"Treasure the Memories"

It was all in Parowan this year! Parowan's Main Street filled with spectators to watch this very unique Labor Day Parade. The Iron County Sheriff's Office Honor Guard started the parade. Followed by "Grand Marshal" Frank Nichols riding in the back of a pick-up truck with his son, Burton.

Marching bands from all three Iron County high schools, and also, Southern Utah University, were amazing entertainment. Joining the parade was performances by cheerleaders and drill team members from Parowan, Cedar, Canyon View, and SUU.

Then there was the rodeo royalty riding horseback and 4H youngsters, adding to Parades bring a sense of community to towns, letting neighbors and strangers alike come together for a celebration. Parades are a sure way to keep a town's spirit high. Parades are a tradition which should not be forgotten.

You know the Parade Wave? The beauty queen or grand marshal waves to the cheering crowd, and then the crown waves back. It's the bystanders' way to say "I'm here, I support you!"

Cheering crowds. Colorful floats and balloons. Heart-pumping music and entertainment. There's nothing quite like a parade—especially if you're performing in one!

The Iron County Rodeo remains a cherished tradition every year. Spectators from near and far come to watch the exciting, heart-pounding PRCA Rodeo. There were 3 nights of pure entertainment, from bull riding to barrel racing, each event presented a different level of danger and adrenaline rush for both competitors and spectators.

FROM THE EDITOR

CASSI SCHMUTZ

This week, Americans across the nation come together to remember those who lost their lives in the tragic events of September 11th. The memories of that morning, even for me at just nine years old, are indelible. My mother often spoke of the overwhelming sense of patriotism and solidarity that swept through our country in the days that followed—a sentiment I have heard echoed by many others. In the aftermath of such tragedy, we witnessed a rare and powerful display of national unity.

Out of the horror emerged countless stories of heroism that filled us with pride as Americans. Men and women dropped everything to enlist, civilians rushed from their jobs to help at Ground Zero, and firefighters charged back into the burning buildings, determined to save as many lives as possible, at the cost of their own. The story of the passengers on Flight 93, who bravely confronted the hijackers, is one that always stirs a deep emotional response within me.

Moments like these make me reflect on who I am and whether I would have the courage and patriotism to act so selflessly in the face of such fear and uncertainty. I like to believe that I would. As we remember those who have fallen, let us also take a moment to reflect on our own character. Let's strive to keep that spirit of patriotism and unity alive in our community.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

School Shootings

As a retired schoolteacher at the second largest school district in the United States and as a parent and grandparent, I am definitely deeply saddened every time a school shooting occurs and when students and teachers fall victim to violent attacks. I want to give my condolences to the parents and families of teachers and students who have just experienced the grief of losing family members to the shooting in Georgia from an obviously disturbed teenager (about 13 years of age). I also want to remind our community that the history of school shootings in the United States began in the 1700's. It is not a new occurrence. What is the answer to this historical problem? I care profoundly about our children and their safety. I ask our community members to support families, teachers, and our school board in instituting safety measures in our schools. Please also consult the following website for more information about the "History of School Shootings in the United States" at the following website: K12academics.com/school-shootings/history-school-shootings-united-states

Being informed will help us prevent such tragedies. Our Cedar City Police already support and conduct classes at local schools. Rather than just grieving, let's put procedures in place to protect our Iron County and Cedar City children and teachers through attendance at School Board meetings and providing support to teachers by assisting at our local schools. Have you talked to your children's teachers recently?

Youth and Near-Death Experiences

by Edy Meredith

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

In “The Handbook of Near-Death Experiences: Thirty Years of Investigation”, we find that youth are not excluded from NDE’s but when their lives are threatened by illness, dangerous genetic conditions, or accidents, our youth may experience NDE’s in similar forms as adults have experienced NDE’s. While every NDE may be unique, underpinning the experience, there is a pattern demonstrated in the many NDE’s of both children and adults with the form of NDE’s not related to age or experience throughout the last two centuries. Even with adults recalling their NDE’s from childhood, the experiences are reliable accounts. Today in the 21st century when our secular age is predominant with many children not taken to church and many adults labeling themselves as “not interested” in religion, NDE’s continue to take the same forms as they did in more “religious” times. Briefly, the NDE is found in the following form and experiences: 1) the person whether adult or child sees themselves floating above their bodies which are usually surrounded by concerned adults usually medical personnel or parents; 2) they can hear the individuals talking and concerned for their health; 3) they begin to float down a tunnel; 4) there is a bright light at the end of the tunnel; 5) human-like figures are at the end of the tunnel; 6) sometimes the humans are deceased relatives such as grandparents; and 7) More often than not, a brightly lighted friendly figure is standing there, and they are told telepathically that they can continue on or return to their body and that the decision is theirs to make; 8) after they make the decision to return to their body, they immediately are consciously aware of the circumstances that led to their near-death experience, such as illness, traffic accident, near drowning. Psychology Today is widely regarded as a scientific magazine with some bias against religious thought and explanations yet even today this magazine and its contributors are becoming fascinated with the Near-Death Experiences wherein a human of any age has a conscious, semi-conscious, or recollected event of approaching death, temporarily has begun the process of dying. While no one is certain what the NDE means, fascination with such experiences is growing, especially when children and youth are documented to have experienced such events. Remember that while some NDE experiences vary from case to case, the following features are predominant: feelings of peacefulness and serenity, vivid imagery such as bright light, movement through a tunnel, reflection on one’s life (for good or bad); encounters with a bright light that encompasses a mysterious being, and ultimately ending with a return to regular consciousness. These Near-Death experiences leave a lasting impression on the person who has survived leaving them (even children) with an increased sense of purpose and appreciation, and with a reduced fear of death, even becoming more open and loving, with some people having gained greater intuitive abilities and able to understand feelings and thoughts of others. Some return with a greater sense and need to reform and correct previous behavior, showing appreciation for life. Even atheists have been changed by such experiences knowing that they are not annihilated at death.

Two Arrested in Cedar City After Stolen Vehicle Stop Uncovers Drugs

by Tracie Sullivan

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

A traffic stop in Cedar City escalated quickly after authorities uncovered a stolen vehicle and a stash of illegal drugs inside.

Seth Avery Deen, 54, and Sandra Cole, 50, were arrested Sept. 1 after a Utah Highway Patrol trooper ran a license plate check on the car they were driving.

According to court documents filed in 5th District Court, the incident began when a Utah Highway Patrol trooper patrolling near Exit 62 on Interstate 15 ran a license plate check on a light blue Mercury sedan with Kansas plates.

The search showed that the vehicle had been reported stolen, prompting an immediate traffic stop. Upon further investigation, the officer found methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia in the vehicle, leading to Deen and Cole’s arrest.

The affidavit alleges Deen, the driver, exhibited signs of drug impairment.

“I observed that the driver had pinpoint and bloodshot eyes,” the officer wrote in the court documents. “The driver also has a criminal history for dangerous drugs and has a warrant for his arrest for dangerous drugs”

After being informed of his rights and the option to refuse, Deen consented to a blood test, with the results still pending.

Deen is facing one count of possession of a stolen vehicle, a second-degree felony, one count of possession of a controlled substance, a third-degree felony. He was also charged with several misdemeanors related to driving under the influence, driving on a revoked or suspended license and possession of drug paraphernalia.

In court documents filed in Cole’s case, the trooper noted that her eyes were also bloodshot. She reportedly admitted to the officer she had used methamphetamine 10 days prior.

In addition, her name also appeared in the officer’s search results as being connected to the stolen vehicle, the affidavit stated.

Cole faces one count of possession of a stolen vehicle, a second-degree felony, and two misdemeanor charges for possession of drugs and paraphernalia.

Both Cole and Deen are currently being held in the Iron County Jail without bail.

IRON COUNTY GOVERNMENT RECAPS

Cedar City Planning Commission

from Iron County Today Staff

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The main agenda item was a public hearing for a final plat extension for the Iron Crest Phase 2 development.

Bob Platt presented the request for an extension on the vesting period for Iron Crest Phase 2. The development is located east of 3900 West and south of Equestrian Point. Phase 1 is nearly complete, and Phase 2 will have fewer, larger lots than originally planned. Platt emphasized that water rights were not an issue for this development.

The commission discussed potential concerns, including changes in drainage requirements and infrastructure standards since the original approval. A commission member raised questions about drainage issues in the area and how the development would address them.

Legal counsel explained that the City Council has the authority to grant vesting rights extensions, with input from the Planning Commission. They discussed the importance of setting a specific timeframe for the extension and potential conditions to ensure compliance with current standards.

The commission also addressed questions about changes to the original plan, including lot configurations and phasing. It was clarified that the current request was solely for an extension of time to file the final plat, not approval of any modifications to the plan.

After discussion, the commission voted to recommend a 12-month extension from the date of City Council approval. This extension would allow the developer to proceed with filing the final plat without starting the entire approval process over, while giving them time to address any necessary updates or changes.

The meeting concluded with the unanimous approval of the motion to recommend the 12-month extension to the City Council.

Utah House of Representatives Report

Talking Policy at August Interim Meetings

This past month, I joined my colleagues and Utahns from every corner of the state for August Interim Meetings. In Committee, we talked about issues impacting Utah communities and discussed legislation for the 2025 General Session. Interim meetings are a valuable time to collaborate and discuss the impacts of Utah policy. If you would like to join our next interim meetings, I'll be back at the Capitol on Sept. 17-18. Can't make it to the Capitol? As always, you can watch live at le.utah.gov. Hope to see you there or online.

Stand for Our Lands

After decades of policy work and legal analysis, the State of Utah filed a landmark public lands lawsuit asking the U.S. Supreme Court to address whether the federal government can simply hold unappropriated lands within a state indefinitely. Right now, the federal government controls nearly 70% of land in Utah. As a comparison, the federal government owns less than 1% of the land in Connecticut, New York, and Rhode Island.

In Utah, the Bureau of Land Management controls 18.5 million acres of "unappropriated" lands, meaning the United States simply holds the land without any designated purpose. Importantly, this lawsuit does not impact the millions of acres of "appropriated" lands – or those designated as national parks, national monuments, wilderness areas, national forests, Tribal lands, or military properties.

If the state succeeds, Utah intends to keep these public lands in public hands – actively managed by locals – and open for sustainable use and recreation.

Have Questions About Voter Initiatives?

This July, a Utah Supreme Court ruling upended the state's voter initiative process and created a new restricted class of "Forever Laws." Effectively, the ruling prohibits the Legislature from updating or amending an initiative to work within our government, sustain balanced budgets, or change to meet our state's needs. The court's ruling gave outside interests a powerful tool to create restricted, unbending Utah laws that would fundamentally change what makes our communities special.

At our recent Special Legislative Session, I voted with my colleagues in the House and Senate to put a question on your November ballot. You will have a choice in November to restore Utah's initiative process and keep big-money special interests from drowning out our values while expanding the amount of time Utahns have to gather signatures for initiatives.

To be clear, this ballot proposal means Utah's standard initiative process remains unchanged. Utahns will continue to have the ability to propose and run ballot initiatives. If Utahns approve the constitutional amendment, these would be the only constitutional and statutory changes:

- Prohibiting foreign entities from contributing dollars to ballot initiatives and referendums.
- Clarifying the voters and legislative bodies' ability to amend laws.
- Adding 20 more days to collect signatures to the referendum process – extending the process from 40 to 60 days.

Year after year, Utah ranks as the best-managed state in the nation. If we maintain Utah's standard initiative and referendum process while protecting it from outside influence – we will remain one of the best-

Utah is the Best in the West for Education

In government, budgets are a reflection of values and priorities. If you look at Utah's budget, it is clear our historic investments in education are paying off.

U.S. News & World Report ranks Utah's Public Education System as the second best in the nation – only behind Florida – and far ahead of our peers in the West.

Over the past two years alone, the House and Senate invested nearly $2 billion in our students, schools and school choice. We worked together to strengthen school safety, eliminate unnecessary school fees, and increase funding for classroom supplies.

American Founders and Constitution Month

The Legislature last year designated September as American Founders and Constitution Month, giving us the chance to honor the many freedoms we enjoy because of those who came before us. I am deeply grateful for our country's great constitution and the many freedoms we enjoy because of it. I hope you will join me during September in reflecting on the wisdom of our Founding Fathers and the values that have shaped our nation.

Cedar City Man Rearrested After Fleeing Sober Living Home Weeks Before Sentencing

by Tracie Sullivan

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Just weeks after his release to a sober living home, a Cedar City man convicted of aggravated burglary is back behind bars after he disappeared from the facility ahead of his sentencing.

Cory Scott Kaiser, 18, was granted release on Aug. 1 after reaching a plea agreement with the Iron County Attorney's Office, marking his first time out of jail since his initial arrest in May.

His release required him to remain at the facility, but he disappeared about three weeks later, prompting authorities to issue a warrant.

Kaiser was initially arrested on May 9 after a series of break-ins across Cedar City.

According to court documents filed in 5th District Court in support of the charges, he first entered a home on Windsor Road through a bathroom window, where he took a kitchen knife and tried to pry open interior doors. The homeowners heard the noise and scared him off.

Later that day, he broke into a gas station by throwing a rock through the window but fled when the alarm sounded. Soon after, Kaiser attempted to break into a pawn shop, damaging a door and shattering windows.

Officers found him inside the pawn shop with a firearm in hand. Kaiser later confessed to all three break-ins, saying he was searching for valuables and firearms.

As part of the plea agreement, Kaiser was released to a sober living facility while awaiting sentencing, originally set for Sept. 16. It was later rescheduled to Sept. 30 to give Adult Probation and Parole (AP&P) more time to complete a pre-sentence investigation.

The day after the sentencing was rescheduled, a warrant was issued for Kaiser after he left the facility without permission, violating his release conditions.

Kaiser was rearrested just a few days later on Sept. 3 and is currently being held in the Iron County Jail.

Kaiser initially faced multiple charges, including two counts of aggravated burglary, burglary, a third-degree felony and destruction of property, a third-degree felony. As part of the plea agreement, all charges were dismissed except for the two counts of aggravated burglary.

While his violation of release is not expected to affect the plea agreement, it will likely impact his pre-sentence report and the court's final sentencing scheduled later this month.

"I'm sure it will make a difference in his sentence," said Iron County Deputy Attorney Trajan Evans. "We won't add charges or alter the plea agreement, but his leaving the home will be included in the pre-sentence report, which the court considers when determining what sentence to give."

Stand For Our Land

SEN. EVAN VICKERS
UTAH SENATE DISTRICT 28

Friends and Neighbors,

Our state has made significant strides in preserving one of its most defining and essential features: our land. As residents of Utah, our connection to the land runs deep—it is our heritage, our home and a fundamental part of our identity. For generations, Utahns have worked with the utmost dedication to transform the once-barren desert into thriving, self-sufficient communities. Since the arrival of the first pioneers, we have demonstrated time and again that no one cares for Utah better than we do as Utahns.

Despite our state's ability to manage our land effectively, our stewardship over it is undeniably limited. Currently, the federal government controls almost 70% of Utah's land, with half of it classified as "unappropriated" land and regulated by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). Also, the BLM has introduced a new Public Lands Rule that imposes additional restrictions on our access to 18.5 million acres of undesignated land, depriving us Utahns of the opportunity to utilize or enjoy it.

On August 20, our state took a huge step toward reclaiming Utah's unused land by commencing a public lands lawsuit and petitioning the U.S. Supreme Court to address the issue of whether the federal government can indefinitely retain unappropriated land within a state. It's important to note that this legal action will not impact the millions of acres designated for national parks, monuments, wilderness areas, national forests, Tribal lands and military properties.

Winning this lawsuit would be a transformative victory for our communities. We love Utah and our rural way of life. For our farmers, ranchers and small business owners, reclaiming these lands could mean greater opportunities to expand operations, improve access to essential resources and plan for a more prosperous future. By reducing federal oversight, we can eliminate bureaucratic delays and restrictions that often hinder local access. This would allow for more timely and tailored decisions that reflect the needs and values of our communities.

The preservation and restoration of this land would also ensure that future generations can enjoy the same landscapes, outdoor recreation and cherished communities that we do today. By taking back control, Utahns can better safeguard our natural resources, ensuring that they are used sustainably and wisely, with the values that have guided us for generations.

The primary caretakers of Utah's land should be Utahns, with necessary support from the federal government, and not the other way around. If successful, this lawsuit will help restore millions of acres of land to Utahns, enabling us to protect, conserve and cherish the land we call home.

I encourage you to visit standforourland.utah.gov to learn more about this project. Thank you for staying informed and involved.

Canyon Creek Services: Providing Outreach for Anyone Dealing with Domestic Violence or Sexual Assault

by Ruth Scovill

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Once Canyon Creek Services was primarily known as a shelter to help women who were dealing with domestic violence get a new start on life, but their mission has been expanding over the years. They provide services for individuals and families in Iron County, Garfield County, and Beaver County. In 2014, they took over the role of the Iron County Mobile Crisis Team, which specifically responds to sexual assault forensic exams at the hospitals in the three-county area. Anytime there is a rape exam at the hospital, they are brought on-site to help the person through the process, along with law enforcement, Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners, and medical personnel from the hospital. Besides exams, they provide needed safety, support, and housing to victims of all genders, including those experiencing domestic violence who come to them directly.

Canyon Creek Services now has 36 employees along with numerous volunteers, and served more than 740 people last year. The director of the center is Kait Sorensen. The center now has a public office in the Log Cabin on the corner of Cove Drive (the old massage school). The address is 297 North Cove Drive, and the 24-hour hotline is 435-233-5732. Services are free and confidential for ALL survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, and human trafficking. There is no discrimination based on gender or age. People of all genders can be subject to domestic violence and/or sexual assault. The center also provides community education and is working to create social change within our communities. If you have donations for Canyon Creek Services, please bring them to the public office rather than the shelter.

To get an idea of the scope of the center's work, last year, the center helped 742 people, consisting of 641 adults, 95 children, and 6 people of unknown age. Of these people, 57 were male, 561 were female, 6 were transgender, and 15 were other or unknown. 535 of these cases involved domestic violence; 115 cases were sexual assaults; there were 17 cases of child abuse; 46 stalkings; 5 cases of human trafficking; and 2 cases of elder abuse. The center made hospital responses to 33 cases of sexual assault, domestic violence, or strangulation. They provided shelter to 140 people, while they provided non-shelter services to 602. They provided more than 4988 hours of advocacy services. Additionally, 193 volunteers provided nearly 2,400 hours of service. Canyon Creek provided 39,835 people with community outreach and prevention services. They also provided 64 community educational events

The center works to provide both intervention and preventive ser-trator. The shelter does not require that the victim break off ties with the perpetrator. An important part of the services provided are advocacy programs as well as programs to help victims find emergency housing. They make sure that victims are aware of their rights. They can help victims file for protective orders. They can also help clients generate resumes, explore job options, and apply for jobs.

Although victims may be reluctant to break ties with a spouse or other perpetrator and are not required to do so, a scary statistic is that it takes an average of seven attempts for the victim to either finally decide to break off the relationship or end up dead.

The shelter is committed to helping prevent violence before it gets started. The shelter takes a public health approach that "works towards changing social norms, behaviors, and practices, to cultivate a community where violence is not tolerated. Best practices indicate that the most effective approach is a multi-faceted and comprehensive approach that engages all levels of our community."

Canyon Creek Services sponsors courses on "Dating Matters and Healthy Relationships." They also provide community events focused on strengthening families. They are working to increase communications vices. The scope of their work includes victim advocacy, crisis intervention, and accompanying people to both medical treatment and legal appointments and court dates. They work with people on safety planning, individual planning and services, and housing services. They provide information and referrals. They have emergency shelter services, and child and youth services. An important part of their work is community education and prevention, and services awareness. They also provide bilingual services to speakers of other languages.

Working with domestic violence survivors can be a tricky business because very often the victim wants to maintain a relationship with the perpetrator. Often the victim is financially dependent on the perpe-

NRCS Accepting Applications to Protect Agricultural Lands in Utah

Utah conservation easements.

Summit Land Conservancy. Utah conservation easements.

from Sarah Welliver

STATE PUBLIC AFFAIRS SPECIALIST

SALT LAKE CITY, September 3, 2024 — The Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) in Utah is accepting applications to conserve eligible land through the Agricultural Conservation Easement Program (ACEP) and the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). While NRCS Utah accepts applications on a rolling basis, funding selections are made at specific times during the federal fiscal year (Oct. 1 – Sept. 30).

NRCS Utah has announced the following application batching dates for ACEP-IRA:

- October 4, 2024 – first batching period
 - December 20, 2024 – second batching
- NRCS Utah is also accepting ACEP applications for FY 2025 through the 2018 Farm Bill until November 1, 2024.

ACEP provides financial assistance to help private and tribal landowners, land trusts, state and local governments, and other entities protect eligible lands through conservation easements. NRCS offers two types of ACEP easements:

- Agricultural Land Easements (ALE) protects farmlands and grasslands by limiting non agricultural uses of the land.
- Wetland Reserve Easements (WRE) helps restore, protect and enhance wetlands on eligible land.

“Supporting locally led conservation is at the heart of our work at NRCS,” said Emily Fife, State Conservationist for NRCS Utah,

“By protecting these agricultural lands that provide food and fiber while also protecting important wetlands, grasslands and prime soils, we help safeguard them for future generations.”

Utah Debate Commission Announces 2024 General Election Debate Schedule

Established in 2013, the UDC stands as the foremost independent forum for debates in Utah. One of only four organizations of its kind in the United States, it is a consortium of higher education institutions, media organizations, and community leaders.

The UDC is dedicated to delivering substantive, nonpartisan, and independent, public debates. Its overarching mission is to elevate the standard of political dialogue, advance civic education, promote widespread public involvement, and bolster voter participation.

These general election debates follow a series of informative and successful primary debates held in June 2024.

General election debates will be held at universities across the state, and students and members of the public are invited to attend. Mary Weaver Bennett, Chair of UDC Universities Committee and Director, Center for Politics and Public Service, Southern Utah University, expressed,

“It is exciting to see the Commission partner with students to organize debates at universities statewide. Through direct engagement with students and community leaders, the Commission is fulfilling its crucial mission of educating citizens about the importance of elections and promoting lifelong civic engagement.”

All candidates who meet the Utah Debate Commission threshold of a 10 percent level of support within the margin of error in a UDC-conducted poll qualify to participate. “Robust public debates are essential to the democratic process and the Utah Debate Commission looks forward to all qualified candidates participating in another compelling and widely viewed public debate season this fall,” stated Ed Allen, Commission Co-Chair.

A Tribute to Mary Anne

by Polly Williams

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

My dad sent me an email last week. He said that he had found a shoebox under my mom's side of the bed containing copies of the columns that she had written. "Next time you come", he said, "I will get it out for you." A few days later, there I was, sitting in my Dad's living room. And he handed me the box.

You need to know that I am much more like Dad than Mom. Talking on the phone gives me hives. Lying on the couch with a book is a good way to spend a day, and if anything gets done, fine. If not, that's fine too. Most things are a means to an end, and the details will work themselves out - that kind of thing. The biggest fight my mom and I ever had is when I refused to wear pantyhose at my wedding. Live and let live is my creed. I don't know how to make small talk. And an event where I might have to talk to someone still fills me with dread. I guess that's my way of saying that while I know Mom loved me, we didn't share a lot of details of our lives. We just were very different people.

As I opened the box, newspaper clippings escaped out the top, onto the couch, and settled on the floor. Literally, hundreds of columns spilled into my hands. I set the box aside, grabbed the nearest paper, and started learning about my mother.

I found out that she didn't like "Christmas in July" events. I read about memories she and my father shared about beautiful music, picnics in the mountains, and theater that missed the mark. I came to understand that her Smith's friends were important to her, and that's why grocery store shopping always had to be Friday at 9:30. The Farmer's Market was the place to be on Saturday mornings, even if she was in Denver, Salt Lake City, or somewhere in California. Just like Maria von Trapp, the hills called to her. She found beauty and peace in the red hills, from the shy deer to the brilliantly colored beetles to the wildflowers in the meadows.

What I learned is that I have more of Mom in me than I thought. We both have the heart of a wanderer. "How can we hope to see God's face if we can't see His hands?" We both appreciate the beauty all around us - from the Sahara desert with the bored camels to the violin solo at the beginning of Scheherazade. Words are important, both the ones that we say and the ones that we don't. And where words fail, music steps in. Whether it is a precisely followed recipe or a PB and J, food means "I love you." And, nothing beats a good book.

I need to call Mom and let her know I should have worn the pantyhose. I would have survived it.

Talk to you soon, Mom.

International Day of Peace Musical Celebration

FAMILY SUPPORT UTAH

You are invited to attend a concert honoring the life of Helen Foster Snow, Utah's most famous humanitarian, industrial organizer, and journalist. Born in Cedar City in 1907, Helen was nominated twice for the Nobel Peace Prize for initiating the Gung Ho Movement in Asia, a program which provided financial aid for refugees to establish industrial cooperatives in the 1930's.

This "work together" model improved the lives of thousands of people throughout China and India. The movement was endorsed by notables such as Eleanor Roosevelt and Prime Minister Nehru of India, where over 50,000 Gung Ho cooperatives were established. To honor her lifelong service, Helen was memorialized at the Great Hall of the People in Beijing upon her death in 1997.

Helen dedicated her life to building bridges of understanding between the East and West, a work which still continues today. This summer the Helen Foster Snow Foundation, a Utah-based 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, hosted a student exchange program called Camp Gung Ho in the city of Wuxi, China. Over 90 American and Chinese students spent two weeks learning, working, and living together as they practiced their language and cross-cultural communication skills.

Student campers met with U.S. diplomats and business leaders in China, spent time with Chinese social media celebrities, put on a talent show, and presented their ideas to promote cross-cultural exchange to the United States Embassy. The camp has been covered by major news organizations in Asia and the United States, highlighting how today's generation has been inspired by Helen's spirit of bridge-building.

“Mrs. Snow built a bridge of goodwill between the hearts of the Americans to the hearts of the Chinese people. Let her life stand as a reminder that what lies behind the very different political systems of the world are real people whose hearts and minds are not so far apart.”

- U.S. Senator Orrin Hatch

In celebration of the International Day of Peace, a concert featuring local students and musicians will be held Saturday, September 21, 2024 at 4:00 pm at the Thorley Recital Hall on SUU Campus. Donations are welcome! All proceeds go towards Camp Gung Ho. The event is supported by the Family Support Center of Southwestern Utah, Fiddlers Canyon Elementary School, Southern Utah University and local musicians. Helen's 6,000 photographs and 64 books and manuscripts are currently housed at the Harold B. Lee Library at BYU, as well as the Hoover Institution at Stanford University.

film offerings, which also include Romania's "The Dream", directed by Catalin Saizescu, a Shakespeare-inspired drama where prisoners reluctantly take on roles in A Midsummer Night's Dream; Greece's "Little Things That Went Wrong", directed by Haris Vafiadis; and Italy's "Three Infallible Rules", directed by Marco Gianfreda.

Festival-goers can look forward to U.S. features like "The Reunion", directed by Roland Ellis, a drama about family conflict and inheritance, and "Scarlet Winter", directed by Munjal Yagnik, a thriller about a man covering up his girlfriend's murder while unraveling the mystery of her death. There's also excitement around the dramatic shorts category, which includes Sue Ann Pien's "Once More, Like Rain Man", about an autistic actress facing stereotypes, and "Dion & Denver", directed by Zack Hosseini, a fictionalized account of a meeting between music legends Dion DiMucci and John Denver.

In a festival first, some details of the documentary lineup have been leaked. Highlights include Matt Finlin's "The Movie Man", about an eccentric entrepreneur who runs a quirky multiplex in Northern Ontario; Zaya Benazzo and Maurizio Benazzo's "Where Olive Trees Weep", a powerful look at the Palestinian struggle under Israeli occupation.

The Red Rock Film Festival will be held at Cedar City's Frontier Homestead State Park, showcasing a diverse range of films, including animation, documentaries, and international works. Festival passes and ticket packages are available now at redrockfilmfestival.eventive.org, with individual tickets on sale starting September 12. Attendees are encouraged to purchase passes early for priority seating.

For those interested in getting involved, the festival is seeking volunteers to help bring the event to life. Applications are open at form.jotform.com/RedRockFilmFestival/2023-24-rrff-volunteer-form. Don't miss the chance to be part of this unique Southern Utah film event!

KINDNESS in the CORN FIELDS

by John Turner

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

I recently encountered a man, who, along with his family, truly deserves a spotlight shined on them for their kindness. Mr. Ben Roberts, of the Roberts Family Farm, lives in Beaver and primarily grows animal feed corn on his land near Paragonah, and I just learned of his unique generosity on Facebook. For the past three years, Ben and his family have set aside 10 acres of their corn fields to also grow sweet corn for anyone who wants it and is willing to get their hands a little dirty and pick their own. A family outing to his corn fields in Paragonah can be as much fun as the adventure of picking your own pumpkins, rather than buying them at a big supermarket.

The Roberts family is encouraging anyone in the area to find some time and take advantage of this offer, by enjoying a family corn-picking outing while there is still plenty left and before the corn begins to dry and will be turned under later this month. As you read this, the corn is still quite fresh.

This tradition began after the days of Covid, and the inflationary times that followed. That's when the family realized and appreciated more than ever how blessed they were, and saw how others were now more in need so they decided to give back to the community and pay it forward.

After I thanked Ben for his generosity, I just had to ask: this must take a bite out of your livelihood? He humbly replied that if his farm actually harvested this amount of corn, it would amount to about $250,000 worth of corn if it were bought at the store. He went on to say that he is more than willing and hopes to continue this annual gift to the community and if more people show up, he will set aside even more land.

So, if you make the trip up there, have fun, pick as much as you need, but please be mindful that you are on private property, try to be respectful to fellow corn pickers, and don't be the guy who spoils it for others in the future so that the Roberts family can continue this fine tradition. When you leave with your corn, tip your hat to the Roberts family and be thankful that, in a world that can be very negative, we have such kind hearted folks in our community.

The easiest way to get to the corn fields is to exit I-15, at the last Paragonah exit, 82. Bear right and then turn immediately left onto East Frontage Road. After 1.3 miles turn right onto 2250 North and go roughly a half a mile to a T in the road where you turn left. Approximately 0.2 miles along, there is a big green gate which is open, go through it and you will see the sweet corn on the right. The very tall corn stalks on the left are feed or field corn and meant for animals and not good to eat. All along the right-hand side is sweet corn which is only about 5 feet tall, so stroll through the

by May Hunter

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

September feels like the last burst of summer. Though not yet really crisp, the air hints at the cooler weather coming. September feels hopeful, we turn over a new leaf and say goodbye to summer.

September is the first month of fall in the Northern Hemisphere and the first month of spring in the Southern Hemisphere.

Some Fun September Facts: "Harvest Moon" is the fullest moon of the year. When you look at it, it looks very large and gives a lot of light throughout the entire night. No other lunar spectacle is as awesome and beautiful as the Harvest Moon. September is known as Harvest Month, it's a great month to harvest in preparation for the coming winter months. Some of the best crops to harvest are onions, apples, raspberries, and tomatoes.

"There are flowers enough in the summertime", but jump in the car, and head for the mountains, the drive is abundant with the cascade of color from canyon maple, scrub oak, Douglas hawthorn, berry bushes, evergreens, and much more—each turning colors in succession. Come early or late in the season and still take in breathtaking colors.

Navajo Lake in Southern Utah is a great place to see fall colors, especially in mid September when the leaves are nearing peak color change. The Fall Color Loop, also known as Highway 143, is a scenic drive that passes by Navajo Lake and others about 8,000 feet.

rows of corn and pick ears to your hearts content. Also, don't forget to grab a few of the dead stalks for Halloween and Thanksgiving decorations and lastly, some advice from a fellow picker - wear sturdy shoes and long pants, as the field is a bit muddy and uneven, and the corn stalks can scratch your legs!

Feel free to pick enough to freeze for the winter or give to your friends and neighbors, just as the Roberts have done. The community owes them a big "attaboy" and sincere thanks from all of us in Iron County. It's pretty likely that you may have to walk several rows into the corn field since others have been picking before you.

Southern Utah is a beautiful destination year round, but it's extremely beautiful in the fall when the leaves start to change color. The red rock—the deep green alpine forests display a dramatic backdrop for all the colors of red, yellow, and orange, with a little dip of green peaking through the trees. A few places to capture a photo or two of the fall colors, in Southern Utah are Zion National Park, Kolob Reservoir, Cedar Breaks National Monument, Cedar Canyon, just to name a few. visitcedarcity.com, they have a page dedicated to helping you find the best places to leaf peep based on the current conditions!

IRON COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT NEWS NUGGETS

by Colby Leavitt

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Escalante Valley Elementary

Our 4th grade class was thrilled to receive a visit from the Loveland Living Planet Aquarium, where our students learned about the habitats of Utah, deepened their knowledge of animal adaptations, and determined the functions of plants and animals. Part of the presentation included playing the game Plant Guess Who and making observations of real animals. The highlight, for some, was getting the opportunity to pet Cleo, a King Snake. Students also enjoyed using sign language to indicate how they felt about each animal, a strategy used in order to avoid loud & scary noises for the animal(s).

Fiddlers Canyon Elementary

Our fall fundraiser will be September 16-20. Students can bring coins to participate in Penny Wars. Pennies go in students' own grade level bins at the front doors, and silver coins go in other grades' bins as sabotage. We will keep everyone updated on the daily totals on the Fiddlers Canyon Elementary PTA page on Facebook, so please follow us there. Proceeds help the PTA make Fiddlers a great place to learn and work through programs like reading calendars and incentives, teacher appreciation, and Spirit Week.

Don't forget about Watch DOGS (Dads Of Great Students) Night on Tuesday, September 17, from 6:30-7:30 at the school. Dads, uncles, grandpas, and other father figures can learn more about how to be a positive presence during the school day in our building. We can't wait to see you there!

Mark your calendars for SEP Week September 30-October 4. School will end at 2:30 Monday through Thursday to accommodate parent/teacher conferences, and Friday will be the normal early out schedule ending at 1:30. Teachers will be emailing parents or using Remind to set up conference appointments, so please make sure to find a time that works for you.

Three Peaks Elementary

The Three Peaks Elementary fifth grade students were excited to participate in the traveling Liberty Bus exhibit. The bus included a dozen small exhibits, each with its unique educational purpose. Exhibits included a section depicting the main reasons people traveled to America, a map portraying "the shot heard around the world", a detailed presentation of the Declaration of Independence, and interactive iPads preloaded with videos about each item listed in the Bill of Rights. The back of the bus is home to a large art piece featuring headshots and quotes from historical figures such as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Phillis Wheatley, Abigail Adams, and Martha Washington. Thank you to the sponsors for providing this educational experience for our students.

We would also like to thank the 5th grade students and teachers for preparing songs and recitations in preparation for our Constitution Event held on September 10. Students from Three Peaks, Enoch, Fiddlers, Canyon View High and Canyon View Middle Schools performed patriotic songs, poems, and thoughts for the public to view. It was a wonderful reminder of the beautiful land that we live in.

Correction Concerning Mascot Article

by Ezra Cox

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Journalism is a delicate art, so I'm coming to learn. It seems in my last article about the Cedar High mascot, I was misinformed about certain facts published there. Specifically, concerning Travis Wood's role in the conception of the mascot. After the article's publication, it has come to my knowledge that although he played a part in bringing about our mascot, Mr. Wood did not fund the operation. Credit is due to various members of the school board, administration, and Cheer coaches for the financing, organization, design, and creation of the mascot. It takes teamwork to accomplish anything municipal, and Cedar High is blessed to have a great team of hardworking individuals who all volunteer their time and effort so willingly to the welfare of our school and community.

Gateway Academy - SUU Challenge Course

by Amy Gibson

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR/MIDDLE SCHOOL TEAM LEAD

Gateway strives to provide students with a safe, respectful, and supportive environment to learn and grow. One of the ways the middle school does this is by creating opportunities to practice teamwork and problem-solving. This year the students went to the SUU Challenge Course. They were able to be silly playing games, and complete harder ropes course tasks. Building teamwork and problem-solving skills helps students feel safer and more respected by fostering a sense of belonging and encouraging open communication. It allows students to understand different perspectives, build empathy, and develop conflict-resolution skills, leading to a more harmonious classroom environment. As students collaborate and succeed together, they gain confidence, knowing their contributions are valued, which enhances mutual respect and emotional safety.

NEWS FROM THE NEST

by Delaney Richards

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Canyon View vs Cedar Football game

Man, you won't believe the intense showdown we had on August 30th for the Canyon View vs. Cedar football game! Despite the loss, our team brought their A-game, and our student section was amazing. They were non-stop cheering and hyping up the team. I'm telling you, if there was an award for the most passionate and loudest student section, we would have won.

Tailgate

Before Canyon View's big football game versus Cedar on August 30, we had our first tailgate of the year! We sold our blackout t-shirts, had face paint, and grilled hot dogs. It was a blast! Thank you to all those who came and helped out.

Canyon View Senate

The Senate is up and running. The senate had its first official meeting on August 29th, during flex; if you are confused about what the senate is, let me tell you: the senate consists of students from each flex class who are usually students who aren't afraid to share their opinions. The kids in the Senate are usually the representatives for your flex class. In the senate meetings, they usually talk about a topic or a new change in the school that affects the student body. Now it depends on the situation if students get the option to vote or not. If the students do get to vote then the senate represents the student body. The senate doesn't have the final say but their opinion does get considered and matters a lot.

Canyon View's Sports

Our volleyball team continues its winning streak with a 3-1 set score. In addition to that, we had an exciting soccer game on September 5, tennis matches on September 3 and 5, and a competitive cross-country meet on September 5 as well.

Daria Bradfield Thompson Forbush

Our loving wife, mother, grandmother, sister, aunt and friend Daria Forbush passed away on September 6, 2024, after struggling with many health issues. She was born on August 1, 1946, in Logan, Utah to Darwin and Faye Louise Thompson Bradfield. She was the oldest of four children: Dana Roden (Dennis) Panaca, NV, LeAnn Phillips (Randy) Cedar City, UT and Dahl Bradfield (Debbie) Panaca, NV. Daria attended Junior High at Millard High in Fillmore, UT but graduated from Junior High in Twin Falls, ID because the family moved. They then moved to Caliente Nevada where she graduated from Lincoln County High in 1964.

After High School she moved to Salt Lake City and attended Excelles Beauty College, graduating with a cosmetology license.

Daria married her first husband in 1965. To that marriage she had two children, Thad Lynn Thompson (Leisa) of Reno, TX and Tiffani Daria Thompson Graff (Jim) of Cedar City, UT. That marriage ended in a divorce in 1974.

She attended Salt Lake Community College and went on to receive her nursing license. Daria worked for IHC for 27 years at Salt Lake LDS Hospital and Valley View Medical Center in Cedar City before she retired.

Daria married the love of her life, Norman Forbush on February 14, 1984, and was sealed to him in the St. George Temple on August 1, 1984. To this marriage 4 children were added to her family. Chad Forbush, Gilbert, AZ, Wendy McDonald (Jason), Julie Kinder (Chris) Salt Lake City, UT, Mandy Brindley (Ryan) Kingston, UT.

Daria loved crafts, sewing, decorating, traveling on cruise ships, collecting things and painting pictures for everyone. But mostly she loved being with family. She could mend anything and made many quilts, blessing dresses and tuxedos. She also knitted hats for the Cancer Center, Homeless and family. She will be greatly missed.

Daria is survived by her husband Norman LeRoy Forbush, her children Thad, Chad, Tiffani, Julie and Mandy, 1 brother Dahl and 2 sisters Dana & LeAnn, along with 24 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren with 2 on the way still coming down from heaven. She is preceded in death by her parents, Darwin & Faye Bradfield, her daughter Wendy, son-in-law Jason and grandson Tyson Thompson.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday, September 14, 2024 @ 11:00 am at the Cedarview Ward Chapel located at 1925 W. 320 S., Cedar City, UT. A viewing will be held prior to the funeral from 9:30-10:30 am at the church. Interment will be in the City Cemetery under the direction of Southern Utah Mortuary. A livestreaming of the services can be viewed, and online condolences may be left at www.mortuary.org.

Alan Gudmundson

Alan Gudmundson was born on January 26, 1956 to Grant and Coline Gudmundson. His love of the Savior Jesus Christ was evident in his lifelong service to others. He will be remembered for how much he loved people.

In 1975-1977 Alan served as a missionary in the British Columbia, Canada mission. He married his sweetheart Elizabeth Higham on October 10, 1979, in the Logan, Utah temple. Their marriage was a beautiful example of a true love story.

Alan received his bachelor's degree from Utah State University in 1983 in Communicative Disorders/Speech Pathology. Just before graduation, he received a clear prompting to pursue teaching young people the gospel of Jesus Christ. He began his 34 year teaching career as a seminary teacher in Montpelier, ID in 1983. He received his master's degree in Instructional Technology in 1987. He taught in Logan, UT and later was assigned to coordinate in the Madison, WI area. He completed his career in Cedar City, UT where he loved leading the SUU institute council and working with the H.O.P.E. show choir. Alan loved his job. He would often say, "I never had to go to work one day of my life! I got to go to work!"

Alan began running in 1982 to improve his health. He soon became an avid athlete. He picked up cycling and swimming, becoming a competitive triathlete. He was the go-to man for organizing running races in both Logan and Cedar City, UT.

Alan loved traveling and people. This came together for him as a tour guide to the Holy Land. After moving to Cedar City, in 2000, he fell in love with exploring the southern Utah landscape and became certified in rappelling and canyoneering. After retiring, he had the opportunity to guide tours for the 5 National Parks in Utah.

In 2005, Alan and Elizabeth became involved in the Nauvoo Pageant. They helped with the training curriculum for the casts and eventually were asked to direct the Nauvoo Pageant Bagpipe Band. The Bagpipe Band served the Illinois, Missouri, and Iowa area with concerts and performances each summer. Alan started out playing the bass drum, but eventually learned to play the bagpipes with his son, Joseph. Many saw them playing their pipes together for celebrations around Cedar City.

Alan served as a bishop and in multiple bishoprics in his life. Three weeks before he retired in 2017, he and Elizabeth were called as Baptistry coordinators to help set up and supervise the new Cedar City Temple baptistry. Before their release, Alan was called (2019-2022) to preside over the Nauvoo and British Pageants. After his release, Alan & Elizabeth served a full-time mission to the Nauvoo, Illinois temple, the summer of 2023.

Music spoke to Alan's soul. He had a beautiful singing voice and often sang to his sweetheart and children. He adored his grandchildren and made time for them, always making sure they knew they were loved. He was a master storyteller. He took his grandchildren on adventures, taught them how to work with their hands, to find beauty in nature, and how to be true disciples of Jesus Christ.

Alan had an incredible ability to push through hard things. Although he was diagnosed with ALS in June 2023, he fought daily to keep up his strength and ability. Still being able to ride his stationary bike and walk to bed, he passed away on September 2, 2024 of cardiorespiratory failure. Although he had been ill, his passing was unexpected. He never gave up.

Alan will be greatly missed by his eternal sweetheart, Elizabeth and their 4 children Jesica (Ammon) Wilcken, Jami Lyn (Jason) Niles, Vanesa (Jaron) Packer, & Joseph Gudmundson, and 10 grandchildren: Miriam, Ammon, Allan, Elizabeth, Emma, Jacob, Benjamin, John, Joshua, & Aaliyah. He is also survived and will be missed by his father, Grant Gudmundson and his siblings Brian, Daryl, Mark, Steve and Christine.

There will be an open house celebration of life September 27, 2024 at the Cedar Institute of religion (650 West Center, Cedar City) from 4:00-6:00 pm. In lieu of flowers, please come prepared to share a special memory. Memorial services will follow at the Cedar City cemetery. Online condolences may be left at www.mortuary.org.

Arthur Smity Pryor

Arthur Smith Pryor, cherished husband, father, grandfather, great grandfather, brother, friend, and community member, passed away peacefully on August 30th, 2024. Art was born December 19, 1939, to Evan Jones Pryor and Alice Smith Pryor, the third of six children. He lived a life full of passion, adventure, and joy, leaving behind a legacy of love and dedication that will be dearly missed by all who knew him. Arthur/Art was a man of boundless energy and enthusiasm. He found true happiness in the great outdoors, whether it was playing a round of golf, hitting the softball field, or hiking through scenic trails. His love for nature was evident in everything he did—from spending leisurely days fishing and hunting to tirelessly working on beloved mountain property or building his delicious garden every year. His hands, accustomed to the labor of making his surroundings comfortable and inviting, were a testament to his dedication and hard work.

He loved being with his family; Christmas in Montana was a special time for Art, where he delighted in spreading joy by passing out presents from Jingle Bells. Exploring the rugged beauty of the Zion Narrow with family, was a trip that brought him immense joy and fulfillment at age 70.

For over 35 years, Art served with pride at the telephone company, a career that reflected his commitment and reliability. He then transitioned to a role at the city golf course, where he spent another 25 years, finding immense satisfaction in both the work and the camaraderie with friends and colleagues. His enthusiasm for his work was matched only by his enjoyment of the many friendships he forged along the way.

Beyond his professional life, Art was a devoted family and community man. He cherished every moment spent with his loved ones, creating memories that will be treasured forever. His warm presence, kind heart, and infectious laughter brought joy to gatherings and comfort to those around him. Art was also an active member of the Elks Lodge, where he dedicated time to community service. His involvement in the Lodge reflected his commitment to giving back and making a positive impact. As we bid farewell to Art, we celebrate a life well-lived, marked by love, dedication, and a genuine zest for life. His spirit will continue to inspire us as we remember him for the man he was—always active, always caring, and always embracing the beauty of life.

He was preceded in death by his loving wife of 64 years Ann Lyman Sevy Pryor, parents Alice Smith Pryor and Evan Jones Pryor, brother Robert, sister Barbara, and grandsons Jared and Gavin. He is survived by his five children, Hollie Pryor, Todd (Shelly) Pryor, Lori (Mark Walters) Pryor, Cristine (Kade) Rolfson, and Cole Pryor. Also survived by 11 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren, and his siblings, Evadene (Verlin) Gardiner, Alice Ann, and Glen (Meri) Pryor.

A graveside services will be held Saturday, September 07, 2024, at the Cedar City Cemetery at 12:15PM. Changes produce road win for Falcons

by Tom Zulewski
IRON COUNTY TODAY

After watching his Canyon View Falcons struggle against the Cedar Reds last week, head coach Burke Miller knew a change was needed with region play in 3A South closing in quickly. With a new quarterback under center, the change proved powerful enough to put CV back in the win column.

Ryder Miller threw three touchdown passes and added a 20-yard run for another score to lift the Falcons to a 42-0 rout over the Ben Lomond Scots on the road Sept. 6. After the team defense got the scoring parade started with a safety early in the second quarter, Miller went to work, hitting Bubba Ludlow on a 24-yard touchdown pass. Later in the period, Price Atwood scored on a 2-yard run and Miller would hit Deegan Davies on a 17-yard score with 2:35 left in the opening half to push the lead to 21-0.

Miller helped the Falcons (2-2 overall) add on in the third quarter with a 20-yard run and connected with Asher Slack for a 45-yard touchdown with 9:40 to play in the period. The CV defense would add an interception that was returned for a touchdown to complete the scoring. Neither team could break through on the scoreboard the rest of the way.

Canyon View travels for one more non-region game this week when they play the Union Cougars on Friday night at Snow College in Ephraim. Kickoff is at 7 p.m.

Deegan Davies dives into the end zone as he scored a touchdown in Canyon View's 42-0 victory over the Ben Lomond Scots on Sept. 6.

Mustangs run past Reds in region opener

Cedar Quarterback
Everett Kelling
looks to pass against the Crimson Cliffs
Mustangs
on Sept. 5.

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Cedar Reds had the football for a large chunk of the first half, but the defending 4A state champions didn't crack under the pressure. When Ryder Sherratt found his rhythm, the Crimson Cliffs Mustangs were able to push themselves into the win column.

Sherratt threw four touchdown passes and Crimson Cliffs broke the game open in the second half on the way to a 36-14 victory over Cedar in the Region 9 opener Sept. 6. Both teams are 2-2 on the season, and the Mustangs won for the second week in a row.

"When you're playing the defending state champs, you've got to be able to execute. We just didn't do that tonight," Reds head coach Tye Hiatt said. "Right now, I think we have young men in our program that are still understanding what it means to believe. There's truly a difference between hoping and believing, and we've still got to believe we can play with anybody."

Cedar got the ball first and drove from its own 20 down to the Crimson 3. The 13-play, eight-minute march came up empty when a fourth-down pass by junior quarterback Everett Kelling fell incomplete.

The Mustangs would show why they're the defending champions by taking the ball down the field on a 97-yard drive that Sherratt finished on the final play of the first quarter when he hit Maddux Alofipo from 16 yards out for the 7-0 lead.

After a poor punt, Crimson Cliffs got the ball again at the Cedar 40-yard line, but turned the ball over on downs. The Reds would drive from their own 16 to inside the Mustangs 10 over the final 7 minutes, but two sacks proved costly as Kelling threw an interception on the final play of the first half.

Crimson Cliffs got the ball to start the second half, but had to start from its own 1-yard line when the kickoff was mishandled. They were forced to punt from their own end zone, and the Reds took full advantage.

Following a good return, Caleb Paule found the end zone on a 15-yard touchdown run and helped Cedar pull even at 7-7 with 10:21 to play in the third quarter.

Crimson would respond and take the lead for good on their next possession, driving 65 yards with Sherratt throwing a 24-yard touchdown on fourth down to Malachi Alofipo that he caught over two defenders.

The Mustangs defense gave the team another jolt when it recovered a Kelling fumble at the Cedar 30, and Sherratt hit McCord Christiansen on a 15-yard TD pass to stretch the margin to 21-7 with 3:30 remaining in the period.

Cedar had a defensive moment in the sun when it denied a Crimson scoring chance by recovering a fumble at the 1, but the Mustangs produced a safety two plays later, and the rout was effectively on.

Kelling would throw his only touchdown pass of the night for Cedar to Krew Giles from 10 yards out with 5:05 left. When Crimson recovered the onside kick, it would take them less than a minute to complete the scoring. Sherratt finished his night with a 35-yard touchdown pass to Jaxson Holt with 4:09 remaining.

"We've got to finish drives," Hiatt said of the Cedar effort. "We're forcing turnovers on defense, and our special teams have improved since Week 1. I think for us to be where we're at right now, we've got to love showing up every day and getting better. We need to be intentional with how we do things."

Cedar will play its home opener Friday when they host the Snow Canyon Warriors in a 7 p.m. kickoff.

Believing is the hardest part

When it comes to Cedar football, there hasn't been a whole lot to cheer about. The Reds haven't had a winning season since 2020, and there's a new coach in town for the first time in a decade. There's been some 4A playoff success, but the end result was a second-round exit in four of the last five seasons.

With new coach Tye Hiatt, Cedar has held its own through the first four games in 2024, but something was missing from last week's 36-14 loss to the Crimson Cliffs Mustangs. It came from a simple word that would make Ted Lasso stand up and take notice.

Belief. A sense that beating a team like Crimson Cliffs was absolutely possible. Yes, there's always hope for any football team when a new season begins, but a collective belief in itself and what coaches like Hiatt are trying to teach is always a challenge. For a while, the Reds had the Mustangs on edge, even though they held a 7-0 halftime lead.

Crimson Cliffs had the resume as the defending 4A state champs. They had a breakthrough win on the road at Springville on Aug. 30 and were looking for more.

Thanks largely to a huge edge in time of possession in the first half – around 18 minutes to 6 – Cedar had every right to believe they could compete in this game despite trailing heading to the halftime locker room.

Crimson Cliffs got the ball to start the second half, but had trouble handling the kickoff, nearly fumbling before getting it back and starting from its own 1-yard line. Three plays later, the Mustangs had to punt, and a good return set the Reds up at the Crimson 15-yard line.

Two plays after that, Caleb Paule found a huge hole and found the end zone on a 15-yard score. Less than two minutes into the third quarter, the game was all even at 7-7.

Belief may have started to kick in, but as Hiatt told me in the postgame conversation, the difference between hope and belief is still a work in progress for his team. Hiatt knows the Reds can play with anyone – they already had wins over Bear River and Canyon View in the two previous games – but it seems like there's still some work to be done as the players find ways to go from hoping to believing they can win against anyone.

Cedar is 2-2, and Hiatt told me the consensus among the prognosticators was 0-4 as the likely record at this point of the season. "We'll take it," he told me when he shared the news.

That's the first step. At last check, 2-2 is better than 0-4, and when the first RPI rankings from the UHSAA hit the online universe Sept. 16, that's where belief needs to come into better focus. The top eight teams don't have to play a first-round game in the state playoffs – another positive in the push to believe that anything is possible.

The Reds will play at home for three of the next four weeks, and they're one of four teams in Region 9 that has a 2-2 record at the moment (Crimson Cliffs, Desert Hills and Pine View), the high-water mark to date.

Control the elements you can. Don't worry about what you can't. Just play the game and believe you can win against anybody because the rest of the regular season will test that sense even more than it did before.

A correction is in order and needs mentioning from last week's issue. The score that was highlighted in Cedar's football win over Canyon View had the Reds winning 34-28, but the box score had the Reds winning 33-7. The correct final score was Cedar 33, Canyon View 7.

The Cedar Reds beat the Dixie Flyers, 3-0 on Sept. 3 to break a two-game losing streak.

Reds snap scoring drought, earn pair of wins

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Cedar girls soccer team was in search of anything that would light a spark and help it find its offense again after a pair of losses the previous week.

With one good shot, Tylee Nielson put a ball into the back of the net from 20 yards away, and the Reds snapped out of a lengthy goal drought with a 3-0 home win over the Dixie Flyers on Sept. 3. The junior's goal came with just over 10 minutes remaining in regulation and helped the Reds break a two-game losing streak.

"I had a good first touch, luckily, then my teammates were all yelling 'shoot, shoot, shoot,'" Nielson said. "I took a glance, and the keeper was off her line a little, so I thought I should probably shoot it."

Nielson's shot was just high enough to fly over the leaping save attempt of Dixie keeper Izzy Bundy and land in the top left corner of the goal. It ignited a three-goal surge over the remaining time as Maddie Marriott and Kyla Johnson added the other scores.

"It was time to step up our game," Nielson said. "Who cares about the past? I need to be a goldfish and just reset."

Nielson credited her dad for the reference, saying "every time you lose or do something bad, just be like a goldfish. Their memory span is 10 seconds, and after that, you have to forget about it."

Cedar head coach Scott Kamachi said while the challenges were there for the team's offense, one goal would be all it took to rebuild the momentum.

"Once we got one goal, we could get multiple goals," Kamachi said. "Just keep putting the pressure on them. Be patient, don't freak out and keep playing the way we have been. Good things will happen, and they did in the second half."

The momentum continued to swing upward in Cedar's second game of the week, a 3-1 win over Region 9 leader Snow Canyon at home Sept. 5. Johnson scored twice and Eliza Heaton added the other as the Reds did all of their scoring in the opening half to secure the victory and improve to 3-2 in Region 9, 7-3 overall. The Warriors scored its goal in the second half and suffered its first region loss to fall to 4-1, 8-2.

Cedar traveled for both of its games this week, starting at Pine View on Tuesday followed by a non-region matchup at Parowan against the winless Rams.

Canyon View played a single game last week and earned another Region 12 victory with a 7-0 shutout over the Delta Rabbits on Sept. 5. Maya Nichols and Hadlee Farrow scored twice and CV built a 4-0 first-half lead before cruising to their seventh straight win overall. The Falcons stayed on top of the region standings at 6-0, 7-2.

"We had some specific things we wanted to practice in the game today, and we achieved probably about 75 percent of them," Falcons head coach Steve Newman said. "We're trying to work on a balanced attack, that way when we play teams that try to focus on one player, we won't get caught flat-footed and we can play a different style of soccer."

Emery Miles, Addie Rushton and Erin Hallows added goals for Canyon View in the win. They traveled to Richfield for a game against the Wildcats on Tuesday and returned home to face the Emery Spartans on Thursday.
