote!

Ron & Liz Riddle

We would like to encourage you to join us in voting for Billy Davis for Iron County School Board. We believe that he will be fiscally responsible with the tax dollars that go the Iron County School District, as over 50% of our property tax dollars go the the School District. Please join us in voting for Billy Davis.

Kami Merrill

Billy is committed to putting our children first and will put the focus back on academics while giving teachers the support they need to ensure our schools provide a quality education and retain quality teachers. Join me in voting for Billy Davis, Iron County School Board District 5.

Neil & Shalon Shaver

We are happy to endorse Billy Davis for Iron County School Board! It is refreshing to support a candidate with similar views & values for the future of our community! Most importantly, we admire that Billy is willing to protect & fight for our most valuable asset...our children!

Brandon & Stephanie Jones

Right now so many of our problems are the cause of overburdened teachers, wasteful programs and oversight from the state and federal levels. Too many administrative burdens are taking precious focus and time away from our teachers in the classroom. We endorse Billy Davis for Iron County School Board.

Missing child reported in Beaver County

from Paul E. Wolden

BEAVER COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

On October 28, at approximately 1900 hours, a missing child was reported in an unincorporated area of Beaver County.

The child is a 3-year-old male last seen wearing a brown jacket, blue pants and pink snow boots. The child has brown hair and brown eyes. If you have any information, please contact the Beaver County Dispatch Center at (435)438-2862. Please refer to the Beaver County Sheriff's Office Facebook page for updates.

The area where the child was reported missing is West of Milford, Utah. The area is rugged and the child is unfamiliar with the area.

Beaver County Sheriff's Deputies and the Beaver County Search and Rescue responded to the area to search for the missing child. The Department of Public Safety's helicopter, Division of Wildlife Resources K9 and numerous volunteers also responded to the area to assist in the search. As of October 29, the child has not been located. The search is ongoing.

MAYOR'S MINUTE

November is such a wonderful time of year when we all get to participate in our civic duty to vote for the wonderful citizens who willingly put themselves to serve in public office. I want to personally thank each one of the people who are running. Until a year ago, I had no idea of the process and effort it is to submit your name, then campaign, then run for office. I hope the election comes out in your favor.

If you have not voted yet and are registered to vote, let this be a reminder that it is your obligation in a democracy to do so. Iron County has mailed the ballots, and many citizens are beginning to turn them in. Remember, you can drop your ballots off at several ballot drop boxes throughout the County prior to Election Day, like the Cedar City office building (10 N. Main Street) as well as other office buildings in Iron County. Cedar City Hall will also be open until 8:00 p.m. on Election Day (Tuesday, November 8th) to turn in ballots.

There are interesting races in the schools, the county, the state, and the national scene. There are great candidates throughout, and they are deserving of our consideration and support.

I want to wish all the candidates the best of luck. I know that I am one who suffers from "Imposter Syndrome." I am grateful for the opportunity to serve, but I often feel inadequate with so much to learn. I wish I could remember names and faces, but I struggle, and I try my best. To those who win, congratulations, and thank you for your dedication. May God bless you and I hope our citizens will honor the system and support you.

Once ballots are cast, it's celebration time. Turkey, cranberries, dressing, and much more will be served at the Green house. Over 43 people will attend our Thanksgiving, and we will cook, pray, eat, watch football, and enjoy the amazing blessings we have. May you all feel love and peace this Thanksgiving season. God bless you all.

Mayor Garth O. Green, Cedar City Mayor

EMERGENCY NOTICE OF BALLOT DELAY AND EARLY VOTING EXTENDED SCHEDULE

With Apologies, we have discovered that our ballots were more delayed than we were told. We sent our database to our printer on September 19th. Our printer prepared the ballots and sent them to a Pitney Bowes facility in Las Vegas for mail order sorting on October 14th. Without telling either our printer or Iron County, Pitney Bowes sent the ballots to their Dallas facility on or October 20th. Pitney Bowes then sent them by truck to the Salt Lake Post Office. They entered the mail stream with over 3,000 other trays of mail (roughly 1,000,000 other pieces of mail). There are several aspects of what happened that are inappropriate. We will no longer employ that printer.

I am told by the Postal Service that the ballots should arrive by Saturday or Monday. Statutorily, we can mail out ballots between 21 and 7 days before an election. This year, that means October 18th through November 2nd. We will be able to meet the statute, but we are extremely frustrated and disappointed that we were not able to get ballots out earlier for this important election.

In response to this challenging situation, we are EXTENDING early voting more than we had originally planned:

Avoid Pitfalls

- » Be sure to sign your affidavit.
- » If you mail the ballot on November 7th, be sure to get a hand cancellation stamp. This is important because all of our mail goes to Provo to be date stamped. That means that your vote might not count if you just drop it in the mail without a hand stamp, proving they were sent by November 7th. If you have any doubt on November 7th, take it to a drop box.
- » On Election Day, it is too late to mail. Please just take it to a drop box. Vote Centers will be open until 8:00 p.m. on election day. (Cedar Offices, 10 N Main; Enoch Offices 900 E Midvalley; Courthouse, 68 S 100 E, Parowan).

UTAH HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES (DISTRICT 70)

I've worked hard for Rural Utah. I'm a strong conservative voice, who continues to watch out for our lifestyle and culture. I'll push back against Payson/Dickson Line bills, that are not good for Rural Utah. I ask for your vote on November 8th. The ballots will be mailed out on October 18th.

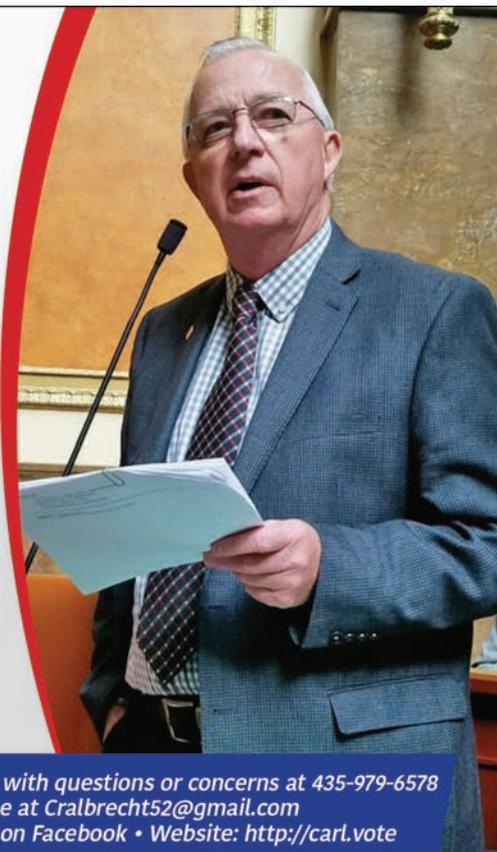

I'll always stand tall for our 2nd Amendment Rights, the Right to Life, and Multiple-Use of our Federal Lands. I grew up in Rural Utah and spent most of my career in the energy business. As Chair of the Public Utilities, Energy and Technology Committee, I've made sure Utah does not fall into the same trap on energy as some other states have. # Historic Preservation Committee plans Cedar City's 171st Birthday celebration

by Gabrielle Costello

CEDAR CITY PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICER

CEDAR CITY — Cedar City's Historic Preservation Commission has been hard at work planning the annual birthday celebration weekend for the City's 171st birthday, happening this year from November 10th to November 12th, 2022.

With a growing population of over 38,000 residents, Cedar City has certainly come a long way since November 11th, 1851 when settlement first began in the area. A group of 35 men from Parowan arrived 171 years ago to settle in modern-day Cedar City to establish an ironworks. They were organized and traveled in two militia companies—a foot company and a cavalry company—under the direction of Henry Lunt. Small cottonwood log houses were built fort-style at the western base of the hill. The settlement was given the name of Fort Cedar because of the abundance of cedar trees, although, in reality, they are juniper trees

Today, our community continues to thrive thanks to their efforts in search of a new life for generations to come. Cedar City's Historic Preservation Commission is dedicated to being a resource to the community and City Council on historic preservation, providing ongoing education alongside community partners. This year, the Commission is excited to celebrate Cedar City's founding with a fun-filled three-day event to highlight its unique history.

"Cedar City is home to many events and festivals throughout the year, celebrating a variety of holidays and interests which attracts thousands of visitors from across the world who get a glimpse into what we experience every day as residents," said Aleese Cardon, Chair of the Preservation Commission. "But it's not often that we get to celebrate CEDAR CITY itself, which is why we choose to celebrate Cedar City's birthday every year and make it as special as possible."

Kick off the celebration on Thursday, November 10th at 7:30 p.m. with a special "Traditions" concert performed by the Orchestra of Southern Utah (OSU) at the Heritage Theater. Sing Happy Birthday to Cedar City with the Orchestra and enjoy complimentary birthday cake in the foyer! Tickets are available for purchase at www.myosu.org. Tickets are free to OSU season ticket holders!

On Friday, November 11th, join the Historic Preservation Commission and the Iron County Veteran's Coalition for a new rock garden dedication at Veterans Memorial Park at 10:00 a.m. Next, head to City Hall front steps for a Downtown Historical Markers Dedication ceremony at 1:00 p.m. with remarks from Mayor Garth O. Green, followed by a walking tour of six downtown city landmarks with refreshments in tow.

Whether you've lived here your whole life or are new to the area, the entire community is invited to participate in the annual Cedar City Scavenger Hunt in Historical Downtown to learn more about local history. The scavenger hunt information is available at www.CedarCity.org and begins at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, November 11th. Participate at your own pace over the weekend, but be sure to return your sheet to Frontier Homestead State Park by Saturday, November 12th between 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. to enjoy birthday cobbler and a special prize. Bring your family on Saturday to the Frontier Homestead State Park to learn more about Cedar City settlement and unique trivia that can be passed on for generations to come.

On behalf of the Historic Preservation Commission members, Happy Birthday Cedar City and Happy Veterans Day to all who have served this great county. To learn more about this Commission and its efforts, visit www.cedarcity.org.

Noteworthy November

Hopefully, your October ended on a sweet note... and November didn't begin with a trip to the Dentist's office. Not that that's a bad place, I have a great dentist, but there were certainly a lot of opportunities to either improve or acquire a sweet tooth with all the fun

Halloween events. Now, November will hopefully bring each of us many opportunities through Veterans Day and Thanksgiving to be grateful for the freedoms and blessings brought to us historically and continually by our forefathers, armed forces, local leaders, law-enforcement, first responders, and everyone else who is committed to making our Iron County communities great by making the people great. Here's to a noteworthy November!

TO THE EDITOR

Iron County has a consummate ally in Senator Mike Lee

We are writing to urge all voters in Iron County and throughout the State of Utah to vote for Senator Mike Lee. Senator Lee has proven himself to be a solid conservative Republican, and a defender of our Constitution in the United States Senate. Now more than ever we need people like him to represent us in Washington, D.C.

With Republicans on the verge of reclaiming the House of Representatives and the Senate, we in Utah must do our part by voting to keep our Senate seat in Republican hands. Senator Lee's opponent, Evan McMullin, who is running as an independent, has already announced he will not caucus with Republicans if he wins the election. Additionally, McMullin has endorsed deceptively named Democratic priorities like the Equal Rights Act, which would result in a vast expansion of abortion rights, and the For the People Act, which would federalize our elections and hinder states from implementing important election security measures like voter ID laws.

Of course, none of this is surprising considering that McMullin supported Joe Biden in 2020, has been endorsed by the Utah Democratic Party, and runs many of his campaign ads through ActBlue, an organization whose sole purpose is to raise money for progressive left-wing candidates.

In contrast, Senator Lee has ardently opposed the Democrats' reckless spending sprees as well as their efforts to usurp powers that rightly belong to the states. He is also a tireless and unwavering advocate for the rights of the unborn. Senator Lee is also effective at working with across the aisle. For example, his leadership and ability to work with Senate Democrats led to passage of the bipartisan First Step Act in 2018, the most consequential criminal justice reform in decades.

We also appreciate that Senator Lee is a strong supporter of our culture and heritage in rural Utah. Over the years we have worked hand in hand with Senator Lee to ensure we maintain access to the federal lands that rural families and economies rely on so heavily. Between his commitment to the Constitution, his interest in the welfare of rural Utah, and his position on the Senate Energy and Natural Resources committee, Iron County has a consummate ally in Senator Mike Lee. We wholeheartedly endorse him and encourage everyone to vote for his reelection.

Iron County Commissioners – Marilyn Wood, Mike Bleak, Paul Cozzens

REMEMBER WHEN...

Bryan Gray is a syndicated contributor, not an employee. His opinions are solely his own and not those of the Editor, Staff or Iron County Today.

My wife will soon have another birthday. While I would rather ignore birthdays, she celebrates them, challenging me to sniff out an array of gifts. My American Express card loves her as much as I do!

Like many of you, when birthdays come, I often reflect back on my younger self and how things have changed. Here are a few:

Remember when holes in jeans were not a luxury clothing item, but simply a sign that a person couldn't afford a new pair?

When a teenager would spend 30 minutes without scanning their TikTok posts?

When athletic fields and stadiums had consistent names, not changing sponsorships every three years?

When it was Southern Democrats scheming to stop Blacks from voting rather than Southern Republicans attempting to limit minority voting today?

When Christmas music wasn't played on the radio until at least after slicing the Thanksgiving turkey?

When a visit to the video store was an eagerly awaited weekend event?

When almost everyone had a home telephone mounted on their kitchen wall?

When a majority of Americans would actually watch the same television show in real time (MASH, Friends, etc.) and the majority of Utah teens listened to the same radio stations?

When service station attendants would pump your gas and clean your windows while you waited in your car?

When dining out for lunch occurred in a sit-down restaurant, not the closest Maverik?

When high school students could actually write an essay?

When graffiti wasn't considered an art form?

When our fresh fruit came from family farms, not shipped in from Mexico and Guatemala?

When elementary school students could earn a few bucks selling donuts door-to-door?

When parents worried more about reading scores than what their children might spot in a public library?

When political advertising on TV focused on why one should elect a candidate rather than why his or her opponent resembled Beelzebub?

Yes, I remember. It was a simpler time when I bought cologne and aftershave rather than wrinkle cream.

UTAH LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

Friends and Neighbors,

Fall is such a magnificent time of year, and it was beautiful to see the changing colors of leaves before the snow hit. It's always a busy time with Legislative work, because even though the session isn't formally in, there is much work to be done all year long. A few of the many things I've been working on include:

1-A bill to help the Parowan water pumpers be able to do recharge projects is drafted and going through the numbering process right now. I'll keep you updated as that moves forward.

2-The Cannabis Governance Working Group that I have been chairing with Rep. Walt Brooks all summer has finished its work, and Rep. Brooks and I reported our findings and suggestions to The Health and Human Services interim committee last week. The committee voted to open a bill file to implement the changes. Rep. Brooks and I will sponsor the bill on the general session.

3-I'm excited to report that work is progressing well on the first time home buyers bill I have created, which is a plan similar to the tax free savings accounts for education. It would allow you to save money tax-free, grow tax-free, and access tax-free, as long as it's spent on a first-time home purchase.

Here are some more highlights from work we've been doing at the Legislature this past month.

Ban on Transgender Surgeries for Minors

Protecting Utah's children is always a priority. In the most recent Health and Human Services Committee meeting, a bill was introduced that would ban transgender surgery for minors. The bill is intended to delay surgery until individuals are adults and able to consent and accept all risks and long-term impacts.

Sensitive Materials in Schools

During the 2022 General Session, we passed H.B. 374 Sensitive Materials in Schools, prohibiting inappropriate or pornographic materials in public schools. In our recent Education Interim Committee meeting, we heard a presentation from the Utah State Board of Education about its success. They reported that 88.5% of Local Education Agencies have submitted library policies, and a total of 50 inappropriate books were removed from 87 collective schools. I appreciate all of the effort that went into this process.

Performance Audit of Healthcare in Prisons

During Tuesday's Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Interim Committee, legislators had the opportunity to hear from both the Office of the Legislative Auditor General (OLAG) and the Utah Department of Corrections (UDC) about medical care in state prisons. As part of their audit, OLAG found that although many inmates were receiving appropriate care, there were several areas of improvement needed. This included better and more timely access to prescriptions, additional trained medical staff to provide care, and better healthcare data management.

Given the critical nature of these issues, UDC presented how they were swiftly addressing areas of need and plans for future improvement. The audit by OLAG outlined 16 recommendations and UDC verified that 14 of the recommendations had been implemented, with the remaining two in progress.

SUU Helen Foster Snow Cultural Center

Southern Utah University established the Helen Foster Snow Cultural Center to serve as a setting for sharing Chinese language and culture, and for fostering citizen-to-citizen diplomacy. A grand opening for the center took place in early October, and I was honored to be involved in the event.

In the 2022 General Legislative Session, we honored Snow's life and achievements with a concurrent resolution that I sponsored. The cultural center is another commemoration of Snow's efforts and legacy.

Great Salt Lake Update

A summit evaluating the Great Salt Lake took place this month, one of the many conversations being held regarding the levels and health of the lake. Legislators gathered with agency representatives from the Department of Natural Resources and the Division of Wildlife Resources, as well as scholars from the University of Utah and Utah State University, to identify what efforts have been effective so far, and to collaborate on solutions to the challenges facing the Great Salt Lake. We will continue to monitor the lake's levels and progress while working with state environmental agencies to implement helpful actions during the upcoming legislative general session.

World Mental Health Day

On October 10, Utah recognized World Mental Health Day, a day to speak out, show support, provide resources, and continue conversations about a part of our health that does not get spoken about enough. In honor of World Mental Health Day, Utah hosted a mental health summit, the first ever of its kind. The summit brought leaders from across the U.S. to Utah to discuss legislation and insurance policies. According to the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), 550,000 adults in Utah had a mental health condition in 2021. The Huntsman Mental Health Institute shared the efforts the Legislature has made, stating that over the past 10 years, Utah has passed over 40 bills and appropriated more than $85 million in funding to support mental health—more than any other state. These bills range from appropriating funds to programs like the SafeUT app, to creating the Mental Illness Psychotherapy Drug Task Force.

Here in Utah, we have numerous resources for Utahns in crisis. If you or someone you know is battling mental health issues, please do not hesitate to call 988, the mental health hotline, or download the SafeUT app and talk with a licensed professional. You are needed. You are not alone. Lend a hand to a neighbor and continue the discussion around mental health.

Preparing for Emergencies

As we head into the season of winter storms, icy roads and avalanches, we need to be prepared and take precautions. Winter storms and avalanches are just a few of Utah's multiple hazards that we need to be prepared for. Be Ready Utah shares information about each possible hazard, the 12 areas to be prepared for and links to helpful tips and resources. At any moment, disaster can strike and we all need to be prepared. Speak to your friends and family about what to do if they are found in an emergency. Reach out to your local agencies to find ways to volunteer or help those in your community prepare for a disaster.

Inauguration of New SUU President

Last month, Southern Utah University welcomed a new university president, Mindy Benson. President Benson is the 17th president of SUU and has been serving as the interim president for the past year. President Benson was born and raised in Cedar City before graduating from SUU herself. I was honored to attend President Benson's inauguration and celebrate her work helping students learn, innovate and succeed. I look forward to seeing all she'll accomplish as SUU's President, and am grateful for her exceptional leadership.

New School of Medicine Building

The University of Utah recently broke ground for a new Spencer Fox Eccles School of Medicine building. Utah's medical school continues to make positive impacts on the healthcare community. When you or someone you care about has a medical issue, from severe burns to brain injury to heart issues, good care is not enough, of course, you want and should have only the best, most experienced, highest quality care. The faculty and facilities at the University of Utah deliver superior outcomes, leading the industry in innovative research and results. I look forward to seeing the great developments and advancements that will come from within the walls of this new building.

Unique to Utah – This Month 106 Years Ago

In October 1916, the Utah State Capitol was completed. After four years of construction with a budget of $2.5 million, 40,000 visitors came to celebrate the completion of the Capitol building. With 52 granite columns surrounding the building and a 285-foot dome, the building was an architectural wonder. The building was designed to reflect the important government work that would be performed in its chambers. For example, each branch of government has a location in the Capitol to symbolize how all three branches work together to create the best government policies. Skylights are in every significant room, reflecting the transparency that exists in the government process. While the Capitol has undergone renovations since its initial construction, it still stands as a symbol of the innovation and work ethic of the original builders.

One Utah Summit

I enjoyed attending the One Utah Summit in Cedar City this month. The discussion focused on leadership, innovation, the strengths of rural Utah, and how we can better utilize resources. Our state's future is bright because the public and private sectors come together to hear challenges and strive to find solutions.

On November 8, Utah will hold its general election. I encourage you to register to vote in this election. By exercising your right to vote, you can help elect candidates who represent your viewpoints. As you educate yourself in preparation for voting, please keep in mind that you must register to vote by October 28 to receive a mail-in ballot. The last day to request a mail-in ballot is November 1, before 5 p.m. Lastly, all ballots must be postmarked by USPS by November 7. I am grateful to live in a nation where every citizen has the right to vote, and I hope you will take advantage of this opportunity.

United Nations Conference Hosted at UVU

In early October, Utah Valley University hosted the United Nations in the 1st International Academic Conference on the Sustainable Development Goals. The United Nations and their global partners are working to implement 17 sustainable development goals by 2030, such as ending poverty in all its forms everywhere. Attendees explored ways to implement the 2030 agenda to reach the development goals. Additionally, during the conference, attendees and volunteers assembled 2,000 newborn kits for refugee and immigrant mothers. As the global community of academic institutions, civil society organizations, private sector entities, and local and national governments continue to work toward achieving the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals, we hope to continue contributing toward improved quality of life throughout the world.

Utah's Lowered BAC Limit

With rising numbers of traffic fatalities, it is increasingly important to practice road safety. Utah pioneered efforts to lower the allowed blood alcohol concentration (BAC) limit to .05 from .08 in 2018. Since then, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration stated that the updated law "had demonstrably positive impacts on highway safety," with the fatality rate from crashes dropping more than 18% from 2016-2019. Other states are now looking at implementing similar policies to lower their traffic fatalities.

St. George hosts the Huntsman World Senior Games

St. George hosted the Huntsman World Senior Games this month. The World Senior Games is the largest annual multi-sport event in the world for athletes over the age of 50. With more than 30 different athletic events and over 10,000 participants, the games are expected to generate nearly $20 million in economic impact. Congratulations to all who participated in the games and thanks to St. George for hosting this great event for the past 30 years.

Thank you!

Residents save money through weatherization assistance program

Winter months are on their way. Will we be hit with wintry weather and snow? Who knows! But the Weatherization Assistance Program is ready for whatever Mother Nature decides to throw at us.

The Weatherization Assistance Program (WAP) helps income-eligible households save on energy costs while improving health, comfort, and safety in their homes. Residents that make under 200% of the federal poverty level (PL) or receive assistance from programs like HEAT are eligible for weatherization measures at no cost to lower their energy bills.

State of Utah 2022 Poverty Guidelines:

Families benefit from energy efficiency when less of their incomes go to utilities. Participating households average nearly 35 percent in savings, or approximately $583 per year, after the completion of weatherization improvements. Low-income households carry a larger burden for energy costs, typically spending 16.3% of their total annual income versus 3.5% for other households.

Often, they must cut back on healthcare, medicine, groceries, and childcare to pay their energy bills. Once installed, energy-efficient Weatherization measures continue to save money and energy year after year and increase household income so funds can go toward key living expenses.

What Weatherization Does:

Locally based and professionally trained weatherization crews use computerized energy assessments and advanced diagnostic equipment, such as blower doors, manometers, and infrared cameras, to create a comprehensive analysis of the home to determine the most cost-effective measures appropriate and to identify any health and safety concerns. Weatherization providers also thoroughly inspect households to ensure the occupants safety, checking indoor air quality, combustion safety, carbon monoxide, and identifying mold infestations, which are all indications of energy waste.

The auditor creates a customized work order and trained crews install the identified energy efficient and health and safety measures. A certified Quality Control Inspector ensures all work is completed correctly and that the home is safe for the occupants.

What Typical Weatherization Measures Might Be Provided?

Mechanical Measures:

- » Repair, or replace heating and/or cooling systems
- » Install duct and heating pipe insulation
- » Repair leaks in the heating/cooling ducts
- » Install programmable thermostats
- » Install water heater tank insulation
- » Insulate water heating pipes

Building Shell Measures:

- » Install insulation where needed. Perform air sealing
- » Repair/replace windows/doors
- » Repair minor roof and wall leaks prior to attic or wall insulation

Health & Safety Measures:

- » Perform heating system safety testing
- » Perform combustion appliance safety testing
- » Repair/replace vent systems to ensure combustion gas draft safely outside
- » Install mechanical ventilation to ensure adequate indoor air quality
- » Install smoke and carbon monoxide alarms when needed
- » Evaluate mold/moisture hazards

Electric & Water Measures:

- » Install efficient light sources (LED light bulbs)
- » Install low-flow showerheads
- » Replace inefficient refrigerators with energy-efficient models

Client Education Activities:

- » Educate on potential household hazards such as carbon monoxide, mold & moisture, fire, indoor air pollutants, lead paint and radon.
- » Demonstrate the key functions of any new mechanical equipment or appliances
- » Discuss the benefits of using energy-efficient products.

What Is Not Provided:

Weatherization is not a remodeling or rehabilitation program. The amount that can be spent on each dwelling is limited, and repairs are made only to improve the energy efficiency of a home, not to improve the home's capital value. Typical not-allowable requests: painting, roof repairs; siding replacement, installing storm windows or storm doors.

Crisis Services:

Crisis services are available for homeowners with no heat during the winter months, no air conditioning during the summer months, or a broken water heater. You must be the homeowner, currently on the HEAT Program and be a target household to qualify for crisis service.

Weatherization Assistance Program:

- » 2344 West Industry Way, Suite. 2 Cedar City, UT 84721
- » 435-586-0585
- » WAP@fivecounty.utah.gov
- » wxworks.net

Utah Court of Appeals comes to SUU

by Christina Schweiss

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

On October 27, SUU's APEX team brought a live court case to campus. The three Judges were Ryan Tenney, Michelle Christensen Forster, and David Mortensen.

The case was RainFocus V. Cvent. The second argument was presented by Alexander Dushku, Attorney for Appellant and Marc Rasich, Attorney for Appellee. RainFocus has sued Cvent for defamation and intentional interference with economic relations. These claims are based on statements Cvent allegedly made to several prospective clients about RainFocus while Cvent has been pursuing a separate lawsuit against RainFocus in federal court for — among other things — copyright infringement, breach of contract, and trade secret misappropriation.

RainFocus argues that

JOSEPH ROBERTS

statements such as those claiming that it stole Cvent's source code and misappropriated its trade secrets are defamatory. RainFocus acknowledges that such statements are privileged when made in court proceedings for the federal case, but it asserts that outside of those court proceedings such statements qualify as defamation.

All APEX events take place in the Hunter Conference Center on SUU's campus. Dushku joked before he began his argument and said, "I never thought I'd be arguing in Hogwarts."

Dushku explained that "context and setting are vitally important" in any court case, but specifically this one being discussed.

During the Q and A portion of this APEX event, Judge Tenney declared, "Our job on a global level is to make sure rules are followed. We want stability, as long as it's correct." Tenney expressed that "the system really is working the way it's supposed to."

The next session about this specific court case is to occur in January. For more information, go to www.utcourts.gov/courts/coa.

The next APEX event will occur on November 4. Former chairman of the Northwest Band of the Shoshone Nation and American Politician, Darren Perry, will be the guest lecturer. For more information visit www.suu.edu/apex

Adult education travel program returns from Fortress Europe

from Susie Knudsen

SUU ASST. DIR. MARKETING & ENROLLMENT

CEDAR CITY — Southern Utah University’s Community on the Go (COG) adult educational travel program recently returned from the Fortress Europe - The Final Victory Tour. Participants followed in the footsteps of history by tracing the Allied advance through Austria and Germany at the conclusion of World War II in Europe.

Comprised of 29 travelers, the trip was led by three expert guides: former SUU President Scott Wyatt, former SUU Board of Trustees Chair Gayle Pollock and SUU Professor of Library and Information Science, Richard Saunders.

“Visiting places where great things happened is inspirational; visiting places where horrible things happened is a solemn reminder,” said Wyatt. “Seeing both with local guides and SUU scholars helps me become a better person.”

The excursion was the final chapter of a three-part series following the World War II advance of the 101st Airborne - 506th P.I.R., Easy Company “Band of Brothers” and their ultimate capture of the Eagle’s Nest, Adolf Hitler’s mountaintop fortress. This provided historical context for the places visited, such as Munich, the birthplace of the Nazi party; or Potsdam, where Stalin, Truman and Churchill decided the fate of Europe post-World War II.

For one trip participant, the journey held a much deeper meaning. “I made the decision to take my dad on the Fortress Europe trip so that he could see and experience the places where his father fought as a soldier when he was a child,” said Ann Marie McIlff Allen. “My dad passed away before the Final Victory Tour, so my husband Randy and I completed the trip to honor both my grandfather and father, remembering that World War II still touches most lives in our country in one way or another.”

Other highlights of the trip included a tour of Nuremberg Nazi Rally Grounds and the Palace of Justice, the site of the war crimes tribunal, now known as the Nuremberg Trials. Participants also enjoyed an in-depth walking tour of Berlin, stopping by Checkpoint Charlie, a remaining section of the Berlin Wall that served as the entrance to the Allied-controlled side of the city post-World War II.

SUU Community on the Go offers culturally immersive, international travel experiences for adults who love to learn and is presented by SUU Community and Professional Development. SUU faculty experts curate and lead exploration groups of approximately 20-30 travelers to various parts of the world offering fun, cultural and educational experiences. Previous Community on the Go trip destinations include London, China, Peru, Paris and Transylvania.

If you have a product idea that could be turned into a business, or enjoy being creative under pressure, this two-day event provides an opportunity to focus and have some fun.

In partnership with State Bank of Southern Utah, Leavitt Group and the Cedar City Business and Innovation Center (CCBIC), the Makeathon competition is taking place just down the road from Southwest Technical College's main campus at the CCBIC on Nov. 4-5. The application to enter the competition will remain open until Nov. 3 and can be found at <https://bit.ly/3FplaD9>.

"We're excited to host this new competition and see what the innovative minds in our area come up with," said Craig Isom, director, accelerating innovators at SUU Startup. "Contestants have the chance to win $5,000 in cash prizes, along with receiving mentorship and other resources to continue their designs."

The contest itself is patterned after a standard marathon in terms of the mental exertion required. Teams of two to five people will spend 24 hours non-stop beginning Friday afternoon coming up with a viable solution to a real-world problem. Each team will be attempting to craft a solution to the same problem.

This will be the first-ever "Makeathon" to help design solutions and viable businesses for today's world.

Specific details of the challenge presented to contestants will be kept secret until the competition actually begins, ensuring a fair contest for all. Dinner for Makeathon participants will be provided on Friday night, along with breakfast and lunch on Saturday.

SUU Startup aims to be a resource for connecting entrepreneurs to prototyping opportunities, entrepreneurial mentors, conference and brainstorming rooms, studios and production equipment, 3-D printers and shared office space. The CCBIC is one SUU Startup partner that offers many resources for local entrepreneurs of all ages. With onsite trainings and classes, ranging from medical (such as CPR) to software (including Quickbooks), the CCBIC makerspace is designed to help turn ideas and concepts into legitimate prototypes and businesses.

More information about SUU Startup can be found at suu.edu/startup, including the ability to schedule tours of the CCBIC and reserve equipment and conference rooms.

Teams will be given a specific challenge and 24 hours to solve it in the most effective and efficient way.

SUU Dance Faculty to present dance concert

by Kol A. Gibson

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The SUU Department of Dance is thrilled to premiere the Trichromatic Faculty Dance Concert on November 4, 5, & 7, 2022 at 7:30 p.m. and a matinee on November 5, 2022, at 2:00 p.m. in the Eileen & Allen Anes Studio Theatre. In addition to the choreography and performances of members of the SUU dance faculty, the concert will feature the talents of guest artists Dr. Jon Paul Yerby and Michael Cusumano, as well as the masterful costuming designs of new SUU theatre faculty member Matthew Pedersen.

The title Trichromatic comes from the scientific theory that humans view the world through different ratios of three colors of light: red, blue, and green. Just as varying prescriptions of polarized eyeglasses can alter sight, artists, through their movement and expression, can change and enhance how and what we see. In addition to the different perspectives offered by the dancers and choreographers, the Anes Studio Theatre itself will alter how audiences perceive the show.

“I am excited to see the performers bring these particular dances to life inside such an intimate and three-dimensional performance space,” explains faculty member Alexandra Bradshaw-Yerby. “As a choreographer, it is a unique challenge to craft a live performance that can speak to audience members on all three sides of the stage—a challenge that I find rewarding and refreshing.”

While Trichromatic offers many different perspectives and showcases each choreographer’s difference in style to the audience, it also gives the student dancers opportunities to master different styles of dance. Senior dance major Melanie Allridge from Fountain Green, Utah will perform in two pieces, The Unfinished, by Alexandra Bradshaw-Yerby, and excerpts of Chicago, choreographed by the guest artist Michael Cusumano. “Working with Alex to create her work has been nothing but a positive experience. She truly values each of us as individuals and strives to showcase each of our strengths.” She continues, “The same can be said for working with Mikey. In Chicago, we get to play a more dramatic and playful role, which is just pure fun. The Unfinished is a completely different movement style and we get to see each dancer as an individual performing to their strengths.”

“This performance as a whole offers an exciting breadth of musical styles and dance genres, ranging from large ensemble dances to intimate solos,” says Bradshaw-Yerby. “From Franz Schubert and Natalia Lafourcade to The Beatles and Dave Brubeck, there is really something in this concert for everyone to enjoy. The bold, vivid, and masterful costuming designs of Matthew Pedersen will also add to and complement the colorful display.”

Each performance will be preceded by a 30-minute silent auction. All proceeds from the auction will go towards SUU’s Dance Program events which help to bring guest dance artists to southern Utah, provide training equipment to our students, and enhance the current resources available. The Post-Show Talk Back on the evening of November 5 will give the audience insight into the creation of the works with a Q&A to follow.

Tickets to Trichromatic can be purchased at the Utah Shakespeare Festival Box Office up to an hour preceding each performance or by calling (435) 586-7878. Tickets are $10 for adults, $8 for SUU alumni with a valid Alumni Card, and $5 for youth. SUU faculty, staff, and students can attend for free with a valid ID card. # Nobody commits murder quite like the Brits

by Mary Anne Andersen

CEDAR CITY ARTS COUNCIL

Let me be clear about this: I am not the only one who thinks so. People whose business it is to have an opinion agree that the Brits are the best when it comes to the murder-mystery genre. The same gene pool that produced Agatha Christie still knows how to write engaging mysteries that keep at least this household tuning in each week.

The shows share some British trademarks, such as the cup of tea. To watch the telly, you would think that every household has a kettle of hot water always at the ready to offer comfort and promote clear-headed thinking. Maybe they do. The cup of tea is the first thing offered to victim or investigator alike, and is rarely refused.

But each show has its own characteristic as well. Take “Midsomer Murders.” The writers really go out of their way to devise inventive murders, some which make me look away, briefly. Like murder by bee sting, with the victim’s head and neck covered with bees, or murder in a chocolate vat, the victim’s airways blocked with hardened chocolate. It becomes the focus of the episode, sometimes, rather than the first-rate detective work of Inspector Barnaby and his sidekick. And we often wonder why the village of Midsomer hasn’t disappeared from the map, what with a murder or two every week.

In “Vera”, the emphasis is on the personality of crabby Vera. She has her staff cowed by her biting observations, and yet they would defend her to the death (so to speak).

Her dowdy appearance and indifference to life’s pleasures somehow add to our confidence that after an hour’s frustration, she will have an epiphany that will lead her to the culprit, someone we should have suspected all along. À la Agatha Christie.

Indeed, it is the characters that make the genre so enjoyable, I think. “Father Brown” is an ecclesiastical thorn in the side of police inspector Mallory, but he refuses to give up when he can see the police on the wrong track. It is a delight to see him on his bicycle in flapping clerical coat. “Grantchester” has a pastor as well, one who rides a motorcycle and occasionally sleeps with a pretty girl. We love him, but wish Will weren’t maybe quite so “just a regular guy.”

The weather of Great Britain plays a part sometimes. The new “Annika” is on the coast of Scotland, and it looks to be miserably cold all the time. In fact, the police unit is devoted to harbor crimes, and the thought of having to retrieve a body from those waters would make me decamp to Midsomer and the chocolate factory. Ocean plays a part in “Vera”, too, as we see the characters often standing in the wind on the coast. Cue the hot cup of tea.

“Miss Scarlet” is a beautiful aspiring detective in Victorian London. Contemporary problems plague a beleaguered Prime Minister in “Cobra”. In other words, there is something for every taste. On our couch, we watch ‘em all.

The works of artist Joseph DeLappe on display at SUMA

SOUTHERN UTAH MUSEUM OF ART

CEDAR CITY — Oct. 25, 2022 – Southern Utah Museum of Art (SUMA), on the campus of Southern Utah University (SUU), presents the work of artist Joseph DeLappe in his show Resistance, Memory, and Play. DeLappe’s work is on display now through December 23, 2022.

As a Professor of Games and Tactical Media at Abertay

University in Dundee, Scotland, DeLappe engages his knowledge and interest in computers and gaming to critically examine our complicated relationship with technology—as instruments of entertainment, propaganda and warfare—in an array of installation, sculptural and video game works. Since 1983, DeLappe’s artistic practice has largely focused on electronics and new media. Resistance, Memory, and Play introduces viewers to the various ways that video games, computers, the internet and other electronic devices that help us function as a society can also be transformed into the implements, spaces and materials of art-making. The works of art shown within this exhibition often overlap in meaning and message.

ism,” said Jessica Kinsey, SUMA executive director. “The world is heavy right now, and this work presents that heaviness using unconventional materials and unconventional methods.” DeLappe expresses his political resistance through his art, performing acts of political protest in both virtual and visual media. One topic he addresses in several of his pieces is the government’s tendency to overlook the tragic results of although these memorials utilize traditional methods of solemn commemoration—poignant and beautiful forms, inscribing and rubbing names—DeLappe employs media not conventional to memorials or even art.

For example, DeLappe performs memorialization within online gaming spaces and utilizes video games as tools for remembrance, as well as political action and social change. Using a first-person shooter video game, America’s Army, which was developed by the U.S. Army as a recruiting tool, DeLappe created his project dead-in-iraq. While playing the game, he typed the names of military service members who died in the conflict with Iraq into the game’s text messaging system. By doing this, DeLappe created a memorial to the troops who fought on behalf of their country; but within this kind of gaming space, such a reminder of the real world effects of war is especially powerful. DeLappe’s different memorials are an essential statement of his political resistance. His commitment to documenting the invisible or ignored effects of our relationship with technology, particularly in unconventional art materials and artistic practices, manifests beyond his memorials and activist works.

“This exhibition offers the opportunity for visitors to experience an artist using multimedia art as a form of political activdrone warfare. DeLappe reminds viewers of these often glossed-over occurrences, making them more real in their physical representation. In his work 1000 Drones - A Participatory Memorial, paper drones are strung together in garlands and hung to commemorate the lives lost to American drones. On each of the drones is the name of someone who has been killed due to the misuse of drone technology in conflicts abroad, making visible mere statistics. While this artwork exemplifies how DeLappe employs art as resistance to political issues, 1000 Drones also serves as a memorial to the innocent victims of drone warfare.

Allan has also been conducting The Master Singers with a bit of help from Harold Shirley since December 2017. He has recently retired from his thirty years of teaching at the Cedar City Middle School where he taught hundreds of students each year in Band and Chorus. They performed for great audiences, including their family and friends.

Hal Campbell, his father-in-law, helped make special musical arrangements as Allen continues to do with delightful ways for the Master Singers to sing. It is his great wish that the veterans and their families from the Southern Utah Area will be at the Veteran's Concert on November 13, 2022, at the Heritage Center (105 N 100 E) in Cedar City at 7 PM. Everyone is invited to attend, free of cost.

16 fun facts from the 61st USF season

by Liz Armstrong

UTAH SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL

To all who attended plays this season, many thanks. We hope it was an enjoyable and memorable experience and can't wait for next season! Here is a list of fun facts from our 61st season below:

1. Sweeney Todd was the first ever musical produced in the Engelstad Shakespeare Theatre. A massive upgrade to the sound system was implemented, setting the stage for musicals to come in the outdoor space.

2. Clue was the best-selling play, with approximately 24,800 tickets sold. The Sound of Music was the second most-sold title of the season with approximately 16,500 tickets.

COURTESY USF

3. More understudies and swings backstage were used this season than any before, highlighting the resilience and dedication of Festival actors and crew.

4. The Tempest was the first sensory-friendly performance to be produced in the Eileen and Allen Anes Studio Theatre, with approximately 101 guests in attendance. The Sound of Music had approximately 116 guests in attendance during its sensory-friendly performance. In an effort to serve those with autism spectrum disorders, sensory sensitivities, or other similar disabilities, sensory-friendly performances allow for a more relaxed space, where house lights are kept on, sounds are lowered, and patrons can take as many breaks as they need.

5. Clue, Sweeney Todd, and King Lear were, well, murder-heavy, with a startling 27 deaths between the three shows.

6. 913 students purchased Student Access Passes. In total, including Student Access Pass tickets, approximately 14,837 tickets were sold to elementary to college age students. For information on the pass and other discounts, visit bard.org/tickets/.

7. The Tempest was the most performed play, with 74 performances produced over the course of the season.

8. 190 tickets were reserved at no charge for active military personnel and veterans during Military Appreciation Day.

9. Derek Charles Livingston, interim artistic director and director of new play development, tackled the one-man show Thurgood, speaking and acting the entire 90-minute length by himself.

10. The ticket office received approximately 11,182 phone calls from June 1, 2022, through October 9th.

11. The Education Department works with the Southwest Utah Youth Center studying and performing Shakespeare with incarcerated youth each week throughout the year.

12. Michael Sharon returned to the Festival after a 15 year absence, playing Captain Von Trapp in The Sound of Music and Professor Plum in Clue. After 21 years, Michael Fitzpatrick (Henry in Trouble in Mind and Max in The Sound of Music) also returned.

13. Keenon Hooks, who directed The Sound of Music, choreographed Ragtime last season.

14. 3,250 students attended the 46th annual Shakespeare Competition from Sept. 29-Oct. 1. 109 schools participated in the competition, from 5 states.

15. During a seminar with patrons, interim education director, Stewart Shelley, and Michael Bahr, former education director, discovered they both got their start in theatre playing Kurt in The Sound of Music in elementary school.

16. Distinguished author, professor, and Shakespeare scholar, Evelyn Tribble, was the keynote speaker at the 2022 Wooden O Symposium.

Groovacious Records celebrating 30 years with anniversary party

from Lisa Cretsinger

OWNER, GROOVACIOUS RECORDS

Groovacious Records is celebrating its 30th anniversary with live music from four bands, historic displays and remembrances and food. Join us at Groovacious Records (195 W 650 S #2, Cedar City) on Wednesday, November 9, 2022.

Record stores are an anomaly in the digital age. But there are stores all across the country that have stayed the course and survived the boom of electronic products, making them a standout in the communities they serve because today record stores are more of a specialty business and independent records stores like Groovacious Records are even more cherished and rare.

Local music fans and tourists from all over the world have recognized Groovacious Records as something nostalgic, rekindling fond memories. Also, thanks to the current resurgence of vinyl it has brought in collectors and newcomers to collecting music who realize the freedom of choice and ease and improved sound quality of permanent tangible products. They are coming back to the record stores in search of new music and their favorites. As such, Groovacious Records always has and always will provide all formats to choose from.

On November 9th, 1992, Groovacious opened its doors for the first time. Tim and Lisa Cretsinger, with many years of collective experience in the music business, moved from Portland to the capital city of Salem, Oregon to open their store. After eight successful years, they fell in love with southern Utah and decided to move the entire operation to Cedar City, reopening in October of 2000.

With a passion to be involved in the local music scene and facilitate collaborations and connections as well as expose their community to music of all types and styles, Tim and Lisa spearheaded many musical activities during the thirty years they have been in business. Groovacious itself has become an institution and looking back on thirty years it is incredible to fathom all the many musicians, artists, friends and students that have passed through the Groovacious Records' doors to perform on its many stages or at events founded by Tim and Lisa.

Because their little store that has given so much a few musicians from the Groovacious alumni will perform in the store from 6:00 PM to 9:PM to help celebrate the 30th anniversary. They are; Bottled Monkey (who will re-group this one night only) Mason Cottam, Steven Swift (who will perform a rare solo set) & Marty Warburton. There will be historic remembrance displays, brand new commemorative tee shirts & free stickers. The Korny Dog corn-dog truck will also be in the parking lot. And there will be cake! All are welcome.

pieces have somber themes, many of DeLappe's creations offer an element of play. As technology is often a source of both work and entertainment, viewers can see pieces of art that were created while DeLappe performed mundane computer work, including playing a video game.

Within various works shown in this exhibition are the results of an artistic tool invented by DeLappe—the Artist's Mouse, which tracks his movements as he plays a video game or completes his daily tasks, with a drawing utensil connected to his computer mouse recording its movements. Playing Unreal is a series of pencil drawings created with this special mouse as the artist played a popular online shooter game. Many outcomes of this creation are included in this exhibition along with many other compelling works of art that invite visitors to contemplate their own relationships to technology.

Admission to SUMA is free and open to the public Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For more information about Resistance, Memory, and Play and other exhibitions and events, visit SUMA's website at suu.edu/suma.

Where the Magic Begins: Historic Downtown Cedar City's Annual Tree Lighting Ceremony

by Gabrielle Costello

CEDAR CITY PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICER

CEDAR CITY — The magic of the holiday season begins in Historic Downtown Cedar City on Saturday, November 26th, 2022, with festivities beginning as early as 4:00 p.m. at the Downtown Lighting Ceremony and opening night of the Holiday Tree Jubilee fundraising event.

The Holly Jolly program will officially begin at 5:15 p.m. where Cedar City and surrounding communities will bundle up for this highly-anticipated free community event and gather around the front steps of City Hall to usher in the holiday season. The evening is full of festive performances, tree decorating, fireworks, and even a special guest in a red suit... Santa Claus!

Leading up to Santa's big arrival, the crowd can get excited with a speed tree decorating contest at 4:15 p.m., featuring six local businesses and non-profit organizations who will quickly decorate a tree in 30 minutes that will be donated to Iron County Care and Share families.

Once the holiday lights are brought to life, crowds will linger downtown enjoying the festive atmosphere and will make their way to Festival Hall for the Holiday Tree Jubilee fundraising event, which contributes thousands of dollars every holiday season to various organizations in the community.

"This event is starting to become a family tradition amongst locals," said Cedar City Mayor Garth Green. "We strive to bring that glimmer of magic to our community—especially the children. And the Holiday Tree Jubilee helps so many children and teens in need, the whole evening is something worth experiencing."

The Holiday Tree Jubilee fundraising event is held inside Festival Hall (105 N. 100 E., Cedar City) and has been helping those in need in Iron County for five years. The fundraiser launches its multiday event at the downtown lighting ceremony where one hundred percent of proceeds go towards supporting Iron County Care and Share, Cedar City Police Department's Shop with a Cop program, and Iron County homeless and at-risk teens during the holiday season.

"Last year, the Jubilee donated

Ceremony. Dancers between the ages of 17 and 24 who are interested in participating are encouraged to submit an interest form at www.bit.ly/ccdancers by Sunday, November 6th.

Perhaps the most exciting element of this year's production is a "Fly with Santa" contest, which gives one lucky child the opportunity to arrive media profile or post must be set to "public" for the entry to be seen by the committee.

Upon arrival, Santa will make his way to Festival Hall to take free photos with families where donations are welcome to help the Holiday Tree Jubilee fundraiser. Along with Santa, everyone can enjoy free hot chocolate, $36,000 to the three charities and has grown every year thanks to our community's generosity," stated Executive Director and Founder of Holiday Tree Jubilee, Laura Albrecht.

"It is a great opportunity for us to partner with the City's Downtown Lighting Ceremony to bring awareness to those in need, and we love that we get to do that by creating a space for our community of friends and neighbors to gather at the start of the holiday season."

New this year, the Downtown Lighting committee has recruited world-renowned choreographer Mic Thompson to help with various performances throughout the Lighting on a helicopter with the Big Man himself, alongside one of Southern Utah University's (SUU) Aviation instructors.

With the help of a parent or guardian, children between the ages of 5 and 10 who are interested in entering the contest must upload a simple video or photo to social media announcing how many days are left until the Lighting Ceremony. The video or photo post must be taken in Historic Downtown Cedar City and tag the following four accounts: Cedar City Events, Holiday Tree Jubilee, SUU Aviation, and Visit Cedar City. Entries must be submitted by Monday, November 14th and your social dozens of Christmas trees to view and win, auction items, a children's area, and much more!

"Whether you're a first-timer or a regular attendee, the evening will be filled with something new for everyone," exclaimed Brooke Twitchell, Cedar City's Event Director. "We are excited to have a variety of amazing prizes from local businesses to encourage shopping local this holiday season. You won't want to miss it!"

Threading the Needle

the rut
LESS TRAVELED

Corey Baumgartner

news@ironcountytoday.com

You've probably heard this familiar witty (and pointy) idiom before. It often means a moment that requires great skill to navigate. Golfers thread the needle around tall pines and sand traps. Quarterbacks thread the needle by throwing the football to their receiver between outstretched, smothering arms of their defenders.

However, if you've ever needed to thread an actual needle you know it can be pretty tricky, time-consuming and even terrifying...and that's before the sewing part! It can sometimes tempt even the best tailor or seamstress among us to sow a few choice words other than "Darn it!"

Speaking of darning it, this daring dude is about to attempt to darn his own holey sock. One can only imagine the scenario where his sock and toe had a battle in which the warfare wore the sock out, literally. And of course, Rockwell includes an iconic furry friend—most often it's a dog, but in this case a cat seemed more appropriate.

We can see this choice play out as down below the rescuing and repairing attempt, the cat doesn't care about the man's mission of mending, it is content to weave through his legs hoping to get some attention and perhaps to play with any errant threads from his spool's errand.

Alas, the cat's attempts appear fruitless as the man is still focused intently on threading the necessary needle. After all, one must have secure socks, even if the darning is imperfect. Now, whether or not he is successful is up to the observer's imagination. But, since this is Norman Rockwell's world, we can safely assume he is successful in the threading, darning and even providing some much needed attention to his patient and purring companion.

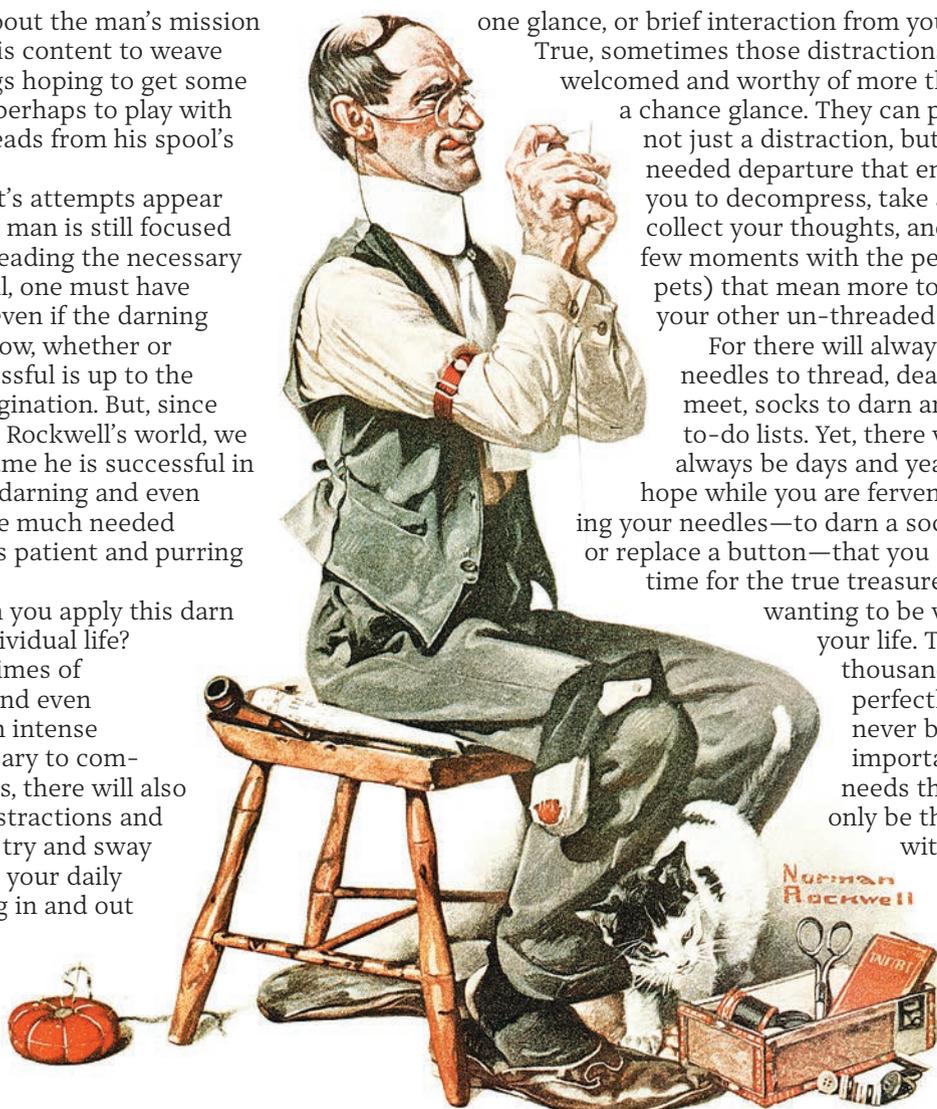

So, how can you apply this darn rut to your individual life? There will be times of opportunity (and even scrutiny) when intense focus is necessary to complete a task. Yes, there will also be plenty of distractions and oppositions to try and sway you away from your daily duties, weaving in and out of your sphere of attention, vying for even just one glance, or brief interaction from you.

True, sometimes those distractions are welcomed and worthy of more than just a chance glance. They can provide not just a distraction, but a much needed departure that encourages you to decompress, take a break, collect your thoughts, and spend a few moments with the people (and pets) that mean more to you than your other un-threaded needles.

For there will always be needles to thread, deadlines to meet, socks to darn and undone to-do lists. Yet, there will not always be days and years. Today, I hope while you are fervently threading your needles—to darn a sock, shirt, or replace a button—that you also make time for the true treasured threads wanting to be woven into your life. Threading a thousand needles perfectly will never be more important than needs that can only be threaded with love.

NORMAN ROCKWELL

The babysitter shuffle: a short story

mom's
CORNER(ED)

by Weslie Stratton

CONTRIBUTOR

When our first kid was born we moved away from family and anyone I would ever consider as a reliable babysitter. As a result, we didn't leave him for over a year, until we moved near a sibling we were willing to trust with him.

I know many couples who can't wait to resume child-free date night after having kids. To eat a meal without sharing, filling a sippy cup or leaving the table to change a diaper. That just wasn't us! We had three kids before we hired a babysitter with any regularity and the youngest was small enough that we still had a tag along.

At that point we found a gal the older kids loved and she did a great job of keeping them entertained. There were never any tears when she showed up and that was motivation for more frequent adult outings (plus our third wheel baby, of course). Not long after the kids grew attached to our regular, we moved and had to start all over.

One babysitter was consistently 10 minutes late and would meet us at the door with a list of the kids' shortcomings when we got home. One time our boy insisted on pouring his leftover chocolate milk in the trash rather than down the sink drain. Apparently that's what the kids at school do. From a parent's perspective his mistakes could have been much worse in our absence. As long as the house was in one piece and the kids were still breathing, we could accept a little moisture in the trash!

We finally settled on a babysitter that was readily available and loved the kids. She was able to drive herself to our house and that was a bonus! The biggest difference is that she was someone our youngest would stay with when we left for date night. Free at last! For a short time, considering I was pregnant with our fourth by this point.

We were convinced that it would be another two years before we would enjoy another childless outing. Even if our new baby would be content with a teenage girl, there aren't many around who would tolerate four kids under the age of six, regardless of how much we were willing to pay!

Then a new girl moved to town. She had experience with several kids and swore she could handle our unruly little gang. We decided to give her a shot. What we discovered is that she gave the kids treats (like as many as they wanted), she let them watch funny cat videos on YouTube and she told them stories like an experienced elementary school librarian.

This gal gave them their vitamins, brushed their teeth and snuggled them when they got a little lonely for mom and dad! On more than one occasion we would come home to find them tucked in their beds

Each year local law-enforcement holds a special Trunk-or-Treat event.

In partnership with Iron County Sheriff, Cedar City Police, and Southern Utah University Police, the event features a fun and friendly way for families to get to know and interact with the men and women that protect and serve our citizens. The event also had a favorite feature, the helicopter candy drop.

International Day celebrates culture, culinary, compassion

from Amy Gibson

GATEWAY PREP ACADEMY

We can never quite anticipate the weather as we plan our International Day celebration and this year was no different. Our parade routes started out in the Discovery Program pod and in our 2nd/3rd grade classes. It wound its way around and made its way outside to the icy and frosted field where our elementary students were cheered on by our 6th, 7th, and 8th graders waving flags. From there we snaked our way inside the gym and gathered for our annual assembly.

Our school community was treated to a performance by our choir students and band. We also had Aston Aguayo from the Paiute Tribe of Utah and an international student from Taiwan perform.

This year was particularly special because we were able to recognize Ms. Hughes for her 15 years in our music program and wish her well in her future endeavors. The gym cleared as students went on to their classrooms where the food tasting began. Students loaded their plates with tamales, savory curry cookies, sushi, and other foods from around the world. Cups were filled with Guaraná Antarctica, horchata, and Italian soda. It was a great way to end our busy week.

International Day helps students learn about and experience cultures and customs from their local neighborhoods to around the world.

ICSD NEWS NUGGETS

from LeAnn Woolstenhulme

IRON COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT

Escalante Valley Elementary

Aside from reviewing data and revisiting school-wide goals, Escalante Valley School spent its recent professional development day learning how to incorporate engaging STEM activities into everyday teaching. Becca Esplin, ICSD Elementary DTL and CS Specialist, spent the morning teaching the faculty how to navigate Infini-D, Squishy Circuits, Microbits, and exploring the resources of the school's Maker Space.

Parowan Elementary

This week at Parowan Elementary we had Red Ribbon week. On Tuesday, we had an assembly where students learned about K-9 officers and how they are used to keep our communities safe. On Wednesday, we had a visit from our first responders, and had the opportunity to tour their vehicles. On Thursday, we had an assembly with Chad Hymas about the importance of accepting others and uniting in friendship. It was great week of learning!

South Elementary

The kindergarten students from South Elementary had an exciting day at the Judd's Pumpkin patch in Paragonah. Picking pumpkins off the vine and observing various animals on the farm were some of the highlights for these children. We appreciate the Judd family and all farmers for their hard work and dedication in the agricultural business.

Three Peaks Elementary

We would like to thank our wonderful Three Peaks Elementary PTA for planning and implementing our Red Ribbon Week, October 25-28. Tuesday we dressed up like minions to remind us that there are a "minion" reasons to not do drugs. Wednesday we wore sports team jerseys and reminded each other to choose the right team—don't do drugs. Thursday we wore pajamas because sleep is better than drugs. Friday we styled our hair crazy to remind us that we need to keep our head on straight and not do drugs. We had fun prizes throughout the week, visits from the Iron County Sheriff Department and their cool dogs, and daily reminders to be drug free. A special thank you to our awesome PTA for organizing all of the fun activities and prizes. Thank you to the following sponsors for donating prizes: In My Spare Time by Kimm Wilde, Cedar Bowling Center, and Cedar City Aquatic Center. We also want to thank the Iron County Sheriff's Department for their willingness to participate in our Red Ribbon Week and for their constant support of all of our activities and functions.

On October 27, Three Peaks Elementary had the tremendous honor of listening to Mr. Chad Hymas speak. He talked to the students about the importance of being kind and respectful to others regardless of our differences, making friends, and taking the initiative to improve the lives of others. He also talked about Red Ribbon Week and the importance of staying away from harmful substances. Thank you to the Iron County School District for making this visit possible.

Enoch Elementary

Enoch Tigers promised to be drug free during Red Ribbon Week. To remember to be safe and healthy they wore PJ's, had crazy hair, silly socks, and created a huge human red ribbon on the playground. The students were also encouraged by inspirational speaker Chad Hymas to stay positive during hard times.

Iron Springs Elementary

Red Ribbon week at Iron Springs Elementary was a huge success! We had dress up days where students and staff wore red, crazy socks and hair, hats and pajamas. The highlight of the week was the assembly with our Iron County K-9 unit. The officers demonstrated how the dogs sniff out drugs and how they use the dogs for other areas of police work. The assembly ended with the Iron Springs Elementary choir performing "Country Roads" and "You Get a Line, I'll Get a Pole."

Success at State

NEWS FROM THE NEST

by Kayleah Madsen

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Riddle me this: Why didn't the skeleton go to Sadie's?...because he had no BODY to go with! Thankfully we don't have too many skeleton students here at Canyon View, so everyone has at least one body to go with. With that said most students had two bodies to go with to this spooktacular dance that the FCCLA club so generously put together.

Sadie's hasn't been the only spooktacular thing going on at Canyon View though. Last Tuesday the Cross Country team went to state, and they did phenomenal! The girls team, including Jane Brown, Ashlyn Dustin, Lydia Forsyth, Kate Jessen, Emma Rigby, Lara Sorensen, and Macey Sorensen, took 3rd place at state! In addition, the boys team, including Nathaniel Callison, Thomas Daniels, Logan Hadley, Ty Jessen, Kyle Ransom, Pyson Slade, and Bret Sorensen, took 2nd place at state! I would also like to shout out Lydia Forsyth for medaling in 4th place and Thomas Daniels for medaling in 10th place. Congratulations!

In addition, shout out to our Girls' Volleyball team who finished 8th this past week in the state playoffs at UVU, and to our football team who beat Richfield Friday night. The Falcons now advance to the semifinals against Juab this Saturday at 10 AM at SUU. This the school's most winningest season and their first appearance ever at the semifinals in State competition.

With fall sports coming to a close several of our senior athletes have been awarded UHSAA Academic All-State. This award is given to students who have excelled in the classroom as well as in athletic competition. This year's fall honorees consist of Addison Beckstrand, Rylee Huey, Kayleah Madsen (me), and Kyle Nichols. I personally know all these people well, and I can tell you that these students are truly some of the Falcons' finest.

The arts have been working away as well. Last week Mr. Zeller conducted a Halloween themed orchestra and band concert. Unfortunately, I was unable to attend but from what I hear it was quite the monster mash! Our choir is also working hard putting together their Christmas concert. Furthermore, our fall production of Tuck Everlasting is coming up quickly; opening night is November 17th, and I highly urge you to get tickets because it's going to be great!

Truthfully, the students here at Canyon View never cease to send shivers down my spine, we truly have had a spooktacular Halloween and I hope the rest of you did too!

Joan Marie Eliason

The world was blessed when Joan Marie Eliason was born on December 5, 1942. On October 15, 2022, it became a sadder, less bright world without her in it.

Joan was a beautiful, fiercely independent, strong, humble, selfless, wise, tough lady, along with being a caring wife, mother, grandmother, cousin, friend, neighbor, and volunteer. She passed away a few months shy of her 80th birthday, from complications related to her third encounter with ovarian cancer. She had the gumption to get through this third bout, but her body finally said, "Enough."

Joan had the unique talent for collecting friends, accentuated by her non-judgmental approach to relationships and the rare ability to love unconditionally. Throughout her career and work life, she actively supported her husband's passion for archery, which took her many places to visit and live. Her strong Norwegian family network, and love for travel, provided the opportunity for Mom to make friends worldwide. So many people at home and around the world grew to appreciate her compassion and humor - and to love her as the special person she surely was.

Joan was a good cook (oh, her lasagna!) and enjoyed entertaining family, friends and newcomers. This was a good fit as she often hosted national and international archers (and their partners) in her home. If you ever had a seat at her table, either volunteering to calculate scorecards (by hand, with pencils) at yet another archery tournament, or at her home, enjoying "happy hour" or a meal, you felt warmly welcomed and happily appreciated, and your glass was likely never empty. Drop-ins would get a glass and a plate of whatever was available. She was the giving-est person you could ever meet, and never sought credit or recognition for herself.

Joan was raised in Seattle, Washington, the only child of John Edwin Knudson and Vivian (Lunde) Knudson. She was lucky to be a beach kid, spending summers at Vashon Island, Hood Canal and at her family home in the Ballard neighborhood during the school year. She graduated from Ballard High School in 1961, where she was Girls Club President. Ballard was the hub of Scandinavian immigrants, including most of her grandparents.

After a semester at Washington State University, she returned home to attend the University of Washington and work for the Washington State Ferry System. She was informed of the company rules, that employees were not allowed to date any of the crew. Although Joan was generally always a dutiful rule follower, she saw someone who caught her eye.

Joan married the love of her life, Edwin Eliason, on March 12, 1965, following his military service in Vietnam. She mailed homemade chocolate chip cookies to his barracks every week, packed in popcorn, not ever knowing whether Ed would receive them. Joan and Ed enjoyed a lifetime of travel adventures, almost always archery related, including the 1972 Olympics in Munich, Germany; Pan-American games in South America; tournaments in Costa Rica, Japan, Norway, and many other places, including Miami, Ohio, for many US National tournaments. Joan's favorite stops were New Zealand, Australia, and Tahiti, in case your own bucket list needs some suggestions. More favorite travel memories were snowmobiling trips with her "Girls" in Yaak, Montana, beachcombing in Sanibel, Florida, sailing trips in the BVI, and Walt Disney World, a grandmother's dream.

Ed and Joan were married for 57 years, and Dad admits he had no idea how spoiled he has been. The couple relocated for employment opportunities first in Fort Bragg (when the Army said so), back home to Seattle, then Charlotte, North Carolina, returning to Seattle, and then Stansbury Park, Utah, making wonderful friends along each stop. Joan developed her career in banking and supply chain management. Eventually, she became purchasing manager and key account manager for Cardinal Health. One career highlight was being in charge of supplying all of the medical stations for the 2002 Olympics in Salt Lake City. She didn't really get excited about earning free tickets to the Foo Fighters Olympic Celebration Concert / Medals Ceremony, but attended anyway.

Joan was blessed with a son, John Eliason (Charise,) from Ed's previous marriage, and a daughter, Kristie (David McMullin.) Joan recently traveled to Seattle to visit family, friends and landmarks, recounting so many happy memories. She was the best mother and grandmother on earth, and was a mentor and "parent" to so many who weren't blood related. That was the fun of having a relatively small family of her own, she adopted others and collected friends.

Joan and Ed "retired" in Chekshani Cliffs, Utah, where they have enjoyed close friendships with their neighborhood family. They continued to volunteer countless hours coordinating archery events for both Utah Summer Games and Huntsman Senior Games. Joan and Ed enjoyed serving with the Cedar City Lions Club and are grateful for these friendships.

She lived to see both of her granddaughters, Janelle and Cassie Eliason, graduate from nursing school at Gonzaga University, following years of beautiful dance recitals. She also saw her grandson, Cooper McMullin, graduate from Canyon View High School with honors, and attended all of his football and lacrosse games. That was a rewarding 8 years, serving as motivation to put cancer in the background to concentrate on her priority of living her life. Joan was also an avid snow skier until her early 70s. Her goal was always to keep up with her grandkids.

Joan's family is grateful to all of her caregivers, especially those at Sun Tree Hospice, and the Cedar City / St. George Intermountain Hospitals, and Southern Utah Mortuary. We honor the heroes at the Huntsman Cancer Institute, where she had her initial successful ovarian cancer surgery in 2014. Special appreciation goes to the employees at the Cedar City Cancer Center. Mom considered this team as her friends. She didn't mind going to her quarterly follow up appointments to visit with these special and kind people. This is a lot of words to honor others, and this is how Joan would have wanted her obituary written. In fact, she'd probably prefer we led with this paragraph and skipped the rest.

To honor our Mom, Joan Knudson Eliason, give extra hugs to someone, don't allow guilt or worry into your life, and say "Cheers" or the Norwegian "Skål!" while sharing drinks with friends. In true "Joan" fashion, she did not want a funeral service of any kind. We'll likely celebrate her life as a family for her upcoming 80th birthday. (It's a surprise, so don't tell her!) If you have a memory to share, or advice for her family going forward, please email eliasonmemoires@gmail.com.

You are also welcome to make a donation to the Intermountain Cancer Center in Cedar City, or take treats to the deserving team there. Donations can also be made to the organizations named above, where Joan and Ed volunteered so much of their time, or to any local archery organization you support. Joan's family is so very grateful for all the support and complete love shown for her and all of us.

Arrangements were under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary.

besides mom and dad who could cover all those bases. You guessed it, Grandma is in town!

Six years and four kids later we are finally able to enjoy an evening out without watching the clock to be home in time for the babysitter, or making an extra stop for cash back. We have a reliable driver at home with the kids who can make sound decisions in an emergency situation.

The question has become: How frequently can we leave the kids?!

Prophets and their work (Part 5)

by Edy Meredith

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The beginning of the concept of work is mentioned in Genesis 1:1-15 where God is the main worker creating the World and the Universe. The Bible says that God worked for six days and rested on the seventh (the Sabbath/Saturday). Because God is intrinsically good, work is also good. In Ephesians 4:28 we find: "Let him who stole no longer, but rather let him labor, working with his hands what is good, that he may have something to give those who have need." God called the results of His labor "very good."

Psalm 19 says that God reveals Himself to the world through His work. Through natural revelation, God's existence is made known to everyone on earth, revealing God's character, motivations, skills, abilities, and personality traits. In Matthew 7:15-20 Jesus declared that bad trees produce only bad fruit and good trees produce good fruit. In Isaiah 43:7 and I Corinthians 10:31 we find that whatever we humans do should be for the glory of God; Glorify means to give an accurate portrayal of God and His handiwork through our lives. Our work should display God's characteristics and creativity. However, with the Fall when Adam and Eve disobeyed God, the nature of work changed so we humans must now labor through challenge, difficulty, exhaustion, and struggle.

The prophets of God while serving Him in exhortation and proclamation were also workers with various occupations. In fact, 5,433 professions, trades, and means of employment both secular and religious are mentioned in the Bible with even "beggar" considered an occupation. Some of the professions of the Biblical prophets are known. Adam was a farmer, a cultivator of the Garden before the Fall, and after the Fall God cursed the ground so that work became difficult with the word toil used to imply challenge, difficulty, exhaustion, and struggle so that results came through the sweat of the human brow.

Some other prophets were known to have the following professions: Seth, a weaver; Enoch, a tailor; Noah, a builder; Abraham, a herdsman, dairyman, mason, wealthy merchant; Ishmael, a hunter; Isaac, a shepherd; Jacob, a businessman speculating in various enterprises; Moses, a shepherd; Joseph, a powerful government administrator second only to the Pharaoh;

David, a soldier, musician, writer and king; Daniel, a ruler in the Median empire; Matthew, a tax collector; Jesus the Messiah, a carpenter; apostles of Jesus, fishermen.

Please see the following references for more Biblical occupations: baker, Genesis 40:1; barber, Ezekiel 5:1; teacher, Psalm 119:99; carpenter, 2 Samuel 5:11; gardener, Jeremiah 29:5; potter, Isaiah 64:8, and of course various references to shepherds including Abel, Abraham, Lot, Isaac, Jacob, Rachel, Laban, Jacob's twelve sons, Moses, David, Mesha the King of Moab, Doeg, Amos, and the shepherds who came to honor Jesus upon His birth.

Work becomes honorable in the Bible even while difficult. The Bible rebukes idleness and sloth and affirms that work has genuine value (Ecclesiastes 2:24, 3:12-13; 5-18). All honest professions are honorable with dignity in manual as well as mental work.

In Philippians 4:8: "Finally brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, what is commendable—if there is any moral excellence and if there is any praise—dwell on these things."

"5,433 professions, trades, and means of employment both secular and religious are mentioned in the Bible with even 'beggar' considered an occupation."

Loneliness

by L. Brent Jones

*There comes a time in each of our lives,
When we feel all alone.
We've wondered how we would survive,
And wait there to be shown.*

*The loneliness engulfs our soul,
And we long for other days,
When others were a part of us,
And helped us on our way.*

*We yearn for lasting friendships,
That bring happiness inside.
We wait for them to happen,
Using wishes for our guide.*

*We wonder if they've forgotten us,
The ones that used to call.
And if they've just brushed aside,
Our friendships, one and all.*

*We start to wonder why it is,
That no one seems to care.
And why has God forsaken us,
And we doubt if He is there.*

*But then His warmth He gives to us,
As He reaches out with love.
And we open our doors to Him,

*He comforts us and helps us learn,
That friendship has two parts.
It's not enough to wait for them,
We must reach out, then it starts.*

*So, when you're sitting in your room,
Feeling sorry and alone,
Extend your hand in friendship,
And your loneliness is gone.*

*Remember that He loves us all,
And He'll be there by your side,
And fill your thoughts with others,
And their friendship He provides.*

*So, let's concentrate our efforts,
On making someone's day,
And then our lives will be complete,
As we love the Savior's way.*

DEFENSE SAVES DAY, FALCONS REACH 3A SEMIS

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The heights of success for the Canyon View football team were already memorable enough. With a berth in the 3A state semifinals on the line, the defense carried the day and pushed the Falcons to a historic new level.

Jaxon Jensen hit Asher Groft with a 4-yard touchdown pass early in the fourth quarter, and Canyon View made the stop that mattered with time winding down to beat the Richfield Wildcats, 14-7, on Oct. 28 in the 3A state quarterfinals. The Falcons not only set a new record for wins in a season (8-3), but earned a chance to face defending champion Juab in the 3A semifinals set for Saturday at Eccles Coliseum.

"Sometimes you just have to find a way to win, especially in the playoffs," Canyon View head coach Burke Miller said. "We knew coming in (Richfield) would be one of the toughest defenses we'd face all season. They made adjustments off what worked for us last time, and we had to adjust, too.

"Tonight, it was finding a way to win an ugly game, and we did that."

The Wildcats (7-5), put together a scoring drive that went 85 yards, lasted more than seven minutes, and was capped off on a 3-yard touchdown pass from Reggie Hafen to Steven Moon with

CLOSING GAPS

by Amyanne Rigby

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Canyon View High School Cross Country teams did that this year at State—they closed gaps. And it paid off. This past Tuesday, October 25th, the CVHS Cross Country teams placed second and third at Rose Park in Salt Lake City. Ogden High School finished first in the men's 3A competition and Carbon High finished first in the Women's 3A competition.

Led by tenth place finisher, Thomas Daniels, the Falcons brought home the second place "hardware." Daniels was followed by teammates Payson Slade (17th), Bret Sorensen (26th), Logan Hadley (28th), and Kyle Ransom (34th). In response to his team's performance at state, Coach Kirk Lovell said,

"Placing second at state was an exciting end to a tough season! It is nice to see success after the weeks of long runs, the hot sun, and countless laps on the track."

Junior, Lydia Forsyth made a strong comeback after recovering from a stress fracture and finished fourth in overall 3A competition. Impressive for an athlete who spent most of the season training on a bike. Forsyth finished the 5,000 meters with a time of 19.23.9. Forsyth was backed by teammates Jane Brown (16th), Kate Jessen (21st), Emma Rigby (28th) and Lara Sorensen (29th). The women Falcons placed just seven points behind second place finisher, Grand County High School.

Coach Mariam Steffensen, who is in her thirteenth season as Falcon Cross Country Coach stated,

"This group of girls has been the most cohesive team I have coached. Not just the top seven that competed at state, but the twenty-seven girls that have ran countless miles together since June. Their unity and positive vibes paid off."

The Falcons will lose three varsity senior runners this year including: Ty Jessen, Kyle Ransom, and Emma Rigby. Rigby who is in her fourth year running for the Falcons was also team captain.

In response to the Falcons' Finish at state for both teams, she said, "Early on this year, both of our teams turned heads in Region 12 competition when we placed first at the Juab Meet. Keeping that competitive momentum alive the Falcons got it done!"

10:34 to play in the first half. Richfield took the 7-0 lead to the break and weathered two challenges from the Falcons later in the second quarter.

Jensen found Groft for a 29-yard connection on 4th-and-13 from the Wildcat 36 that set up a first-and-goal, but Jensen was sacked on fourth down with 3:38 left. After Nick Macias gave CV good field position on a punt return to the Richfield 35, that drive stalled and resulted in a turnover on downs with 1:15 to play.

But it would only be a matter of time before the Canyon View defense got them on the board. Scott Irons broke through to block a Wildcat punt in the end zone, and Mark Richardson fell on the loose ball for a touchdown that tied the game early in the third quarter.

"Our defense is extremely valuable to our team. Our line stepped up in the fourth quarter, our DBs were playing well all night, our linebackers stepped up, and tonight was just a well-rounded defensive game."

Mark Richardson

"Our defense is extremely valuable to our team," Richardson said. "Our line stepped up in the fourth quarter, our DBs were playing well all night, our linebackers stepped up, and tonight was just a well-rounded defensive game."

Surviving a pair of interceptions on the night, Jensen and the CV offense came through when he rolled out and found Groft open in the end zone to break the tie. The clock still showed 10:30 left between the Falcons and a rematch with the Wasps.

Richfield had one final chance, starting at their own 30 with 2:59 left and no timeouts. They got into CV territory, but Richardson sealed the win and a trip to the semifinals with a fourth-down sack of Hafen with 16 seconds remaining.

The Falcons will face the Wasps on Saturday in a 10 a.m. kickoff at Eccles Coliseum. Juab advanced with a 52-15 win over Manti last week and beat CV in the regular season, 49-28, on Sept. 30.

T-Birds outlast Trailblazers in five-set thriller

by Tyler Roper

SUU ASST. AD, COMMUNICATIONS

ST. GEORGE — The Southern Utah University volleyball team (6-13, 5-5 WAC) played clutch down the stretch today, defeating in-state rival Utah Tech (10-9, 4-6 WAC) in five sets.

The Thunderbirds jumped out to an 8-3 lead to begin set one, behind four early kills from Makenzie Templeton. Southern Utah never slowed down. A block from Raegen Beeson and Macy Short capped off a 4-0 run that pushed the Thunderbirds ahead 18-9. The lead proved to be insurmountable, and Carissa Richie recorded the final kill to give the Thunderbirds the set 25-16.

Both squads came to play to begin the second set, and they soon found themselves tied at 4-4. After this, Utah Tech exploded with a 7-1 run to take a six point lead (11-5). The Thunderbirds fired off four straight points to make it a close set, but the Trailblazers responded by scoring seven of the next eight points, taking a commanding 17-10 advantage. Southern Utah attempted a late rally, getting within three points (18-15), but in the end Utah Tech would go on to take set two 25-19.

Southern Utah took turns exchanging points with Utah Tech early in set three, as the two teams saw the score tied 6-6. The Thunderbirds broke the cycle and went on a 7-1 run that was punctuated by a service ace from Molly McDermott, taking a 13-7 lead. The T-Birds maintained this advantage, going up 20-13 after a kill by Rylee Achtzehn. Utah Tech battled back to trim the lead to four (22-18), but it was too little, too late for the Trailblazers. The Thunderbirds seized the set 25-18.

Utah Tech came out strong to begin the fourth set, building a 9-5 lead right out the gate. The Thunderbirds fought back, cutting the lead to two (12-10), but that was as close as they would get. The Trailblazers would push ahead in the end, taking the set 25-14.

The fifth and final set was an block followed by two straight kills. SUU used this momentum to leap ahead, finding themselves up 12-9 late in the set. The Trailblazers fought back to tie the set at 12-12. The match was there for the taking, and the Thunderbirds took it, scoring three Achtzehn wasn't far behind, totaling 9 kills of her own. Another key factor in the win was setter Macy Short, who posted an impressive 47 assists along with 16 digs and seven kills. With the win, the Thunderbirds improve to 5-5 in conference play and 6-13 overall.

The next stretch of the game was critical, and Makenzie Templeton stepped up in the clutch. Templeton was brilliant, recording a

PAROWAN VOLLEYBALL WINS FIRST STATE TITLE

The turnaround and transformation is complete for the Parowan volleyball program.

After winning only five matches a year ago, the Rams overcame a first-set loss and beat the Kanab Cowboys, 3-1 (23-25, 25-16, 25-13, 25-23), to claim the school's first 2A championship trophy Oct. 29 at the Sevier Valley Center in Richfield.

Parowan started the season with a 23-game winning streak and finished 29-1 overall.

As the No. 2 seed for the tournament, Kanab (25-6) – who handed Parowan its only loss of the season – came out swinging in the fourth set, building a 12-7 lead before the Rams found a way to rally. At match point, a final Cowboys service error that splashed into the net set off a celebration that carried all the way back home.

During the course of the 2A state tournament, the No. 1 seed Rams swept past Beaver (25-16, 25-12, 25-14), overcame another first-set loss in the quarterfinals before beating No. 8 North Sevier (13-25, 25-22, 25-20, 25-20) and ended dreams No. 13 South Sevier had of another upset with a 3-0 win in the semifinals (25-17, 25-5, 25-17).

South Sevier had swept past No. 4 Draper APA (25-23, 25-19, 25-17) in the second round and beat No. 5 Duchesne in four sets (27-25, 25-7, 23-25, 25-21) before falling to Parowan.

“We asked our girls to keep it clean, just give it their all, don't let things hit the floor, communication and high energy,” Parowan head coach Macey Yardley told the Deseret

News after the historic win. “They just elevated it at every level.”

The meaning of Parowan's achievement was summed up well by junior Addy Guyman. “We just changed Parowan's culture,” she said to the Deseret News.

In the other state volleyball tournaments, fourth-seed Cedar saw its 4A title dream ended in the quarterfinals by Desert Hills in a 3-0 sweep (25-22, 25-23, 25-23) at the UCCU Center in Orem. The Reds came back in the one-loss bracket with a 3-1 victory over Snow Canyon (25-17, 22-25, 25-21, 25-20) before Crimson Cliffs beat them in the fifth-place match, 3-2 (25-12, 24-26, 25-22, 16-25, 15-10). Cedar finished the season with a 22-9 overall record.

In the 3A tournament also played in Orem, No. 10 seed Canyon View won the first set, but fell to No. 7 North Sanpete in the second round (15-25, 25-19, 25-20, 25-19). The Falcons nearly repeated what it did a year ago, advancing in the consolation bracket with three-set sweeps over Grand (25-13, 25-18, 25-9) and Judge Memorial before getting swept by Grantsville in the sixth-place match (25-23, 25-20, 25-21). CV finished with a 15-15 overall record.

» At the 4A state cross country meet held Oct. 25 at the Regional Athletic Complex in Salt Lake City, the Cedar girls team won its first state title since 2007, scoring 37 points and beating defending champion Pine View by 10. Senior Emma Page won the gold medal with a time of 18 minutes, 58.2 seconds, leading a Reds team that saw its five scoring runners all finished inside the top 15.

Junior Mayce Dalton was fourth (19:11.1), senior Marisa Oveson (19:34.9) came in sixth, junior Callie Peterson (20:01.6) finished 12th and sophomore Lucy Eckley (20:15.2) was 14th overall. Cedar's boys team was third overall in its race, scoring 61 points and finishing three behind runner-up Snow Canyon. Desert Hills won the team title with 38 points, 20 in front of the Warriors.

Justin Dodds was the top finisher for Cedar, coming in seventh place with a time of 15:59.7, and Braxten Gifford was 10th (16:03.4).
