Iron County Warns Residents of Growing Phone Scams

by Tracie Sullivan

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Iron County residents are being urged to remain vigilant as phone scams continue to target the community. The scams, which often impersonate law enforcement officers, are becoming increasingly sophisticated, with fraudsters using tactics such as fake phone menus and AI-generated voice messages to trick unsuspecting victims.

Scammers are using increasingly sophisticated tactics to target Iron County residents, particularly the elderly. These schemes often involve impersonating law enforcement officers and using fake phone menus to trick people into believing the calls are legitimate.

about these scams, especially the elderly,” said Iron County Sheriff Lt. Shawn Peterson. “It’s becoming more and more sophisticated, even using our callback menus. We are never going to call and ask for payment over the phone.”

A callback menu is an automated phone system that prompts callers to choose from a list of options, usually by pressing a number on their phone keypad. This system is commonly used by legitimate organizations, including government agencies, to direct callers to the right department or service.

However, scammers have started using this technology to make their calls appear more authentic. By mimicking the structure of an official call, they try to gain the victim’s trust before demanding personal information or money.

Recent reports suggest that scammers are calling residents, claiming to be from the Iron County Sheriff’s Office and threatening legal action over supposed warrants, missed jury duty, or other violations. Victims are often directed to send money via gift cards or through ATM/Bitcoin kiosks, a tactic no legitimate law enforcement agency would ever use.

“There is always an uptick in scams. And as we get information out, they change them. Like sending texts with links,” Peterson said. “Again, that is not something we will do. If you are informed about a warrant, it’s likely going to be when you’re being placed in handcuffs. If you ever have questions, please don’t hesitate to contact our Office.”

Scammers often target the elderly or use emotional appeals, like claiming a loved one is in trouble, to manipulate victims into complying. Peterson stressed the importance of vigilance.

“Be aware these scams are always evolving and unfortunately, their first targets are often the elderly or use emotional attachments like children or grandchildren to get you to bite.”

In addition to impersonating law enforcement officers, scammers are also leveraging technology to execute more targeted fraud schemes.

The FBI has issued a warning about a recent wave of text and voice message scams, where criminals impersonate high-ranking U.S. officials. Using AI-generated voices and text messages, the scammers create a false sense of urgency, encouraging victims to share sensitive information or make payments.

These schemes often begin with seemingly harmless contact, such as a text or a call, before escalating into requests for personal data or financial transfers.

The FBI advises anyone who receives such communications to be especially cautious, emphasizing that no government agency would ever request personal information or payments via text or phone calls. Residents should report these incidents to the Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3) or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to help authorities track and combat these fraud attempts.

What to do if you receive a suspicious call or text:

- If it’s a phone call, hang up immediately and call Iron County dispatch at 435-586-9445 to verify the information.
- If it’s a text message, do not respond or click on any links. Instead, report it to the Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3) or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).
- Do not share personal or financial details over the phone or in a text message.
- Verify the source by independently contacting the sheriff’s office or other relevant authorities.
- Be cautious of links sent in unsolicited messages, as they may lead to phishing sites or malicious websites.

Utah Sheriffs Lobby Federal Officials in D.C. Over Immigration Enforcement; ICE Salt Lake Leadership Changes Follow

A recent trip by members law enforcement agencies, culminating in the departure of ICE’s Salt Lake City Field Office Director Michael Bernacke and the retirement of ICE’s Acting Executive Associate Director of Enforcement and Removal Operations, Ken Genalo.

The visit, which took place in May, followed growing frustrations among Utah sheriffs over strained cooperation with federal immigration authorities under the Biden administration. Iron County Sheriff Ken Carpenter was among the sheriffs who attended to press for increased collaboration and better immigration enforcement.

“We had a number of things that are of great concern to the Utah sheriffs and that gave us a great opportunity. One we’ve never had before,” Carpenter said.

While in D.C., the sheriffs met with federal agencies like the DEA, FBI, Bureau of Land Management, and the Forest Service. However, it was their exchange with Genalo that Carpenter said he believes later led to the shakeup in the agency.

“He was pretty hostile at first,” Carpenter said. “Then admitted there was a problem but wouldn’t commit to anything.”

Frustrated by the lack of resolution, the sheriffs pressed the issue with a White House official, who Carpenter said made a significant promise:

“He told us Bernacke’s wings would be clipped by the end of the day,” he said.

Though the leadership changes did not occur immediately, Carpenter later confirmed that Bernacke had stepped down and that Genalo had retired following the meetings.

ICE’s statement on Genalo’s retirement praised him for his 33 years of service but did not link his departure to the D.C. meetings.

A Turning Point for Utah Sheriffs

The sheriffs’ primary concern stemmed from a controversial memo issued in 2023 by Bernacke, which labeled Utah a “sanctuary state.” The memo accused local law enforcement of hindering ICE’s efforts by terminating detention contracts and not holding migrants in county jails for federal holds.

“We felt the memo was unfair,” Carpenter said. “It painted us as obstructionists, but the truth is, we are simply not equipped to handle federal holds for ICE.”

Carpenter and other sheriffs pushed back hard, asserting that the term “sanctuary state” was not only misleading but politically damaging.

“I sincerely believe that kept Utah from being listed as a sanctuary state,” he said.

As tensions over immigration enforcement have risen nationally, with President Trump’s administration pushing for more aggressive action, the Utah sheriffs’ visit provided a critical opportunity to restore direct communication with federal partners.

What’s Next for Utah Law Enforcement

Moving forward, Carpenter said Utah sheriffs plan to collaborate with ICE’s new leadership. He emphasized that the changes offered a chance for improved cooperation, something that had been lacking under the previous administration.

“We couldn’t work with Mr. Bernacke. He refused to work with us,” Carpenter said.

Carpenter also mentioned that, despite being labeled a sanctuary state by political opponents, Utah sheriffs had consistently cooperated with ICE by placing detainees on criminal offenders when appropriate, including approximately 1.7 per month in Iron County.

“The bottom line is, we’ve done nothing but be supportive,” he said.

This visit to D.C. also addressed other concerns, including the increasing need for stronger ties between local and federal law enforcement in Utah. Carpenter expressed hope that the changes at ICE would foster more effective partnerships moving forward.

“The system wasn’t working, and we made sure they knew it,” Carpenter said. “We expect accountability — and we want ICE to stop using Utah as a scapegoat.”

Summer is officially here!

And if you're like me, some of these days have already felt a little too warm for comfort.

But with the heat comes all the joys of summer—from longer evenings to backyard barbecues and, of course, plenty of outdoor adventures.

One of the reasons I love calling Cedar City home is our easy access to some of the most beautiful hiking spots in the country. In just about an hour to two, you can find yourself at trailheads that people travel from across the globe to see. But you don't have to go far, there are amazing trails right here in our own backyard. Perfect for a morning or evening hike. There is a great article this week that talks about the different hikes in Iron County.

Unfortunately, warmth also marks the start of fire season. That reality has hit close to home recently with the Pine Valley fire. It's a reminder of how quickly conditions can change and how important it is to stay informed and prepared.

As the season unfolds, we'll continue to keep you updated on local events, conditions, and everything in between. Here's to a safe, adventurous, and connected summer in southern Utah!

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Jews are the most tenacious people in history. Hebron is there to prove it lying 20 miles south of Jerusalem, 3,000 feet up in the Judaeen hills. According to ancient tradition and Biblical documentation, one sepulcher, itself of great antiquity, contains the final remains of Abraham, founding member of the Jewish religion and ancestor of the Jewish people. Paired with his tomb is that of his wife Sarah. Within the building are the twin tombs of his son Isaac and his wife Rebecca. Across the inner courtyard is another pair of tombs, that of Abraham's grandson Jacob and his wife Leah. Just outside the building is the tomb of their son Joseph. This is where the 4,000-year history of the Jews began, anchoring it in time and place. So, when historians visit Hebron today, they ask themselves, where are all those other people who once ruled this place?

Where are the Canaanites? Where are the Edomites? Where are the ancient Hellenes and the Romans, the Byzantines, the Franks, the Mamluks and the Ottomans? They have vanished into time, irrevocably, but the Jews are still in Hebron. Hebron is thus an example of Jewish obstinacy and resistance over more than 4,000 years and perhaps also reveals an ambivalence towards the possession and occupation of land as the Jewish nation has in the past been distributed throughout the world even after 1948 when the State of Israel was established (See jewishvirtuallibrary.org/timeline-for-the-history-of-jerusalem-4500-bce-present to study the long history of the Jews in the land from 4500 BCE to the present.) Today the U.S. Ambassador to Israel, Mike Huckabee, is at the center of the raging storm in the Middle East as he spoke about Iran's nuclear threat, America's relationship with Israel, and how his own faith in God directs all he does when today is viewed as one of the most critical times in the long history of Israel. One of the greatest threats facing Israel today is Iran where the leader of Iran has said that following Israel's attack on Iran's nuclear facilities that apparently has no concern for Iran's people, Israel's leaders recently have warned the occupants of Tehran to flee the capital city of Iran to save their lives and the lives of their families. Apparently, the people of Tehran have more confidence in the directives of Israel's leaders than the leaders of Iran because they are fleeing Tehran, and the roads are jammed with out-going traffic. Abraham is considered the Patriarch of Judaism and the forefather of the Jewish faith when God called Abraham to leave his homeland and family and travel to an unknown land that God would show him (Genesis 12:1-3) as well as having great influence over Christianity and Islam. God promised to bless Abraham, make him a great nation, and that all peoples on earth would be blessed through him. The Bible's historical significance is increasingly respected even by sceptics because of the archaeological evidence that continues to be dug up in the land of Israel today verifying events that are described in the Bible. (See Wikipedia Biblical Archeology and Thriftbooks.com for a multitude of scholarly references and books that can be purchased about evidence of Abraham's historicity.) Who was this Abraham, and where did he come from? In past years many pseudo-scholars of their day claimed that Abraham was myth and the Bible was mythological. # France Canyon Fire Update June 23, 2025 from France Canyon Fire Gov.

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Total Acres: 23,353 Contained: 10 % Total Personnel: 749

Operations – Yesterday, fire activity increased around 2:00 p.m., pushing eastward into the Kings Creek Campground area, where firefighters conducted a tactical firing operation to protect the campground. Crews also carried out a firing operation on the southwest side, off Big Hollow Road, to connect and strengthen the fire's edge. Night shift resources were in place to monitor and secure the fire, particularly in areas where firing operations had been conducted.

Today, on the northern flank near Wilson Peak and the Hillsdale and Johnson Canyons, dozer work continues and firefighters are working to secure structures. On the northeast flank, crews are focused on securing and tying in the fire line along Forest Service Road 100. On the east side, a firing operation is planned—pending favorable weather conditions—to keep the fire west of East Fork Road. Along the southern edge, firefighters are mopping up to ensure the fire line is cold, extinguished, and no longer poses a threat to containment. On the southwest side, the Big Hollow firing operation is ongoing to help protect the Bryce Woodland community.

Fire Restrictions – All unincorporated private and all state lands within Washington, Kane, AND Garfield Counties are in a Stage 1 Fire Restriction. This order does not affect private lands within incorporated towns or city limits.

All lands within the boundaries of Bryce Canyon National Park are in a Stage 1 Fire Restriction.

Fire restrictions help to limit activities on public lands that are known to be the most common causes of wildfires. For more information about fire restrictions, please visit Utah Fire Info: <https://bit.ly/3G6FiN5>

Safety – Smoke impacts are expected along roadways. Prepare for reduced speeds and allow extra time to reach your destination safely. Drive slowly and cautiously near fire zones. Smoke can reduce visibility, and firefighters, equipment, or wildlife may be on or near the road. Never stop on the roadway to watch firefighting aircraft. Blocking the road—even for moment—can prevent fire crews from getting through and create dangerous traffic hazards.

Weather – Today will be sunny and dry with temperatures of 61-66 degrees and minimum humidity of 12-17%. Winds from the Southwest of 7-10 MPH with gusts around 20 MPH. To learn more about air quality, visit <http://fire.airnow.gov/>.

Forest and Road Closures – Closure Order #04-03-24-317 is in effect from Monday June 16, 2025 through July 31, 2025 or until rescinded. This includes all National Forest System lands south of Utah State Route 12, on the Powell Ranger District, with the exception of the trails and campgrounds (Red Canyon Campground, Red Canyon Bike Trail #33016, Castle Bridge Trail #33096, Golden Wall Trail #33095, and Forest Road 113 in Red Canyon. # IRON COUNTY GOVERNMENT RECAPS

Cedar City Planning Commission Meeting

by Iron County Today Staff

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The Cedar City Planning Commission meeting began with the nomination of a temporary chair due to the regular chair's absence.

A vesting extension was requested for Phase Three of the Iron Crest subdivision, which includes 15 lots and a retention pond. Although the June 1 deadline had passed, much of the work was already completed, with curbs scheduled for installation that week. The commission recommended approving an extension through December 31, 2025, to allow for final work and any unexpected delays.

A second extension request came for a 10-phase, 400-unit project in Fiddler's Canyon. While phases 1-3 are recorded and 4-5 are pending, the original approval had expired. The applicant asked for up to 15 years or three years between phases, which raised concerns. Commissioners worried about reserving infrastructure capacity for that long and potential changes to development standards. Ultimately, they approved a two-year progress requirement per phase, balancing flexibility with accountability.

A request was made for a development agreement at 478 East 325 South, asking to waive the usual asphalt and curb-and-gutter requirements on an old dirt road. The argument was that full improvements weren't practical due to the road's small scale and natural drainage.

The commission debated the issue, concerned about setting a precedent and how such agreements would be enforced. While the applicant offered to add improvements if nearby lots developed, commissioners questioned the fairness compared to what other developers are required to do.

The commission reviewed several ordinance changes to bring city rules in line with new state laws. The first group of changes updated the subdivision ordinance, removing outdated terms like lot line and parcel boundary adjustments. These were replaced with two new processes: simple boundary adjustments, and full boundary adjustments for more complex cases involving easements or new lots.

Other changes focused on developer bonding. The city can no longer require warranty bonds before accepting construction, and inspections must now be requested in writing and completed within 15 days, weather permitting. These updates ensure the city complies with current state requirements.

The commission's main discussion focused on a proposal to remove the city council representative from the planning commission. Staff noted Cedar City is one of the few cities in Utah that still includes a council member in this role. The change was suggested to avoid legal issues related to meeting notice rules and to maintain a clearer separation between elected officials and advisory boards.

The current council representative supported the change, citing legal concerns and the difficulty of addressing the same issues in both roles. The commission agreed to keep the group at seven members, with the mayor still able to assign a council liaison—just without voting power.

In the end, all ordinance changes received positive recommendations

Parowan City Council

by Iron County Today Staff

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The following is a brief summary of what happened. Please find a more complete summary at Iron County Today's website.

Public Comment - A resident spoke against rumor regarding a petition to change the city ordinance regarding horse corrals, arguing that reducing the required distance from residences from 75 feet to 40 feet would negatively impact properties due to smell and flies.

Municipal Statutory Officers' Compensation - The City Manager presented information regarding the municipal statutory officers' compensation increase for fiscal year 2025-26. The presentation included a salary study and proposed adjustments for executive municipal officers.

AJM Investments LLC Annexation Public Hearing - This hearing was held to discuss the proposed annexation of approximately 204.07 acres of real property by AJM Investments LLC, located east of the Iron County Fairgrounds. The property is intended to be zoned as R1 and R2.

Concerns and Discussion- Fire code and access for 550 homes, capturing the tax base, and county vs. City ordinances were brought up as concerns regarding the annexation.

Proposed Park Component and Vesting - The developer presented a proposed park component for the annexation, specifically a trail system with landscaping and amenities along 200 North. Some council members preferred to wait for the city's park ordinance (municipal code on Open Space) to be finalized before making any agreements. The developer's representative expressed willingness to abide by future park ordinances but sought to avoid delays. The City Manager emphasized the importance of carefully reviewing the vesting language in the annexation agreement to ensure compliance with future ordinances.

Ultimately, a motion was passed to revert to the original "red line" version of the annexation agreement, focusing on the parks/open space section, and to review the vesting paragraph. This decision was contingent upon attorney review and approval from both parties before bringing it back for a vote at the next meeting.

Officer Swearing In - New Parowan Police Officer Anderson Humphreys was officially sworn in by Chief Addison Adams.

Certified Tax Rate - The council approved the certified tax rate for fiscal year 2025-26, resolution 2025-04, set at .002191. This rate is lower than the previous year and does not represent a tax increase.

America 250 Resolution - The council approved the America 250 resolution, resolution 2025-05, to recognize the 250th anniversary of the United States. The resolution includes plans to create a community committee to plan activities for the celebration.

Tentative Budget and Public Hearing Date - The council adopted the fiscal year 2025-26 tentative budget, with a minor change due to updated property tax revenue figures. A public hearing on the budget was scheduled for June 26th.

IRON COUNTY GOVERNMENT RECAPS

Feral Cat Issue - The council discussed the issue of feral cats in the community, prompted by concerns raised at a previous meeting. The City Manager presented a conceptual ordinance to regulate the feeding of feral animals and manage cat colonies. The ordinance included provisions for community cat programs, requiring sterilization, vaccination, and ear-tipping. The council directed the City Manager to further refine the ordinance for discussion at a future meeting.

Reports, Updates, and Old Business - Council members and staff provided updates on various topics including the opening of the Evil Water Bike Park as well as meetings of various boards. Chip sealing projects are underway in various locations, a wayfinding sign has been installed near the gazebo at Center and Main.

Four candidates have filed for two city council seats, and the Mayor is running unopposed.

Residents are encouraged to attend City Council Meetings on the second and fourth Thursday of each month at 5:30 p.m. at the Parowan City Council Chambers. Alternatively, the meetings can be viewed at <https://www.youtube.com/@parowancity2030>

Cedar City Council Meeting

by Iron County Today Staff

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

A presentation of the Spirit of Main Street Award, given by the Utah State Historic Preservation Office to honor a local leader for contributions to downtown revitalization.

Council members shared updates on community service. They also addressed public concerns about a blocked storm drain and overgrown weeds affecting sidewalk access and safety.

They also covered cooperative agreements, easement changes, and fence ordinance revisions.

A vesting extension was requested for Phase 4 after the deadline passed despite completed improvements. The council noted the developer's good faith and said the required road is unlikely due to cost and location issues.

A proposal to advance phases 4-10 of a residential project raised concerns about waiving water and sewer modeling. The council approved moving forward with phases 4-5 without new modeling but kept the requirement for later phases.

A vesting extension for Phase Three was approved after missing the recording deadline by nearly a year, despite completed infrastructure. The new deadline is December 31st.

For the Martin Flat well drilling project, six bids were reviewed, with the lowest coming from a company in Arizona. The alternate bid includes abandoning an existing well and using advanced techniques to locate water-bearing fractures. The project stayed well under budget, even after reallocating funds to another water meter project.

Final 2024-25 budget changes included housing grants, Main Street redevelopment, and department fixes, with extra funds for golf course repairs and increased animal shelter costs.

The council approved a slightly lower certified property tax rate. A power easement was granted to allow utility line relocation on a rural property. Most items were placed on the consent agenda.

TRAVIS TOWERS DEDICATION & RIBBON CUTTING

by May Hunter

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

A ribbon cutting for the new Travis Towers apartments was held on June 20th, 2025.

"Long before SUU became a thriving university, it was a small rural college. A neighborhood of five or six homes stood at the periphery, surrounded by fields. The families in those homes produced an inordinate number of bright and active boys. They formed warm friendships and called themselves the West Fields Gang. Whatever their games, the fields were their world. If you listen closely, you might still hear the crack of their baseball bat and their happy shouts.

The boys grew to be men, formed families, and faced life fortified by the principles they learned in their homes and while playing together in the west fields. J. Travis Nelson, always a leader among them, is honored through the naming of these structures—Travis Towers.

J. Travis Nelson was born in 1940 to Darwin and Irissa Dover Nelson. He graduated from Cedar City High School, where he served as Student Body President. He was active in music and lettered in football, basketball, and baseball. He graduated from Southern Utah State College (now SUU), where he served as President of the Associated Students and again lettered in three sports. He served as a missionary in the Northwestern States

Mission from 1960 to 1962. He earned a B.S. in Political Science from the University of Utah and was commissioned into the United States Air Force, advancing to the rank of Captain.

Captain J. Travis Nelson, as pilot of an F-4 Phantom Jet, completed 206 combat missions in Vietnam from 1966 to 1967. He died in the crash of his F-4 Phantom Jet during a training mission on January 12, 1970.

Downwinders Clinic Holding Public Meetings In Several Southern Utah Cities To Discuss The Status Of The RECA Program

from Brad Gillman

INTERMOUNTAIN HEALTH

The RESEP (Radiation Exposure Screening and Education Program) clinic from St. George

Regional Hospital will be holding public informational meetings in several southern Utah cities on June 27th & 28th, 2025. These meetings are to inform the public about the status of the RECA program and pending bills that have been submitted to Congress.

At the one-year anniversary of the expiration of RECA, come receive information regarding the program's status and possible bills to get it reinstated or expanded. They will give general information about the history of RECA and what Congress is currently doing to try to get it reinstated. If you or someone you know has cancer and would have qualified for RECA before the expiration, please come and give your contact information so that the Downwinder's clinic can contact you when the RECA law is passed and again taking applications.

The term "Downwinder" is used to describe the more than 60,000 people who were exposed to radioactive fallout in Arizona, Nevada and Utah during the nuclear testing at the Nevada Test Site. Local residents, and their families, are encouraged to come have their questions answered about the program and its status.

Meetings will be held at the following dates and sites:

Friday, June 27, 2025

Kanab Public Library, 374 North Main Street, 1:00-2:00pm

Public Safety Officials

Encourage Firework Safety this summer

by Gabrielle Costello

COMMUNITY RELATIONS & PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICER

CEDAR CITY, UT –

Fireworks can be an exciting way to celebrate Independence

Day (July 4th) and Pioneer Day (July 24th), but all fireworks should be used with respect and care. Although we encourage the community to enjoy Cedar City's professional firework show on July 4th rather than using personal fireworks, consider these safety tips if you choose to use personal fireworks:

- ❶ Use designated areas in Cedar City that are safe and away from the wild land-urban interface:
  - Cedar High School south parking lot
  - Bicentennial Softball Complex parking lot
  - The closed-off street between the Bicentennial soccer complex parking lots
  - Iron Springs Elementary parking lot
  - Canyon View High School parking lot
  - Aquatic Center parking lot
- ❷ Safely dispose of used fireworks in a bucket of water. Dumpsters will be available at each of the designated areas in Cedar City for proper disposal.
- ❸ Only purchase fireworks from legal stands in the state of Utah.
- ❹ Follow discharge times:
  - July 2 - 4 from 11:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., extended until midnight on July 4.
  - July 22 - 25 from 11:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., extended until midnight on July 24.
- ❺ Be a good neighbor, be safe, and be smart!

For more information, including a safety video and map of recommended and prohibited firework locations, visit: www.cedarcityut.gov/fireworks.

stands Travis Towers, extending a welcome of safety and warmth—a home away from home. WELCOME.”

Also honored are these four foundational families of the neighborhood: Cox, Campbell, Dover, and Gardner.

Thank you to the Dixie & Anne Leavitt Family Foundation for this beautiful home away from home that will be enjoyed by SUU students for many years to come.

Mayor Green reminisced about growing up in the West Fields neighborhood himself, a cousin to J. Travis Nelson.

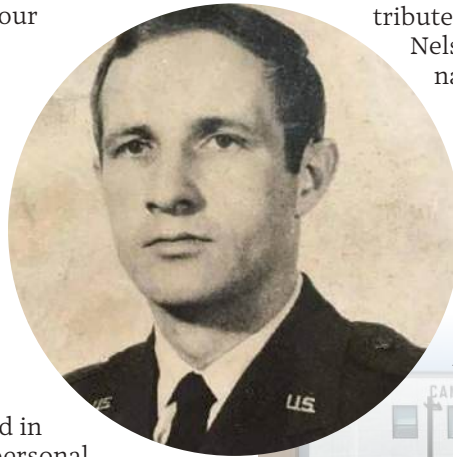

“As mayor of Cedar City and as someone who was raised in the neighborhood, the dedication of this property is very personal.

We used to call this place Doverville. Some called it Coxville, but to us, it was Doverville, a close-knit westside neighborhood where families grew together, worked hard, and built lives.

Years ago, that original neighborhood gave way to progress. The homes were sold and turned into a parking lot to serve the growing university. But even then, our roots remained. This is where a beautiful LDS church stood for decades, but it had to be taken down due to structural concerns. We all worried about what would replace it. But we were fortunate that the Leavitt Group, Dixie and Anne Leavitt and their family approached the site with care. They listened to the neighbors. They showed respect for the past while building for the future.

Travis Towers stands today not just as a building, but as a tribute—a tribute to renewal, to community memory, and to people like Travis Nelson, a cousin, a pilot who served during the Vietnam War era. His name reminds us of sacrifice, of family ties, and of the values we grew up with here in Doverville.

So today, we don't just cut a ribbon. We reconnect with our past and chart a hopeful future.

Thank you to the Leavitt family, and thank you to all who still remember this neighborhood, not just as a location, but as a home.”

—Mayor Garth Green

Dixie L. Leavitt, Co-Founder of the DALFF (Dixie & Anne Leavitt Family Foundation), attempted the ribbon cutting. The wind played havoc, and it was a quick scissor cut of the ribbon. The Leavitt family thanked everyone who attended.

Intermountain Health Cedar City Hospital to Discuss Chronic Back Pain Option During New Hospital Med Talk Series

by Brad Gillman

INTERMOUNTAIN HEALTH

CEDAR CITY – Intermountain Cedar City Hospital is pleased to invite the community to its first-ever Med Talk with Intermountain Cedar City Hospital, an informative and engaging health event designed to bring patients and medical professionals together.

The first event in the series takes place on Thursday, June 26, from 6-7 p.m. in the Northfield Classroom at Cedar City Hospital (1303 N. Main Street, Cedar City, Utah). Dr. Ryan Workman a member of the hospital's medical staff, will speak about the Intracapt Ablation Procedure – a minimally invasive technique to treat chronic low back pain.

Attendees will have the opportunity to learn how this innovative procedure can improve quality of life for those suffering from persistent back pain. The session will include a discussion of the science behind the procedure, its benefits, and who may be a candidate for the treatment. A Q&A session will follow.

Cedar City Hospital President Jamison Robinett emphasized the significance of the event, stating, “We are very excited to launch this new speaking series, where members of our medical staff will share valuable insights on pertinent healthcare topics. We look forward to offering these educational opportunities to the community as part of our commitment to helping people live the healthiest lives possible by ensuring patients have access to the best possible care.”

This event underscores Cedar City Hospital's commitment to advancing healthcare education and providing patients with access to the latest medical treatments.

July Jamboree

by Rob O'Brien

CEDAR CITY ROTARY CLUB

The Cedar City Rotary Club will be holding the 28th annual July Jamboree Car and Street Festival on July 11th and 12th in downtown Cedar City. This will be the largest Jamboree festival in history, with over 20,000 attendees expected. This year will feature many new activities and events including major expansion and further improvements in The Main Street Park. This is due to the ever-increasing popularity of this event with over 75 sponsors, 135 vendors, 350+ collector cars, motorcycles, and trucks. This, along with new entertainers and food and refreshment booths, is allowing us to expand to include two customer convenience locations. These will be in the park and on Main Street near the crosswalk.

This exciting, family friendly, automotive oriented street festival event kicks off Friday night July 11th at Tink's NAPA Auto Parts parking lot on 200 North at 6:30pm for early registration of the car exhibitors and will include food, music, beer garden and entertainment and is open to the public.

Saturday's July 12th events start at 8:00 AM with a kickoff breakfast for the car exhibitors held at The Marriott Courtyard, followed by a "Rod Run" touring these exotic vehicles around our beautiful community for all to see and cheer on.

Saturday's main event takes place on Main Street from Center Street, North to Coal Creek beginning at 4:00 pm until 10:00 pm.

The objective of the Rotary Club and the July Jamboree is to create an excellent, family friendly, community centered event that raises money which is distributed back into the community supporting charitable and humanitarian projects. Some of the benefactors include Canyon Creek Services, Iron County Care and Share, The Happy Factory, Rotary Centennial Veterans Memorial Park, support for local First Responders, Scholarship programs at Southwest Tech and SUU, Main Street Park electrical system enhancement, and the exciting new water park and ADA playground equipment in Canyon Park West.

All of the funds raised are from the very generous support of our community sponsors and vendors which include Tink's Superior Auto Parts, Rally Stop, Cedar City Motor Company, Seez and Radio Player bands, Ensign Engineering, The Leavitt Group, SUU, Choice Builders, Les Schwab Tire, Iron Mountain Plumbing, Best Western Plus, Amber Kays, Café Sabor, Rock Island Armory, The Lobby Events, Summit Valley Plumbing, Mountain America Credit Union, BZI, Bradshaw Electric, Triple S Polaris, Southern Utah Mortuary, Cacique Foods, Velocity Homes, The Iron County Today, D & P Performance, Cedar City Police Dept., Warehouse Bar and Kitchen, DeMille Turf, Gold Cross Ambulance, Wasatch Brewery, Rocky Ridge Landscape Material, Cedar Band Travel Plaza, Cedar City Corp., Iron Springs Resort, Central Iron County Water Conservancy District, Fine Iron, Hero Plumbing, Southwest Plumbing, Nelson Dirtworks, Town Square Media (KSUB and Cat Country), D-BAT, and many more.

ARTS + ENTERTAINMENT IN IRON COUNTY

Utah Shakespeare Festival Opens 64th Season

from Marlo Ihler

UTAH SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL

CEDAR CITY--
The Utah

Shakespeare Festival is excited to announce the opening of its 64th season. After months of preparations and six weeks of an intensive build process and rehearsal schedule, the Festival welcomes patrons to experience another wonderful season of live theatre from now through October 4.

The Utah Shakespeare Festival is a professional theatre, hosted on the campus of Southern Utah University and was started in 1961 by the late Fred C. Adams and his wife Barbara.

"Fred will always be remembered as a passionate visionary who saw Cedar City and the university (College of Southern Utah at the time) as an ideal home for a world-class theatre," says Executive Managing Director Michael Bahr. "Because of the town's history with putting on plays, its connection to the works of William Shakespeare, and its location near some of the most beautiful recreation destinations in the country, Fred knew the Festival could be a thrilling addition to the campus and community."

Today, with a year-round staff of 30, a seasonal staff of over 200 professionals, and a volunteer base of 350 local residents, the Festival welcomes over 100,000 guests to their productions each year.

From Shakespearean masterpieces to laugh-out-loud comedies and modern favorites, this season offers something for everyone. The lineup includes William Shakespeare's dark and tragic Macbeth, the historical romance (and rarely-performed) Antony and Cleopatra, and the pastoral comedy As You Like It in the outdoor Engelstad Shakespeare Theatre.

In the beautiful indoor Randall L. Jones Theatre, audiences won't want to miss the witty and touching Steel Magnolias by Robert Harling, the Tony Award-winning musical comedy A Gentleman's Guide to Love and Murder by Steven Lutvak and Robert L. Freedman, and the Victorian satire The Importance of Being Earnest by Oscar Wilde.

In the intimate Anes Studio Theatre, patrons can enjoy the World War II love story Dear Jack, Dear Louise, a week-long traveling production of Twelfth Night by the students of London's Royal Academy of Dramatic Art (RADA) the end of July, and two new plays--one of which is Lauren M. Gunderson's Muse of Fire--for the annual Words Cubed staged reading new play program during August.

"All of these productions represent the very best--and sometimes the most challenging--parts of all of us," comments Artistic Director John DiAntonio who oversees each show from hiring the directors and casting to ensuring finishing touches before the curtains go up. "We are thrilled to celebrate these stories and these artists, and welcome everyone to experience the power of live theatre."

In addition to the plays, other opportunities referred to as the Festival Experience ensure that audiences' participation goes beyond--and sometimes behind--the stage. A variety of seminars, orientations, Backstage Tours, Repertory Magic, classes, camps, and more aim to enhance patrons'

Galas Galore

by Sara Penny

CCAC VICE PRESIDENT

Getting dressed up and having a nice dinner is just the beginning of a successful Gala. Nearly every arts group has some kind of fundraising extravaganza that feels more like a family reunion than a stuffy ordeal. There is a lot of visiting and laughter as part of the festivities.

Why go to all the extra work? For a theater group the ticket goal is 50% of costs according to Richard Bugg at the recent RAP (Recreation, Arts and Parks) presentations. That means the leaders have to find that extra 50% to function with grants, sponsors, donations, and fundraising events. If you have to put together an event it should also be fun.

IMPAC recently had their first Gala and I expect it will be another annual event. Every table was decorated for a different musical. I was at the Guys and Dolls table which was appropriate since they are presenting this musical with the adult mentor cast opening July 11 and the student cast opening July 23. I love how the adults and students work together on these productions. More information at <https://im-pac.com>. There were several soaring vocal performances as part of the Gala's entertainment.

Another advantage of these community events is the networking. I find out about events that are new to me. I was seated next to Jenifer Terry and she is directing a student musical in Parowan. Once On This Island opens July 24 at the Aladdin Theater. The Cedar City Children's Musical Theatre is another opportunity for youth up to age 5 to 19 to gain stage experience. In October they host a Halloween dinner theater. In December they host a Wizard Festival complete with a Dragon Alley shopping experience and Christmas feast.

There are skits and audience games with dinner that make it a fun family evening.

They are working on mini-musicals this summer with the large scale musical Seussical that opens August 21 at the Heritage Theatre. By large scale I mean 175 participants. The annual musical is a well oiled machine with lots of parental supervision.

When the Chamber of Commerce hosted their 75th Gala there was ballroom dancing with Gage and Sami Kevern. They have developed Cedar City Ballroom where they offer classes for teens and adults. It was also fun seeing them in the alumni dance for the SUU Ballroom Concert this spring. The Southern Utah Museum of Art features a talented auctioneer as well as visual art and prelude music. This popular event was sold out this year so get tickets early next spring. Learning to do Regency era dancing at the Jane Austen Festival added to the Ball. I was impressed with the gorgeous period clothing, elaborate hairstyles, and jewelry. About 70 people participated. The feast was beautifully presented in the Great Hall at SUU. Check their website <https://www.jaregencyfest.com> if you want to participate next spring. This is just a sampling of what is available. We hope you enjoy getting involved with our arts community.

understanding of Festival productions and the process of repertory theatre. And no evening at the Festival would be complete without attending The Greenshow. Bring the whole family for this free 30-minute pre-show celebration starting at 7:10pm, Monday through Saturday, where everyone is invited to sing and dance along.

There are plenty of ways for locals to save on tickets. Residents of Iron, Beaver, Washington, Kane, Garfield, Piute, and Lincoln counties may use the Local Discount to purchase tickets day-of to any Festival play at 50 percent off. There is no limit on the number of half-off tickets local guests can get.

Iron County residents can also get an Iron County pass for $200 which gives the holder six admissions to be used throughout the season.

Students of any age can purchase a Student Access Pass for $40 and receive one admission to unlimited plays during the season, based on availability. Some restrictions apply for all of these promotions.

Tickets are on sale now—and the best seats go fast. Visit bard.org, call 800-PLAYTIX, or visit the Ticket Office for more information and to reserve your seats.

Recommendations

by Sara Penny

CCAC VICE PRESIDENT

It is always fascinating to see what our local art groups are planning for the upcoming season at the RAP (Recreation, Arts, and Parks) hearings. Each organization presents their projects to a citizen committee. Recommendations are made that will go to the City Council on July 2 for final approval. The biggest expense for several groups is the rental of the Heritage Center. Most of the groups provide significant community service and extra projects.

Theatre is presenting three musicals this summer starting July 2 at the Heritage Center. Director Richard Bugg said the new name represents a crossroads where stories come together. They also take shows to the Egyptian Theatre in Park City for extra performances. Most of the participants are regional with a few guest artists. Recommendation: $20,000.

Cedar Chest Quilters Guild hosts a retreat with over 300 participants for three days of classes at the Heritage Center. They also provide quilts and smaller items to local charitable groups, as well as a Quilt Show for the Cedar Livestock & Heritage Festival. Recommendation: $9,100.

Cedar City Arts Council provides community art socials, literary discussions, Final Friday Art Walk and Networking Socials. They also award mini-grants for community art projects. The next deadline is August 31 and the application is on their website under support. Recommendation: $12,250.

Cedar City Children's Musical Theater produces mini-musicals as well as a major summer musical. Seussical opens Aug. 21 at the Heritage Center. Scholarships are available for students. Recommendation: $24,000.

Cedar City Community Band provides concerts under the direction of Steve Shirts who pointed out that "music unites our community." He noted that the cost of printed music has skyrocketed. Recommendation: $3000.

Cedar City Junior Ballet will produce three shows next season including Danse Macabre, Nutcracker, and Cinderella. Recommendation: $20,100.

Cedar City Music Arts presents the 96th season of world class performances. Their outreach include school matinees. It is the second oldest arts organization in the state, after the Tabernacle Choir. Next season includes jazz, dance, acoustic musicians, and classical music. Recommendation: $21,400

Cedar Livestock & Heritage Festival includes the sheep parade, music, cowboy poetry, art contest, and vendors. It is nationally recognized and brings tourists to town for the last weekend of October. They will be celebrating their 20th year. Recommendation: $21,724.

Chorale Director Jackie Riddle-Jackson with Alex Byers at the end of Handel's Messiah with the Orchestra of Southern Utah and Chorale Dec 2024

Cedar Valley Community Theatre will present the Sound of Music and Urinetown next season. They are working to teach more directors. They have a live orchestra for their musicals. Recommendation: $20,300.

IMPAC offers student theater classes and presents shows with both adult and student casts. The mentors work with the students. They will open the musical Guys and Dolls on July 11. Recommendation: $8,100.

In Jubilo is working towards a community choir clinic with a guest conductor. They have two major concerts as well as several additional community performances. The women's choir performed in the Jenny Oaks Baker concert last December. Recommendation: $5,100.

Jazz Alliance performs a "jazzcast" with a live studio audience that has an international following. It is free to the public and the audience is encouraged to cheer for the local musicians. Recommendation: $3,000.

Johnson Art Center has become a hub for classes, rehearsals, and recitals with affordable rental space. They are adding a Summer Concert Series on the second Friday of June through September on their outdoor stage. Bring a lawn chair or blanket for the free concerts at 6 p.m. Performers will be inside during the Final Friday Art Walks on the last Fridays of June through September. They host choirs for children and adults. Recommendation: $13,700.

Master Singers produces four concerts each year at the Heritage Center on the Sunday closest to Veterans Day, Christmas, Easter, and Father's Day. The men's choir also sings at community events. Recommendation: $3,000.

Orchestra of Southern Utah will celebrate America250 with music from Broadway, movies, popular rock music, and legendary American composers like Copland. The spring concert is the Hal Campbell Young Composers. Entries are due Nov. 1. Information is on the website under Musicians Corner. Other concerts are Handel's "Messiah" and a Children's Jubilee with a matinee and activities for all ages. Recommendation: $21,000.

Southern Utah Book Festival presents writer panels and workshops that are open to the public. They are also arranging author school visits. Recommendation: $8,300.

Southern Utah Museum of Art has increased summer hours from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday. They are currently hosting the Utah Statewide Exhibit. They host family and student events plus the popular "Día de los Muertos" celebration. Recommendation: $45,000.

Suzuki Strings Cedar City provides a student orchestra and group classes. The fall regional workshop includes a concert and there are several other performances during the year. Recommendation: $2,200.

Utah Shakespeare Festival is now open and offers local discounts thanks to the RAP funds. There is also a $40 student access pass for unlimited plays all season. Artistic John DiAntonio said the theme for this season is "self discovery". You are also invited to the nightly Greenshow at 7:10 p.m. which is free and designed for all ages. USF has an $80 million positive economic impact on Cedar City. Recommendation: $122,500.

Three applications were denied funds this year because they did not fall within the guidelines.

The Park and Recreation recommendations will be available later.

RAP funds are from a one penny tax on $10 purchase tax approved by the voters to help improve our community. These funds are particularly important this year because of cuts in government funding. You are invited to take advantage of these art events.

Aw, Sweet Sunny Days –

TIME TO TAKE A HIKE

by May Hunter

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

Finally, warm sunshine and longer days to linger outside! This season of easygoing, laid-back living is chock-full of fun things to do. Those of us who live in the area know that the wide variety of landscapes makes this the outdoor enthusiast's playground.

Cedar City is connected by a network of paved walking trails that intersect neighborhoods, connect parks, and offer a great way to get out and enjoy the local scenery. Along these trails, you can find beautiful red rock views, public art, and much more. Take the trail starting at Bicentennial Park and wind alongside Coal Creek as it leads you past Veteran's Memorial Park, into Canyon Park, and briefly into Cedar Canyon for some incredible red rock views.

Some Hikes You Will Find Breathtaking. There's a hike suitable for all ages and interests:

Kanarra Falls Trail – A waterfall hike with the bonus of a slot canyon. Wear proper shoes, as the hike is mostly through water and includes climbing a pair of waterfalls using a tree ladder and ropes. With a capacity limit, the trail stays uncrowded. This moderate 5-mile out-and-back hike is located at the north end of Kanarraville. Permits are available at kanarrafalls.com. Well worth your time! Dogs are not allowed on this hike.

Spring Creek Trail – Located at the south end of Kanarraville on Spring Creek Road, this trail is great for beginners. Hike into a slot canyon and follow an old jeep trail through meadows into a narrowing canyon. Turn around when the trail becomes too difficult to pass without equipment. A moderate 5.3-mile hike.

Thunderbird Gardens Trailhead – Expect steep climbs and switchbacks through red-rock country, leading to a stunning view of Cedar City and unique rock outcroppings. Thor's Hideout Trail – A 3.6-mile out-and-back trail near Cedar City. Dog friendly and popular with mountain bikers. Two trails lead to the same destination. The trailhead starts at Thunderbird Gardens, accessed via 900 North Course.

Red Hollow Trail – A multi-use trail in the Thunderbird Canyon Trail system. Nestled in the red hills east of Cedar City, this trail intersects with Thor's Hideout Trail. You can turn back at the intersection or continue on to the Thunderbird Gardens Trailhead.

"C" Overlook Trail – Breathtaking views just east of Cedar City up Cedar Canyon. This 8.2-mile trail winds down the face of Cedar Mountain with tight switchbacks. It's known as a challenging mountain biking trail but is also a strenuous hike uphill or moderate going downhill. Average completion time is about 4 hours and 41 minutes. Spot mule deer, rabbits, lizards, snakes, and birds. The trail can be started from the top (Right Hand Canyon Road) or bottom (near the East Bench Trail). Parking is available at both ends. Noah's Ark Trail – Located in Parowan, this out-and-back trail takes about 2 hours to complete. A steady, steep climb rewards hikers with views of the Vermillion Castle and other canyon formations. Valentine Peak Trail – A 6.5-mile out-and-back trail in Parowan. This challenging hike climbs about 2,000 feet in elevation and takes around 4 hours to complete. Start at the Parowan Cemetery (834 Canyon Road) and enjoy stunning views of the Parowan Valley

QUILTS of VALOR

Chief Petty Officers: David Ha, Chuck Waddell, Jerry Van Iwaarden

by May Hunter

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

The mission of the Quilts of Valor Foundation is to cover service members and veterans touched by war with comforting and healing Quilts of Valor.

Quilts of Valor recognizes veterans' service with a quilt as an expression of gratitude. It says, "thank you for your service and sacrifice in serving our nation."

These quilts are all handmade and truly a work of art.

Veterans receiving Quilts of Valor are: Chief Petty Officers, David He, Chuck Waddell, and Jerry Van Iwaarden. Utah Rep. Celeste Maloy joined in honoring these Veterans.

Five Generations Together: A Special Family Milestone

The arrival of Baby Ember marks a rare and joyful milestone — five generations in one family. With her birth last August, Ember becomes the newest member of a remarkable lineage, making her mother a first-time mom; her grandmother a first-time grandma; her great-grandmother, a first time great-grandma; and her great-great-grandmother a first time great-great-grandmother.

OLD FASHIONED SODA FOUNTAIN

by May Hunter

FOR IRON COUNTY TODAY

A visit to an Old-Fashioned Soda Fountain is a blast from the past. It was once the place to gather, but has since faded away. Bulloch Drug in Cedar City, Utah, established its soda fountain in the 1950s, specifically in the building that was previously Thornton Drug Store. In 1955, the building became Bulloch Drug, and the added soda fountain quickly became a beloved feature. There are so many stories of saving dimes and nickels from lunch money just to buy a chocolate Coke. The real surge in soda fountains inside drug stores began in the early 1920s, when people started socializing at these charming spots. It was a real treat to stop by the drugstore after school and enjoy a cold drink with friends at the soda fountain. Finding a little spot that resembles the old-fashioned soda fountain takes you right back in time to a world you can only imagine. Milkshakes are made the old-fashioned way, using real ice cream, one scoop at a time, then blended with milk, one shake at a time.

Today, milkshakes cost more than five cents, and there's no longer any special soda fountain lingo when ordering, but the hospitality remains the same. You definitely feel like you've been transported back in time when you step into the soda fountain. If you ever get a chance to visit this old-fashioned soda fountain, by all means—do it! We all need a chocolate milkshake, a Fred Adams Chocolate Coke, or a Thunderbird specialty drink (a combination of Fresca, Red Cream Soda, vanilla, and coconut flavor), a Lime Rickey, a Cruel Summer, or an IronPort—just a few of the sweet treats from the past that are still on the menu. It's a chance to slow down, sit on the twirling stools, and enjoy a nostalgic moment now and again.

In the early history of Utah, much of the livestock and mercantile business was conducted through collective cooperatives or "co-ops." Nearly all of the early livestock industry (cattle, horses, sheep, etc.) in Southern Utah was organized into co-ops. In September 1881, local sheep ranchers gathered to organize the "Cedar Sheep Co-ops" and later that year built the original Cedar Sheep Association Store at 91 North Main Street. Eventually, the co-op was closed. The building is now home to Bulloch Drug and the Old-Fashioned Soda Fountain.

So if you want to spend time reminiscing about the soda fountains of your youth—or show the younger generation how it really was—this is the place!

In September 1881, local sheep ranchers built the original Cedar Sheep Association Store at 91 North Main Street, Cedar City, Utah. It is now the location of Bulloch Drug and the Old-Fashioned Soda Fountain.

HIKE

Trail – Also in Parowan, this easy 2-mile roundtrip hike leads to a 20-ft waterfall. Located 5–6 miles up Parowan Canyon, look for a large pullout on the left side of the road. The narrow, rocky trail crosses a bridge and weaves through a wildlife study area before reaching the falls.

Vermillion Castle Trailhead – Found 2 miles up Yankee Meadow Road in the Vermillion picnic area. A from the peak.

Hidden Haven Waterfall

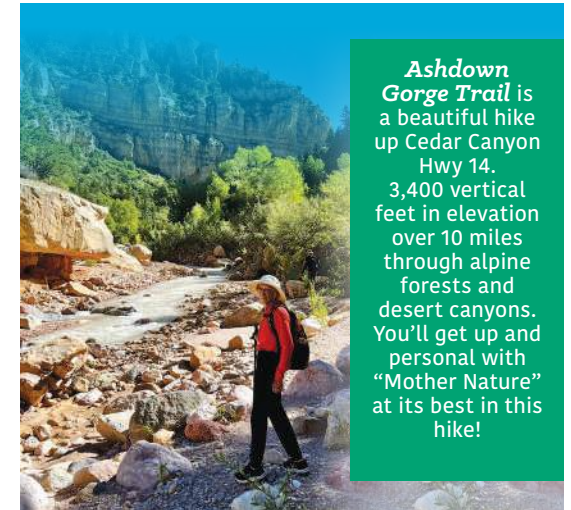

moderate 2-mile out-and-back hike that climbs steeply through red rock hoodoos to a view of the Noah's Ark formation.

Twisted Forest Trail – A moderate 1-mile hike in Brian Head featuring Bristlecone Pines and views of Cedar Breaks. Located on Summit Mountain Road, the trail ends at a sheer drop-off.

Brian Head Town Trail – An easy 2-mile paved trail accessible from multiple points along scenic Highway 143. It winds through forests and wildflower meadows in Brian Head.

These are just a few of the many hikes available in Iron County. Cedar Breaks trailhead maps are available at the Cedar Breaks fee station. Mountain temperatures are cooler—layer up! It might be chilly at the start, but you'll warm up as you hike.

The map below shows additional trails around Cedar City—so go take a hike! Getting out on the trail brings peace and tranquility like nowhere else. Trailhead maps are also available at the Iron County Visitor Center (581 N. Main St., Cedar City, Utah).

Ashdown Gorge Trail is a beautiful hike up Cedar Canyon Hwy 14. 3,400 vertical feet in elevation over 10 miles through alpine forests and desert canyons. You'll get up and personal with "Mother Nature" at its best in this hike!

George Joseph Convery

George Joseph Convery
November 2, 1927 – June 16, 2025

George Joseph Convery, 97, passed away peacefully on June 16, 2025, at his home in Cedar City, Utah, surrounded by family.

Born in Bloomfield, New Jersey, on November 2, 1927, George was the son of William Francis Convery and Rose Lavina McComiskey. He was the middle of three brothers and grew up during the Great Depression. He left school in the 10th grade to help support his family while his older brother served in World War II.

George proudly served his country in the National Guard and later in the U.S. Navy, where he spent 20 years. He served in World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War. For the first half of his naval career, he worked as a baker. In the latter half, he became an aviation electronics specialist, focusing on radar and other aircraft systems. After retiring from the Navy, he returned to school and earned both his high school diploma and an associate's degree in 1976.

In civilian life, George remained active and involved. He was a longtime member of the Moose Lodge in Mira Mesa, San Diego, California. He loved bowling and was part of a league in the 1960s. Golf became a lifelong passion, and he continued playing until just eight months before his passing. A man of faith, George was a devoted Catholic throughout his life.

George was preceded in death by his parents; his brothers, William and Edward; and his son-in-law, Barton Earl Wallace. He is survived by his daughter, Paula Wallace; grandchildren: Emily Shrope (Steven), Andrew Wallace (Tenia), Amanda Tomlinson, Jennifer Wallace, and Leah Wallace; and great-grandchildren: Rebecca, Nicholas, Joseph, and Matthew Shrope; Sean, Abigail, and Tyler Tomlinson; and Azley and Brezlyn Wallace.

George will be remembered for his quiet strength, dedication to service, and deep love for his family.

A funeral Mass will be held Thursday, July 18, 2025, at 11:00 a.m. at Christ the King Catholic Church, 690 Cove Dr., Cedar City, UT 84720.

Sterling Ray Church

Sterling Ray Church passed away on June 20, 2025 in Cedar City, Utah, surrounded by his loving family. He was born August 18, 1942 in Delta, Utah to Ned Milne and Florence Mildred (Christensen) Church, the fourth of eight children. Growing up, Sterling loved hunting and playing sports. While attending Delta High School, he made the all-state football team and was a delegate for Boys State. After attending a couple of semesters at the College of Southern Utah (now Southern Utah University), he married his high school sweetheart Rhea Erickson. He graduated from CSU with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education and went on to receive Master of Arts in Education and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from Arizona State University. For two years he served as Chairman of the Department of Special Courses and Conferences at Brigham Young University, then returned to Cedar City where he would devote the rest of his career to serving the students he loved in a number of positions, first as Dean of Students at Southern Utah State College, eventually becoming Vice President of Student Services at Southern Utah University and in various other advisory capacities. Sterling received many awards and commendations throughout his career, most notably being inducted into the SUU Hall of Honor and having an auditorium in the Sharwan Smith Student Center dedicated in his name. More than any professional recognition, Sterling's greatest motivation was mentoring and empowering students. Sterling was a lifelong devoted member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, holding numerous leadership positions throughout his life. His love for the Church was surpassed only by his love for his family. He is survived by his wife Rhea, children S. Chris (Joey) Church and Angela (Jon) Reynolds; sisters Florence (Kuri) Malohifo'ou and Kathleen (Dan) Henrie; brother Stephen (Barbara) Church; 10 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by two children, Debbie Church Robinson and Loeman E Church; his parents Ned and Mildred Church; brothers David (Nancy) Church and McKay Church; and sisters Leah (Rex) Michie and Marcia (Tom) Clark. The family would like to extend heartfelt gratitude to Ethan Bunker and Hannah Price at Mission Hospice for their knowledgeable, compassionate care in Sterling's final days. Viewings will be held Thursday, June 26th, 2025 from 6:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. at Cedar Valley mortuary, 2086 North Main Street, Cedar City, Utah and Friday, June 27th, 2025 from 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. with funeral services to follow at 11:00 a.m. at the Cedarview Ward meetinghouse, 1925 West 320 South, Cedar City, Utah. Interment will be at the Cedar City Cemetery, under the direction of Cedar Valley Funerals. Online condolences can be sent to www.cedarvalleyfuneral.com. An endowed scholarship has been established at SUU in honor of Sterling and Rhea Church. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made either online at <http://go.suu.edu/sterling-church>, by contacting giving@suu.edu or by mailing: SUU Advancement attn: Church Endowment 351 W. SCORES + RECAPS FROM IRON COUNTY COMPETITION

CV volleyball rallies, wins USG gold

by Tom Zulewski

IRON COUNTY TODAY

To keep the theme on a light-hearted note, Canyon View volleyball coach Lynette Whitaker had shirts made for the Falcons that dropped mention of the “Barbie” movie from 2023 and said “girls just wanna have sun.”

After getting off to a slow start, the Falcons rallied, spread sunshine indoors and beat Hurricane in three sets to win the gold medal at the Utah Summer Games on June 20 inside the Multipurpose Center on campus. CV dropped the first set, 25-23, but came back for a 25-17 win in the second set to even the match. In the third, the Falcons broke an 11-11 tie by winning the last four points and taking home the gold.

Kinzlee Brindley and Alyssa Haller sparked Canyon View to get the match on even terms, then Kambree Potter nailed a kill from the back row that broke the third-set tie and sent the Falcons on their way to the victory.

Despite being down a player (Ivy Marble), Whitaker was impressed with the energy level that was shown by the Falcons throughout the gold-medal game, including one lineup adjustment that paid big dividends.

“We were down another player besides our setter,” Whitaker said. “Our outside, Kiersten (K.J.) Attig went and played setter for our team, and she did phenomenal. She’s got a cannon for an arm and is one of so many versatile players we have.”

Fresh off its first state title, Whitaker sounded a note of confidence when the Falcons begin defense of their 3A title Aug. 14 on the road at Enterprise. They will welcome Pine View for the home opener at the Nest on Aug. 20.

“Everybody’s gonna want to come and watch them. It’s gonna be a fun season,” she said.

The Canyon View girls volleyball team won the gold medal with a three-set win over Hurricane at the Utah Summer Games on June 20.

Changes to SUU's Athletic Leadership

by Brooke Heath

SOUTHERN UTAH UNIVERSITY

Cedar City, UT - Southern Utah University Athletic Director Doug Knuth announced today that he resigned his position to be closer to his family. "As much as I have enjoyed my time at SUU, I need to be closer to my family at this time," said Knuth. "It has been a privilege to work with the coaches, staff and student athletes. I couldn't be more excited for the new opportunities that are coming."

"We are grateful for Doug's time and commitment to SUU's Athletic Department," said SUU President Mindy Benson. "We recognize Doug's accomplishments on fund-raising initiatives for facility improvements, strengthening the student-athlete experience, and building a vibrant game-day culture. We wish him well in his future endeavors."

Judge Tom Higbee

Under Knuth's leadership, SUU Athletics achieved its highest-ever Academic Progress Rate (APR), with a department-wide average of 985 and five teams earning a perfect 1,000. Competitively, SUU Gymnastics has dominated its conference with back-to-back MPSF championships, sweeping all major awards in 2025. SUU Women's Basketball captured the 2023 WAC regular season and tournament titles, earning the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance.

Knuth has also been involved with several

Lakers' sale shows the more expensive side of sports

When the news broke June 18 that the Los Angeles Lakers were sold to a man named Mark Walter, it was a simple case of "who's he?" when I heard the name. As it turned out when his resume was revealed, Walter has the money and can definitely handle the transaction.

The asking price – hang on to something in case you feel some sticker shock here – is $10 billion. You read that correctly. After 46 years of ownership by the Buss family to go with 11 of the franchise's 17 NBA championships, Jeannie Buss has sold the majority share of the team to Walter.

All technical insider stuff aside, this valuation is simply staggering. It's almost $4 billion higher than what a gentleman named Bill Chisholm paid ($6.1 billion) for the Boston Celtics back in March.

While we're all blown away with these numbers being thrown around like a hot potato, let's take a minute and process what's happening. First and foremost, Jeannie Buss will retain her position as the Lakers' governor, continue to run the team on a day-to-day basis, and the family will keep a 15 percent stake as minority owner.

In case you were curious, Jerry Buss – who died in 2013 – bought the Lakers in 1979 for the "bargain" price of $67.5 million. According to the ESPN story, the deal included the NHL's Los Angeles Kings and the Forum arena in Inglewood, which housed both teams until 1999 when they moved to the Staples Center (now crypto.com Arena) in downtown Los Angeles.

After the Celtics, the NFL's Washington Commanders sold for $6.05 billion – hey, what's $50 million between friends, right? – to Josh Harris, who leads a group that also owns the Philadelphia 76ers. The team got off to a fine start by reaching the NFC Championship game last season and leaving this Lions fan feeling just a little sad.

In the $4 billion range, there's the Denver Broncos (2022 by the Walton family of Wal-Mart fame) at $4.65 billion and the Phoenix Suns and WNBA's Mercury to Mat Ishiba in 2023 for $4 billion.

What's the point in all these numbers? It means higher ticket prices, for starters. It's streaming services that don't allow a lot of fans to see their favorite teams due to "blackout restrictions." (looking at you, Major League Baseball)

And when you want to attend a game in person, you get the added joy of ridiculous fees depending on the ticketing service you purchased your tickets from. Proof: When I went to see the Detroit Lions play the Arizona Cardinals at State Farm Stadium in Glendale last fall, the game ticket for a third-deck seat was $113 – $80 face value plus a $33 service charge.

Parking the car (yeah, I drove over 400 miles each way in a single day) added another $15 to the bill ($5 face value, $10 service charge).

It was worth it mainly because the Lions beat the Cardinals, 20-13.

My wish for all fans going forward is that you'll find ways to afford seeing your teams in person, no matter where they're playing – home or away. It's how the best memories are made.

–The Deseret News published its 3A baseball All-State team last week, and the first-time champion Canyon View Falcons figured prominently with four players selected on the first team.

Bubba Ludlow led the list as 3A playoff MVP, finishing his senior season with a .469 batting average, 61 hits including 11 doubles, 14 stolen bases and 32 RBI. Brady Anderson – who was the winning pitcher in CV's title-clinching 7-4 win over Juab in Game 2 of the 3A championship series – finished with a 10-0 record, a 2.41 ERA and 84 strikeouts. He added a .363 average at the plate with 41 RBI.

Price Atwood was also named to the first team with a .515 average, 50 hits, 37 RBI and 36 runs scored, none bigger than the one he had in Game 1 of the championship series vs. Juab. With CV down a run in the top of the 7th, Atwood led off with a triple and scored on a passed ball to tie the game at 6-6 before the Falcons went on to win 9-6 in 10 innings.

The fourth first-teamer from CV was junior pitcher and utility player Zach Maine, who had an 8-1 record on the mound with a 3.32 ERA to go with a .315 batting average, 29 hits and 26 RBI.

Asher Slack and Jarron Bradshaw were named to the All-State second team as Canyon View finished the year with a 27-5 record that included a 17-game winning streak, best in school history.

facility improvement projects, which includes a new synthetic turf softball field, a renovated basketball/volleyball practice gym, a new soccer field, and a state-of-the-art track throws area. These improvements serve not only Thunderbird student-athletes, but also the broader campus and regional communities.

To help with the leadership transition, SUU has appointed retired Judge Tom Higbee to serve as Interim Athletic Director starting on July 15. With Judge Higbee's administrative and leadership experience, he will provide steady guidance during the transition as the University navigates this next chapter for SUU Athletics.

Tom Higbee, a Cedar City native and 1976 graduate of Southern Utah University, has devoted his life to serving southern Utah with distinction.

Southern Utah University Athletic Director, Doug Knuth

After earning his law degree from the University of Utah, he returned home to practice law, eventually becoming a senior partner and respected advocate known for his fairness, compassion, and dedication to justice. In 2001, he was appointed to the Fifth District Juvenile Court by Governor Michael O. Leavitt, where he served for over 17 years, earning widespread respect for his wisdom and leadership. His influence extended to statewide judicial committees and councils, where he helped shape policy to protect and support families and youth.

Beyond his judicial service, Higbee has been a loyal and active member of the SUU community, serving on the Board of Trustees and Community Advisory Board, mentoring students, supporting campus arts and athletics, and teaching as an adjunct instructor. Together with his wife, Carolyn, he exemplifies the spirit of lifelong service, including time spent on a mission in Russia following his retirement. Throughout his life, Higbee has remained deeply connected to the people, values, and mission of Southern Utah University. The Higbees have five sons, three daughter-in-laws, and 13 grandchildren.

SUU is dedicated to the well-being and success of its student-athletes both on and off the field. Higbee will serve as Interim Athletic Director until a permanent replacement is identified through a search process.

TOM'S SPORTS TRIVIA

And now, we have liftoff on another dozen sporting trivia questions for your guessing enjoyment. This week's collection is a grab bag of challenging stuff that won't break your brain – at least that's the intended goal here. Have fun, embrace the chaos, and please remember...no wagering!

1. After disagreements with team management over where he should play, infielder Rafael Devers was finally traded last week from the Boston Red Sox to what National League team?
2. As of June 18, New York Yankees outfielder Aaron Judge leads the American League in batting average (.372) and is tied for the lead in RBI with 60. What Seattle Mariners catcher is not only tied with Judge for the RBI lead, but leads in home runs with 27?
3. On June 17, the Los Angeles Dodgers saw the ejection of manager Dave Roberts in the third inning, but overcame and beat the San Diego Padres, 8-6. How many batters were hit by pitches in the game?
4. The Memphis Grizzlies traded Desmond Bane last week to what Eastern Conference team for Kentavious Caldwell-Pope, Cole Anthony and five different first-round draft picks?
5. While the Indiana Pacers were fighting to stay alive heading into Game 6 of the NBA Finals, the front office was busy trading its first-round pick – No. 23 overall – in next week's NBA Draft to what Western Conference team that also has a pick at No. 7?
6. At 24, Oklahoma City guard Jalen Williams became the third-youngest player in NBA history to score at least 40 points in an NBA Finals game when the Thunder beat Indiana in Game 5 on June 17. What current Denver Nugget was one of the two younger players who had a 40-point Finals game?
7. Due to "personal reasons," Olympic gold-medal sprinter Noah Lyles cancelled a showdown that was set for last weekend in New York's Times Square with what Miami Dolphins wide receiver?
8. After a seven-year career in Green Bay, cornerback Jaire Alexander signed a 1-year deal June 18 to join what AFC team's secondary?
9. Caitlin Clark and the Indiana Fever fought their way through two scuffles and advanced to the Commissioner's Cup final with a June 17 victory over what team?

10. At the Men's College World Series, Arkansas pitcher Gage Wood threw the third no-hitter in tournament history when the Razorbacks beat Murray State, 3-0, on June 16. How many batters did Wood strike out to set a new MCWS record?
11. True or False: J.J. Spaun was the only player to finish under par when he won the 2025 U.S. Open on June 15.
12. Who is the defending champion at the Open Championship, which will be played at Royal Portrush starting July 17?

LAST WEEK'S ANSWERS

1. The New York Jets – Rodgers' former team.
2. Ellie the Elephant.
3. Don Nelson.
4. Coastal Carolina.
5. Seven. Since the question was written, Skubal walked two batters over seven innings in a 4-1 win over Baltimore on June 12. Heading into his next start June 18, the left-hander has issued 9 walks and struck out 111.
6. Los Angeles Angels.
7. Cale Makar.
8. The Graveyard.
9. 2016. The Cleveland Cavaliers rallied to beat the Golden State Warriors.
10. Wimbledon.
11. Brad Pitt.
12. True. Haliburton scored 14 points, including the buzzer-beater that secured the Pacers' win in Game 1, then followed up with 17 points in Game 2.
